FATHER SEES AND KILL DAUGHTER

WASHINGTON, D. C., Special.—While crossing the street in answer to her father's summons to dinner, and within a few feet of a snailier sister and a half dozen playmates, Marie Nussbaum, the nine-year-old daughter of Solomon Nussbaum, of 119 E Street, Northwest, a former policeman, was run over and almost instantly killed in front of her home late Friday afternoon by a taxicab driven by William A. Simot, of Twenty-first and M Streets, Northwest, the nephew of Joseph J. Simot, doorkeeper of the House of Representatives.

The child's skull was crushed and her scalp badly lacerated. The child was picked up by her father and placed in the taxicab which had struck her, and hurriedly driven to Emergency Hospital by Simot. She was placed immediately on an operating table, but died before the surgeons could help her.

Simot surrendered to the policeman at Emergency Hospital, and was returned to Sixth Precinct and locked up for the night, pending an investigation which was conducted this morning by Coroner Nevitt at the morgue.

The father was spared the ordeal of seeing his daughter run over, for he had hurried away from the window of his home after calling the child and just before she was flung to the street. He heard her scream as the taxicab hit her, and turned to see her stretched on the street.

Mrs. Nussbaum, the mother, was in the rear of the house preparing the family dinner. She heard her husband's cry as he rushed to the street and fainted. Last night she was in a hysterical condition and under medical care. Simot last night expressed deep sorrow over the tragedy, but said that he did everything possible to avoid hitting the child. He said that she stepped from the sidewalk directly in front of the machine. He declared he was not going more than twelve miles an hour, but could not stop the machine before it struck the child.

Marie Nussbaum, with a smaller sister, Grace Nussbaum, eight years old, returned from school yesterday and went to play across the street and turned back into the street, thinking she would come home immediately. I had just turned away when I saw a scream. Realizing something was wrong, I turned again to the window, and saw the child stretched out on the street. The taxicab, which was driven away from the window, stopped, but a trail of blood showed that it had dragged the child quite a distance.

A crowd quickly gathered, and together we put Marie in the taxicab, and the driver took her away, promising to hurry her to Emergency Hospital. A short time later I received word she was dead.

A. F. Garden, of 100 E Street, Northwest; Hubley Evans, of 119 1/2 E Street, Northwest; William Crandall, of 101 E Street; H. B. Cunningham, of 102 E Street; T. Jackson, of 413 New Jersey Avenue, Northwest; Frank, of the Continental Hotel, and M. H. Bacon, of 435 New Jersey Avenue, either witnessed the accident or were in the crowd at the scene a few minutes afterward.

PROTEST AGAINST IRISH HOME RULE

BELFAST, IRELAND, Special.—With hundreds of soldiers held in instant readiness for an outbreak the people of Ulster Province today registered formal protest against home rule for Ireland by signing a solemn covenant in which they declared they will not submit to political separation from the British throne.

By some it was regarded as the first step toward civil war, which has been threatened by the Unionists of North Ireland, if the Liberal government at London carried out its program of granting autonomy to Ireland. At least 500,000 persons took part in the great anti-home rule demonstration which marked the celebration of Ulster day.

Orangemen came from all parts of Northern Ireland to take part. Not alone men, but women and children, participated in the ceremonies of the day and cheered the inflammatory speeches of the anti-home rulers.

The parade was headed from end to end by Union Jacks and miniature flags were worn by the men in their coat lapels and by the women upon their dresses. The feature of the day's celebration was the signing of the covenant, which was interrupted by Unionist cheers.

The ministers who presided interrupted fire into their talk and prayer, and this further incited the worshippers. Great crowds which had been pouring into Belfast yesterday for the opening of the Ulster day celebration last night continued throughout the morning. Many special trains carried visitors

FROM ALL SECTIONS OF THE PROVINCE.

Warned by the fighting spirit of the people and the significance of the occasion, the home rule sympathizers in the city for the most part kept indoors. However, there was sporadic violence, which up to noon the constabulary found no difficulty in checking. A few arrests had been made at that hour. More than 1,000 soldiers from the Highland Light Infantry and the Royal Irish Rifles were held in the barracks, under orders for instant service.

