Pupils may work to pay board at the Southwestern Business University, of Oklahoma City. Big saving.

When building you want to build substantially. You will find the best material at Craig Brothers, Liberal.

William Hoggett brought us a fine sample of field corn, Saturday. The gain was raised on his farm, and is simply fine.

WANTED—A girl for general housework—one who can cook.

MRS. R. W. TOWNSEND, Englewood, Kansas.

A Big School—The famous Southwestern Business University of Oklahoma City, Okla., is the largest school south of Kansas City.

G. R. Wilson is among our new readers. The Herald should have a place in every home in the county and it is fast finding it.

Mrs. Beulah Hall and Miss Maude Stallings returned from their farms Monday. Of course we were all glad to welcome them "home."

Bulck & Stedman have the largest stock of groceries and feed stuff in town. They sell more and can afford to sell cheaper. Give them a trial.

Mrs. Miller, of Morris county, Kansas, who spent a few days here with the family of Rev. Galt, returned home Monday. Rev. Galt and wife to J. H. Made.

Craig Bros., Liberal, Kansas, have at all times a complete line of building material. Their yard is the best in town.

"A poor beginning makes a good ending" so the old maxim goes. Wonder if that applies to our sidewalks. We will take a more now, please.

Mrs. S. M. Brazil left for Wabunsee Kansas, last week. She intended to go sooner but was detained on account of sickness.

Eight hundred pupils are expected to attend the Southwestern Business University, Oklahoma City, during the next school year.

Miss Jennie Symons, who spent the greater part of last week at Riverside, returned to Fulton Monday. George Quinlan accompanied her.

Frank Makover and Emil Zelinka came down from Liberal last week as witnesses in final proof cases before Judge Meese.

300 pupils attended the famous Southwestern Business University of Oklahoma City, Okla., during the past year.

J. W. Savage returned Saturday from the "bug-house"—where he had gone to take one James Pierson, insane.

Mrs. Alice Garrett departed Monday evening for Ballata, Woodward county, to visit her daughter Amy who is quite sick. We hope the latter may soon recover.

Miss Ella Baker went over to her uncle's place this week to assist in putting up fruit. Misses Ivy Garrett and Jennie Maple donated their services and will assist her.

Ernest Evans and Thos. Richmond were down from the west end last week settling up the estate of Thos. Evans, deceased. They report western Beaver county all O. K. as usual.

R. H. Loofbourrow expects to start tomorrow on a trip through the west part of the county. He is a candidate for county attorney—that explains it all. A. C. Wilson will accompany him.

H. Nichols and other farmers of the North Plains have begun gathering their broom corn. Hands are scarce and are commanding $1.25 per day. The crop is immense.

Drummer Riley, of Wichita, was in Beaver Sunday and while here took F. P. Madison's order for new fall stock. From this place he went over to stock up the Custer Store on the Kiowa.

Mrs. W. T. Quinn and sister Miss Mae Weir left for Guyton yesterday. Miss Mae will meet the Herald editor and party at Meade, Monday and journey with us as far as McFarland on her return home.

Ton had about that flood washing your fences out but the water did you good and Bolin & Brown, Liberal, Kansas, can furnish you with all kinds of fence material. Their prices are bed rock.

Mr. Stone was down from Lorens Saturday and while in town called on the Herald. We find him wide-awake and alive to the interests of the new settlers. He has a good word for some of us of older residence here also.

H. R. Carson brought us a sample of his broom corn, Monday. He has a good yield and the brush is of the finest variety. One head measured 32 inches. Mr. Carson is gathering his crop this week. His farm is near Floris.

Does the wind and rain beat through the walls of your house? Not if you bought your lumber of Bolin & Brown, Liberal, Kansas. Their tongue and groove stuff is the best and fits like a die. Try them your next order.

The consensus of opinion is that the Missouri river has broken out of its banks and is now flowing down the Beaver judging from the muddy water. It is uncommon for the beautiful crystal Beaver to be muddy.

John Seaver came down from Fowler, Kansas, last week settling up some business affairs. He reports several of his children as being seriously affected with whooping cough. We hope they are now greatly improved.

