Teresa Akers was in charge of the evening's entertainment.

KENILWORTH

News Column

The sixth, seventh, and eighth grade English classes of the Kenilworth School gave an assembly program November 2, 1939. It was a radio program given as if the voices of the pupils came from a radio.

Pupils from the sixth grade gave a short play called: "Rainbow Hours" from a literature lesson. Doris Schultz and Fay Moore wrote the script. The characters were: Thaniel Hary as Alberto, Jimmie Higgins as Jack, Doris Schultz as Mrs. Jameson and Martin Wing as Mr. Ammons. Fay Moore was the sixth grade announcer.

Letha Malone announced a program of advice to cooks. Iris Bonner told how to bake potatoes underground; Clay Hall told how to dress a rabbit, and Curtis McDaniell gave a talk on how to dress and fry a chicken. Sam Huston interrupted the program with news flashes. Val Allen of the eighth grade announced talks about buying used cars by Gordon Brannon and Billy Urton.—Juanita Rose.

A Halloween party was given at the Kenilworth School Tuesday night October 31, by the sixth and seventh grades. Most of the pupils came in costume. Clay Hall who won first prize limped in as a feeble old prospector. The second prize went to Doris Shultz as the best ghost. Following the costume parade games and tricks were played. Then hot chocolate and cookies were served and the party was over at about 9:30 so the children could come to school and work instead of sleeping all the next day.—Sam Huston.

The first meeting of the Leather Craft Club will be held on Thursday night November 9 at the home of Mr. Hauskins, the club leader. Plans for the first work are to be made. There are 25 boys from Kenilworth sixth, seventh and eighth grades that joined the club. They are all first year workers.

The sixth grade from Kenilworth School organized a 4-H health club Friday November 3, 1939. They elected officers which were: Iris Bonner, president; Fay Moore, vice-president; Juanita Rose, secretary; Mary Ellen Rose and Ester Harrod, song leaders. The name of the club is Sunshine Health Club. The three girls in the plan committee are Juanita Rose, Mary Ellen Rose and Fay Moore. Mr. Culbert is the health leader.—Iris Bonner.

The eighth graders of Kenilworth School were entertained Halloween night by Mrs. Stonehocker. They appeared in costumes and Johnnie Payne was the last to be recognized. Mary Freeland won the prize in the game of Ghost. Other games played were Three Deep, Wheelbarrow, races and peanut races. The side that won ate the peanuts. All pupils enjoyed themselves.—Mary Freeland.

Three boys from Kenilworth School, Joe Garcia, Duane Faults and Palmer Cooper received calves from Tovrea Packing Co. for their 4-H calf club work. The boys will sell the calves back to Tovrea next spring after the calves are about three months old. — Pearl Aldridge.

The Low Down

From Hickory Grove

One thing you can say about this melee in Europe, it is gonna get some moths out of our geographies. And as she drifts over toward Turkey and Asia, it is going to bring in maybe some bible names also. And when it does so, there will be even more dustin' off to do.

This Turkey country, if you have not studied up since you were in high school, it is going to surprise you. And if you went to school around 25 years ago, you will maybe think the capital of Turkey is Constantinople—like I did.

There is no Constantinople any more—Constantinople is now Istanbul. And in the second place the capital of Turkey is not in Europe, in the first place, it is in Asia, and it is at Ankara or Angora—whichever you want to call it. I sure been brushing' up.

A Turk, he is also known as an Ottoman. Also, he has Tartar blood—his forefathers were scoundrels—and poison with a shootin' iron. There were no sissy Tartars. It is easy to see why Stalin and Herr Adolph are hesitating. They been reading up on Tartars, also.

Yours with the low down,
JO SERRA.
