Letter from Rev. I. T. Whittemore.
WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 7.

EDITOR TRIBUNE: We had a grand time at the National Irrigation Congress in Chicago. Hon. Geo. H. Maxwell was the head center, the oracle, and his influence was felt and acknowledged by all. There were governors and mayors and bank presidents, scientific gentlemen, some of the best brains in the country, and all were unanimous in bringing national irrigation before the people of the United States and Congress. The subject has come to the front and come to stay.

We have found a man to formulate the bill to secure an appropriation for the San Carlos dam from this Congress, and he is at work gathering material and will soon have it in readiness for the printer. Some unwise movements have been made and have alarmed the friends of the project, but "truth is mighty and must prevail," and any scheme to thwart or hinder the erection of that dam will come to naught.

Mr. Guy E. Mitchell corresponding secretary of the National Irrigation Association, is a live man—a better one for the position it would be hard to find.

We have secured (or think we have) two of the ablest men in the Senate, and when the bill is brought before Congress their voices will be heard.

Col. J. F. Wilson is stopping at the the Varnum, and I shall have an interview with him next week.

Truly yours,
I. T. WHITTEMORE.

James Colquhoun, W. J. Atkinson and Paul Nicholas, connected with the Arizona Copper company at Clifton, passed through Florence yesterday noon, on their way to the Ray mines, where it is understood they will make a critical examination of the property for the English owners. They were accompanied by J. N. Curtis, the well-known mining man. Mr. Colquhoun is general manager of the Arizona Copper company, and one of the most expert men in his line of business. Upon the report of these gentlemen much will depend.

Thos. Winsor, who last year had charge of a party of U. S. Geological surveys in this county, died at the residence of his parents in Trinidad, Colorado, on the 24 inst. He had been ill but a few days, death being due to peritonitis. He was born in Devonshire, England, on August 11, 1862. The earlier years of his life were spent in Massachusetts and Indiana, where he obtained his education and became acquainted with his profession as civil engineer and surveyor.

Captain Wm. M. Meredith, who was foreman of the St. Louis Globe-Democrat news room many years ago while the TRIBUNE editor was "slug 19" on that great family journal, has been appointed chief of the bureau of engraving and printing in Washington. A better man for the position could not be found, as he is thoroughly competent and will run the Government printing office "on the square."

The social given by the Twentieth Century Club Thursday evening at the residence of C. D. Reppy was greatly enjoyed by those who participated. The programme consisted of music, games, recitations, charades, cake walk, etc. The entertainment was in charge of Division 1 of the club, with Miss Rogie Bartleson as leader. Coffee and cake were served. Some thirty members attended.

W. W. Wilson, who took a teachers' examination recently in this county, had his papers forwarded to the Territorial Board in Phoenix, and received word yesterday that he had been granted a first grade territorial certificate. Mr. Wilson was formerly superintendent of the Sacaton Indian school, and he and his family are now residents of Florence.

District Attorney J. E. O'Connor and A. Orfila, Esq., were in Yuma this week taking the deposition of P. E. Brady, Jr., to be used in the suit of Pinal county against the bondsmen of the defaulting county treasurer, which comes up on the 23th.

Charley Holborn, formerly of Florence, has announced himself as a candidate for city treasurer of Prescott. The Journal-Miner says Mr. Holborn has a host of friends in that city who will assist him in securing the position.

A New Year's Guide.

There is one book every one should make an effort to get, for the new year. It contains simple and valuable hints concerning health, many amusing anecdotes, and much general information. We refer to Hostetter's Almanac, published by The Hostetter Co., Pittsburg, Pa. It will prove valuable to any household. Sixty employees are kept at work on this valuable book. The issue for 1901 will be over eight millions, printed in the English, German, French, Welsh, Norwegian, Swedish, Holland, Bohemian and Spanish languages. It contains proof of the efficacy of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, the great remedy prepared by the publishers, and is worthy of careful preservation. The almanac may be obtained free of cost, at any druggist or general dealer in the country.

Downing Acquitted.

(From the Tucson Citizen.)

William Downing was acquitted of the charge of train robbery at Tombstone Wednesday night. The jury was out but a short time when the verdict was arrived at. The evidence of Stiles and Burtis did not have effect in the case because they were both accomplices, and Downing disclaimed any connection with the robbery.

There was another sensation in the trial when Mrs. Downing was placed on the stand. She denied that the horses were furnished by her husband and said that Burtis did not sleep at her house on the night of September 9. Of the testimony of Mrs. Downing the Prospector says: While much of the evidence in this case would pale the most vivid detective story, the climax of sensation was reached when Mrs. Downing and defendant told of a mysterious stranger who sawed wood for them from the 8th to the 10th of Sept., 1899; how Stiles called the stranger out about dark on the 10th and they had never seen him since; how they both recognized the dead man found by Tom Waters and Amos Marston a few miles from Wilcox last winter as the stranger by the shirt found upon him and a blue stud in it, and by a deformed finger and finger nail on the hand of the dead man. Defendant said that Stiles had told defendant the morning after he called the man out, that "the" had been meddling, and he had made him leave town." Defendant specifically denied each and all of the incriminating statements attributed to him. When asked if he had ever had any conversation with Stiles, Alvord or Burtis about robbing the train either at Cochise or Benson he said he "never thought of such a thing, never dreamed of such a thing."

Death of W. H. Norway.

Wm. H. Norway while attempting to cross a street in Los Angeles on the 30th ult. was run over by an electric car and knocked senseless. His skull was fractured and thigh broken. He lingered until 1 p. m. Saturday and died without regaining consciousness.

Wm. Henry Norway was born in New York and came in company with W. S. Chaffee to California in 1880. The first work he did was to mow hay for Thos. W. More, on the Sespe Rancho. Norway, shortly afterwards settled in the town of Santa Barbara and was county surveyor of that county for many terms. He surveyed most of the big grants in Santa Barbara and Ventura counties. The words "According to the survey made by W. H. Norway" are household words with abstractors in these counties. At the time of his death he was interested largely in mining property near Florence, having recently purchased the old Bell mine at the Buttes. He leaves a wife and son to mourn his loss. He was a member of Blue Lodge Masons, Chapter, and Knight Templars of Santa Barbara and was buried by these orders on Dec. 4 at 2 p. m. at Santa Barbara. He was 60 years of age and was well-known throughout the state and had a host of friends.

How to Cure Croup.

Mr. R. Gray, who lives near Ardenia, Dueñas county, N. Y., says: "Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is the best medicine I have ever used. It is a fine children's remedy for croup and never fails to cure." When given as soon as the child becomes hoarse, or even after the croupy cough has developed, it will prevent the attack. This should be borne in mind and a bottle of the Cough Remedy kept at hand ready for instant use as soon as these symptoms appear. For sale by Brockway's Pharmacy.

Among the tens of thousands who have used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for colds and la grippe during the past few years, to our knowledge, not a single case has resulted in pneumonia. Thos. Whitfield & Co., 240 Wabash avenue, Chicago, one of the most prominent retail druggists in that city, in speaking of this says: "We recommend Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for la grippe in many cases, as it not only gives prompt and complete recovery, but also counteracts any tendency of la grippe to result in pneumonia." For sale by Brockway's Pharmacy.

Dudley Craig, of the Irion ranch, says 7.86 inches of rain fell at the ranch. While on the way down Bloody Tanks he saw a sign which read, "Beware of quicksand." Mr. Craig said this amused him, for never before was there an occasion for this precaution.—[Globe Times.]
