Which Road?

You are at the forks of the road. The guide-post names one "Economy" and the other "Extravagance." Which road are you going to take? Economy leads to Success. Extravagance leads to Failure.

Are you going to take the road to Success and Prosperity? The first milestone is a bank account—it acts as a check against extravagance. The safe, sane way for a man to live is to work hard and always save a part of what he earns, and bank that part. Start an account TODAY

Ray Hayden III at Camp

A message came Tuesday announcing the critical illness of Ray Hayden at Camp Carney, California. His parents, who live near Couch, left at once for his bedside. Ray is a graduate of Beaver H. S., and has many friends here and at Couch who are hoping for his speedy recovery.

RED CROSS AUCTION SALE
On the evening of February 19th the Riverside Red Cross Branch held an auction sale at Hibbs school house. There was only a small crowd present and a short program rendered. The proceeds amounted to $39.30, which shows the patriotism of this section.

10 CENTS A DAY TO

SUPPORT WAR ORPHAN

Do you know that you can support one of the war orphans of France in their own home for only 10 cents a day? Don't you want to help keep these unfortunate children in their own homes where they can grow up with a mother's care, in the little town or village where their fathers lived and where there is a tradition of valor and honesty to be upheld? It is infinitely better than to bring them up in large orphan's homes.

No greater work can be done for France than to give these children the chance of which their father's death has deprived them. The help to be effective must be given at once and for a period of at least two years. Ten cents a day—$36.50 a year—will give an efficiently trained child to the new France. There will be 300,000 of these children. The money may be paid at $3.00 a month or in advance for the year. Why not begin now and save the dimes for the helpless children of France?

One hundred years ago France came to the assistance of the young American republic; today the Republic of France calls to America through the voices of each of her sons, dying in the cause of freedom: "I give my life. Will you help my little ones?"

Mrs. W. H. Thomas, Beaver, will be glad to give further information concerning the fatherless children of France work, and will supply applications to all those wishing to take up the support of one or more of these worthy children.

GO 50--50 WITH SAMMIE

Some of America's soldiers and sailors already are in France, training for war. As soon as they are in trim they'll go into the trenches, in the slippery mud and the sweltering heat, to fight for democracy. Many of them will die there, many will be carried back wounded. All of them will undergo hardships beyond imagination.

The Red Cross is taking care of the wounded, kind hands furnish our men with socks and shirts. The United States government clothes and feeds them.

But there has been no means for furnishing them with tobacco. Unless their friends at home help them, the soldiers must sit in the trenches with empty pipes, longing for a puff or two that would bring untold comforts.

The Herald has taken up the work to help provide tobacco for America's fighting men. We are going to do our bit to fill up the tobacco boxes. We are receiving contributions for "Our Boys in France Tobacco Fund" for which we have been appointed official collector in this city.

The Americans in France need tobacco. They can buy French brands if they have the money and are in the cities, but at the front tobacco is a scarce article, even the French kind.

The Secretary of War and Secretary of Navy have endorsed this plan. Army officers greet it enthusiastically and the soldiers are wild about it.

There's nothing like a good old pipe to make a soldier forget his troubles. Imagine a bunch of fellows you know, sitting in a trench at night, waiting, whispering, wondering what is going to happen next, longing for a smoke to soothe them. And all they can do—unless you help them—is to sit there disconsolately and finger their empty pipes or draw in vain on a briar that had served them so well in days gone by.

Send in your money. Fill up these pipes. The American soldiers in France are asking for a smoke. Will you pass them by?

Rev. R. R. Coffey Married

The Woodward paper announces the marriage of Rev. R. R. Coffey of that place, formerly of Beaver, to an estimable woman of Supply. They will make their home at Woodward.

ENTERTAINS FOR GUEST

Mrs. Johnnie M. Jones entertained a few of her friends Wednesday evening, February 20th, in honor of Miss Grace Wright from Liberal, Kan., who is spending the week-end in Beaver visiting Mrs. Jones and Della Colby, who were schoolmates at Liberal.

A pleasant evening was spent with music and games. At 10 o'clock light refreshments were served. The guests departed expressing themselves as having spent a very enjoyable evening.

BIG SHIPMENT OF

HOSPITAL GARMENTS

Another big shipment of hospital garments was sent out from the County Red Cross headquarters this week. This shipment includes the output of all the branches in the county. In the shipment was: 20 bathrobes, 240 bed socks, 60 operating leggings, 90 bed leggings, 70 suits of pajamas (140 pieces), 80 bed shirts, and 3 outing comforts. The comfort tops were made from the scraps of outing left from cutting, were lined with outing, filled with nice new cotton, tacked and finished complete.

This is the second big shipment of hospital garments that Beaver county Red Cross workers have made possible to send for the comfort of the sick and wounded and the work is only fairly started. It is a splendid record but we must exceed it. Our county record of perfect organization must be offset by perfect output and then we will be doing our best. The workers are willing. The slackers must be awake to their responsibility. Sufficient funds and materials must be provided. It is up to every member of the Red Cross in Beaver county—whether man, woman or child—to get busy. Those who see and realize their duty, will do it. Those who do not, must be shown and it is YOUR duty to show them. Don't be afraid to speak a word for the Red Cross. It is the greatest thing in the world today, excepting only the army. It is an honorable service to do Red Cross work. It should be viewed in the light of a privilege as well as a duty. If you don't do Red Cross work you are going to be mighty sorry one of these days. When the boys come home and tell what the Red Cross did for them—how it saved their lives and soothed their suffering—won't you feel ashamed of yourself to know that while they were fighting for you, you did nothing for them and if all the world had been just like you, there would have been no Red Cross to minister to the sick, wounded and dying soldiers? And then, what of the boys who will never come home! Those who fall wounded beyond recovery but whose last hours have been made easier because the Red Cross was there to minister to them and take the message from the dying boy to mother? Don't you want to have a hand in the grand work that is not only ministering to our boys over there, but which is the connecting link between soldier and home? Think about it! The Red Cross needs your help. Will you give it?

FAREWELL TO BEAVER

The boys who left Beaver Saturday morning for the national army cantonment at Camp Travis, Texas, departed leaving some pranks behind them which is evidence that they were not feeling down in the mouth because of going. They took occasion Friday night to decorate Douglas avenue much in the same style as prevails the morning after Halloween. Nothing was destroyed, however, and everyone who saw the decorations (?) were glad for it proved that the boys were in good spirits and that is what we want to know of them. Those who are called to service may know that the key to Beaver is theirs while they are with us. We want them to have all the fun they can, and if there is anything they want and can't find, just ask any Beaverite and we'll be glad to see that they get it.

JOIN P. E. O. AT WOODWARD

Mrs. Dr. L. L. Long, of Beaver and Mrs. O. H. Cafky, of Forgan, spent the week end at Woodward at which place they were received into the P. E. O., sisterhood Friday afternoon. They report a most enjoyable time and were much impressed with the high ideals of the order to which they were admitted. Among the social functions they enjoyed while there was a delightful luncheon at the home of Mrs. A. M. Applegate.

National Implement Inspection and Repair

Week—MARCH, 4th to 9th

Save Expensive Delays and Transportation Charges and Help in the Big Drive for Greater Food Production

Farmers of Beaver County are urged to inspect their implements and place orders for repairs the week set apart as National Repair Week.

The great difficulty of securing malleable and steel parts, which renders it impossible for dealers to carry the usual repair stocks, together with the delays in transportation, render it necessary to place orders for your repair requirements early.