FOUR PERMANENTLY EXPELLED AND TWELVE SUSPENDED FOLLOWING RAND HILLING TRAGEDY.

CHAPEL HILL, N. C., Special.—Drastic steps to stamp out hazing at the University of North Carolina were taken as the result of the faculty's investigation in the death of William Rand, the Smithfield freshman who was killed while being hazed by sophomores.

Four students were permanently expelled and twelve were suspended for a year from attending the institution.

YOUNG ASTOR A VERY BUSY MAN

NEW YORK, Special.—Vincent Astor, who is worth $75,000,000 in his own right, will work as hard as any man in the city in managing the immense estate left by his father, Colonel John Jacob Astor, who was lost with the Titanic.

Sitting at his desk Friday, in front of a three-foot pile of letters, Astor outlined his plans. This was his first day of work. He heard her scream at 9 A. M. He will take only half an hour for lunch.

He will work through until 1:30 o'clock in the afternoon. He will not allow sports of any kind to interfere with his business.

Young Astor went from his new home to his office, 23 West Twenty-sixth Street, where he will conduct all of his business. A reporter was waiting for him there. "You see, I am on time," he said with a happy smile. The hour hand pointed to nine, but the minute hand had not yet completed the circuit. Even the pile of mail did not deter him and without delay he plunged into his work.

"In six weeks, you know, I will be of age," he said, as he tore open letter after letter, gave it a quick glance and marked it for future reference and placed it aside.

"Then I will assume control of all of the business," he declared. "I am going to familiarize myself with every detail, and, as you see, there is enough here to keep me busy."

MISS NORA BARGETT RETURNS TO KESWICK

CHARLOTTESVILLE, VA., Special.—Unhappy and deserted by Robert E. Bargett, who had become her husband, she had obtained a divorce, Nora Bargett, a young girl, typical country girl, who eloped with him to Alexandria, where both were arrested on charges of elopement and disorderly conduct, returned yesterday to her home in Keswick.

STATE TO DIVIDE R. F. & P. TAXES

RICHMOND, VA., Special.—It now seems likely that the counties and cities are likely to share the tax burden of the Commonwealth. The Richmond, Fredericksburg and Potomac Railroad passes will share with the Commonwealth in the division of taxes. The counties and cities are likely to share the tax burden of the Commonwealth.

At first, when the negotiations were in their infancy, it was not expected that the localities would receive any part of the money realized from the railroad. But now, a member of the House from Caroline county, interested himself in their behalf and demanded recognition of the right of the cities and counties.

On September 9th he appeared before the special commission and submitted a convincing argument on behalf of the counties. What he said then applies with equal force, of course, to all the territory through which the Richmond, Fredericksburg and Potomac runs.

Mr. Evans took the ground that it would be inequitable to permit the State to take all the money that might accrue from the compromise. It was true, he admitted, that the State and localities alike had been deprived of taxes from the railroad, but the Commonwealth had received large amounts in dividends on its stock.

If the present negotiations end in the payment of money by the railroad, Richmond will come in for some of the money. Although the property taxes which the road is required to pay for previous years may not be great.

Those who met yesterday at the call of the Governor were Mayor George Ainslie and City Attorney Henry R. Pollard, representing the city of Richmond; W. T. Sutton, Commonwealth's Attorney for Stafford county; G. P. Smith, chairman of supervisors, representing Henrico county; George P. Haw, Commonwealth's Attorney for Stafford county; and W. E. Egan, Commonwealth's Attorney for Caroline county. The county of Spotsylvania did not seem to be represented.

IROLFR ACCEPTS $500 OF REWARD

ROANOKE, Va., Special.—Frank Irolfr, another of the Roanoke girl whom the Baldwin detectives followed to the bluing place of her sweetheart, Wesley Edwards, was in his uncle, Sidna Allen, were in Roanoke Saturday. While here he denied with indignation that his daughter had knowingly assisted the officers.

As to his part in the affair, he asserted that he had not intentionally given the detectives information that he talked to Deputy Sheriff Oscar Monday, but did not know that Monday was a Baldwin man.

