PLAN DOUBLED DECKED SUBWAY FOR NEW YORK

New York, Oct. 8.—This city will have a new double-decked subway running most of the length of Manhattan Island if the plans proposed by John H. Delaney, Transit Construction Commissioner, to provide for the increase in traffic in the next 25 years are put into effect.

It will be necessary to resort to this double-deck subway construction, in the opinion of the Commissioner, because the congested section of Manhattan borough has only 11 north and south arteries to serve more than 100 cross streets.

His plans call for an eight-track, double-deck line on the west side of the city from the Battery to 155th street running under Eighth and Amsterdam avenues. Only four tracks would be constructed at first, but these would be so located that another four-track unit could be built under or on top of it.

Dr. Delaney also proposes the building of another north and south subway of four to six tracks under Fifth and Madison Avenues, on the east side, and extending from the Battery to the Harlem River. Both these arteries would have connections extending to the boroughs of the Bronx, Brooklyn or Richmond.

The Commissioner advocates the construction of 42 new single-track river tunnels. As the present system has 34 such tunnels, this would make a total of 76 tunnels.

He says that passenger traffic on the surface of the main arteries, north and south or cross town, will soon have to be discontinued because of the great increase of traffic of vehicles and pedestrians; with the result that all passenger traffic on these streets would be forced into subways or on elevated lines.

officers of the First Baptist church when the regular monthly meeting of all teachers, officers and workers of the church was held.

About 150 workers were present, and all joined in making the new pastor and his wife feel thoroughly at home. The meeting was held in the T. B. L. class room, which was attractively arranged and beautifully decorated with ferns and coral vine. Punch was served by Mrs. D. B. Dickson Sr., and Mrs. T. W. Getzen. The superintendents of the different departments acted as a reception committee, and after all had gathered and enjoyed a season of social converse, Miss Eloise Palmore and Carlton Palmore gave a brilliant instrumental duet. Later all returned to the dining room, which was decorated most lavishly with blackeyed susans, and here a delicious supper was served, presided over by Mr. H. C. Steyens, who made the welcoming address to Dr. Bolin, which was responded to most pleasingly by both Dr. and Mrs. Bolin.

WOMEN OF LAKELAND URGED TO EXERCISE POWER OF SUFFRAGE

Members of the Woman's Club held the first regular meeting of the season at the Club House yesterday. In the absence of Mrs. Krause, president, Mrs. J. B. Hannah, vice president, occupied the chair. Her introductory speech so clearly and forcibly stated the privileges and duties of women today, that the club voted a request for its publication in the daily papers. Mrs. Hannah's remarks were as follows:

If our president were with us, I am sure that she would have an inspiring message for us, but in her absence I will say a few words.

Since our meeting last year a wonderful gift has been bestowed on club women and women in general. We are changed people. Last year we met as earnest women, interested in civic and human betterment and desirous to do what we could to accomplish it. This year we come together just as earnest, just as interested, but with a mighty power in our hands, the ballot.

We used to urge others to save babies, change women's hours of factory work and curtail child labor, but now we can do these things. If they are not done, no one will be to blame but ourselves. We can no longer lay the blame for unsatisfactory conditions at the doors of men.

There was a time when the Federation of Women's Clubs kept entirely out of politics, and probably there are many who still wish to do so, but the great majority wish to turn their faces toward progress, having no desire to worship things as they were.

This was proved by the election as president of the General Federation of Women's Clubs of Mrs. Thomas G. Winter, an ardent suffragist, over Miss Bacon of Boston, an anti. The Golden Prairie Biennial at Des Moines, Iowa, marked the turning point in the history of the Federation of Women's Clubs. The election of Mrs. Winter virtually pledged the clubs to a program making good citizenship paramount.

Nearly every subject which the women's clubs have ever been interested in—child welfare, public health, music, playgrounds, libraries and Americanization—these are all closely pool of politics can be made to yield pearls of great price if our sane, home-loving women will use the vote in the right way.

