

The Daily Astorian.

ASTORIA, OREGON:

SATURDAY, OCTOBER 17, 1885

Note the adv't of the real estate sale at upper town this afternoon.

The Columbia is due from San Francisco this morning. The Oregon sails.

A large lot of receipt books made specially for Astoria business men, at THE ASTORIAN job office.

The body of John Amundson, who was drowned at the Fishermen's cannery last Thursday evening, was recovered yesterday.

The Yamhill county sheriff has set the 3rd of November—six days before the meeting of the legislature—as the day of election to choose a successor to the late senator Warren.

Preaching in the Swedish language in the Swedish Lutheran church, upper Astoria, to-morrow at half past ten; in the evening at 7:30, by the Rev. Alfred Johnson, from New York City. Scandinavians are welcome.

Mrs. Sophia Daggett has leased the Astor house and solicits a share of public patronage. The hotel is nearly new, is well fitted and furnished throughout and every attention is paid to the comfort and convenience of those stopping there: the charge is one dollar a day. Mrs. Daggett has had her share of trouble and her many friends will be glad to know that she is again in active business.

Mayor Gates of Portland announces that there is twenty feet of water all the way from Portland to the sea. The same day he made the announcement the State of California struck detention of twenty hours: the first time she stuck her passengers were in sight of the city and united in singing, "Thou art so near and yet so far."

A London dispatch of the 15th says that the underwriters believe that the British bark Staghound foundered off Cape Horn. The Staghound sailed from here on the 19th of last March for Cork, with 33,000 barrels of wheat valued at $38,000, shipped by Cusack & Co. Just before leaving here she dragged her anchor and got foul of the bark San Luis, splintering that vessel's jib boom and doing about $150 worth of damage.

The box sheet for Tuesday's performance of "Penelope; or the Milkman's Bride," will be opened this morning at Griffin & Reed's: admission fifty cents to all parts of the house; no extra charge for reserved seats. The performers will be aided by competent musical talent from Portland; the opera is new, full of lively music and will be presented in its completeness, constituting one of the most attractive performances ever given in this city.

Officers K. of P.

At the session of the grand lodge Knights of Pythias of this state, at Salem, officers for the ensuing year were, on the 15th, elected as follows: Grand chancellor, Joseph H. Misenner, of No. 2, Portland; grand vice-chancellor, George W. Jett, of No. 8, Baker City; grand prelate, D. M. Eddy, of No. 14, East Portland; grand keeper of records and seal, Ward S. Stevens, of No. 2, Portland; grand master of exchequer, John Holmes, of No. 1, Portland; grand master at arms, Paul Reichert, of No. 12, Portland; grand inner guard, D. L. Greene, of No. 18, Salem; grand outer guard, James H. Turner, of No. 24, Pendleton; supreme representative, John O. Bortholt, of No. 6, Astoria; grand trustees, G. W. Hochstedler, of No. 7, Albany, C. W. Fulton, of No. 6, Astoria, T. S. Weathered, of No. 19, Hillsboro. By virtue of his service the past year, George W. Hochstedler, of No. 7, Albany, becomes past grand chancellor. The 1885 session of the Oregon grand lodge will be held in Portland on the second Tuesday in October.

New Fire Preventive.

It now appears that the much-dreaded petroleum, instead of forming a menace in the shape of increased fire hazard, when applied to wood renders it less likely to take fire. At least such is the opinion of a recent writer on the subject. He claims to have tested this point by experiment, and found if there is any difference between the two, the oil wood is less liable to take fire, as there is less of a combustible fuzz to form on the surface. The petroleum enters the pores of the wood and renders it more like cedar. Apply it freely with a coarse brush, and in a few weeks, when it has all soaked in and the surface becomes dry, the surface can be painted. Nevertheless it is hardly likely that petroleum will be extensively used as fire-proofing for inflammable substances. It will need more than the dictum of one scientist to rid the people of the old lingering suspicion of the treacherous qualities of kerosene.

Notice to Mariners.

PORTLAND, OR., 15th October. Notice is hereby given that the steam fog signal whistle at Cape Flattery light station, Tatoosh island, W. T., will stop for repairs from date to 23 October—eight days. U. SERRE, Inspector.

