DEVASTATION IN EASTERN PRUSSIA

Desert Waste Where Prosperity Once Existed—Piles of Brick Only Reminders.

LYOK, East Prussia, April 29.—The devastation and destruction that have been visited upon all of eastern East Prussia cannot be more strikingly appreciated than by a trip from this little town to Grajevo, a few miles across the border.

The trip supplies a remarkable series of contrasts that are fundamental and far-reaching. Black is no more like white than this part of Germany is like far western Russia from the standpoint of population, custom, and the general appearance of the country.

From Lyok to the border every house, without exception it is said, has been rifled and partly or entirely torn down. The broad, well-paved road is practically lined with the remnants of substantial buildings that in some cases, particularly in the border town of Proskier, were once attractive.

Along the road, is along virtually every road of its kind in Germany, are shade trees—except where they have been cut down to allow of artillery fire. They are so universal that one gets used to them quite unconsciously, and immediately feels the lack when they disappear.

The peasants, largely of the Polish type, appear to be self-respecting and pleasant. They greet the casual passerby much as the farmer in America says how do you do to the stranger along the road, but with the same tinge of equality in the greeting.

The once pleasant and prosperous country-side from Lyok to the border has been turned into a desert waste. In village after village there stand only the firm, substantial chimneys that oven fire will not level to the ground. Almost without exception the remnants of the houses are of brick.

Then one comes to the line and almost in the time it takes to close one's eyes and open them again the scene changes so materially that one might be a hundred miles away.

First of all the devastation has ceased. Not a house has been levelled and not a building damaged. But in their very character the houses proclaim the marked contrast. The brick has given way to thatching huts, low, one-story affairs that fairly reek with filth and grime.

In the doorways stood, as an Associated Press correspondent made the trip recently, smirking, grovelling peasants, who bowed almost to the ground again and again, as long as the automobile was in sight. They showed the same servility to the military everywhere in command of the situation, and were quite oblivious of the scornful reception of their object salutations.

As quickly as the character of the houses had changed, so had the trees vanished, and for thousands of yards stretched a bare, black road, oozy and treacherous over which the automobiles made their way with difficulty.

Lyok, Magrabova and other little towns on the German side of the border but near the Russian line had left much to be desired in the way of cleanliness and general attractiveness, but as compared to Grajevo, when it finally was reached, they were models of beauty and sanitation.

The nearest approach to similarity was the inevitable market square, almost as big in size as all the rest of the town together. But in place of the familiar brick buildings, often of handsome construction, there lined the market nothing more pretentious than dirty hovels.

The desperation with which the Russians had combatted the Germans for every foot of the territory was plainly evident in rows upon rows of trenches, always when possible built at the top of rising ground, covered over with evergreen or other branches and made with cunningly constructed loopholes. Rarely one saw a trench facing the other way—so that the Germans had had time to build hastily in the night. For the most part the advance had been possible only by storming each separate height and by driving the Russians out of their strongholds.

Appetite Follows Good Digestion

Nearly everyone indulges their appetite and the digestive organs are abused, resulting in a congestion of poisonous waste that clogs the bowels and causes much misery and distress.

The most effective remedy to correct this condition is the combination of simple laxative herbs with pepsin, known as Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. This is a natural, pleasant-tasting remedy, gentle yet positive in action, and quickly relieves indigestion, constipation, sick headache, belching, etc. Drug stores sell Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin at fifty cents and one dollar a bottle, and in thousands of homes it is the indispensable family remedy. For a free trial bottle, write Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 452 Washington St., Monticello, Ills.

SIX AND TWENTY

WILLIAMSTON, R. F. D., April 27.—On account of the singing at Friendship last Sunday the crowd at Sunday school was rather small. All who attended the singing report a pleasant time and good singing.

Kulte a number of our people were visitors to White Plains and Shiloh churches Sunday.

Miss Mamie Massey of the Mountain Springs section was visiting friends here last Saturday and Sunday.

Mr. David Higgins and brother of the Flat Rock section of Pickens county were recent visitors here.

