Let Justice be Done

The leaders of union labor cannot hope to retain the respect of the American citizens and uphold that class of men who travel around the country dynamiting bridges, homes and printing shops. Detective Burns has been shadowing a bunch of these culprits for the last year and he has caught them red handed with the tools and the dynamite, with which they have destroyed $4,000,000 of property, and one hundred lives. The labor unions have been at war with the Times print shop in Los Angeles, and with manufactures of steel and structural iron institutions that have been blown up and destroyed. When a man is murdered and robbed, the presumption is some one done it who had a motive.

That motive was either for revenge or robbery. No intelligent person would accuse their friends of committing these high crimes. The lawyer and the detective go at once after the man who has a motive for boycotting, retaliation and revenge. Detective Burns and his trained band of ferrets have taken their cue from these well known fundamental facts and have for a year or more been shadowing these men and gathering evidence in overwhelming quantities with which to convict them. While every law abiding citizen is willing to withhold judgement until the parties have had a fair trial, the presumption is general throughout the country that the men accused are guilty, and it ill becomes the labor leaders to rush into print with the cry of fraud and a frame up, that can have no other effect but to destroy the great combinations of union labor. Ex-President Roosevelt is the great friend of the laboring man. He comes out in a strong and bold statement warning the leaders of the danger to their cause by indulging in too fulsome praise of these fine looking and supposed to be high minded gentlemen. There has been many a wolf (a two legged one) found masquerading around in sheep's clothing. There has been and is today many a man wearing the garb of a preacher, who is a bank robber, a hold up man and a murderer. They put on these sanctimonious clothes to fool the people, for everybody has respect and faith in the church. It is for this reason the wolves prowl around and more easily catch their victims. If the union labor leaders would gain the respect and sympathy of the people, they should come out boldly and demand the fullest investigation, and if found guilty, the summary punishment of men guilty of such dastardly crimes. There is nothing that could be more fatal to their cause than the discovery that these men are guilty of the awful crimes attributed to them. The whole world shudders at the thought of such men, high up in authority deliberately plotting the death of innocent men, women and children just for revenge.

Quinn Wins First Game

The opening game of the season between Philip and Quinn Tuesday resulted in a victory for the latter by a score of four to two. About a hundred fans of Philip and vicinity were in attendance, and the apparent equalness of the two teams kept the crowd deeply interested until the last man was out. Frank Arens was on the slab for the locals and pitched one of the best games ever seen in Philip, allowing but a few scattered hits and no free passes to first base. Had not the errors been made all in a bunch, Quinn would never have seen a run. With Ramsey behind the bat and Walpole and Durkee in the game, it seemed like old times and looked like Philip would win, Quinn not being able to push a run across the plate until the sixth inning and securing three more in the eighth. Philip started out with the same old irresistible force and scored in the first inning and one in the seventh. The features of the game were the phenomenal pitching of Arens and a triple play by Frahme, Walpole and Mitchell. One pleasant feature of the game was the lack of any wrangling or severe kicking by either team throughout the entire exhibition. Lillibridge, of Cottonwood, did the umpiring and was given credit for being strictly impartial at all times. Belvidere will undoubtedly be the next team to play the locals, but the date is not definitely arranged.

Progress on Waterworks

Work on our water system is progressing rapidly, the well being completed with about eleven feet of water and the mains practically laid on Oak and Railroad streets. A force of about twenty five men are at work on the excavations, and the way the dirt is flying in Philip is nothing slow. At the present rate of progress the ditch work will be completed within a few weeks, providing no unforeseen obstacles are encountered. The construction of the tower was sub-let to the Des Moines Bridge & Iron Co., and a force of men under the direction of George E. Kothe arrived the first of the week and are busy on the hill making preparations to erect the tower at once. With a number of other improvements under way, new homes being built and the ordinary hustle of business, Philip will present a busy scene during the next month or more.