Mr. Irolfr said at first that he refused to take the $500 reward, but that today, when it was presented to him, he consented to accept it.

GUNMAN READY TO TELL OF MURDER

NEW YORK, Special.—Harry Horowitz, alias "Red Blood," and Louis Rosenthal, alias "Lefty Louie," the gunmen recently arrested after they had been indicted for the murder of Herman Rosenthal, are reported to have weakened to the point where they are willing to turn State evidence.

Whitney Lewis, another of the gunmen under indictment for Rosenthal's murder, is also said to be ready to make a confession. He has been offered a $500 reward to accept these overtures. It will leave only Frank Crocif, alias "Dago Frank," the only member of the crew of gunmen to stand trial after the confession of Lieutenant Charles Becker is disposed of.

While Mr. Whitman denies that he has made any terms with the men, nevertheless he made several visits from ex-Magistrate Charles G. F. Wable, counsel for the accused gangsters, and it is believed that these conferences dealt with the men's desire to confess.

According to the story alleged to have been told to Mr. Wable by his clients, the gangsters gathered for the Rosenthal affair under instructions to kidnap Rosenthal and carry him to some secluded spot, where he was to be badly beaten and otherwise punished as a warning.

Crofici, according to this story, was the only gunman in the party who had been planning the murder. The other gunmen alleged it was Crofici who fired the shots that killed the gambler.

SEND JAPANESE BARON TO PRISON

FOUND GUILTY OF COMPLICITY IN PLOT TO KILL COUNT TERACHI.

SEOUL, KOREA, Special.—Baron Yutoku Hiro, formerly a Japanese cabinet official, was sentenced to ten years imprisonment for complicity in a plot against the life of Count Terachi, Governor General of Korea, and heavy sentences were imposed upon a number of others.

A number of foreign ministers were alleged to be implicated in the plot, which had for one of its aims the overthrow of Japanese power here.

NEW YORK, Special.—John Muter, a clever of Patterson, N. J., was sent home Wednesday from the Pasteur Institute to die. He has hydrophobia. Muter was walking along the street last July when a dog leaped at him from a doorway and bit his hand. The bite brought help and the dog was shot and killed. Muter was rushed to the Pasteur Institute, where he died.

Muter went to a drug store and had the wound treated. He said the druggist told him it required no further attention.

The wound had practically forgotten the injury until a few days ago, when his hand began to pain him. The pain extended to the arm and next he found himself unable to swallow. Becoming alarmed he consulted physicians, who rushed him to the Pasteur Institute here. Dr. Rambaud determined that Muter had a well developed case of hydrophobia, but that it was too late for the treatment to be of any avail.

Muter was sent back to Patterson to his family. He cannot live more than a day, it is said.

Dr. Rambaud urges that the public heed the oft-repeated warnings.

the Augusta-Miken Railway and Electric Corporation's Fifteenth Street power plant Friday night. The men were shot because they crossed a military deadline, although, it is said, they knew nothing of the marked off territory. The city is under martial law, with Adjutant General O'Leary, of the Georgia National Guard, in command, to prevent riot in the street car strike.

In addition to the four companies of Augusta troops that have been under arms since early Friday, a company arrived this morning from Waynesboro. Troops are now stationed at the power plant, which it was reported yesterday had been threatened with dynamite.

Alfred Dorn, the first man killed, was shot through the head by the troops, clashing in charge of the street car strike. He was driving a car out on Fifteenth Street on his way home from business. R. F. Baker was shot three times and it is believed that he cannot recover. Robert Christie, who was shot as he was driving out on Fifteenth Street in his auto, died Saturday forenoon.

Charles Wilson and wife narrowly escaped being shot as they drove, being fired upon. Wilson, attempting to ride through the streets on a motorcycle, was shot at, but not injured. Captain Jewett, in charge of the picket line, and Captain Henderson, in charge of the day, are under arrest. A big mass meeting last night a resolution was adopted asking Governor Bowen to withdraw the troops. The Governor, however, does not deem it wise to withdraw the troops until the feeling in the city is more quiet.
