

Lakeland Laconics

Mr. J. J. Haldeman is over from Natal to spend the week-end.

The Lakeland Band will play at the funeral services over the remains of the late E. G. Cowden tomorrow morning at 10:30 o'clock, Mr. Cowden having been former leader of the band.

Mr. W. H. Smith, of Tampa, is spending the day in Lakeland, and is being most cordially greeted by his many friends. Mr. Smith formerly owned one of the prettiest homes overlooking Lake Hollingsworth.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Stringer, of Kentucky, are in the city the guests of their relatives, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Cooper at the latter's home on East Oak street. They came down in their car, and are planning to spend the winter in Lakeland.

A Boys' Y. M. C. A. Conference is in session for the week-end at Orlando, and Lakeland is represented by Billy Norvell, William McIlwain, Francis Krummell, Oattie Eaton, Charlie Swindell, Howell McLeod, Ernest Terrell, Manuel Glover and E. R. Speth, who went up to Orlando today.

Mrs. G. L. Handley and little son, Robert, reached Lakeland last night to spend the winter with Mrs. Handley's parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Bowyer. As Miss Heloise Bowyer, Mrs. Handley was one of Lakeland's most popular girls, and she will be most cordially welcomed back by her large circle of friends. It was exactly three years Wednesday since she left Lakeland, and it is with much enjoyment that she looks forward to spending the winter here.

Writing from Dyersburg, Tenn., Dr. J. O. Getzen says: "Mrs. Getzen and I had a nice trip up here, stopping enroute in the mountains for a while. I would like to say that I really did not know how to appreciate Polk county's good roads until I struck Alabama, and Mississippi. Georgia and Tennessee are some better but none so good as our roads, and I haven't seen any town that looks quite as good as Lakeland. We expect to leave Thursday for home. We have enjoyed the Telegram very much."

Mr. Walters Anderson, of Florence, S. C., is in the city the guest of his brother, Mr. T. C. Anderson, at 411 South New York avenue.

Mr. J. Harry Gardner, of Jacksonville, representing the Roosevelt Memorial Association, has been in Lakeland today for the purpose of organizing the drive soon to be launched by friends for a suitable memorial to Theodore Roosevelt. The quota of this county is only $1,500, and this should be raised without difficulty. Mr. Gardner will likely select a County Chairman, today, and the county will then be properly divided and organized. The work of securing the Lakeland quota will probably be undertaken by the Boy Scouts, who will be asked to take the undertaking in hand.

Mr. Marshall, who lives in East Lakeland, while riding his bicycle east on Orange street last night about 8:30 o'clock, struck Annetta Culler, the 7-year-old little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Culler, knocking her to the pavement, resulting in a deep gash being cut in the back of her head and bruises on various parts of body, and especially face. A surgeon was called who skillfully drew together the gaping wound in the head and we are glad to state the injuries are not serious and the little girl is doing as well as could be expected today. Mr. Marshall was riding without a light and failed to see the child until right on her, a wagon going in the opposite direction and a car standing on side of street nearby, he claims confused him and gave him no room to avoid the accident.

Mr. S. A. Brewer, of near Arkadelphia, Ark., is a visitor to this section, having come here through the representations of his friend, Mr. R. B. F. Key. Mr. Brewer, who is a practical farmer of means, is more than pleased with things as he finds them here, and expects to buy a good place and bring his own family and that of his son-in-law here at once.

WORLD "SERIOUS" IN LAKE LAND RESULTED IN 17 TO 15 SCORE

The onlookers at the Professional and Business Mens' ball game yesterday afternoon had all the fun they wanted, and the players—well, they had fun, too, but they are sorer and wiser guys today, and the song the Rotarians sing "Old Bill Chase ain't what he used to be, ain't what he used to be, ain't what he used to be," applied to all the participants in yesterday's performance.

The Professional men went into the field, and the Business men "to bat" in the first half of the first inning, and when the smoke of the conflict rolled away the B. M.'s had a total of nine runs to their credit. This was more than the Professionals could stand, and in the second inning Cicotte (Claire Henley) was replaced by Eller (J. S. Jewett) who twirled for four innings, he and his teammates giving up seven runs and too many hits to tabulate. In the sixth inning, Rariden (Edwin Spencer, Jr.) who had caught up to this frame, decided he was plumb give out, and Virgil McRae took the receiving end and James (Ralph Merrill) went in the box, and after that things picked up considerably for the Professionals, with the result that they gave the B. M.'s a good run for their money, the final score standing 17 to 15 in favor of the "Tired Business Men."

For the Business Men, E. M. Watts and C. O. Pinch did the twirling. Watts remaining at his post until the seventh inning, when business began picking up entirely too good for the Professional aggregation, and the Pinch hitter was put in the box, and the hitting held up a little after that, although there was considerable of it all along until the curtain was run down.

For the Business Men, W. W. Chase held down first; W. L. King got everything that came around second; Wallace Riggins held third and E. N. Goode held center field until the fifth inning, when they felt sorry for C. O. Pinch and T. B. O'Steen, who hadn't been in the game until then, and Higgins let Pinch operate on third, and O'Steen took Goode's soft job in center. Egbert Lusk short-stopped everything he could, and what he couldn't he didn't worry about; Walter Merrill's beauty was set off by the surroundings of left field, Frank Sanford occupied right field, and L. W. Bloom caught.

The lawyers and druggists, to whom all go when sick in mind or body, had a line-up fit for a world "serious." Claire Henley, J. S. Jewett and Ralph Merrill were trotted out in above order and told to put the pill over the plate—which they did, of course; H. C. Petteway tried to block the way at first for all comers; J. S. Jewett did right well at second until in the second inning, with 10 runs to the credit of the B. M.'s, it was decided he would do better work on the mound; Clyde Trammell sang out law phrases from third; Dick Richards stopped the pills at short, and D. O. Rogers prosecuted everything he could master in centerfield, while Eugene Edwards took care of the pellets landing in left. Dr. W. B. Rannells rubbed down all the objects which hurtled towards him, and everybody said that "tall Doc" sure could reach 'em.

A large crowd witnessed the game and between $45 and $50 was realized from the sale of tickets, which has been turned over to the Boy Scouts.

REYNOLDS

Miss Lena McCrary writes from Orlando remitting for the Evening Telegram, and adds that she "cannot do without it."

Lakeland always has a bunch of her folks at this far-famed resort. A few of the people from that city now at the springs are: Mrs. F. D. Bryan, Mrs. J. W. Boring, and D. B. Dickson.—Safety Harbor News.

Mr. Will F. Wider says "Now that Success avenue has been paved south to Lake Hollingsworth, take a walk or ride down to the Lake and see how beautiful it is and bring the kiddies with you, and give them a chance to take a bath in the lake, or play on the sand, or take a boat ride, and go fishing—everything is there to your heart's delight, and all free—the moonlight, bathing, fishing and fish fries are just all you could ask for."

Manager Norton and his assistants in the Western Union office greatly aided in getting our lengthy baseball reports in shape by prompt and efficient service in handling the messages.

Ball games were first played by the ancient Greeks and Romans, and consisted merely of throwing and of catching the ball. This was found an excellent method of strengthening the figure and keeping the body healthy.

The average number of microbes in the teaspoonful of milk kept under the most sanitary conditions is 6,000,000. Some of them are probably doing useful work, whilst others are decidedly pernicious.
