GOLD TIPS FOR NEWSIES

Generous Englishman's Plan to Help St. Louis Paper Boys.

SLIPS MONEY INTO THEIR HANDS.

Sometimes the Coin, Not Given by Mistake, Is a Sovereign Worth $4.50 and Sometimes a Half Sovereign—Recipients of the Money Are Told to Keep It as a Pocket Piece.

A generous Englishman is making glad the days of the newsboys of St. Louis. Not all of them have shared his generosity—indeed, only a small percent of them—but those who have know that it is not of the short measure variety, and those who haven't are eagerly awaiting this strange man's entree into their lives, says the St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

He is giving away gold, and not by mistake either. With each coin he gives to the boys he stoops over and in a soft, round voice wishes the boy success, tells him to live a good life and "keep this for a pocket piece."

Sometimes "this" is a sovereign, and sometimes it is a half sovereign, both beautiful coins, the former of the value of $4.50 in United States money and the latter $2.40.

Placing the coin in the boy's hand or slipping it into his pocket, the big stranger takes his paper and disappears.

One of the boys at noon the other day, described his unknown benefactor as a man perhaps forty-five years old, 6 feet 2 inches tall, having a pointed gray beard and wearing a long black overcoat and light colored checked suit.

The newsies are on the qui vive over the unheralded appearance in their midst of this mysterious person. Many are the stories they tell of his gifts to them and to others and of incidents connected with the gifts.

Several little street merchants, not familiar with gold and the money of other lands, have refused the shining pieces of coin bearing the late queen's picture in payment for a paper, whereupon the big man, smiling rather than trying to argue with them, has emptied his pockets of the small change they contained.

Other little fellows have accepted the pretty coins, but have bartered them as quickly as possible for three or four pennies from some other boy who either knew better than they or was willing to take a chance.

Gold is plentiful in newsboys' circles. Some of the boys are doing as the big stranger asked them to do—keeping their gold as pocket pieces to bring them good luck. It is estimated that this stranger has already given about twenty gold coins to the boys. His field of operations seems limited to the center of the downtown business district.

TheatricalFraternal*"A HOT OLD TIME."

Johnny and Emma Ray's uproariously funny musical comedy, "A Hot Old Time," will again appeal to local favor this evening, when it will be played at Poll's. Those theater-goers who have not seen "A Hot Old Time" have heard of it as a mirth-provoking musical farce comedy of great excellence. This season, besides being all of that, it is, in addition, a splendid spectacle, brilliant in diversified color, boiling over with new and clever wit, and the latest and most catchy music of the great popular composers of the day. It is all new—new and bright in every particular, and it is as refreshing as a glass of iced champagne. The scenery is fresh from the skilled touch of the accomplished scenic artist, and the costumes from the hands of the deft fingered costumers, the outlay for these two items of the production alone amounting to $25,000. Prices are 25, 35, 50 and 75 cents.

VAUDEVILLE AT THE JACQUES.

A hearty reception was accorded by two large audiences to the bill that had its first presentation at the Jacques yesterday, and it was made very clear that the show is of the kind to hold popularity during the week. The headline feature contributed by the Juggling Johnsons is a marvelous exhibition of dexterity with the Indian clubs. The manipulators do all sorts of strange and weird and mysterious things with clubs of all sizes and weights, and at times the air is thick with flying clubs so that it seems like a hail of wood and steel. It is an act of singular attractiveness and is bound to become a headliner of special popularity. Hal Stephens, who provides a second headline feature, presents his splendidly artistic impersonations of well known stage people, among others Richard Mansfield, Jimmy Russell and John L. Sullivan, and winds up with a condensed version of "Rip Van Winkle," which is put on with special scenery and costumes that make it very true to the original. Other clever acts hold favor on the bill, especially well received being those by Harris and Walters and Laura Comstock and her singing boys. Others on the bill are John Mayou and company, Pierce and Malzee, Mosher's dogs and the electrograph. Prices are 10, 20 and 30 cents; evenings 10 and 20 cents, ladies 10.

"MAUD MULLER."

