Wells, who has given efficient service as government cotton grader on the local market for the past season, left Monday for Clemson college and will likely go from there to some other point in the state. Mr. Wells made many friends here who regretted very much to see him leave. Should the work be continued here the next season, it is probable that another man will be stationed here as it is the policy of the department to change graders each year.

Big Game Thursday.

The local "Outlaw" base ball team, composed of has-beens, try-outs and those who have gotten the tin can from the local league club, will go up against the "First Nine" Thursday afternoon at 5:30 o'clock, according to reports circulated on the streets yesterday. The pitching staff and other paraphernalia have not been announced, but the "Outlaws" seem pretty confident that they have a good umpire in view.

CLINTON HOLDS LEAD OF LEAGUE

Laurens Takes the Cellar After Two Disastrous Games with the Clintonites.

Clinton made a firm grasp on the top mast of the Laurens County League flag pole during the last two games by taking both of the series from Laurens. In the game at Clinton Tuesday, stopped after the fifth inning by rain, Laurens lost on errors, principally by a score of 5 to 2. Bobo for Laurens pitched a good game for the local boys, but didn't get support in the pinches. The feature of the game was the one-hand stab of Reichelberger's long fly by Fuller of the local team.

Score by innings: R H E
 Laurens 200 00-2 5 3
 Clinton 020 03-5 5 1

Batteries:
 Bobo and Barrett,
 Beckman and Brice and Austin.

The second game, played on the local grounds after a heavy rain yesterday, was anybody's game until the sixth inning when Clinton developed a batting rally and Laurens developed wildness with the wing. Beckman, Clinton's spit-ball artist, was cool and effective all through the game besides wielding a heavy stick at the bat. The game was called at the end of the sixth inning on account of darkness, the score standing 9 to 3 in favor of Clinton.

Score by innings: R H E
 Laurens 010 110-3 6 2
 Clinton 001 107-9 10 3

Batteries:
 Cox, Owens and Barrett,
 Beckman and Austin.

The game between Cross Hill and Owings at Owings Friday was called in the third inning with Owings in the lead 2 to 0. Sam Lanford, the old league, was in the box for the Owings aggregation and promised a great game. Cross Hill turned the tables yesterday, however, defeating the Owings team 2 to 0. Batteries for Cross Hill were Culbertson and Culbertson, and for Owings, Lanford and Drummond.

Next Games.

Friday—
 Cross Hill at Laurens,
 Owings at Clinton.

Tuesday—
 Laurens at Cross Hill,
 Clinton at Owings.

Billy Patterson Hunter.

Little Billy Patterson Hunter, the two year old son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Ben Hunter, died Sabbath afternoon, July 4th, at 5 o'clock. All that medical skill and loving hands, and importunity in prayer could do failed to stay the home-going of the dear babe's soul. Jesus had said as in days gone by, "Suffer the little child to come unto me, and forbid him not." His stay in this world was brief. His sickness was brief, but he had fulfilled all the missions for which he came. The broken-hearted parents have sweet memories, and a blessed faith in that glad day when they shall see Billy again. A host of friends helped lay the little body away in Ora cemetery.

"A FRIEND."

Geo. H. Anderson Dead.

Geo. H. Anderson, formerly of this city and having many friends here, died at his home in Greenwood yesterday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. He was about 45 years of age and reared near Holly Grove church in this county. He married a Miss Wells, of Greenwood, and a son of theirs, Pluss Anderson, died of influenza at Camp Jackson last year. No announcement has been made as to the funeral, though it is supposed that it will take place in Greenwood.

Mrs. Zenora Elmore.

The funeral services over the remains of Mrs. Zenora Elmore, who died last Monday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. L. F. Nelson, were held at Mt. Pleasant church Tuesday afternoon, Rev. S. H. Templeman conducting the exercises. Mrs. Elmore was the widow of the late Mathew Elmore, of the county, and was 87 years of age. She had lived with her daughter for some years. She was a member of the Baptist church and a consecrated Christian woman.

Reid-Watts.

Friends in the county of Rev. J. W. Watts, son of Mr. and Mrs. John D. W. Watts, will read with interest the account of his marriage Wednesday afternoon to Miss Mattie Lella Reid, of Spartanburg, which appeared in The State Sunday, as follows:

Spartanburg, July 3.—An interesting wedding took place in the First Baptist church Wednesday at 2 o'clock when Miss Mattie Lella Reid, daughter of Mrs. Della Liles Reid, became the bride of the Rev. J. W. Watts, of Laurens. Dr. W. L. Ball officiated. The church had beautiful but simple decorations of evergreens and ferns and prior to the ceremony Miss Mary Warren of Dunn, S. C., sang "Because" and "O, Promise Me." To the strains of the wedding march from Lohengrin, played by Miss Ola Bush, the ushers entered. These were Julian Carpenter of Landrum, the Rev. E. A. Fuller of Mountville, Brice Reid, Bryan Liles and Edmund Caldwell of this city. Immediately preceding the bride were little Marion Ball, as flower girl, and William Bah, as ring bearer.

