

The Daily Astorian.

ASTORIA, OREGON:

FRIDAY, AUGUST 21, 1923

L. P. FISHER, Rooms 20 and 21, Merchants Exchange Building, is our only authorized agent in San Francisco, and any contracts made by him will be recognized. THE DAILY AND WEEKLY ASTORIAN are kept on file at his agency.

The Plymouth Pastor.

THE lecture by Beecher last Wednesday evening at Occidental Hall has given those who were there and those who were not, something to think of. Some people do think: others only think they think: if mental process were possible the plain speaking old man who stood before us last Wednesday night would induce it. In general terms it is to be said of Beecher that the world is better for his having lived in it: his great services to the cause of humanity are being universally recognized, and there are few men living or dead whose influence on thought is greater. To hear him talk is a part of a liberal education. He does not exhaust a subject; he pays his audience a compliment in taking for granted the fact that it is intelligent; he simply indicates lines of thought, and gives his hearers the pleasure of themselves going along the newly discovered road he points out. Those of us who were at the Occidental last Wednesday noticed what good effective work he did for the woman suffrage movement. He didn't say "woman suffrage" once; he made use of no distinctive terms, but the great wave of his mighty thought picked it up and carried it out beyond bars or shallows to the ocean of deep philosophic thought. But let occasion require, and no man can be more microscopic, plain, lucid, clear and expository than he. With the great thoughts that come to his mind comes also the faculty of minute expression, and when he draws a word painting it is a perfect likeness and embodiment.

When one thinks of Beecher, the little petty mists of calumny and injustice that float around his feet are dispelled, and we see only the great man whose soul is full of genius and lofty thought; who in the dark days of twenty years ago did such great service for the United States, whose fervent words and mighty influence have been for what we believe to be the truth in politics and government, and the only regret is that minds like his are limited by the range of mortal life. His thoughts are immortal, and should be die to-night, those thoughts that for half a century he has enunciated, would prove most potent sources of action, would stir men's souls and direct men's affairs as powerfully as any of the world's great kings of thoughts "who, though dead, yet rule our spirits from their urns."

A MOVEMENT is now on foot in England, says the Greener and Canner, to induce an increase in fish consumption; and Dr. W. B. Richardson, F. R. S., in a recent address on the nutritive value of fish as a common food, favored popularizing information on the best method of living physically. He says that a healthy race can be produced by reducing the consumption of flesh meats and eating a diet of fish, vegetables and other cheaply attainable foods. Salmon are among the most nutritive of fish, and it is the opinion of Dr. Richardson that fish could be made generally as nutritive as flesh meats. It seems as though some concerted action among salmon packers, with a view of obtaining and publishing the opinions of medical men upon this subject, would lead to beneficial results. It would certainly tend to the consumption of salmon, and result in improvement of the sanitary condition of the masses.

MR. FREEMAN, in his recent "Impressions of America," remarks upon the use of the word "railroad" in America for the English "railway," and explains the difference by saying that in most parts of the United States the railroad comes before any other kind of road, and often proceeds the settlement of the part of the country through which it runs. This is particularly applicable of the Northern Pacific road.

By the explosion of the steamer Ricardale at New York, last Wednesday, fifty unfortunate passengers lost their lives by scalding and drowning.

THE Georgia legislature recently passed a registration bill, which stands as a singular anomaly in the political legislation of a body which has not in it more than six Republicans, three of whom are colored. It has deliberately made an apportionment for congress which gives the Republicans six certain districts of the ten, unless the Republicans themselves fail to cast their ballots. It is an act of political honesty which will redound to the lasting credit of Georgia Democracy, provided the good name thus gained is not upset by dubious methods at the polls. A hard fight against the bill and in favor of a gerrymandering policy was made by some of the members, but the bill will be promptly signed by the governor.

THE Pacific Churchman does not believe that Christianity is waning, and statistically proves its progress in numbers and in increasing faith. It says: So far from being gloomy the prospects of Christianity were never so bright as they are to-day. A noisy skepticism which is continually prating about the progress of science and the decay of faith, has caused us to attach an undue importance to the strength of Christianity's enemies. There is unquestionably a vast amount of vague, hazy unbelief abroad, but the general interest in Christianity was never stronger than it is to-day. There are now more than 400,000,000 of Christians in the world, and never before were the resources at the church's command so great.

THE work of dredging the Panama canal is progressing at the rate of 10,000 cubic yards per day. This is the work of one dredger in six weeks. Another dredger will be put at work in nine weeks. Still another line of canal has been sounded for the two-thirds distance from Aspinwall and found that the entire length can be dredged. No blasting will be necessary. This fact is looked upon as the greatest importance, as it will facilitate work immensely and enable the canal to be completed to much sooner.

ARRANGEMENTS for the celebration of the opening of the Northern Pacific road on next Monday at St. Paul, are completed, and Henry Villard and his party of 400 guests will arrive in that city on Saturday night. The day will be given to rejecting over the great event. President Arthur will probably be present, as he will pass through the city about that time. On Monday evening a banquet will be given at the hotel Lafayette, at which 800 plates will be laid.

ON the day the telegraph operators struck for higher wages, the stock of the Western Union Telegraph company was 80 1/2. A few days before it had been 82 1/2. On the 16th instant, or 30 days after the strike, it reached its lowest point, 71 1/2. This decline of 9 points represents a depreciation of $7,200,000 during the interval. On the 17th the strike was declared a failure and the stock rose to 76.

THE American Tinned Plate association has been formed to urge an increased duty on "Tin and Terne plates" to not less than 2 1/2 cents per pound, the purpose being to afford such protection as will enable American manufacturers to enter the business. At present over 240,000 tons of British tin and terne plates are imported annually at a cost in Liverpool of about $18,000,000.

THE new postal notes will be ready for circulation September 3d. They are now being secured in books of 500 each, and distributed through the registration division of the New York post-office to the postmasters of the country.

FREDDIE GEBHAUT finds consolation in the departure of Mrs. Langtry in the success of his horse Eole, which made folks stare at Monmouth Park last Tuesday by running faster than several other horses did.

THERE are 120 newspapers conducted by colored men in the United States, and devoted to their interests.
