L. J. Sailors and Wm. M. Crawford, government employes at the Sacaton Indian agency, were in town Monday.

Mrs. Valenzuela, and her daughter, Miss Rita, and son Tiodolo, of Phoenix, are visiting the family of Faendo Salazar.

San Juan's day was celebrated in Florence with the usual amount of hilarity, though for a wonder nobody was hurt.

Father Bezemart, the Catholic priest, was taken down with a fever on Tuesday, and has been quite seriously ill the entire week.

There seems to be a gang of sneak thieves in town, and now that people are sleeping out it would be well to keep a look-out.

Johnny Brady came over from Tucson last Sunday and returned Wednesday. He has a host of friends here who are always glad to see him.

Capt. John G. Keating, chairman of the Board of Supervisors, was ill and confined to his house several days this week, but is now up and around.

Gabriel E. Angulo bought a fine bunch of steers this week from Nick White and immediately sold them to Peterson, the cattle buyer of Mesa.

Mr. James McNeil and sister Miss Nellie McNeil will leave Tempe in a few days for an extended visit in the state of New York and a look at the Buffalo exposition.

Mrs. Stephen M. Bailey with her two little boys will arrive to-night from Phoenix, on a visit to relatives and friends in Florence. Her son Walter drove to Mesa yesterday for them.

The party given at Keating's Hall last Monday night, by the young men of Florence, was one of the most successful social events of the season. There was a large attendance from town and the surrounding country.

The following named Florence people left on Thursday's Southern Pacific excursion for the coast: Miss Natalia Miches, Claude Miches, Miss Mary Sweeney, Mrs. J. H. Hopkins and son Jimmie and Wm. McGee. Mrs. J. T. Bartleson and daughter, Miss Bogie, expect to leave next week.

Superintendent W. Y. Price has had a large force of men and teams at work on the dam for some time past. It will be completed this evening. The dam has been strengthened; new waste gates have been put in, and the sand in the canal near the head for a distance of half a mile has been cleaned out.

On Thursday last Miguel Frederico, a 14-year-old nephew of Ambrosio Arvia, was badly hooked by a mad bull at Kenilworth. He, in company with three other boys, was driving a bunch of cattle belonging to Shields & Price. The boy got off his horse for some purpose when the bull made for him, knocked him down, and gored him severely on the leg and shoulder. The other boys rushed in to protect him, and it was only after a horse ridden by Juan Avenente, Jr., was hooked by the bull that the life of Frederico was saved. He was brought to town and is now under Dr. Brockway's care.

Mrs. Peter Cosgray and her granddaughter, Mrs. John McCarthy, arrived in Florence last Saturday, hoping to hear news of Mr. McCarthy, of whose mysterious disappearance they had only learned the previous day. Telephone messages were sent to Prescott and Jerome, but nothing encouraging was received. It is now three weeks since Mr. McCarthy was lost in the Mogolion mountains, and his friends fear the worst. Mrs. McCarthy is prostrated over the sad affair, and has the sympathy of the entire community.

Landlord L. K. Drays, of the Florence Hotel, and the editor of the TRIBUNE received this week large-sized photographs of our former townsman, Hon. A. S. Humphreys, Circuit Judge at Honolulu. The Judge's handsome face is depicted as somewhat older than when he left here, and even more intellectual and powerful. He is now in San Francisco on a visit with his family, and his many friends in Florence hope to see them here before their return to the islands.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank W. Doan came in Wednesday from Phoenix, where they were married the previous day. A full account of the wedding is given in this issue, copied from the Republican. The TRIBUNE wishes the young couple all the joys and prosperity imaginable, and especially welcomes the bride to Florence, where she will prove an addition to its social circles. She is a charming and accomplished lady, and Frank is to be congratulated upon having won her.

Mrs. Emma J. Guild, formerly of Florence, has resigned her position as instructor in the sub-collegiate department of the University of Arizona, and will take a two years' course in the University of California. Her place in the territorial university has been filled by the appointment of Miss Hattie Ferris, formerly a teacher in the Tucson public schools.

The young men have made arrangements to celebrate the Fourth of July in Florence. There will be horse-racing, foot-racing, a base-ball match (probably with the Tempe nine) and fireworks and a ball in the evening. Sorely enough to keep up a display of patriotism for this warm weather. A good time is anticipated.

George McCellan, Allison has been appointed postmaster at Globe. He was endorsed by Governor Murphy.

The Board of Supervisors will meet Monday in regular quarterly session and also as a board of equalization.

District Attorney O'Connor is expected home to-morrow from California.

Adelbert S. Hay, son of Secretary of State Hay, and former consul to Pretoria, South Africa, fell from the window of a hotel at New Haven, Connecticut, on Saturday night and was killed. Just how the accident occurred is not known. Hay was only twenty-two years old, and he was shortly to become assistant secretary to President McKinley. His father was prostrated with grief over the death of the young man.

Secretary Charles H. Akers was in Kingman on Monday last on mining business. Mr. Akers intends to return to Kingman after his term of office expires and enter actively into mining. There is a splendid opening in this county for a promoter and Mr. Akers will surely take well with the mine owners.—[Mohave Miner.]

A pardon was issued this week for Sam Dennis who is serving a term in the penitentiary for murderous assault committed in Yavapai county.