The bride entered with her uncle, Floyd L. Liles. She wore a handsome tailored suit of midnight blue with accessories to match and her corsage bouquet was of bride roses and fern. She was met at the altar by the bridegroom with his best man, the Rev. Norfleet Gardner of Norfolk, Va. After the ceremony an informal reception was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Camp on Kennedy street, Mr. and Mrs. Watts leaving during the afternoon for a trip through the mountains of North Carolina.

Mrs. Watts is a graduate of Limestone college and recently attended a training school in Louisville.

Mr. Watts is a student at the Southern Theological Seminary at Louisville and after spending the summer at his home in Laurens will leave for Louisville in the autumn to complete his course.

REVIVAL SERVICES CLOSED SUNDAY NIGHT

Many Professions of Faith and General Improvement in Spiritual Condition.

The Gypsy Smith, Jr., revival services, which have been in progress since June 6th, came to a close Sunday night. The evangelist, who had been joined here several days before by his wife and child, and the choir master, Mr. Charlie Allen, left the same night for their homes in Connecticut. From there Mr. Smith will sail for England to visit his father, Rev. Gypsy Smith, the noted English preacher, and his grandfather, Rev. Cornelius Smith, also an evangelist. Upon his return to this country, Rev. Smith will go to Greenwood where he will conduct a series of services beginning September 26.

The expenses of the meeting, including the rental of tents and chairs, erection of the pulpit and choir stand, the payment of the traveling and hotel expenses of the evangelist and singer and the payment of the salaries of the singer and pianist, all amounting to about $2,500, were raised during the first part of the meeting. As a free-will offering to the evangelist, the community and vicinity contributed approximately $3,100 Sunday and Sunday night. In addition to this Mr. Allen was presented with a handsome traveling case by the choir and Mr. Smith was presented with a silver set by the ushers. In a short address before the sermon Sunday night Mr. Smith feelingly expressed his thanks to all of those who had contributed to the success of the meeting.

Last night the services came to a final close with an old time experience meeting in the tent. This was to have been held as The Advertiser was going to press. This morning work will be begun on removing the tent and by tomorrow all physical aspects of the meeting will be removed.

THE BRAVEST OF THE BRAVE.

How Captain Farley of J. E. B. Stuart's Staff Died.

(From the Baltimore Sun.) Major H. M. McClelland, adjutant general of the Confederate cavalry corps of General J. E. B. Stuart, published in his history of the operations of said cavalry an account of the following incident which occurred during the big cavalry fight at Brandy Station, Va., during the war between the states: General Butler and Captain Farley, the latter of General Stuart's staff, were standing side by side, with their horses' heads turned in opposite directions when a shell from the enemy's battery struck the ground, ricocheted, cut off Butler's right leg above the ankle, passed through his horse, Farley's horse and carried away Farley's leg at the knee.

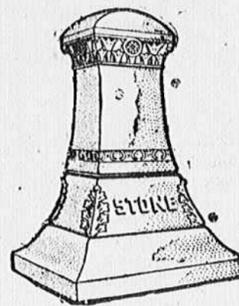

The Hon. John T. Rhett, of South Carolina, quoting from the Hon. M. C. Butler, of that state, says: "It was a scene which for knightly courtesy and heroism cannot be surpassed. I saw that shot fired by the enemy's gun had taken effect in a small group of men standing near me. We took Captain Farley out of a blanket, in which he had been placed, and put him in an old trough. He was very cool, even pleasant and smiling, though evidently in great pain. Just as we were about to send him away, pointing to the leg, which had been cut off by the shell he asked me to bring it to him. I did so. He took it and pressed it to his bosom, as one would a child, and said, smiling: 'It is an old friend, gentlemen. I do not wish to part with it.' He then said: 'Good-bye and forever: I know my condition and we will not meet again.' Courteously, even smiling, he nodded to us as the men bore him away. He died within a few hours."

I knew Captain Farley well. He was admired by all who knew him for his splendid courage. He was one of General Stuart's favorites and few Confederate officers had as many friends. He often went scouting into the enemy's line, generally alone, and frequently brought back prisoners—sometimes cavalry, with their horses and equipment. I was with him on one occasion when he captured several Yankee officers with their horses.

Gasoline and Tire Prices Gradually Advancing

Waste is unpopular; thrift is in the air. It is the rule these days to get the most out of the things we have to do with.

There ought not to be any confusion as to what constitutes efficiency and thrift. An automobile either has thrift, or it has not; there is no middle ground.
