Nehalem Lands for Immigrants.

It is well worth while to draw the attention of the incoming immigrants to the inducements which offer to the immigrant of moderate means to settle in the Nehalem valley. The lower part of this valley has very few settlers, but there are good homes there to be taken up, as government lands, and lands that can be bought of the railroad company, to supply five hundred families. The lands are exceedingly rich and although mostly covered with timber and brush are easily cleared. Hops would be a very profitable crop to raise there, as they will bear well the cost of hauling out to Astoria. All sorts of grain and roots excel in this valley and can be used with great profit in fattening beef and hogs for the early spring market in Astoria, where they will bring always a very high rate. It should be borne in mind that in order to make a success of the settlement in the lower Nehalem, settlers should band together in sufficient numbers to maintain their school, their blacksmith, and their church, as well as to be sufficiently strong to keep open the road from the lower Nehalem to Astoria. If forty families should agree to settle in that country as neighbors, they could easily keep up a good wagon road in their own settlement and to Astoria. The price of government lands is the same as in other unsettled portions of our country, and railroad sections can be bought at $2.50 per acre, the money to be refunded if the railroad is not built.

Gen. Grant, President Garfield, and about half the cabinet are at Long Branch.

The temperature in New Orleans on the 23d was the highest known for eighty years.

A dispatch from Tombstone, Arizona, of the 23d, says that town is being built. It gives no particulars.

The convention for the improvement of the Missouri river navigation is in session in Council Bluffs and very enthusiastic of good results.

Hartmann, the nihilist, tried to go to America a few days ago, but after taking passage discovered that the steamer went from Antwerp, and was afraid to go there, fearing arrest.

Parnell starts in July for an extended political tour in the United States. A deputation of Ulster tenant farmers to-day had an interview with him and other home rule members on the 23d, at which it was agreed that home rulers should strenuously oppose government amendments to the land bill.

The first new winter wheat from the south arrived in New York on Monday. The wheat was grown in the vicinity of Fort Worth, Texas, and was from there shipped to St. Louis, where its market price was established at $1.35 per bushel. The berries were small and inferior to the poorest Oregon wheat.

A Canadian paper, whose editor probably believes that Friday is an unlucky day, prints the following paragraph: "Are not such facts as these enough to make one ask: What is in a name? The small excursion steamer that carried nine persons to their doom at Galt three years ago was named the Empress of India. The excursion boat that went down in the river Thames, at London, England, in the fall of 1878, with about 600 souls on board, was known as the Princess Alice. The ship which foundered off Spithead in 1872, and swept 600 passengers into the other world was called the Royal George; and last, but not least, the steamer that parted on Tuesday evening to carry desolation into thousands of Canadian homes and drape our land in mourning, bore the name of our beloved Queen, upon whose birthday the boat gave up the ghost, in sight, we should also say, of the sister boat, the Princess Louise. Strange fatality." Strange enough, certainly, to put serious thoughts into one's head.

Nobody Hurt.

Sunday, the 30th, was when the conjunction of the planets occurred. Venus, Jupiter, Saturn and Neptune were nearly in line with the sun and moon, all attracting on one side of the earth. In San Francisco it was one of the clearest days they have observed this summer. The wind blew a brisk gale from the west, varying in velocity from 21 to 26 miles an hour, and the temperature, at one o'clock P. M., was 58° Fahrenheit, barometer 30.02 in. From hills back of the Presidio, the Farallones, point Reyes, Mount Diablo, and the Sierra range, beyond the southern part of the bay, were clearly seen with every indentation and feature of their various outlines sharply defined. At Portland and Olympia, the wind was south with light rain, and the thermometer 56° Fahrenheit. At Salt Lake the wind was southeast, and temperature 84°, and at Cheyenne, northwest and 81° Fahrenheit. The air seemed very fresh, pure and invigorating, full of ozone and other healthy and life-preserving qualities. Otherwise, nothing unusual occurred.

A Somnambulist Walk.

The other evening as Officer Lavery, of Waterford, was patrolling that village, his attention was attracted by a flickering light that came down one of the side streets and proceeded up Broad street a short distance toward the canal. The officer hastened to the spot, and was much surprised to see an old citizen, clad only in his night robe, with a lighted candle in his hand, passing along the street looking at the doors of houses as though in search of some particular locality. It was raining at the time, and the drops of water falling on the candle nearly quenched it. Mr. Lavery accosted the man, but receiving no response, and going closer, saw he was walking in his sleep. The officer aroused the somnambulant pedestrian and escorted him to his home.

Fires destroyed 7,550 acres of wheat in the field in California on the 23d, including many farm-houses, barns and much farming machinery; loss not known.

The Michigan legislature has passed a bill making it a crime punishable by a fine of $1,000 and a year in jail, to publish accounts of rape, incest, murder, executions or seductions, and the bill includes even the sale, distribution or possession of such newspaper accounts. A Dakota cotemporary hastens to remark that: "A gang of wolverine backwoodsmen will not be able to muzzle the press of Michigan for any length of time, much less inaugurate a reform which will affect the press of the country at large." If it be a reform, why should it not be inaugurated?

All citizens of Oregon who desire to inform their friends in the states of the condition and progress of this state, can have no more complete and comprehensive volume of facts to send them than by subscribing for this journal, and having us mail it weekly to their friends. We mail it as directed. For $2.00 in advance, we mail three copies of THE WEEKLY ASTORIAN one year.
