CHARLES PLEASANT SULLIVAN

Native of This County Died at Camp Hill, Ala., September 11.

The Advertiser has received the clipping below from the Tallapoosa News, published at Camp Hill, Ala., where Rev. Charles Pleasant Sullivan, a native of this county, died on Sunday, Sept. 11. Rev. Sullivan was the last surviving brother of Mr. William D. Sullivan, Sr., of Tumbling Shoals, this county, and is remembered by the older residents of the county. Before entering the ministry Rev. Sullivan practiced law here and in Alabama and also contributed extensively to the newspapers, besides writing two books which, however, he never saw fit to publish. He was one of the few surviving former slave holders of the South and was a successful advocate at the bar.

The following is the tribute to him taken from the Alabama paper:

"Funeral service over the remains of C. P. Sullivan were held Monday morning at ten o'clock at the Methodist church, the Rev. C. P. Hamby, assisted by Doctors Clark and Smith, performing the last sad rites.

"Charles Pleasant Sullivan was born in Laurens County, South Carolina, Feb. 20th, 1841. He was educated in the colleges of South Carolina, and then entered Yale College, New Haven, Connecticut, as a law student; read law two years and was called home on account of the war between the states. He joined his brother, Captain Arnold Sullivan's company; was soon promoted lieutenant, and served gallantly through the war. At the end of hostilities, he returned home, and finished his course, and was admitted to the bar in South Carolina.

"After his conversion, he felt that he was called to the ministry, and responded to the call of his Lord and Savior. He joined the North Alabama Conference at Birmingham in 1884. His first charge was Waterloo. The next year he was sent to Camp Hill, and, his voice failing him, he located and has spent here the last thirty years of his life merchandising and doing good.

"Nature generously endowed him with rare gifts. Physically, he was every inch a man, and possessed a winning personality. His intellect was of a high order and firmly poised. In breadth and sweep of soul, he was God's nobleman. To associate with him was to feel the kinship of a real man and catch the inspiration of a noble life. He was a Christian with a religious experience. His religion was personal as well as professional—something to be enjoyed as well as preached. His heart was enriched by the grace of God, and his life was beautifully consistent.

"Possibly no man in Alabama had a better knowledge of the Bible than he, for he was an ardent student of the Scripture—delighted in reading and studying God's Holy Word.

"He was a gentleman of the old school, possessed of that old-fashioned courtesy and quiet dignity—signs of the brave and chivalrous soul. His simplicity and sincerity and his winsome smile of rare beauty made the world better by his having lived in it.

"His grand, white soul passed into eternal rest Sunday morning, the eleventh, at four o'clock. His name will always be linked with the history of Camp Hill, and is inscribed upon stones that do not lean or split asunder or gather moss, for his deeds are not perishable.

Meeting of Wednesday Club

The Wednesday Club will meet this afternoon at 4 o'clock with Mrs. R. H. Roper.

Mrs. S. H. Templeman.

Laurens "Hi" Wins

On Friday, Sept. 23rd, Laurens High defeated Greenwood in the opening game of the season by the score of 14 to 6. The Laurens boys were slightly out-weighted but more than offset this by their pluck and dash. The individual star of the game was Hartzog of Greenwood. None of the Laurens boys proved outstanding stars but all played hard and consistent ball. The next game will be here with Abbeville, Friday, October 7th.
