St. Johns, A. T. February 12, 1885.

On Thursday last, the court, Hon. Sumner Howard presiding, called the grand jury into court and gave them what might be termed a supplemental instruction, in substance as follows:

GENTLEMEN OF THE JURY:—It has come to the knowledge of the court through some of your members, that you, as a body, have refused to find indictments against persons, for, as is said in one instance, that the county will be put to costs over a small matter. Now, I charge you that all persons or corporations doing business or having property within this county are entitled to protection, and that, whether the offence be of small or great moment, a corporation, railroad or otherwise, that pays large taxes into your treasury is especially entitled to your protection. An offence committed against its property is just as heinous as though committed against an individual. If you find that any person has feloniously or burglariously taken coal, or other property, from the possession of the Railroad company, it is your duty to find an indictment against such person without regard to the costs that the county may be put to. It is not a good policy to look at the question of costs. Crime must be punished. It may seem beneficial in a particular case but in the long run it works an injustice to good morals and society. It may be that you have misunderstood my charge to you, given at the time you were empaneled, I charged you then as I charge you now, when two persons claim certain property under color of title, and one peaceably takes it from the other, he should not be indicted. They should come in on the civil side of the court and by an action in replevin or other suitable civil remedy, at their own expense, litigate the title to the property and not put the county to expense by indictment. It is upon this matter that I then charged you as to costs. I repeat that where a person takes the property of another (be that other a person or corporation) unlawfully, it is your duty to indict if the offence amounts to a felony.

I have also been informed that you have refused to indict persons belonging to the Military of the United States, assigning as a reason, that you did not want to fight or come in contact with the Military. I charge you that a member of the Military while within the jurisdiction of this court is amenable to the criminal laws of your Territory and if any member of the Military of the United States, whether he be an officer or the lowest menial in its employ, within the exterior boundaries of this county, has committed an offence, which is punishable by the laws of this Territory, and the fact is shown to your satisfaction, that there is reasonable grounds to believe that an offence amounting to a felony has been committed, it is your duty to indict such member. I want no foolishness on the part of this grand jury. There must be no child's play. You may retire to your rooms and if you do not do your duty as found in the statutes of your territory and the instructions given you by the court, I shall discharge you and call another grand jury that will see that the laws are properly enforced. The remedy for a failure to perform your duty lies in the statute, and the court will avail itself of that remedy.

The Oklahoma Boomers who declared their intention of defying the United States and holding to the lands upon which they had squatted, even if they had to do so at the cost of their lives, have surrendered without a shot being fired. This is just what the Mormons, another law and order defying class, will have to do—abide by and obey the laws of the United States.

The members of the Legislature who, indulged in a knock-down-drag-out fight the other day were L. P. Nash and J. A. Brown, both representatives from Yavapai county.

As yet the Legislature has done nothing in regard to equalizing fare and freight rates over the railroads.

"The St. Johns HERALD, in commenting on the lecture delivered in Prescott, Jan. 29, by Sumner Howard, on the subject of the 'Mountain Meadow Massacre,' asks the Judge to repeat it to the citizens of Saint Johns, in order that some of the young men will be turned from their present beliefs, and practices, alluding to the Mormon youths. The HERALD wants them to frequent saloons, gambling houses and imitate the actions of the average gentle youth, who spends his time in drinking, carousing, gambling and spending his money in saloons."—Orion Era.

Why not copy the article? Had the Orion Era placed it before its readers, the comments it makes would show how far away from the subject it purposely drifted. Our thoughts were arrayed against the domination over civil affairs of the people by the Mormon priesthood; against a theocracy that would re-enslave its followers; against the exacting and cruel leaders who rob the laborer of the pittance, earned by his hardest toil, which should go to support himself and his family; against a system that in its effect degrades the race and lowers them to the level of the meanest of animals; against polygamy as against the advanced civilization of the times in which we live; against the control of the apostles and priesthood over the inalienable rights and liberties of the people; against this new horror under the cloak of religion they would fasten upon the best government the sun ever shown upon. We are glad to be quoted by our cotemporaries, but they must do it fairly, and not write a Lie and send it forth to the world as truth.

