WILL DRILL FOR OIL.

Leases on 5,000 Acres of Land Signed by Yuma Man.

Drilling for oil will be started in Cochise county within the next ninety days, according to word brought to Tombstone today by A. H. Harkey, of Mescal Gap, who is on the jury, says the Tombstone Prospector, dated August 29.

Mr. Harkey states that within the past week a company represented by a man named Mitchell from Yuma has signed up several landholders representing an acreage of 5055 acres of patented and state leased land, and will begin drilling within 90 days, according to the terms of the agreement.

Harkey Brothers, Lee and A. H. Harkey, S. N. Gordon and Dan Matthes, with holdings on the Cochise side of the line, have signed up with the company and an expert oil man and driller named Venningmark, of Yuma, will move a standard rig to the field at once, Mr. Harkey stated, to start the test well.

Numerous geologists have visited the field of late, he says, and practically all agree that the Mescal Gap district is the most favorable for oil prospecting, with indication that it will be struck from 2800 to 2500 feet. The company agrees to go down 2500 feet and further if indications warrant, should oil not be found at that depth.

The well is to be located by a competent geologist, according to the lease agreements, and the owners of the land are to get one eighth of the production should oil in paying quantities be struck.

The site of the proposed well will be about 20 miles from Tombstone.

WANT RED CROSS NURSES.

The Red Cross Nursing Service is making an active campaign throughout the United States to secure 500 nurses immediately to care for ex service men in hospitals. Miss Lillian L. White, director of the Nursing Service in the Pacific division of the American Red Cross, is calling for seventy-five enlistments in her territory, California, Nevada, Utah and Arizona.

This urgent call for immediate enlistment of Red Cross nurses in this special service is parallel to that of the wartime call when the army and navy turned to the Red Cross for nurses for military service both at home and abroad.

The call carries an emotional appeal when it is known that hospitalization of disabled veterans of the World War is increasing. The government thru its United States public health service designates the need for more nurses as an emergency and the Red Cross is putting the full strength of its nursing service into action to meet it.

Miss White has sent the call to nurses through the state and local committees and to individual nurses in the Red Cross reserves. Details of the procedure in enlisting for this special service in the United States Public Health Service hospitals were furnished, together with a schedule of pay for the nurses enlisting.

The 70 United States Public Health Service hospitals are not sufficient to meet the demand. The army and navy hospitals are setting aside beds for the ex-service men. Nurses enlisting may choose which service they prefer.

Any nurse interested in getting into this field for service to the ex service man can communicate with the Red Cross Chapter or the nearest local committee on Red Cross Nursing Service for the details of enlistment.

HAIL AT FAIRBANK.

Jeff Milton, U. S. immigration inspector at Fairbank, who was in town today, stated that Fairbank proper was visited by one of the heaviest storms of the season, which was accompanied by a heavy hail. The hail seemed to have fallen only in a narrow strip and all vegetation in it's path was destroyed. Whether or not it reached the Chinese gardens, about a mile and a half south of Fairbank, Mr. Milton could not state. He reports, however that there was still a layer of ice against the buildings this morning where it had been banked by the heavy wind.—Prospector.

LAID TO REST.

Funeral of Col. Epes Randolph Attended by Hundreds of Friends.

Tucson, Ariz., Aug. 25.—Business was practically suspended here from 5 to 6 o'clock this afternoon out of respect to the memory of the late Colonel Epes Randolph, whose body was buried in a local cemetery following impressive ceremonies, conducted by the local Masonic lodge.

More than 700 persons witnessed the final services, held in the auditorium of the Mason's temple. Hundreds of others unable to gain entrance because of the dense crowd, stood about the building with bared heads during the final rites.

Private cars on the Arizona Eastern, Southern Pacific Southern Pacific de Mexico railroads brought executive officers of these respective railway systems, who attended the services today.

Among the railroad officials attending the funeral were:

President William E. Sproule of the Southern Pacific; J. E. Dyer, general manager of the Southern Pacific lines; T. H. Williams assistant manager of the Southern Pacific lines; J. F. Finley of the Southern Pacific de Mexico, and C. M. Scott, general manager of the Arizona Eastern, and officials of the Pacific Electric company.

The funeral rites were preceded by two impressive services, one at 8 o'clock Wednesday evening, and the other at midnight. The evening services were under the direction of the Arizona Grand Commandry of the Knights Templar with Frank Thomas of the Phoenix lodge, grand generalissimo, presiding. In full regalia, twenty knights were drawn at attention during the reading of the service. The hymns, "Come Ye Disconsolate" and "One Sweetly Solemn Thought" were feelingly sung by H. C. Heard, with John M. McBride at the organ.

At midnight the funeral rites of the Knights of Kadosh were held in the auditorium. The chapel was in total darkness except for the nine lighted candles placed about the casket. The Presiding officers and knights slowly entered the chapel one by one a lighted taper in the hand of each. When all had congregated the funeral ritual of the Scottish Rite Masons was read, the ceremony performed only for those who have passed the 33rd degree of Masonry.

The long and solemn procession that followed the casket to Evergreer cemetery formed an impressive scene. The casket was born by Gordon H. Sawyer, Harry Drachman, Peter H. Howell, William Watson, F. O. Goodell, C. W. Hinchcliffe, J. A. Small and Dr. Clarence Gunter. At 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon, the hour for the beginning of the final funeral service, every wheel on track and in shop of the Southern Pacific and Arizona Eastern railroads was stopped for one minute as a tribute to Colonel Randolph.

PINK-EYE REPORTED

Phoenix, Aug.—Dr. R. J. Hight, state veterinarian, yesterday was informed of the prevalence of a disease in the Patagonia district which had rendered a large number of cattle blind. Though the symptoms were not given, the doctor is inclined to believe that the ailment is pink-eye or karatitis.

Pink eye, said Dr. Hight, is quite prevalent throughout the state. It is not a serious disease if given attention by the application of local washes. It is not fatal if it runs its course. The animal goes blind, but a blind animal on the range soon becomes a dead animal.

The disease is much more frequent among young animals than older ones and is more prevalent in the summer than in other seasons because, probably, the flies are then the more active carriers of the infection.

The doctor has advised all who have written him concerning the disease and offered to prescribe treatment.
