ACCOMAC COURT HOUSE, VA

SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 17, 1904.

Entered at the Postoffice at Accomac C. H. Va., as second-class matter.

Election---Tuesday, Nov. 8, 1904.

For President, ALTON B. PARKER, of New York.

For Vice-President, HENRY G. DAVIS, of West Virginia.

Congress 1st District, WM. A. JONES, of Richmond County.

The letter of acceptance of President Roosevelt has been given to the public and though it contains 10,000 words means, briefly summed up that he intends to administer the af fairs of the Government, if he is re elected, in the future as he has in the past, with the same disregard of constitutional limitations on his power and with the same contempt for the proprieties in everything in his personal or official relations in conflict with his views In a word, he, in his opinion, has done no wrong in the past and can do none in the future; experience having taught him no les sons which gives any hope of reform through him. He stands by everything he has ever done and "stands for" everything he has ever said, and four more years of the "same way" may be expected, if he is re elected. He has no apoligies to make for any errors which he has made. He perfect. He is entirely satisfied with the record he has made for himself and his party, but in the language of the Times Dispatch: "Are the people satisfied? Are the people wil ling to let Republican tariff, Repub lican extravagance, and Republican imperialism go on forever? Are the people willing to commit the affairs of this nation for another term to this boastful pharisee who can find no fault whatsoever with himself, and who says that it would be stupid in the voters and an act of madness and a teague Islaud, Sept. 6-7, 1904. The opening exercises were conducted by Rev. Mr. Guthrie, of the M. E. Church, who also gave an address of welcome. Mr Davis, of the Baptist Church, also made a few welcoming remarks. The response was given by Miss Minnie Mills, of Onancock. Mrs. Rue then introduced Miss Christine Tingling, of Liverpool, England, who delivered a most forceful address. After passing pledge cards and taking the collection, the convention adjourned with benediction by Mr Jones, of the M. P. Church.

Wednesday morning after devotional exercises by the President, Mrs. Rue, memorial services were held for our departed sisters, Mrs. H O. Watson and Miss Manie Mears Prayer by Mrs. Rue followed and a