Men have said that woman's place is in the home, and we women heartily agree with them, provided it is understood that our home is in the whole world.

The woman in comfortable circumstances who says, "I have no time for politics; I do my full duty when I rear my children to be good citizens," is mistaken. She may devote her whole life to bringing up her own child to a well fed, well bred existence, but as long as other mother's children strain their eyes and bend their little underfed bodies in sweat shops, factories and mills, she is not doing her full duty. She may use the finest and most intelligent care and equipment for bringing her own babies into the world, but as long as other mothers die with their babies from lack of skilled attention and care, she is not doing her full duty.

It is not given to every woman to be blessed with babies; but any woman, married or single, with children or without, who helps to make this world a better place for babies and their mothers, has not lived her life in vain.

"But how can we do this? How can we help?" some one may ask. One way to do it is to see that our senators and congressmen vote for the Sheppard Towner bill, which provides help for every mother and prospective mother in need of help. We can insist on their voting for the bill now before Congress providing a vast system of education for the whole country. We can demand that Congress be run on a budget system, that your money and mine may not be wasted but devoted to the carrying out of such beneficial legislation as the bills mentioned.

After all, our legislators are but our hired men, whom we pay to serve us. Whether they serve us poorly or well rests with us. We should care in selecting them in the first place, then watch them like a hawk to see that they vote right when the bills come before them affecting the welfare of the entire country. If they

FRONTIER REGULATIONS TO BE MORE STRICT

(By Associated Press.)
Vienna, Oct. 8.—Instead of relaxing, the frontier regulations of the secession states of the old empire seem to become more rigorous. In Czechoslovakia they are particularly irksome and travelers register a great many complaints against the restrictions imposed. Aggravation is searched to the last handkerchief, no foodstuffs of any kind may be taken out of the country and not more than 1,000 crowns in money. Business men are forced to go through tangles of red tape to secure permits to carry enough money to take them from city to city and pay hotel bills.

The government has just retaliated against the new American passport fees by charging the equivalent of $10 for every American visa. The charge to the native is a few crowns. It now costs an American $10 to get into Czechoslovakia and ten more to get out.

Home-loving women have a great responsibility not only to themselves but to others.

"Yes, home will sweeten in the coming.

When widening love shall warm these human ways—

TEACHERS MUST HOLD HEALTH CERTIFICATE

Tallahassee, Oct. 8.—Hon. William N. Sheats, state superintendent of public instruction, has sent the following letter to each of the superintendents of the several counties of Florida:

Tallahassee, Sept. 25, 1920.

To the County Superintendents:

My Dear Sirs:—I am notified by Dr. Ralph N. Greene, state health officer, that the state board of health has adopted a regulation forbidding persons to teach in the schools of Florida unless a health certificate is presented, from a reputable physician showing that the teacher is not affected with or the carrier of a communicable disease.

The state board of health has the legal authority to enforce such regulations; then, it becomes the duty of the school authorities to observe and execute the regulations with loyalty and fidelity.

The following is the regulation adopted by the state board of health:

"Rule No. 81—A rule forbidding individuals to teach in the public schools of Florida without having a health certificate from a reputable physician showing that they are not affected with or are carriers of communicable diseases.

"Section No. 1—All teachers or instructors in any public school operating in the state of Florida or in any private school operating within the state of Florida, shall be required to file with the board of health annually before the beginning of each school year a certificate obtained from a reputable physician who is licensed to practice medicine in the state of Florida certifying that said teacher or instructor has been duly and carefully examined and is free from communicable diseases and is believed to be a non-carrier thereof."

I take pleasure in calling your attention to these regulations, and highly endorse the action of the state board of health in its efforts to protect the school children from sick and dangerous teachers—the children are worthy of the highest protection.

Yours very truly,
W. N. SHEATS,
State Superintendent of Public Instruction.
