

Result of Observation.

COMPOSITION ON HEADS IN RYME.
There are red heads, black heads, blown heads,
There are grey and white heads too
There are heads with golden tresses And heads where hairs are few.
There are heads with thoughts so noble That a bad thought finds no home Who always thinks of other and how to brighten home

There are large heads, small heads, round heads
Also heads both hard and soft And heads so full of wisdom That the top almost comes off There are fat heads large as pumpkins And almost as empty too Also small heads just as brainy As a large head ever knew But the worst head is of course, the head

That thinks he knows it all When in fact it would not bear a test In matters great or small So it is not always safe to judge By size or shape or hue For you may do an injustice So heed what you say or do And when all heads are counted The flat, block, round, low and high The head that should concern us most Belongs to you and I For after all the brains, if by A large sized head enveloped Is like a mine of not much worth Unless it is developed.

The Meanest Man.

The meanest man in Falls City has been found. In fact he is about as mean as a man can well be. Of course, there are meaner men on earth than he, as for instance the Omaha brute who twisted his horse's tongue out by the roots last week because he was balky, but the Falls City man may get even that mean if he cultivates his brutish disposition.
He is the owner of a magnificent white bird dog. A great white loving dog who thinks there is but one man in the world and that man, his master. He asks nothing better in life than to worship a man as only a dog can worship. What to him is it that his master cannot appreciate this affection. He is his master and that is enough.

Last Sunday on South Chase street this man, God save the mark, was driving. It was warm and the breath of spring was in the air. The dog was romping along after him, so full of gladness that he barked from sheer joy. Then the man, again save the mark, got out to drive the dog back. He took his buggy whip and cut the brute over the head. The dog crouched and crept to his master's feet. Again and again the lash fell, the dog howling in agony.
Some men came out of their homes to learn the cause of the commotion. By common consent they all started for the fellow with the whip. Into the buggy he got and drove away. The dog staggered to his feet and shaking the blood from his eyes, painfully and slowly started to follow his master.

A great French lady once said:
"The more I see of men, the better I like dogs."

In using a cough syrup why not get the best? One that comes highly recommended is Bees Laxative Cough Syrup, contains Honey and Tar and is superior to other cough syrups in many ways. Children always like it because it contains no opiates, is laxative and is guaranteed to give satisfaction or your money refunded. Try it.

Market Letter.

Kansas City Stock Yards, April 1, 1907. There was an advance of 15 to 25 cents on steers after Tuesday last week, as orders were numerous and the run had been checked by the bad market Monday and the first half of Tuesday.
Heifers and cows declined first of the week in sympathy with the break on steers, but the loss was recovered later. Stockers and feeders closed the week 10 to 15 lower. Today the run is 9,000 head, which is light for Monday, and as supplies are small at all the markets prices are 5 to 10 cents higher on all killing stuff, stockers and feeders strong. While the market would not stand any heavy run without loss, yet the situation is promising in view of the quick recovery of prices since last Tuesday because of restricted receipts, and the outlook is much better than a week ago. One lot of 1550 pound steers sold at $6.40 here today, which is the highest price in six weeks, good to choice steers at $5.90 to $6.15, bulk of steers $4.80 to $5.50. A few cows sell up to $5.50, but range is generally between $2.75 to $4.25, heifers $3.25 to $4.75, a few around $5.00, bulls $3.00 to $4.25, calves $4 to $7. A string of "Bell" brand heifers, fed in Nebraska, sold at $4.75 today. Fleishy stockers and feeders have met with the greatest loss, thin stockers a shade lower than a week ago, range on country grades $3.80 to $5.00.

Hogs took a turn upward early last week and have been going up steadily each day, including today.
Smaller supplies, and strength in provisions was the cause. Run is 6,500 today, market 5 higher, top $6.55, bulk of sales $6.45 to $6.52.
Not many heavy hogs have been coming lately, and there was a decided change for the worse in the average quality last week. While heavy hogs are pretty well marketed, some owners are holding back because of the sacrifice demanded, light and inferior hogs sellings 2 1/2 to 5 cents above choice heavies in most cases.

Sheep and lambs are holding up strong, without much net change in prices. Run is 9,000 today, prices a shade higher, lambs at $7.50 to $7.80, some medium class ewes at $5.50 to $5.65, ordinary wethers at $5.85, and yearlings at $6.85. Supplies have been fairly liberal, but indications favor reduced marketing, and continued strength in the market. A few feeding lambs are available around $7.50.

There are many kidney remedies but few that accomplish the result.
"Pineules" is a kidney remedy that contains no alcohol or opiates of any kind complies with the National Pure food and drug law guaranteed to give satisfaction. Thirty day treatment for $1.00. Inquire about "Pineules" at A.

BATTLING FOR DEAR LIFE.

Graphic Description of Triumph Over Fate and the Elements.

