

MRS. ISABELLA GREENWAY
DEMOCRATIC CANDIDATE FOR CONGRESS

ARIZONA VOTES ON RE- PEAL NEXT TUESDAY

Arizonians will vote next Tuesday on repeal of the 18th amendment.

Action by Charles R. Osburn, seeking permanently to enjoin state and county officials from conducting the balloting, was dismissed yesterday by Judge G. A. Rogers of the Maricopa Co. Superior Court, who sustained defense demurrers.

Attorneys for Osburn gave formal notice of appeal to the Arizona Supreme Court, and added they would take the case to the United States Supreme Court if necessary.

Neither action was considered likely to prevent Tuesday's vote, which will be on the election of delegates to the state convention, although a reversal by either court subsequently could void the result.

The main point of Osburn's suit was an allegation that the House Bill 1 of the special session, 11th legislature, was not constitutional under the Arizona constitution.

In sustaining the demurrers, Judge Rodgers in effect said this could not be a point at issue for two reasons: There is nothing in the Arizona constitution about amending the constitution of the United States; and the legislature actually was deriving authority for passage of the bill direct from the supreme law of the land.

BIRTHDAY LAWN PARTY

Honoring Mrs. J. B. Boone on her birthday, a lawn party was given by Mrs. J. J. Butterfield at her home from 5 to 7:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon. A birthday gift was presented to Mrs. Boone by the guests. The refreshments consisted of cake and ice tea. Prizes were awarded to Mrs. P. W. Hamilton and Mrs. Ben Harris at the bridge games which were enjoyed during the afternoon hours by the following guests: Mesdames J. B. Boone, Chappel, Prather, Short, Harris, Paul, Burt, McNatt, P. W. Hamilton, Hooper, O. Boone and the hostess, Mrs. Butterfield.

Mrs. Prather contributed a lovely birthday cake as part of the birthday feature.

Remember Tuesday Aug. 8th is the primary, be sure to go and vote.

COTTON BAGS NOW USED AS CONTAINERS FOR 500 PRODUCTS

Cotton bags are now being used as containers for shipment of more than 500 commodities, according to figures obtained by the new uses section of the Cotton-Textile Institute. Hundreds of millions of many sizes are required annually to take care of the demand.

One of the largest outlets for cotton fabric in this field is sugar bags. One company alone manufactured and sold 99,000,000 cotton sugar bags in 1932, using approximately 40,000,000 yards of sheeting for this purpose. In addition, 8,000,000 cotton liners for 100-pound bags of other material, requiring about 9,000,000 yards of sheeting, were sold by the same company.

Evidence of the bag industry's immense cotton consumption in other directions is furnished by the production of approximately 12,000,000 cotton potato sacks in 1932. Two years earlier cotton bags represented about 10 per cent of the total number used for the put-up of potatoes. In 1933 it is estimated that the proportion of cotton bags will be several times increased.

Packaging of commodities in popular sales units and consumer preference for cotton containers, because of their re-use value account largely for the growing consumption of cotton for many new purposes.

P. T. A. TEA AUGUST 1ST

An interesting afternoon on Tuesday with an antique exhibit pleased everyone present at the P. T. A. Tea at the school auditorium with Mrs. J. F. Eisenhart acting chairman of the meeting. The oldest antique was shown by Mrs. J. J. Butterfield, who exhibited a snuff box made 450 years ago. Mrs. Nannie Pinkley displayed brass candle holders and snuffer and Betty Jackson modeled an antique dress of Mrs. Pinkley's mother, looking very stunning in the long black dress with a train. Mrs. Stonehocker's baby was dressed in an old fashioned long dress of her mother's; many interesting things were shown.

Mrs. Eisenhart and Gladys Roach played two piano duets. The hostesses were Mrs. P. W. Hamilton, Mrs. E. Stringer and Mrs. C. Skousen.

Those present were, Mesdames Stonehocker, G. W. Ware, Cohen, M. M. Ware, B. Jackson, Gardner, Roche, Masson, Butterfield, O. Boone, Durham, G. Eisenhart, J. F. Eisenhart, Luthy, Armstrong, J. B. Boone, Miss Collins and the hostesses.

GRASS WARNING GIVEN

Sudan grass and sorghum that have been injured by drought are extremely dangerous as a pasture of green feed for livestock, says the United States department of agriculture.