You have missed something if you have been buying of the other fellows. Bolin & Brown, Liberal, Kansas, lead in low prices on Colorado coal, lumber, fence posts, lime, cement, etc. Their lumber yard is complete.

Walter C. Jewer, Bonded Abstracter.

Now ready for business. Complete abstracts to any property in Beaver county, promptly furnished. Beaver, Okla.

Fresh Beef.

During the summer I will butcher twice a week. Good fresh meat all the time. A. N. Cranmer.

Major Wellborn and family are now at home to their friends on their fine farm west of Beaver. They moved out to take care of their immense crop, which is just maturing.

Mrs. O. J. Loofbourrow is suffering from a painful thumb, this week. The soreness was caused from a bruise, and was so severe that it was necessary to lance the thumb. It is now improving.

Miss Helga Kragh is troubled with a very painful eye at present. During her rides in the country last week Miss Helga got a small particle of something in her eye and was unable to dislodge it.

Sol Blosser and brother John are enjoying a visit from three of their brothers who reside in Illinois. They came in last week. Sol was over to Beaver to meet them. He had not seen them for several years.

C. R. Wright, Henry Garrett, J. W. Culwell, B. E. Stedman and John Had dleton all attended the convention at Woodward last week. C. R. Wright was nominated for representative of the 19th district. The gentlemen returned to Beaver Tuesday evening.

A. Groves—Bill Nye the Second—returned from the reunion at Dodge City Saturday. He reports a big time and lots of people but says he got awfully tired as he went on one foot half the time. The other half he went on the other. See?

We understand that some of the delegates to the Woodward convention took along several bottles of "bread." No doubt it kept more "moist" in this way although we never thought of such a plan before. Great indeed is the inventive mind of Beaver folk.

The Hooker Advance accuses the Beaver papers of being in the mud. Not much, brother Moffit. Come down and wade our sand awhile and you'll change your mind. The Herald is no mud slinger but we never yet have been accused of lacking "sand."

I. S. Drummond came in from Enid Tuesday evening and will make his home here in the future with his daughter, Mrs. Clara Smith. He will have charge of the Herald during the editor's absence. Mr. Drummond is a printer of the old school and will give the Herald readers a good paper.

Mrs. Beulah Hall has resumed her musical work, and is organizing a class in Beaver. All those who desire to study music should see her. Mrs. Hall is an accomplished music teacher and gives her entire time and energy to the work. Those who have studied under her speak of her ability in the highest terms.

For the benefit of the various members of recent fishing parties we offer the following:

"Here's to the chigger that ain't any bigger, than the point of a very small pin, but the bump that he raises itches like blazes and there's where the rub comes in."

The social hop Saturday night was quite a success and was thoroughly enjoyed by all. As the affair was gotten up Saturday afternoon those from the country were unable to learn of it and their absence was regretted. However, the "home-folks" enjoyed a jolly good time.

Diamonds are becoming scarce and will be more valuable than ever in the future. Many are putting their surplus cash into diamonds. How about you? Have you laid up any of those "Black Diamonds?" If not, you had better see Bolin & Brown, Liberal, Kansas. They handle the best Colorado coal.

Pearl Johnson is quite sick this week on account of injuries received from the kick of a horse. Pearl was unhitching the animal when it kicked at another horse and hit Pearl striking him just over the heart. He has been dangerously ill for the past week suffering from a fever on account of the injury but at present he is improving.

Misses Jennie and Mae Maple came up from Riverside Saturday and remained in Beaver over Sunday. These young ladies are valuable additions to the social circle of Beaver and it is with reluctance that we can even credit Riverside with their residence. Come up to Beaver and reside permanently, girls.

M. D. HUBBARD & CO. Real Estate Agents and Government Land Locators for Beaver County. Write them at Gate, Okla.

A new Bank with a capital stock of $300,000.00 is being organized in the commercial department of the Southwestern Business University of Oklahoma City, Okla. The students of that famous business college receive the best advantages to be had in any Business College west of the Mississippi. Write today for full particulars. Address: Times, M. Milam, Pres. Oklahoma City, Okla.