Lost.

A plain gold ring. Finder will please leave it at this office and be rewarded.

Cheap Single Bedsteads. And Mattresses, for sale cheap, at M. Olsen's, corner of Main and Jefferson streets.

Ready For Business. For a good cup of coffee or a plate of fine oysters go to Frank Fabre's Coffee House; opposite M. C. Crosby's.

Fine Apples and Pears. For sale at low rates at J. H. D. Gray's.

JIB AND MAINSAIL.

The Whitehall Boat Race Won by The "Pride of the Columbia."

The six Whitehall boats that sailed for the Occident and Hansen cups last Saturday sailed the same course yesterday with a more definite result. The morning was just right for a race the breeze being if anything a little too fresh. It blew straight from the northeast and raised the whitecaps on the stream. Half past eleven was the time set for the race, but it was an hour after that time when all the preliminaries were arranged, the breeze steadily slackening all the time and when after considerable backing and filling the boats finally got around to the starting point the breeze was anything but a satisfactory one.

The programme this time was that the boats should anchor in a line opposite the east end of Cass street wharf and at the word each one slip the anchor marked by a buoy and be off.

The boats drew for order of position, they being when ready, sixty feet apart on a north and south line, Johnson's boat farthest to the north, then McCormick's, Curran & Nelson's, Turk's, Brown & McCabe's, Welch's being nearest the dock. There was a large crowd of people on the docks and along the water front to see the race that has been the chief topic of conversation for the last two weeks.

At 12:25:30, p. m., the starting gun was fired; the wind blew in puffs and the start was anything but satisfactory. Turk's boat got the lead and held it for some distance, being a half ahead of the others, but when abreast of the O. R. & N. dock fell off and lost the advantage. The buoy opposite Booth's cannery was rounded in the following order: Pride of the Columbia, 1:17:20; Parole, 1:18:22; Joe, 1:27:32; Bonnie, 1:33; Hurry Bingham, 1:41:10. For the next half hour the race was not particularly interesting, the wind dying away to a dead calm about the time the boats got abreast of the West Shore mills. At about half tide there sprang up a breeze from the west that steadily increased and made the finish an interesting one.

The Port Stevens buoy was rounded by the Pride of the Columbia at 2:34:55; Parole 2:43:02; Joe, 2:50:50. The race was now evidently won by the Pride of the Columbia, it being only a question of difference in time of arrival. As they came their sails drawing and the green water sparkling in the sun they presented a fine appearance. The judges' boat was passed in the following order: Pride of the Columbia, 3:48; Parole, 3:49:50; Joe, 3:52.

Following is the judges' decision:

DECISION.

ASTORIA, OR., Oct. 16th, 1885. The judges decide McCormick's boat Pride of the Columbia, won the race, and is entitled to the Occident cup, first prize. Curran and Wilson's boat Parole, won the second place, and is entitled to the second prize—Hansen cup.

A. W. BERRY.

A. D. WASS.

J. P. BETTS.

It was a good race, fairly run and fairly won. Considerable money was in the pool box and the winners and losers were alike satisfied that the race was a good test. There was some talk yesterday evening of a race for $250 between the winning boat and the Hurry Bingham, in an eighteen mile breeze.

The Pride of the Columbia is a good specimen of a Whitehall boat. She was built by Dick Leathers of this city, and like others of Astoria make, she shows good construction. She was sailed by Jas. Hess, who received a good many compliments yesterday on his skill in handling his little craft.

The cups, which are handsome trophies, were duly presented to the winners. Gustav Hansen had prepared an additional testimonial in the shape of a large silver medal, finely engraved, which was finished after the race by the insertion of the name of the winning boat and handed to Hugh McCormick, the owner of the boat, who very appropriately gave it at once to Hess who sailed the boat and won the race.

Bucklen's Arnica Salve.

THE BEST SALVE in the world for Cuts, Bruises, Ulcers, Salt Rheum, Fever Sores, Tetter, Clapped Hands, Chilblains, Corns, and all Skin Eruptions, and positively cures Piles, or no pay required. It is guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction, or money refunded. Price 25 cents per box. For sale by W. E. Dement & Co.

