Some Analyses of Election Returns

It appears from the Associated Press dispatches in The Intelligencer this morning that the Democratic Party has suffered a serious loss in the House of Representatives and in State officers in many Northern and Eastern States. Just what this loss is can now only be estimated since returns from the rural districts in many States may later and in all probability will change the resuits. The returns nowever so far indicate these results.

1. Failure of the Progressive Party to make good and hold anything like its percentage of votes as in 1912, it dropping way behind in all parts of the country except in California, where the personality of Governor Johnson seems to have kept the movemnt alive there and elected Johnson Governor for the third successive time. No longer is the influence of Roosevelt sufscent to create a third major party. It is dying and will probably be buried by the time of the Presidential election of 1916. It has of course as an inter-party movement a great work yet to perform. It must not be forgotten that the advent of the Progressive Party in 1912 assured the election of Wil-

2. That throughout the great manufacturing districts of the North and East, a variety of conditions, over which the Democratic party has had litthe to do, has sent it down to disastrous defeat, the party losing many congressmen in all the New England States, New York, Pennsylvania, Illinois and Ohio. Republican governors generally were elected. The cause of this is undoubtedly the effect of the tariff and conditions of unemployment brought about to an alarming extent by the European War, exaggerated by the leaders of the Republican Party. Mr. Wilson and his party were not responsible, but the voters evidently looked at what they thought were conditions and eliminating causes, "knifed" the Democratic ticket.

3. The reactionaries had their day again, in the elections of Penrose in Pennsylvania, Wm. B. McKinley in Illinois, Uncle Joe Cannon in the same State and Roger Sullivan, (Democrat) in Illinois. Reactionaries in both parties were generally successful. The Progressive movement, including Women's suffrage, prohibition and various new measures seem to have been uniformily defeated, especially in the East, though in the mining State of Nevada Woman's suffrage seems to have won. That is good. It is to be regretted that the Prohibition issue in Ohio was so intermixed with other issues that the "Home Rule for City" issue, a wet measure, carried. 'wet" interests generally oppose feat in Ohio and elsewhere.

4. General dissatisfaction with the tariff on sugar in the Third District of Louisiana, which comprises the great sugar parishes has resulted in the election of a Progressive congressman from the Pelican State. This district is located just west of New Orleans and composes the backbone parishes (counties of the sugar belt in the State.) It is the district which for many years has controlled Louisians politics. It has a very large Cajun off from book agents. (French) population and also many Italians. It is one of the richest and most progressive district in the whole South. It was an exception to the real inroad into the Solid South made by a party other than the Demcratic w 25 years.

5, Democratic Party seems to have about split even on the Senatorial contests. It will still control both branches of Congress, but by very reduced majorities. The Solid South, Far West and parts of the East composed of the large cities seem to have saved the Democratic Party from the loss of both the Senate and the House. The Democratic Party held its own in the large cities in the East and North.

The cry of "calamity" was raised throughout the industrial districts of the North and East; men were told that times were bad because the Democrats controlled the country. And the voters took not into consideration a world-wide condition of depression which a war such as the world has never seen could but have brought on, mattering not who may have controlled congress. Business really is not bad in the North; and it is an open secret that thousands of men were purposely kept out of work, to be immediately employed after the elections, for the purpose of assisting in overthrowing the lemocrats. This was largely the case in the smaller manufacturing cities It was a part of the work of the reactionaries within the Republican Party. It has worked. But it has not hurt Wilson nor the interests and ideas he represents. It is safe to assert that had the Republican Party been in pows that it's er last Tuesday instead of Mr. Wilson's followers that the present worldwide conditions would have swert the Republican Party to humiliating defeet. The Democratic Party lost much but it did save itself and control of the country. The Republican Party could not have done so.

