AN IMPORTANT OCCASION

Tomorrow the second annual observance will be held of National Hospital Day, the observance in Lakeland being the first in this city.

The date, May 12, was chosen because it is the birthday of Florence Nightingale, the founder of modern nursing. Here is a woman deserving the honor the world can bestow. Her life is a story of an intense purpose that so took hold of her mind and heart that she was not able to do anything but was inspired to devote her life to the nursing of others. That she and her band of helpers were able, during their work in a military hospital, to reduce the death rate from 42 per cent to 15 per cent, and to show how great results can be achieved. With this result as a background, it is easy to reflect on the importance of nursing in war times.

Of the need of nurses in peace times, we can get a better idea. There is no doubt of the value to a community of an institution where the sick may be cared for, and where the methods followed may be a model of research work.

The importance of the work of the woman in the hospital is being appreciated as never before. The war has shown that the nurse is a person of great importance. The nurse is the one who is the backbone of the hospital.

USE DAYLIGHT SAVING

This is the season of the year, when, on waking up, we cast an eye at the sun high in the heavens, jump out of bed and dash into our garments, only to find that it is an hour earlier than the time for going to the office—an hour in which it is difficult to avoid feeling in friend wife's flower beds. This season will be offset later by the one when we drag ourselves out into a gloom that feels like midnight, decide to take another nap if we have time and learn by our watch that we are already half an hour late to work.

The addresses at the convention of the State Horticultural Society have been notable for their brevity. I have been before before that the more a man knows, the better he can say it.

Poor Richard Carter! Think of his having to croak before the Florida supreme court had rendered its decision about his mental capability.

FOR THE LAKELAND EVENING TELEGRAM

While it is true that the state is not a monolithic entity, it is not a collection of disconnected parts. It is a whole, and it is the duty of the state to act as a whole. The state is not a collection of parts, but a whole. It is the duty of the state to act as a whole. The state is not a collection of Surely, here is an array of subjects and matters, of formidable seriousness and of a character most important, as a whole and singly. While the matters that merit serious thought are formidable, they are not so large or so complicated as not to be met and disposed of as becomes an intelligent, aggressive and progressive people. And to merit these qualifications, admittedly admirable and essential to worthy citizenship, these matters must be given serious thought and consideration in order that decisive action may be taken with reference to them. Every one, and all, have a mighty influence for good or evil for the state and for its people. Which shall it be?

The answer will be in the action the people will take, at the proper time, on these several mat-

CHILDREN IN SPRING TIME

Mrs. C. Osburn, 7812 Hillside Rd., Cleveland, O., writes: "My granddaughter was troubled with a cough for nearly two years. She took Foley's Honey and Tar and her cough is now gone. It loosened the phlegm so she could raise it easily." Foley's Honey and Tar is just what children should have for feverish colds, coughs, "snuffles," and tight wheezy breathing. Be sure to get Foley's. It checks croup and whooping cough, too.