Fall and Winter Goods.

New Suitings, Fine Underwear, and the latest styles in Scarfs and Ties just received at McIntosh's furnishing store.

Girl Wanted.

To do house work in a small family; good place. Inquire at ASTORIAN office.

Great Reduction in Millinery.

On account of the closeness of the times I have concluded to reduce the price of my entire stock of millinery. Look at these prices: Boys' Felt Hats, formerly $2, now $1.25; Girls' Trimmed Felt Hats, formerly $2.50, now $1.50; Ladies' and Misses' Trimmed Velvet Hats only $2.25. Neckties and Fancy Goods at similar rates. Ladies' Wool hand made Hoods $1.50. Children's Hoods 75 cents to $1. Woolen Gaiters reduced from 50 cents to 25 cents per pair. Victoria Zephyr 65 cents per oz. All the latest styles in Velvet, Plush and Fancy Trimmings at the very lowest prices. Large assortment of Birds and Ornaments cheaped in the market. Corsets 75 cents to $1.50 of the very best makes. Come and see.

MRS. A. MALCOLM.

W. Lussier of San Francisco has engaged in the photograph business with Crow the leading photographer.

—Are you made miserable by Indigestion, Constipation, Dizziness, Loss of appetite, Yellow skin? Shiloh's Vitalizer is a positive cure. For sale by W. E. Dement.

COLUMBIA RIVER SARDINES.

Inquiry From a Prominent Maine Packer Regarding the Feasibility of Packing Them at Astoria.

Under date of October 5th, one of the leading fish packers of the state of Maine writes as follows:

EDITOR ASTORIAN:—In your issue of Sept. 12, '85, I was struck by an item regarding the quantity of small herring near the mouth of the river, and you thought they might be packed for sardines. On this coast of Maine are many factories for the canning of herring as sardines, and the demand is very great. I have often wondered if there was any demand for sardines on the Pacific coast, and if any kind of fish were taken on the coast suitable for packing as sardines. I am the senior partner in the Packing Co., and our business comprises the canning of sardines in oil, mustard and spices; mackerel in all styles; lobsters; blueberries and vegetables of various kinds. Thinking the matter all over after reading your item, I concluded to write you to see if you would kindly refer me to some responsible party who could give me the following information:

1st. Are there any weirs for taking the herring? If not, how are they taken, and could quantities be had—say 300 bushels per day on an average?

2nd. Would like to know about the size, as it is requisite to have a herring about 5 in. in length to make a good article.

3rd. Would like an estimate of the number of cases sardines (domestic and foreign) sold annually on the coast, said cases containing 100 cans each.

4th. Price of plain tin 14x20 in., per case, and the average wages per day of men and women?

5th. Is any concern on the coast in the tin decorating business?

6th. How far is it from Astoria to the mouth of the river where the fish can be taken, and at what season most abundant?

I enclose you sample sides of sardine cans, viz: 14 oil, 14 and 14 mustard, for which we have a good demand. My object in trying elsewhere would be to get a new and good market and be the first on the ground. If you will kindly refer this letter to some party who will interest himself to gather the information, I will consider it a great favor.

Yours, etc.,

The above is given publication as the readiest means of complying with the gentleman's request. Any one desiring to make a move in the matter can obtain fuller particulars upon inquiring at this office.

ONION PEAK COAL.

Chas. Robertson of Garibaldi was in town yesterday and gave us some interesting information about the early prospecting for Onion Peak coal which is now attracting considerable attention.

Mr. Robertson says that himself and Hiram Terwilliger of Portland, prospected this coal fifteen years ago and ran a tunnel into the mountain near Crawford's some 27 feet, the vein which they followed measured 3ft 9in of bare coal when they quit work. They have been waiting like many others, for a railroad to carry it away.

Mr. Robertson reports that there are three large, distinct veins within five hundred yards of this place. The tunnel was visited by himself three years since and found to be in good condition excepting a little slide at its mouth which would need to be removed before entering.