The dramatization of Whittier's famous and familiar poem, "Maud Muller," will be seen at Poll's to-morrow afternoon and evening. No one with blood in his veins ever read this poem without wishing he had been in the judge's boots, because, if he had, how different it would all have been. The judge in the stage version acts differently. He acts just as we would have him. He sends Maud to school and afterwards marries her. Then there is trouble, for the judge's haughty sister Theodora takes a hand and persuades the rustic bride that her husband has grown tired of her. The bride runs away to the hemlock forests of Maine, where her lover husband follows, and after a medley of incident there is a general reconciliation and a happy finale. "Maud Muller" is one of the cleanest, prettiest little plays that have been produced for many a season. Full of wit, humor and pathos. Prices are 25 cents for the matinee, and in the evening 25, 35, 50 and 75 cents.

"UNCLE JOSH SPRUCEBY."

Another rural comedy drama will have the boards at Poll's on Thursday when "Uncle Josh Spruceby" will be given matinee and night performances. The show is of the funny New England type, with some splendid stage realism, and the company has its own street band and orchestra. Sale of seats to-morrow at popular prices.

THE BEST REMEDY FOR CROUP.

(From the Atchison, Kan. Daily Globe) This is the season when the woman who knows the best remedies for croup is in demand in every neighborhood. One of the most terrible things in the world is to be awakened in the middle of the night by a whoop from one of the children. The croup remedies are almost as sure to be lost, in case of croup, as a revolver is sure to be lost in case of burglars. There used to be an old-fashioned remedy for croup, known as five syrup and tulu, but some modern mothers say that Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is better and does not cost so much. It causes the patient to "throw up the phlegm" quicker, and gives relief in a shorter time. Give this remedy as soon as the croupy cough appears and it will prevent the attack. It never fails and is pleasant to take. For sale by all druggists.

AMATEUR COIN MAKERS

Growth of Iowa Community's Minting Business.

THE MONEY IS MADE OF ALUMINUM

Novel Scheme Adopted by Williams (Ia.) Citizens to Expand Circulation—The Coins Have No Intrinsic Value, but Can Be Passed For Merchandise and Drinks.

Tired of hearing of an "expanded currency" and seeing it only in bargain counter lots, the merchants and farmers of Williams, Ia., and its vicinity have gone into the minting business on their own account and are turning out barrels of coins—dollars, half dollars, quarters and dimes—which pass current for anything from a shave to a thrashing machine. The coins are made of aluminum, and an individual's wealth is gauged by his shape, the lumpiest person being the richest because the bulging pockets contain handfuls of flat money.

The coins have practically no intrinsic value, but are redeemable at stores for merchandise and at saloons for drinks, their value being guaranteed by the association of merchants authorizing their issue.

The first coins minted were given out by merchants as rebates on purchases on the same basis that the varicolored trading stamps are issued by merchants in the east and were redeemable for their face value in merchandise. So many merchants went into the scheme and the coins became so plentiful that they began to pass current as freely as authorized coin, and instead of hoarding the aluminum disks for a purchase at the store from which they were issued the people began to make small purchases with them, pay debts and use them in poker games. When the men folks found that they could purchase liquid refreshment with the light weight coins they ceased to turn them over to the goodwife for her to save up enough to get a grand piano or a seal-skin sack and kept them in their pockets as they would loose change.

With the enormous expansion in the issue of these coins, coupled with the growth of their general use, pockets are now being made longer, and the women find the valise-like handbags now affected a real blessing when they start out on a shopping tour. The size of the contribution boxes in the churches has been increased, and the only place in town that won't accept the aluminum fractional currency is the post office. Uncle Sam demands money of his own kind.

At Webster, Ia., the flat money scheme has also been successfully introduced and promises to spread over the state like a plague of locusts. Once or twice at Webster the coins have been at a premium. At present it looks as though the aluminum coins would soon be the popular medium of exchange for the entire west.

Around the World in Fifty-four Days.

In the November World's Work James Willis Sayre tells how he went around the world in 54 days, 9 hours and 42 minutes, lowering the next previous record by 6 days and 3 hours. He covered 19,500 miles, and the trip cost $819. He used no special trains and made all his own calculations for boats and trains. Mr. Sayre left Seattle for Yokohama June 26. He then crossed Siberia and Russia, visiting Moscow. Thence the route continued by way of Berlin. He reached New York Aug. 15 and was back in Seattle Aug. 10.