These cultivated grasses are more resistant to drought than most forage crops, but their prussic acid content is greatly increased by drought injury.

ARIZONA HIGHWAYS RECEIVE $800,000

Eight hundred thousand dollars will be spent during the current fiscal year by the Arizona Highway Department on construction and repair of thoroughfares through municipalities in the state, under a tentative allocation of funds announced by the Highway Commission, subject to approval of the federal government.

Heading the list of projects are a $191,000 bridge at Wickenburg and a $100,000 grade crossing underpass at Flagstaff.

PLANT COTTON LAND TO OTHER CROPS

"The federal plan for the reduction in cotton acreage gives those growers, who participate in the reduction program," says Dr. R. S. Hawkins, of the department of agronomy, University of Arizona, "the problem of deciding on what to do with their acreage thrown out of cotton production.

Growers will not be allowed to plant cotton fields, which have been plowed up, to other crops included in the Federal Government's reduction program unless such crops are consumed on the farm where produced.

Wheat, corn and cotton are the only crops grown on a commercial scale in Arizona which are included at present in the Government reduction program.

Land thrown out of cotton production may be planted to such summer crops as Sudan grass, sorghum, including Hegari, and Milo, or to cowpeas. Sudan grass may be planted as late as August 1, and still make a satisfactory crop with favorable growing conditions. Aug. 1 is too late for the sorghums and cowpeas. Barley and oats may be planted in the fall for hay and grain. Some of the cotton land can well be prepared for a late fall seeding of alfalfa.

A recent United States department of agriculture press service sheet states, "Growers, who plan to cooperate with the Government in an effort to restore prosperity to southern farms will give careful consideration to the use of all land retired from cotton cultivation, believe officials of the United States department of agriculture. To do so is to further balance production on a sane basis for the ultimate benefit of the grower." With the return of better prices the Arizona grower can ill afford to allow valuable land to remain idle.

MRS. ISABELLA GREENWAY MAKES AN ADDRESS IN COOLIDGE

Tuesday evening Mrs. Isabella Greenway gave the voters of Coolidge an able talk on her candidacy for nomination to U. S. Congress. The speaker was introduced by John Goree, president of the Coolidge "Green for Congress" club. The speaker had the pleasure of addressing a large and attentive audience, briefly stating her views on subjects of most interest to her audience. We don't take much stock in any candidates platform but look rather to the past record already established and we believe many voters are of the same opinion Mrs. Greenway seems to be the logical candidate and judging from her large following throughout the state there is no question about her receiving the nomination next Tuesday at the primaries, which assures her election in October. Mrs. Greenway spoke in Florence and Casa Grande the same day.

J. B. Boone was a business visitor in Phoenix Monday.

CHILDREN'S PARTY

Mrs. F. M. Watson was hostess to a party of children last Saturday afternoon at her home on Lincoln Street, celebrating the birthdays of two of her sons Ross and Earl who reached the ages of six and eight years respectively. Games were played throughout the afternoon which closed with refreshments of ice cream and two birthday cakes adorned with candles. Many delightful gifts of toys and other things were received by Ross and Earl. Those present were, Toby Joe Dunnigan, Jackie Coker, Ruth Spruell, Deon Craig, Richard and Billy Weaver, Lee Ella and Lavern Odom, Glenace Mitchell, Esther Mae and Dorothy Nowlin, James Robert Merrill, John and Henry Simpson, Harold Livingston, John Roche, Freda and Bess Masson, Gloria Appel, William Lake Merrill, Bud Nowlin and Blain Burt.

The Watsons are moving to Florence this week to make their home. Mr. Watson is highway inspector with headquarters at Florence.

Miss Esther Scott who has been seriously ill for some time with appendicitis complications is reported much better.

THE MAIN TENET OF SAFETY ON ROADS

Safety on the highways is principally an attitude of mind.

Better cars and roads won't attain it. Indeed they tend toward the opposite result. It has long been the experience that when a stretch of poor road is converted into a broad, straight, smooth highway the number of accidents increase because motorists overestimate the safety factor. They lose the sense of caution that a poor road naturally creates, and the death and injury rate booms.