Rev. Hawley, superintendent of Home Missions of the Presbyterian Church for Oklahoma, was in Beaver last week, and delivered interesting sermons, both Sunday morning and evening. He was here looking over the field in regard to sending a permanent minister to this place. This field will probably be supplied soon.

Misses Ida Hammond and Emma Johnston, who spent the past two weeks in Beaver, and who made final proof on their farms the 5th instant, returned home this week. They expect to make their next visit to Beaver by rail, coming over the new line of the D. E. & G. railway, which will be completed from Enid to Beaver in the next twelve months. Laverne Rock took the young ladies over to Englewood.

We received, some time ago, a catalogue of the Oklahoma State Military Institute, Oklahoma City. This is the only school of the kind in the Territory, and its advantages are immense. THE HERALD has the appointment of one cadet free of tuition charges. If there is a young man in this vicinity who wishes to attend we can fit him out.

Misses Marie Trastek and Mathilda Maier were down from Liberal Friday and made final proof on their homesteads. We find them charming young ladies and are told that they have many equally as accomplished representatives of the fair sex for neighbors all of whom are "holding down" farms on the 8th. Here's health, wealth and success to you, girls.

H. R. Carson and W. G. Fickle returned to Beaver Sunday after a thirty days absence during which time they won the great Louisiana Purchase Exposition and visited friends and relatives at various places. They report everything fine and a pleasant trip. Beaver is always glad to welcome her wanderers and the appearance of these two young gentlemen on our streets again is a welcome sight.

W. D. Bohall, of Seamore, Indiana, was in Beaver several days this week and while here filed on some of our choice government land. Mr. Bohall thinks Beaver county is just one step removed from Paradise and says that "step" could easily be adjusted by the importation of about 1000 good farmers of the Indiana and Illinois variety. He took the trouble to hunt us Sunday and subscribed for the Herald because, as he said, "I want ALL the news and the Herald gives it all."

James F. Young was in from Conroy Monday and made final proof on his claim in that vicinity. Mr. Young will return to Chicago in a short time on account of his wife's health but he will not dispose of his land here. He has great hopes for Beaver county and expects to make his farm one of the best in the county. We wish you a pleasant journey Mr. Young, and hope you may find that greatest of all blessings—health. The Herald will follow Mr. Young and keep him informed as to Beaver county.

F. C. Tracy and wife and Miss Nettie and Maude Thomas will leave Sunday for Meade, at which place we will board the Rock Island for St. Louis and the Great Fair. We hope to see it all but just how much of our fond hopes will be realized we will tell you later. We can't promise to bring home the Fair with us, but if we find any of the exhibits lying around loose—well, that's another thing. If we can "work" Santos-Dumont for transportation we may come home via the air line.

A telegram from W. A. White, sheriff of Los Angeles county, California, says "Williamson Brothers in custody. Employer here stands ready to settle claims against them. They waive registration." It was the intention of J. W. Savage to start after them this week but later it was decided to collect claims against them, if possible, and not bring them back. This is considered the wise thing to do as they have no property and were they brought back it would only pile up a lot of expense on the edge of. Beaver now has six streets which need no sprinkling, so let the Williamson Brothers stay in California where it is dry and sandy and they can again push their "street sprinkling" game.

SOMETHING FOR NOTHING.

Is all a delusion. We don't give things away but we do give some rare bargains. Our prices are the lowest considering the quality of the goods we handle, and we guarantee satisfaction. If it comes from Madisons' it is all right.

ANYTHING

usually found in a first-class general store may be obtained at our establishment. We always handle a complete stock.

Lumber! Lumber!

J. W. WEBB.

OUR DRAW.

It has been said that it takes a rich man to draw a check, a horse to draw a cart, a pretty girl to draw attention, a "topper" to draw a cork, a fight to draw a crowd and a pair of aces to "draw to." While this may be true, we find that all we need to draw trade is a continuation of the low prices already given on the best grade of goods handled in the city. We have a complete line of
