WOLVES KILL GAME

RAVAGES OF WOLVES IN BLACK HILLS COUNTIES GROWING SERIOUS.

OTHER ITEMS OF INTEREST

From the Capitol City, the Various State Institutions and From Many Different Parts of the Sunshine State.

Deadwood.—Lovers of hunting for big game in the Black Hills have learned that a great many deer have been killed by wolves and coyotes in the timber in the mountains this winter.

Deep snow, which has not been packed and coated with a heavy crust by periods of thaw and would therefore not sustain the weight of a deer, while it would hold up a coyote or wolf, has rendered the deer powerless to either find safety in flight or fight, their enemies with their hoofs, while the fact that their other means of defense, their horns, were shed last fall, added to their helpless state, while floundering in the snow. Bounty is given for the killing of wolves and coyotes by the counties of the Black Hills, and large numbers of those animals have been killed this winter by trappers, but they are very numerous in the forests and helpless deer have been killed to provide them with food during the period when rabbits and grouse and other living things have been scarce, because of the severe cold and deep snow. It is probable that at a meeting of the State Game Warden's association, which will be held in Pierre some time this spring, the question of beginning a war of extermination upon the wolves and coyotes, under the direction of the state game warden, will be discussed, and that means will be adopted, if possible, for killing off these pests and saving the deer.

Game Warden Peterson of Lawrence county estimates the number of deer killed by other animals during this winter, in the Black Hills, at hundreds.

For Memorial Day.

Sioux Falls.—Col. Thomas W. Brown or this city, commander of the G. A. R. for the department of South Dakota, has issued a public notice in reference to the approaching Memorial day, in which he calls attention to the state law, which provides that the city councils of all cities within the state, trustees and school boards of all towns and villages and the county commissioners of all counties shall have authority, within their discretion, to appropriate funds for the purpose of defraying the necessary expenses of a proper observance of Memorial day. Col. Brown requests the people of South Dakota to generally observe the day, not by light sports and games, "but with flowers and bowed heads in solemn memory of those who gave the 'last measure of devotion' in order that the nation might live." Scores of cities and towns in the state will make elaborate preparations for the suitable observance of Memorial day, and in this the members of the various G. A. R. posts throughout the state will have the active assistance of the people in general of their communities.

A Curious Relic.

Pierre.—Secretary of State S. C. Polley has presented to the department of history the relic of a raid made by him, while district attorney of Lawrence county on a Deadwood opium joint. It is a Chinese opium pipe, the stem a 19-inch piece of some knarled hardwood about an inch and a quarter thick, with the bowl a five-sided black clay receptacle, a half inch thick and two wide, and detachable from the stem. The mouthpiece is not inserted between the lips as with a tobacco pipe, but the lips are placed against the same similar to the manner in which a horn is blown.

Thirteen Hundred Teachers Examined.

Pierre.—Most of the papers have been received on the March examinations, showing that the whole number who took the teachers' examinations this month is near 1,300. The examining board is busy with the papers, and will have them worked out by the end of the month.

The negative was upheld by the state college debaters, Roy Nord, B. H. Schaphorst and W. O. Sauder. This is the third victory against North Dakota, and refutes the general impression that students of science, engineering and agriculture cannot successfully compete in forensics. The next debate will be held next month with Huron college on the recall of judges.

C. O. Young, the deputy of the state educational department, has just returned from an educational meeting at Chicago, and reports that the list of accredited schools in South Dakota for this year is: Aberdeen, Brookings, Canton, Deadwood, Huron, Lead, Madison, Mitchell, Pierre, Rapid City, Redfield, Sioux Falls high school, and All Saints; Vermillion, Watertown, Webster and Yankton.

As Adviser to Farmers.

Aberdeen.—W. H. Patterson has arrived from Bozeman, Mont., to take charge of the Brown county experimental farm and act as a sort of general adviser to Brown county farmers. Mr. Patterson was engaged by the Brown County Better Farming association and the county commissioners, acting together. The commissioners have set aside 80 acres of the half section farm owned by the county as an experiment farm, and appropriated $500 toward paying the expenses of the enterprise. The Better Farming association, composed largely of Aberdeen business men, supplies the remainder of the funds required to operate the farm and pay the expert's salary. Mr. Patterson, in addition to running the demonstration farm, which will be conducted on scientific lines, will also be at the service of any farmer in the county, free of charge, who desires advice or assistance in solving any of the problems of successful farming by which he may be confronted. Wherever it is desired, Mr. Patterson will take charge of a ten or twenty-acre tract for any farmer, giving the farmer instructions regarding the manner of preparing the soil, planting the crop, cultivating and harvesting it, upon the farmer agreeing to follow the expert's directions implicitly. In this way, it is believed, the gospel of scientific farming will be spread throughout the county. Mr. Patterson has been connected with the Montana State Agricultural college at Bozeman, and is thoroughly familiar with the work he has undertaken.

SHE QUIT COFFEE

And Much Good Came From It.

It is hard to believe that coffee will put a person in such a condition as it did a woman of Apple Creek, O. She tells her own story:

"I did not believe coffee caused my trouble, and frequently said I liked it so well I would not quit drinking it, even if it took my life, but I was a miserable sufferer from heart trouble and nervous prostration for four years."

"I was scarcely able to go around at all. Had no energy, and did not care for anything. Was emaciated and had a constant pain around my heart until I thought I could not endure it. I felt as though I was liable to die any time."

"Frequently I had nervous chills and the least excitement would drive sleep away, and any little noise would upset me terribly. I was gradually getting worse until finally one day, it came over me, and I asked myself what is the use of being sick all the time and buying medicine so that I can indulge myself in coffee?"

"So I thought I would see if I could quit drinking coffee, and got some Postum to help me quit. I made it strictly according to directions, and I want to tell you that change was the greatest step in my life. It was easy to quit coffee because I had the Postum which I like better than I liked the old coffee. One by one the old troubles left, until now I am in splendid health, nerves steady, heart all right, and the pain all gone. Never have any more nervous chills, don't take any medicine, can do all my housework, and have done a great deal besides."

"My sister-in-law, who visited me this summer had been an invalid for some time, much as I was. I got her to quit coffee and drink Postum. She gained five pounds in three weeks, and I never saw such a change in anyone's health."

"There's a reason."

"Ever read the above letter? A new one appears from time to time. They are genuine, true, and full of human interest."