The same thing is true of automobiles. The manufacturers give us cars with better brakes, surer steering, more perfectly balanced bodies--and we abuse them to the point where the automobile accident rate breaks all records.

The "safety attitude" isn't a particularly difficult one to develop. It is simply to drive as we'd like the car approaching us to drive. Don't cut corners, nor pass on curves or hills nor drive on the wrong side of the road, nor fight for the right of way, nor drive so fast you cannot stop in the assured clear distance ahead. Almost every accident, minor or severe, occurs because someone violates these simple rules.

Possibly a better phrase for safe driving would be "courteous driving." Discourtesy on the highway is always the friend of accidents. If you'll make up your mind to drive the way you think the other fellow should drive, the accident rate will be due for a severe beating in the future.

STEWART OBSERVATORY SEEKS METEOR FOR STUDY

Great interest was expressed at Stewart observatory Tucson, regarding the meteorite which fell at Twenty-fourth street and Henshaw road, Phoenix, recently. Dark brown with singed black edges and having the appearance of molten lava, the tiny piece, apparently broken from a much larger body is only an inch and a half long and an inch in diameter.

It was picked up in the front yard of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Sullivan. Mrs. Sullivan as well as scores of neighbors witnessed what appeared to be the coming of a shooting star. When it was within what seemed to be 40 feet of the ground, it burst into flame, and was smoking when it struck the ground.

To observers in other parts of the city, the meteorite first appeared in the northern sky as a large, redish ball of fire. It was visible for several seconds. When about 30 degrees above the horizon it appeared to burst in a number of pieces, much as a fireworks piece might shower. The mass shot from sight, each fragment trailed by a blue-tinged flame.

Officials of Stewart observatory expressed hope that the fragment would be sent to Tucson for study by astronomers as soon as possible.

Several persons in the vicinity of the Sullivan home said it appeared that a larger piece fell in one of the fields in that area. A search will be made in the hope that this portion may be found.---Exchange.

COOLIDGE BUSINESS MEN ADOPT THE N. R. A. CODE

The Chamber of Commerce held a special meeting Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock inviting all of the business firms of Coolidge to attend, giving them an opportunity to discuss together the "President's re-employment agreement", and then to work out a plan for local merchants to subscribe to. The morning session adjourned till 4 p. m. at which time a report action taken by Florence merchants might be known and if possible all towns of the Valley could then perhaps adopt the same code. The following code was finally agreed upon.

8:30 a. m. to 5:30 p. m. Monday to Friday inclusive

8:30 a. m. to 8:30 p. m. Saturdays!

8:30 a. m. to 8:30 p. m. on days preceeding legal holidays. Closed all day Sunday.

(A 52-hour week)

Firms represented at the meeting were:

Mandel & Harris
George Y. Wah
Fair Store
Hines Drug Company
Popular Store
Hamilton Lumber Co.
Dan's Cafe
Davis Hardware
Coolidge Mercantile
Fain's Grocery
Pay'n Takit
Ten-Cent Store
Borree's Store
Gomez Grocery
Tyler Hardware
Cash and Cary
Foxworth-Galbraith Lbr. Co.
Sheller Jewelry Store
Coolidge Drug Co.
Slater's Garage
Mac Kinnis Shoeshop
Moxley Campground
Moxley Taylor Shop.

This meeting was also attended by 15 to 20 others not coming under the code.

J. B. Boone presided at both sessions. Deliberations were seriously entered into and with a real spirit of a get-together-kind that finally resulted in the adoption of a code that suited those concerned so the final vote was without a dissenting vote.

A committee was named to canvas the town and surrounding country submitting the adopted code for approval and signing, in hopes that 100 per cent might be secured. The committee consists of Kenyon Harris, chairman, D. S. Davis and Geo. Y. Wah.

Another committee to be called a "Grievance Committee" was named: Nat Zahalsky, chairman, A. D. Tyler, and A. J. Dunaway.

STATE HEALTH BOARD REVISED ITS SYSTEM

Because it believes its death rate from tuberculosis in Arizona, the highest in the nation, is highly abnormal and does not present the true picture of the health of this state's citizens, the state board of health has revised its system of reporting fatalities from this cause.

Hereafter, physicians will be required to make death certificates of all tuberculosis victims, "non-resident" if they have lived in Arizona less than one year.---Ex.
