LIVING COST IN THESE TIMES IS PARAMOUNT ISSUE

BIG WAGES COUNT FOR NAUGHT IF IT TAKES ALL TO RUN THE HOUSE.

WE MUST WORK AND SAVE

Production Must Be Increased and Money to Accomplish This Must Come From People.

The United States has come out of the world war stronger financially, economically, socially, than any other of the major nations.

Yet even to the United States there has been left a heritage of acute problems pressing relentlessly upon the public mind for answer. Never with in the memory of two generations have the people of this country been so resolved to meet current issues squarely, so determined to find solution for those problems which are oppressing them, and to bring about a better social and economic condition.

It is a situation in which the leaders of public thought and action—business men, thoughtful women, men and women of influence in every sphere and line of work—must assert their leadership. This is no time to theorize. It is time to do something.

The root of this condition of the public mind lies in the cost of living. It is this that has led to the establishment of that unfortunate procession in which wages for individual labor, pushing up and up, have been constantly and inevitably outstripped by the prices of the commodities which those wages must buy.

Unfortunately, this process is called, because it does not accomplish and never can accomplish any permanent readjustment of the condition which it seeks to remedy. Its only possible consequence can be an interruption of the processes of production, which must indubitably cause, not an improvement, in, but an accentuation of the ill.

For what is that really underlies this public unrest? Is it not that shoes now cost $12 where they once cost six, nor that food stuffs have doubled in price. This is already generally admitted.

The public will gladly pay these prices, provided that they can pay them and still have proportionately as much left, after the necessities of life have been provided, as they used to have.

It is a question, not of the cost of living, but of the margin between the cost of living and the amount earned. "In a word it is a question of Thrift—Thrift in production, which will tend to increase individual earnings and Thrift in consumption, which, by a prevention of useless destruction of goods, will tend to increase the general supply of goods and reduce prices to the consumer," says a statement issued by a Treasury Department official.

And this applies not to any special group or class, but to every man, woman and child in America. It applies to the manufacturer and the artisan, to the housewife and the school child. Above all, it applies to those in positions of leadership for it is to them that the country looks for example. Practice and encourage Thrift, systematic saving and regular investment in some safe security like War Savings Stamps, Treasury Savings Certificates and government bonds.

These new Savings Certificates are the most appealing securities ever offered by the government. They are in denominations of $100 and $1,000, bear interest at the rate of 4 per cent, compounded quarterly, and to all interests and purposes are exempt from taxation.

They may be redeemed at any time two months after purchase by giving 10 days' notice. They can never depreciate below par, for they bear on their face the value at any given date before maturity.

M'ADOO THINKS CLEARLY

Former Secretary of the Treasury Shows Necessity of the Common People Saving.

"Either the people as a whole must finance the government, either through taxation or bond purchase, or the government must borrow from individuals, from banks, or from corporations of large fortunes. If it does the latter, these interests hold exactly the same relation to the government that the holder of a first mortgage does to the owner of the property and the payer of the interest. If, on the other hand, the debt is divided between millions of citizens who are the government, the relationship is as different as is a co-operative society from a Urah Heep."—William Gibbs McAdoo, in Pictorial Review.

The United States needs the money you invest in War Savings Stamps. Buy them every week. They bring 4 per cent interest, compounded every three months. They give you a share in the government of the United States, Un-Ltd.—meaning unlimited.

Back Mr. Thrift to win the World's Series from Genera. H.C.L. With everyone rooting for him, he'll win easy.