We can not see why it is that some people can speak of "our" Sunday school and then attend only once every two or three months. Of course we are glad that it can be thus spoiled, but think everybody should attend regularly.

Our former superintendent of the Sunday school, Prof. A. W. Meredith, having returned to his home near Westminster the school elected W. C. Earnest superintendent for the remainder of the year.

Mrs. R. A. Traynum visited relatives near White Plains several days last week.

Messrs. W. M. McAllister and F. G. Massey were business visitors to Pelzer last Monday.

There will be an all-day singing at Friendship church on the third Sunday in May. Everybody is invited.

Mr. and Mrs. Charley Hicks of Piercetown were visiting relatives here last Monday.

Just at present a good rain would be most acceptable and the land is getting very dry.

Every member of this church should attend services next Saturday afternoon as there is business of importance to attend to.

Mr. Boozer Kay of McElmoyle was a visitor to this section Sunday afternoon.

Mr. A. Z. Bryson of Slabtown was a visitor at the home of Mr. Thomas Martin Saturday night.

Prospects are good for a large fruit crop for this year and everybody is delighted.

Many of our farmers are planting sorghum cane for syrup. This is a step in the right direction.

Ladies! Look Young, Darken Gray Hair

Use the Old-Time Sage Tea and Sulphur and Nobody Will Know.

Gray hair, however handsome, denotes advancing age. We all know the advantages of a youthful appearance. Your hair is your charm. It makes or mars the face. When it fades, turns gray and looks dry, wispy and scraggly, just a few applications of Sage Tea and Sulphur enhances its appearance a hundred-fold.

Don't stay gray—Look young! Either prepare the tonic at home or get from any drug store a 50 cent bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." Thousands of folks recommend this ready-to-use preparation, because it darkens the hair beautifully and removes dandruff, stops scalp itching and falling hair; besides, no one can possibly tell, as it darkens so naturally and evenly. You moisten a sponge or soft brush with it, drawing this through the hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; after another application or two, its natural color is restored and it becomes thick, glossy and lustrous, and you appear years younger.

East Thing for a Bilious Attack.

"On account of my confinement in the printing office I have for years been a chronic sufferer from indigestion and liver trouble. A few weeks ago I had an attack that was so severe that I was not able to go to the case for two days. Failing to get any relief from any other treatment, I took three of Chamberlain's Tablets and the next day I felt like a new man," writes H. C. Bailey, editor Carolina News, Chasle, S. C. Quit Meat If Your Kidneys Act Badly

Take Tablespoonful of Salts If Back Hurts or Bladder Bothers.

We are a nation of meat eaters and our blood is filled with uric acid, says a well known authority, who warns us to be constantly on guard against kidney trouble.

The kidneys do their utmost to free the blood of this irritating acid, but become weak from the overwork; they get sluggish; the eliminative tissues clog and thus the waste is retained in the blood to poison the entire system.

When your kidneys ache and feel like lumps of lead, and you have stinging pains in the back or the bladder is irritable, obliging you to seek relief during the night; when you have severe headaches, nervous and dizzy spells, sleeplessness, acid stomach or rheumatism in bad weather, get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast each morning and in a few days your kidneys will act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate clogged kidneys, to neutralize the acids in urine so it is no longer a source of irritation, thus ending urinary and bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexhaustive and can not injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia water drink, and nobody can make a mistake by taking a little occasionally to keep the kidneys clean and active.

The Hustler.

I am the guy called printer's ink; I put hard times upon the blank—My face is black as Erebus—But I'm a lively, hustling cuss. I make men rich who once were poor—

I'm on the job, I am for sure. I get work for the lab'ringer and help to fill his dinner can; I add girls who must earn their feed—I am the friend of all in need. I sell all things from pins to guns. In cargoes of ten thousand tons. I'm on the job both night and day. Away from work I never stay. I am "A. I." "O. K." and "It."

And I take a vacation—no! I serve the small as well as great (See Business Office for my rate.) I am the guy that brings the dough—Just try me and you'll find it so.
