

U. S. WILL LOSE ALL CONCESSIONS GAINED FROM GERMANY IF PEACE TREATY IS REJECTED IS REPORT MINORITY COM.

PRESIDENT SAYS PRESENT UNREST DUE TO RUSSIAN AGITATORS

SAYS EARL YRATIFICATION OF PEACE TREATY WOULD DEFEAT THEIR EFFORTS

(By Associated Press.)

Washington, Sept. 11.—Rejection or alteration of the Peace Treaty by the United States would result in a loss of this country of all concessions gained from Germany at Versailles, according to the minority report sent to the Foreign Committee today. The report urged the speedy ratification without amendments and reservations made last July. It was also declared that an early signing would help restore the unrest. The League of Nations organizes the world for peace said the report and establishes the principle of arbitration in international disputes giving parties in controversy nine months for adjusting disagreements amicably. The economic advantages gained by the United States through the treaty and difficulty in forcing Germany to sign a separate peace is emphasized.

Russian Agitators Causing Present Unrest

(By Associated Press.)

Billings, Sept. 11.—President Wilson declared the spirit of unrest in this country was connected with disturbances abroad especially in Russia and that agents of Russian agitators had come here spreading propaganda. Their efforts would be defeated, he said, by the early ratification of the treaty and acceptance of the League of Nations which guarantees to all people the territory upon which they live. He characterized as "pitiful" those trying to defeat the treaty. Should the treaty fail in America, he said, it would be impossible to get together again the elements necessary to make a new settlement. The League would not prevent all wars but in the present instance was better than none.

Billings, Mont., Sept. 11.—President Wilson planned two addresses, also announced his intention of meeting representatives of the labor unions who demand the release of "political" prisoners.

THE STORM ON THE ATLANTIC

The most glorious sight that has been seen in many a day was viewed by those who went to the beach last night to watch the ocean heave. It was considered safer at the beach than in Miami, by those who went there, since there is nothing there like scaffolding, signs, etc., to tear loose from their mountings and be thrown broadcast by the wind.

Just before night those who lined the beach saw two large cargo ships beating their way south, aided by the strong wind from the northeast, and although they rose and fell heavily with the waves, they were making extraordinary headway and were apparently not suffering from the blow. One smaller craft, however, the Raven, owned by Edward Huff, was caught in the storm while making its way over from Nassau, and many anxious eyes watched it make its way in from the deep sea to the government cut and through that narrow channel in the teeth of the heavy gale, and finally made her way into comparatively calm water of the bay, mooring shortly after on this side.

Ample Warning Given

Extensive preparations were made to thwart the possible damage that might be caused about town by the storm. Practically every boat in the bay that could be moved was taken into the river, and a steady procession of craft of every description

He is a mos' noble man an' a mos' powerful worker for the cause of Christ and the downfall of humanity."

FEATURE OF YESTERDAY'S GAME WAS GOOD UMPIRING, THE FIRST IN SOME TIME

(By Smiley.)

Sanford took the Highlanders down another notch by defeating them in a see-saw game, 6 to 5. Hall was on the firing line for the locals and although he allowed but seven hits he was hit hard at opportune times. The Highlanders gathered nine hits off of Register's delivery but the necessary punch to bring across the winning run was missing.

Sanford won because of opportune hitting and by fighting every inch of the game and the Highlanders had every opportunity in the world to save yesterday's game if real and proper baseball methods had been put in effect. Trying to win a game does not only consist of playing good ball but to use your players to the best advantage and to change your plays as often as you may deem it a wise move and to put into effect all and everything you know in smart baseball; and if that fails to win, why then you have lost fighting all the way.

The real feature of the game was Umpire Lauzon and his work which was highly appreciated by the fans as well as by the players. His work in yesterday's game was without a flaw and not one single complaint was made against his decisions. Preident Rose certainly made no mistake in engaging his services as his work here yesterday proved to be the best seen on the local diamond this season. A good umpire is a real treat to the fans and players especially and is very essential and Mr. Lauzon will no doubt prove that he is all that we think he is and will be a big factor in maintaining clean and honorable sport in baseball during the remainder of the season.

