Don't get "skeered" over snake and alligator stories that may be told you before you come to Florida. Tourists visit here year after year and never see anything more startling in respect to these reptiles than the goods made from skins and for sale in the curio stores.—Florida State Marketing Bureau.

Florida has some of the largest and most beautiful springs in the world. Several of them flow at the rate of two to three hundred thousand gallons per minute, large enough to float steamboats. Silver Springs, near Ocala, flows 375,000 a minute. It is believed to be the largest on earth.