We confidently trust that the Board of Supervisors of Apache Co. will take the present occasion to look after the necessities of a bridge across the Rio Puerco at Navajo Station, on the A. & P. Railroad. At all times the bridge is required to make a safe transit. Now, while the maddening waters are rushing across the treacherous quick sand, it is positively dangerous both to life and to the loss of the United States mails that are twice daily to be crossed at this point. Come, gentlemen of the Board, listen to our cry. We shall ask for nothing that is not for the public good, and shall be slow to call for anything that implies the expenditure of money unless the necessity is imperative.

20,000,000 ACRES OF LAND FOR Sale in New Mexico and Arizona.
THE ATLANTIC AND PACIFIC RAILROAD COMPANY.
The Land Grant of this Company, in alternate sections extends entirely across the Territories of New Mexico and Arizona, between the 24th and 26th degrees of north latitude. It is 60 miles long and 20 miles wide and includes some of the best grazing lands of both Territories. In the valleys are many desirable tracts of agricultural land, susceptible of irrigation. A sufficiency of water has been found wherever cattle and sheep have been grazed, and large herds have been grazed in the country ever since the coming of the Mexicans. Wells have been sunk and good water has been obtained.
A stream of running water, the San Jose, rises near the summit of the Sierra Madre, and runs 75 miles eastward to the Rio Puerco, and the company's road follows the whole length of its valley. There are numerous fine valleys opening into the valley of the San Jose, flanked by grassy and wooded hills, upon which there is an open growth of small cedar and pine. There is an extensive belt of good pine timber on the mountains, near the railroad, and good springs are found on both slopes of the Sierra Madre. There is a large coal field west of Fort Wingate which has been fully explored, and which will afford labor for a large population, there are also coal deposits on the slope of the Sierra Madre. Many varieties of building stone are found in great abundance along the line of the road.
In Arizona the grazing areas are supplied with good water, and the United States Surveyors, who made the official surveys of this country, say they are as good, if not better, than those of Wyoming and Montana. The Navajo Indians grow corn without irrigation, in the valleys of the Puerco of the West, on the Company's lands, and in the valley of the Little Colorado, also on the line of the road, good crops of corn, sorghum, oats, barley, and garden vegetables are grown by irrigation, the finest of potatoes, wheat, barley and garden vegetables of large size and fine quality have been successfully grown without irrigation on the slopes of the San Francisco mountains.
On these mountains there is an extensive timber belt, diversified by beautiful valleys and parks, with good water and wonderful canyons through which the road passes. In fact, the whole of the country traversed by the road is very picturesque and beautiful, and many towns are being built along its route.
The Valley of the Rio Grande, at Albuquerque is 2,000 feet above the sea, and the passes of the Sierra Madre and the San Francisco mountains, in Arizona, have elevations of 7,000, with a depression at Winslow, on the Little Colorado, where the altitude is 5,000 feet; the climate is mild and salubrious. Cattle and sheep graze throughout the year and do not need to be sheltered or grain fed during the winter. The nights are cool during the summer.
The Company is now prepared to make sales of its grazing lands in quantities of 50000 acres or more, at prices ranging from one dollar (or even less for larger quantities), to one dollar and a half an acre, upon payment of one-fourth the purchase value at date of contract of sale, the remainder in payments as may be agreed upon, bearing six per cent interest; and irrevocable agricultural lands in tracts of forty acres or more.
The belt of the Atlantic & Pacific Railroad Land Grant includes the only available grazing land in the country south of the Missouri River that can be purchased in large areas; and the section of country through which this road passes will become the best beef producing region of the United States.
Maps of the Land Grant will be forwarded on application and properly accredited persons desire to inspect grazing lands, with a view to purchase and establish stock ranches, will be given facilities for that purpose.