Well, Sanford again today and let's hope for better luck.

IMPROVEMENTS AT WHITE SPRINGS

Miss Ida Burkheim returned home Monday night from two weeks delightfully spent at White Springs. Miss Burkheim says that just recently the springs and Edgewood hotel have been sold to Major Calloway, of New York, who represents a syndicate, for $75,000 and $40,000, respectively. Major Calloway is planning to make vast improvements on both. The hotel will be entirely renovated and enlarged, and the grounds beautified. Mr. Holt will be the new manager. The springs will have hot baths and drinking water on each floor of the spring house.

The same engineer who did such wonderful work at Niagara Falls will construct the mechanism that will hereafter keep the river from overflowing into the spring.

After all these improvements, White Springs will be an ideal place for the tourists from the North in the winter, and a resort for our people of the South in the summer.—Gainesville Sun.

Liberty County: The work of the farmers' co-operative marketing association is progressing nicely. Several acres of Bermuda onions will be marketed through this association. Several cars of hogs are expected to be moving to market within the next two weeks.

45 ADRIFT IN SMALL BOATS OUT FROM MIAMI; SEARCHERS GO TO RESCUE

HEAVY LOSS OF PROPERTY WILL RUN CLOSE TO $2,000,000; THREE MEN STILL MISSING

(By Associated Press.)

Key West, Sept. 11.—Great property damage, suspension of telephone, telegraph, and train service has resulted from the tropical storm which swept this vicinity. Shipping is almost at a standstill. One body has been recovered. Three men are missing and fourteen have been rescued, from the dredge Grampus. The city may be forced to appeal for aid in repairing the immense losses.

45 Persons Adrift

(By Associated Press.)

Miami, Sept. 11.—Forty-five persons are reported adrift in small boats between Fowey Rock Lighthouse and Cape Florida as result of the storm. Boats have left here to rescue them.

A special dispatch from Key West to this morning's Tampa Tribune says:

Not a house in Key West entirely escaped injury in the hurricane which swept over the island last night.

Three hundred and twenty buildings of various sizes were toppled over by the wind, which reached tremendous velocity. Some of the structures were reduced to wreckage. Two churches were among the buildings demolished. Five retail stores in the business section were tipped over into the street like portions of a pack of cards.

The property loss will exceed two million dollars.

The waterfront presents a mass of shipping jammed together, with much damage to craft which remain afloat. There is a mass of interlocked fishing vessels, yachts and other small craft.

Tanker Scuttled—Comal Drifts Aground

The British oil tanker Tonawanda was scuttled to save her from being carried out to sea, and lies partly submerged at her dock. The Mallory liner Comal broke from her moorings and went aground. No vessels left port today, most of them having to make repairs before sailing.

Ten members of the crew of the Florida East Coast Railway's dredge barge Grampus, which was blown out to sea and sunk at 2 o'clock this morning, were rescued at 7 o'clock tonight from a small boat. They were in an exhausted condition. The crew consisted of fourteen men. One dead body has been recovered and three men are missing.

The schooner U. V. Drew was sunk but her crew of seven reached shore.

The overseas extension of the Florida East Coast Railway is said to have suffered considerable damage and train service into Key West from the mainland has been discontinued for an indefinite period.

The public buildings were severely damaged. The custom house and postoffice building is in bad shape, and it will cost many thousands of dollars to restore it. The city hall, county court house and the jail were seriously damaged.

All of the show windows in the stores on Duval street, the principal business street of the city, were blown in and goods displays destroyed. Stocks of goods were damaged.

Business in all lines was suspended today. Even the daily newspapers had to cease publication because of lack of electric power, light and gas. The ice plants are out of commission. Not a store or restaurant was opened for business today. Tonight the town is in Stygian darkness. Almost every
