THE DOUGLASS CASE.

Linstrum's Slayer Explains Why He Fired the Shot.

Readers of THE TOMSTONE will recollect the killing of Clements Linstrum by Wilson Douglass in this camp some weeks since. The homicide has generally been considered a cold blooded murder, and it has been with a great deal of curiosity that the public has awaited Douglass' trial to learn what reason he could possibly assign for the commission of the deed. Yesterday the defendant was placed on the stand and made the following statement:

My name is Wilson Douglass; have been a resident of Tombstone about five years; I first met Linstrum in July last; never had any difficulty with him prior to the killing; had made an arrangement with him the day before the killing that I should accompany him to the mine on the following day. On the morning of the killing was with Linstrum from six o'clock in the morning until the shooting, helping him to load the wagon; Linstrum and I visited several saloons and took several drinks that morning; took a drink in Linstrum's house a couple of hours before he started with the wagon; I am easily influenced by liquor; Linstrum had engaged me to go to the mine and work for him, and I knew nothing to the contrary until about five minutes before the shooting; When the wagon started to leave the house Linstrum and his wife were both on it; when Mrs. Linstrum saw that I was to be left behind she told her husband that it was a "mean trick;" I then told deceased that I wanted my shotgun from the wagon; I had my rifle in my hand; deceased said that I could not have the shot gun unless I gave him the rifle, and at the same time grasped the barrel; I sprang back, he still holding the barrel, and in the melee the rifle was accidentally discharged with the result known; I have a wife and child; prior to the shooting Linstrum positively informed me that he would not take me with him as he agreed; I naturally felt very hard toward him.

A Mysterious Case.

Chief of Police Oaks received from San Francisco last evening, a letter from Mrs. C. C. Laing asking for information concerning her husband Gustave Laing. From her letter it appears that her husband left this vicinity about two years ago for the Sentention mine in Chihuahua, Mexico, where he was under engagement as an engineer.

Failing to hear from her husband for some time, Mrs. Laing wrote to the manager of the company and learned that her husband had been murdered in the mountains of that vicinity. It appears however, from Mas. Laing's letter to the Chief, that the information furnished her concerning her husband's death was so vague and indefinite as to lead her to hope that he was yet in the land of the living, hence her letter asking for information. The letter further states that the Sentention mining company had advised her that a letter and a draft for $120 had been forwarded to Captain Heil Hale of Tucson, which was to be cashed, and the amount forwarded to her. Neither the letter nor the money ever reached Mrs. Laing, and she particularly inquires, "Who can Capt. Heil Hale be?" If anyone knows of the whereabouts of Laing, or any of the particulars of his death, he will confer a favor by communicating the same to Mrs. Carmen C. de Laing, No. 812 Taylor street, San Francisco, or to George Oaks, Chief of Police, Tombstone, Arizona.

Mrs. Judge Robinson and daughter returned last evening from a protracted visit to California.

From Los Angeles.

The following letter, bearing date, Los Angeles, Nov. 21st was received from Mr. A. Ashmun, the expressman, who started overland for Los Angeles during the latter part of October, which will be of interest to his many friends in this city.

FRIEND BAGG.—I am happy to say we arrived here last Monday, all well, twenty-six days from Tombstone and twenty four and one-half days travel. Grist turned off at Colton for San Diego.

After resting my horses for a few days I stated out to work on Friday. Of course I did not expect to do much being a stranger, but the two days I have worked I have made expenses. I went to Pasadena and saw Mr. and Mrs. Finney, Lon Givens and Mr. Winnans, and many others, all doing well. Both towns are rushing, and are bewildering to a person coming from Tombstone here, after an absence of eight years; I am lost, the few people I knew here then, are wealthy now.

New in regard to our trip. After leaving Yuma, we crossed the river on cars, and should have remained on them until we reached Ogilby, as this was the worst part of the road, badly washed by the late rains for about 15 miles; then a few miles of good travel then about 40 miles of sand, across a portion of which we made only 12 miles per day; then a good road and a deep wash every few hundred feet where the horses stood on end one side, and the wagon ditto on the other. On emerging from the desert we encountered salt and boggy land and my team got mired; then after leaving Indio, heavy sand until near Ban usng's and then God's own country; trees, grass, flowers, houses and the finest kind of a picnic. It was pretty rough, but we never wanted for feed or water as the former we carried with us, and the latter was very plentiful all along the railroad.

I find lots of old Tombstoners here, all in good spirits, and if they are not doing well, they expect to.

I met Mrs. Burland to-day. She is located here. Ed. Dean is in the Pico House; Johnny Shields is working for Miles. E. G. Ashmun has got a job and has gone somewhere to tend bar. Carpenters are all busy here. Good carpenters get $3 50 per day, and poor ones what they are worth; there is no end of building going on. I have heard that the Anti-Chinese ticket was elected. If that is so, what a set back it must be for some of the "B. C.'s!" I hope that Crowley got there. Ask Jim Nash to send me THE TOMSTONE. I intended to have subscribed before I left, but forgot it. Kind regards to all enquiring friends. I hope to give a good account of myself next time as I have something in view.