Easton's face by this time had taken on the waxen shade that comes with death, and he appeared to be looking through a haze. His senses were leaving him. I saw something must be done at once. I saw that only a fire could save his life, and perhaps mine, and that we must have it quickly, and made one more superhuman effort with the matches.
One after another I tried them with the same result as before until but three matches. The first one flickered for a moment and my hopes rose, but my poor benumbed fingers refused to hold it and it fell into the snow and went out. The wind was drying the box bottom. I tried another—an old sulphur match, I remember. It burned. I applied it with the greatest care to a handful of the hairy moss that is found under the branches next the trunk of spruce trees, and this ignited. Then I put on small sticks, nursing the blaze with the greatest care, adding larger sticks as the smaller one took fire. I had dropped on my knees and could reach the sticks from where I knelt, for there was plenty of dead wood lying about. As the blaze grew I rose to my feet and, dragging larger wood, piled it on. A sort of joyful mania took possession of me as I watched the great tongues of flames shooting skyward and listened to the crackling of the burning wood, and I stood back and laughed.
I had triumphed over fate and the elements.—Outing Magazine.

PLENTY OF KID, ALL THE SAME.

"You are a strong and healthy-looking man. Why don't you go to work?"
"Well, it's like this, ma'am: I ain't nobody to look out for but myself, an' if I got work I might be deprivin' a man with a wife an' a lot of kids of a job."

TIE TO YOUR BEST FRIEND.

Your friend is the one who appreciates you—your faults as well as your virtues—who understands and sympathizes with your defeats and victories, your aims and ideals, your joys and temptations, your hopes and disappointments, as no one else does or can.

It is to your friend to whom you turn for counsel, for comfort, for praise; he may not be as learned as some or as wise as others, but it suffices that he understands you, and even his quiet listening gives strength and renewed courage.

Blessed is the man or woman into whose life has come the beauty and power of such a friendship.

GET THE HABIT.

There is virtue in acquiring the habit of doing the right thing for no other reason than that it is the right thing. Going to church, daily prayer, the daily reading of the Bible as a veritable word from God —these are things concerning the value of which there is no dispute.
Get the habit of doing them, and even when they have become only a habit they serve as a restraint from sin. But seek earnestly to prevent the habit from becoming "only a habit" by remembering them as actual approaches to the presence and the majesty of God.—Detroit Free Press.

USED DISCRIMINATION.

"Bilkins must have a smart baby."
"Is that so?"
"Yes, Bilkins said he set a glass of water and a glass of milk before it at the table last night."
"Yes?"
"The baby tipped the water over and that didn't do any damage, but Bilkins said it could have tipped the milk over and ruined the rug."

A SERIOUS MATTER.

American (being polite)—Every time I see Punch I have to laugh.
Englishman (offended)—I see nothing to laugh at in Punch.

FOR THE HEADACHE SUFFERER.

Sleeping with His Head High Will Frequently Bring Relief.

"It is so strange, doctor," complained a woman patient, recently, "that when I have had a perfectly good night's sleep I should so often wake up with headache."

"How many pillows do you have under your head?" asked the physician.

"One thin pillow," was the answer.

"Try two fairly thick ones," the doctor advised, adding that many congestive headaches were caused by people sleeping with their heads too low. The blood settles in the head and the sufferer wakes with a dull feeling or throbbing pain. Persons subject to catarrhal headache should be careful to have their heads high enough at night.

In cases of headache or facial neuralgia where mustard would be perhaps too severe, a mixture of white of egg and red pepper may be safely used. It will be found quite as effective as the mustard, but it will not blister nor leave unsightly red blotches even on a tender skin.
It can be safely applied at the base of the brain for that "headache in the back of the neck" which begins to be complained of at about the time when the storm and stress of the holidays have exhausted the nervous energy.—Harper's Bazar.

TONS OF SOOT.

A scientific investigator in Cincinnati has been trying to arrive at a definite idea of the amount of soot deposited in the city in the course of a year. One of his tests was to place two buckets, three-fourths filled with water on 11 roofs in different parts of the city. At the end of three months a careful analysis of the contents of the buckets to ascertain the amount of carbonaceous matter was made. The result is that in the down town area the falling soot amounts to 541 tons a month, or 18 tons daily. On a square mile of the city the soot deposit is 171 tons a month, or 343,728 pounds, an average of several pounds to each inhabitant. In one of the suburbs the soot in the bucket was 464 grams to the square foot for a period of 30 days. For the same time the deposit at a central point in the city was 22,550 grams to the square foot.

RELIC OF OLD ROME.

Near the Lucrine lake, to the north of Baine, Italy, where the villas of Romans of imperial times crowded each other to the water's edge, and where, in consequence, to this day the ground is full of archaeological treasures, a very fine mosaic has just been discovered. In form it is a parallelogram, measuring about five and a half yards by nearly ten yards. The piece represents a hunting scene in which there are many wild beasts and several hunters, the favorite subject for large mosaics in those days. It has been bought for $1,500 by the ministry of public works for the decoration of the great monument of Victor Emmanuel in Rome, which is slowly taking form, and will eventually dominate all old Rome.

WAY TO GET WEIGHED.

"Stand on the platform? That's easier said than done!"

VARIED.

"It was as much as I could do to keep from laughing when Miss Guscher remarked that her fiancé was 'so versatile.'"
"Meaning Dumley? Well, he is rather versatile."
"Nonsense! He's a regular idiot."
"Yes; but he's so many different kinds of an idiot."