With conditions as they were, the country is to be congratulated on the the showing Mr. Wilson's party made. For never before was a political party put to such a test. That some went back on it was to have been ex-That thousands rallied to its cause under trying conditions unaccountable for except upon the basis of worldwide conditions is the real test and therefore the real glory of Democracy. FOUR CITIES

Anderson is in the thick of a strengrand jury has brought to the attenthere as to the enforcement of the laws against illegal liquor selling. In Columbia the merchants are bring ing pressure to bear upon the muni-cipal authorities to enforce the law against blind tigers. The Columbia merchants are not emphasizing the moral as much as the business aspects of the situation. They assert that blind tigers seriously interfere with the legitimate business of a town in

We are uncertain as to Anderson, but we assert without fear of contra-diction that blind tigers conduct their business with greater impunity Charleston than anywhere else the State—possibly in this w country. And Columbia, illegal liquor selling is far more common and defiant than in Greenville.

But while Anderson is taking a decided forward step and great pressure is being brought to bear in Columbia and Charleston to have the authorities suppress the blind tigers, Greenville seems to be in danger of going the other way.

We have as good a police commission as any city in South Carolina and it has done splendid work but that work is being badly hampered by a reactionary city council. The commision asked for an appropriation for enforcing the law against blind tigers, an appropriation withcut which that work cannot be properly done, and showed from past re-cords that fines of blind tigers resulting from work done with that ap-propriation will in all probability aggregate several times its amount. But the appropriation was denied. No satisfactory explanation of the de-mial has ever been made. Economy? Where is the economy in view of the certainty that the fines resulting from work done with the appropriation will exceed its amount? But, if it were otherwise, if use of that appropria-tion will keep down blind tigers, it is worth making. Columbia merchants asseri that blind tigers injure legiti-mate business. Can anybody successfully controvert thier contention? What is true of Columbia is true of Greenville.

The refusal of city council to properly sustain the police commission is a step backward. There is no remedy, probably, until the next city election, which fortunately is not so far

ELECTION NOTES

One of the great surprises of yes-terday's result was the "come back" of our old foe Uncle Joe Cannon of Danville, Iil. Uncle Joe and his famous cigar will once more furnish us with the old brand of news anent the ruin of the country by the Democrats.

Surprise Number Two came with the news that "Son-in-Law Nick" is also a come-back and that the house of "Teddy" will be represented again in the big show at Washington.

The sugar planters of the third district in Louisiana have, according to the latest advices, about put across Martin, the Progressive candidate for congress, thereby showing the admin-istration at Washington that they are Roger Sullivan of Illinois, was elected over Senator Sherman, who no doubt thinks the same as the late General did about war.

Although the Democrats lost quite number in the lower house of congress they have no kick coming as there was almost quite too many of there was almost quite too many of them at the capitol and a Republican was getting to be so scarce that the paymaster had almost forgotten there was such a party in existence, and the Democrats will now have somebody to romp on when Uncle Joe, Bill Mc-Kinley, Nicholas and a few more show up on the job.

Governor David I. Walsh, of Massa-Governor David I. Waish, or massa-chusetts, showed that he still has a hold on the voters of that great state by handing a zolid defeat to Ex-Con-gressman Samuel McCall and Joe Walker, former speaker of the Massachusetts house, who headed the Bull Moose ticket. Joe has a tinge of Sulzer in his make-up; it's his third try for the job-all failures.

Having expressed its opinion of the constitutionality of legislation designed to enforce reduction of the cotton crop. The State does not intend to discuss that phase of it further, but rather to emphasize that, the law being on the books, it is the duty of every man to obey it so long as its integrity is not successfully assailed.

Farmers, whether they usually plant three or three thousands acres, plant three or three thousands acres, should face the fact NOW that they can not plant more than one-third of their acreage in cotton. The other two-thirds of their lands they must make productive next year; they must get crops from them next year and the sooner they set aout in down-right earnest, the better it will be for

In every county it should be the task of county officers, merchants, bank-ers, lawyers, school teachers, clergy-men and all other leaders of the peo-ple to spread the news of the reduction law. Every county newspaper should teil of it, not once but repeatedly, and the act should be printed on placards which should be nailed to the door of every cross-roads store and school-

Moreover, every sheriff and peace officer true to their oaths and to the interests of their people, will let it be known that they mean to enforce the reduction law so long as law it is.-