A. ASHMUN.

Arthur's Will. Special To THE DAILY TOMSTONE.]

NEW YORK, November 27.—Ex-President Arthur's will was not read yesterday as had been expected. Sherman W. Knevals of the law firm of Knevals & Ranson with which the ex-President was connected, said the will would not be formally read in the presence of the family but would be opened and filed with the Surrogate probate to-day.

The document was executed last March and is believed to direct the disposal of about $256,000 and personal property.

It is said the bequest, except in one or two instances in which charitable institutions are benefited are of a private nature.

Nearly all prominent persons who came here to attend the funeral have departed from the city. The family remained in seclusion to-day and receiving only a very few intimate friends.

A Belgian Beauty As A Smuggler. [Special To THE TOMSTONE.]

NEW YORK, Nov. 27.—Lace goods of much value have been smuggled into New York through various channels some time. Miss Josephine Schauwens a young and lovely Belgian living in this city was arrested to-day. The young lady says she has relatives in Belgium whom she frequently visits. They send lace by her to sell in this country.

The last time she returned by the steanship Switzerland landing in Philadelphia. It is alleged that she bought it in this city and peddled it in the city. In her apartments was found lace which valued at nearly $3,800.

The young women made no secret of the way it came into possession. She seemed to be unaware that she had committed a crime in smuggling lace into the city.

Death of A Railroad Manager. [Special To THE TOMSTONE.]

NEW YORK Nov. 27.—H. M. Hoxie general Manager of the Gould Southwestern system died here this morning.

Mr. H. xie died at 2 30 o'clock this morning at his rooms in the Metropolitan Opera House.

The cause of his death was exhaustion consequent on an operation performed on him at Saratoga in June last by removing stones from his bladder. He has also suffered from kidney disease for the last thirty-five years. He has been very weak for the last seven days but his doctors had great hopes for his recovery.

There will be no funeral services in this city.

The body will be embalmed and taken to Des Moines Iowa to-morrow and the funeral services will be held on Saturday.

The Express War Terminated. Special To THE DAILY TOMSTONE.]

NEW YORK Nov. 27.—A complete settlement of the express war has been made and yesterday the companies restored rates to the tariff in force May 1, 1885:

To Chicago $2.50, Cincinnati $2 and Cleveland $1.75 per 100 pounds. The agreement was reached at a meeting of the representatives of the companies at the office of Adams & Co Monday afternoon and yesterday the general agents met to carry the resolution into practical form. The agreement was signed by all of the companies.

A Doctor Arrested For Murder. Special To THE DAILY TOMSTONE.]

DETROIT, Nov. 27.—David H. Wier, of Oscoda was arrested at London, Ont. to-day, for the murder of a woman in that place, and will be held for extradition. Dr. Wier kept a drugstore and private hospital. Miss Mable Clark aged 20, was a patient in the hospital for some time, but on November 4th she managed to inform friends that she had been subjected to the greatest indignity. Intense excitement was caused by the story, Wier left town. Two or three days later the girl died and Wier was held responsible for her death. A reward of $2000 has been offered for his arrest.

Brink Trade In Steel Rails. Special To THE DAILY TOMSTONE.]

PITTSBURG Nov. 27.—I would not say there was a boom in steel rails' said a leading iron dealer yesterday as indicated by telegrams from the East; but trade in steel rails is very good. It is somewhat in advance of the iron trade.

In general prices are very firm at $35 and orders have been taken here for delivery in 1887.

There are some new railroads building in the West, and others contemplated; but the main cause of the present activity is due to the fact that steel rails have almost found iron rails out of the market. When steel rails sold from $60 to $70 per ton there was a big trade in iron rails.

ST. PAUL, Nov. 27.—The railroads running through the northern part of the State and in Dakota are having some trouble to-day. In the northern part of the state along the Manitoba line there is not much snow. The Northern Pacific is experiencing some trouble with the snow which is drifting badly and delaying trains.

Throughout the Red River Valley the mercury is down in the neighborhood of zero: It has been snowing nearly all day along the line of St. Paul and Pacific but the fall has not been heavy enough to interfere with travel. The mercury ranges from 10 to 20 degrees above.

Dissolution of Partnership.

Free Trade.

The reduction of internal revenue and the taking off of revenue stamps from Proprietary Medicines, no doubt has largely benefited the consumers, as well as relieving the burden of home manufacturers. Especially is the case with Green's August Flower and Boschee's German Syrup, as the reduction of thirty-six cents per dozen, has been added to increase the size of the bottles, containing these remedies, thereby giving one-fifth more medicine in the 75-cent size. The August Flower for Dyspepsia and Liver complaint, and the German Syrup for Cough and Lung troubles, have, perhaps, the largest sale of any medicines in the world. The advantage of increased size of the bottles will be greatly appreciated by the sick and afflicted, in every town and village in civilized countries. Sample bottles for ten cents remain the same size. nov8-ly