First Submarine Cable,
Which was made from an ordinary wire, insulated with gutta percha, was laid across the English Channel about fifty years ago. It was also about the same time that Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, the world renowned dyspepsia cure, was first introduced to the public; and its success as a family medicine during those years almost eclipses that of the submarine cable, while today it stands alone as the one reliable remedy for dyspepsia, indigestion, flatulency, constipation, biliousness, nervousness or insomnia. If you are a sufferer from these diseases, it is because you have never tried the Bitters. Try it at once, if you would be well. It will strengthen your entire system, and produce sound sleep, and good health must naturally follow.

DOAN-LA CHANCE.
A Delightful Home Wedding Celebrated in Phoenix.

[From the Phoenix Republican.]
A very pleasant home wedding took place Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. L. La Chance, No. 1525 East Washington street, at which time their daughter, Ethyl A., was united in marriage to Mr. Frank W. Doan, son of Judge Fletcher M. Doan, associate justice of the supreme court of Arizona, of Florence, Rev. C. V. Cowan, pastor of the M. E. church, officiating.

The interior decorations were in pink and white and asparagus fern and across one corner of the room hung a canopy, from which was suspended a large horse-shoe of blush roses. The decorations were in charge of Mrs. J. O. Danbar. The bride was attired in an elaborate costume of imported organza trimmed in real Valenciennes lace, with silk ruffles, and carried a large bouquet of blush roses. At the sound of Mendelssohn's Wedding March, rendered by Mrs. W. E. Defty, the bride and groom appeared, ushered in by Miss Byrd Rice, and took their places under the canopy and horse-shoe roses. The beautiful and impressive ceremony followed, the groom presenting the ring, while Mr. Defty sang "Call Me Thine Own." After congratulations were extended, the guests partook of delicious fruit frappe from a large punch bowl presided over by Miss Luella Rice, and a wedding luncheon was served.

Those invited were: Judge and Mrs. E. M. Doan and Fletcher Doan, Jr., Florence; Mr. John Doan, Fortuna; Colonel and Mrs. M. H. McCord, Mr. E. S. Wakelin, Captain and Mrs. P. P. Parker and Miss Angie Parker, Rev. and Mrs. C. V. Cowan and Miss Manie Cowan, Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Danbar, Mrs. and Miss Early, Dr. Win Wylie, Mrs. Munds, of Prescott; Mr. James Colath, Fortuna; Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Sturtevant, Miss Norma Damron, Mr. and Mrs. Garver, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Defty, Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Rice and Misses Luella and Byrd Rice and Master Milton Rice, Mrs. C. M. Curtis, Miss May Like, LaJunta, Colo.; Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Holmes of Kingman, Ariz.; Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Truman and Mr. John F. Daveport of Florence; Mr. Clay Parker and Mr. James Parker.

The bride is a cultured and most estimable young lady, a musician of more than local note, and has a host of friends in Phoenix, who will wish her all the joy she so richly merits; the groom is recently from Stanford university, where he took the highest honors in the law department, and has just been admitted to the California bar; he is well known in Phoenix as a young man of high character and attainment with a promising future.

The presents were many and valuable, among them being numerous pieces of china, cut-glass and solid silver.

The bride and groom took their departure on the evening train for Florence, accompanied by Judge and Mrs. Doan, and at Casa Grande where the change for Florence is made, a wedding breakfast will be served this morning at the palatial residence of Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Reid.

Left a Curious Will.

NEW YORK, June 21.—"I bequeath my house and all my property to my mother, with the exception of five dollars which I leave to my darling husband, who has been the very best of men, I know he can make a living for himself." This is the will of Mrs. Harriet Cooper, filed to-day for probate.

Geo. E. Kohler this morning returned from Tombstone. Mr. Kohler keeps track of the advancement of Arizona about as well as any man who is interested in the Territory. He is always looking for a sign of improvement and never misses a chance to make a good investment. He says that Tombstone shows unmistakable signs of re-cantation. There are about fifty men in the camp who are employed in sinking the new four-compartment shaft which will be the main working shaft in the new operations of the mines there. The shaft is being sunk in a h-c-d formation beside the ledge. Mr. Kohler says that several new houses have been built and the camp is lively.—[Tucson Citizen.]

Information has been received in Bisbee that Frank Johnson, formerly of that city, had implicated himself in serious trouble near Abilene, Texas. It seems that Johnson and a companion had some trouble with a rancher living near Abilene, Texas, over some cattle, and a dispute arose, which ended in the rancher being killed by Johnson and his partner. The men were arrested and placed in jail at Abilene, but during the night made good their escape and nothing further has been heard of them. Johnson at one time was interested in the Free Coinage saloon in Bisbee and married Miss Josie Morgan. Some three years ago Johnson shot and killed Andy Darnell at the 7UP ranch in the Chiricahuas. Of this crime he was exonerated by the coroner's jury, it being shown that the act was done in self-defense.—[Bisbee Review.]

The permanence of the King of Arizona mine was settled during the week by the cutting of the enclosed vein by a shaft at a depth of 600 feet. The pay streak crossed was found four feet in width with one perfect wall. Within this pay streak the assays average $64 to the ton in gold. Crosscutting has been started to determine the full width of the ledge. The mine which is mainly owned by Epps Randolph and Eugene S. Ives of Tucson, is the same that had such fame as a producer of rock at the surface, worth thousands of dollars to the ton. Now that it has been demonstrated that the ore body is a permanent one, it is understood that the owners will install a much larger reduction plant, in the meantime energetically opening up stoping levels. The last bullion shipment from the mill, for something less than a month's work, was $45,000.

The annual meeting of the South-west Miners' association will be held on July 9, 1901, at the rooms of the association at Los Angeles, at 8 o'clock p. m. All members to be considered in good standing and to be entitled to a vote must not have more than six months arrears of dues.