Thomas Dean, Geo. Dean and others, ran a tunnel at the same time into the mountain about three miles southwest of the Robertson-Terwilliger tunnel and reported that they had good sized veins. Mr. Vaughan of Tillamook, Geo. Randall and others worked some veins some distance below Robertson's previous to the time that Robertson worked. Mr. Cloutrie is prospecting this ground now. Large veins have been found some three miles north of Crawford's. This field which has a known diameter of five miles lies about half in Clatsop county and the other half in Tillamook county.

The Onion Peak trail, has recently been opened by coal prospectors and those who wish to see the coal can ride there from Grimes' or the Seaside.

Big Growth in Heathen Canyon.

People who have an idea that corn won't grow in this valley should visit the rooms of the state board of immigration, and examine a half a dozen stalks left there by J. F. Fletcher, of Gales creek, Washington county. The only objection to this corn is that the "shucker," in order to get the crop, would have to use a step-ladder or go horseback. It is six feet to the lowest ear and eleven feet to the highest. The tallest stalk touches the top of a fifteen foot pole. The corn was planted in May, and yields sixty-five bushels to the acre. This corn was raised up in Heathen canyon.—Oregonian.

A Great Discovery.

That is daily bringing joy to the homes of thousands by saving many of their dear ones from an early grave. Truly it is Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs, Colds, Asthma, Bronchitis, Hay Fever, Loss of Voice, Tickling in the Throat, Pain in Side and Chest, or any disease of the Throat and Lungs, a positive cure. Trial Bottles free at W. E. Dement & Co.'s Drug Store. Large size $1.00.

—Shiloh's Catarrh Remedy—a positive cure for Catarrh, Diphtheria and Canker Mouth. Sold by W. E. Dement.

Bringing Gladness.

To millions, pleasing their palates and cleansing their Systems, arousing their Livers, Kidneys, Stomachs and bowels to a healthy activity. Such is the mission of the famous California liquid fruit remedy Syrup of Figs. 50¢ and $1 bottles for sale by W. E. Dement & Co.

GATES' RIVAL.

How a Sand Bar in the Harbor of New York Was Removed.

To remove by the action of water a sand bar which is subject to the tremendous movement of the sea seems anomalous, but nevertheless water is the agent which is now being employed to plow up and level off one of the greatest of the sand bars which obstruct the entrance to New York Harbor. The apparatus wherewith the work is done is called a water plow. It is the invention of General Roy Stone, who commanded the Bucktail Brigade during the civil war. He had been impressed by observing the effect of a jet of water in the operations of hydraulic mining. Tom Conkling, an old diver, went down on the reef to try an experiment. He carried a hose which was attached to a powerful force pump. Tom Conkling said, as he went down, "He no use trying." When he landed on the reef, nineteen feet below the surface, "he strapped the hose to his waist," says an account, "and held the nozzle firmly between his knees, with the end pointed beyond his toes. He pulled the signal string once, and the water was turned on. In less than a minute came two violent jerks, and then three rapid pulls. That meant to shut off the water and hoist him up. As he reached the float, Tom Conkling, panting and pale, took off his helmet and said: 'It'll work, General; it'll work. If you hadn't turned the water off I'd have been in China by this time.' The water had bored a hole in the reef under Tom's feet, and he had sunk to his waist before the stream was turned off."

Campbell Grew Weary.

A glove fight for the entire receipts of the house took place at the skating rink in Olympia, Saturday evening, between Harry Stewart of Seattle, and Jack Campbell, a logger, employed near that city. Stewart weighed 140 pounds and was seconded by Professor Dutchey; Jack Campbell, the logger, weighed 155 pounds. The contest was under the Marquis of Queensbury rules. Shortly after the opening of the first round Campbell knocked Stewart down, and struck him while on his knees. A foul was claimed and allowed by the referee, L. Martin; but Stewart chose to continue the fight, knocking Campbell down three times in quick succession. Just before the first round closed Stewart struck Campbell a right hander on the jugular vein, knocking him to the floor in a heap. When time was called the Olympia man did not come to time. He was weary. Half an hour later he again struck him while on his knees. A foul was claimed and allowed by the referee, L. Martin; but Stewart chose to continue the fight, knocking Campbell down three times in quick succession. Just before the first round closed Stewart struck Campbell a right hander on the jugular vein, knocking him to the floor in a heap. When time was called the Olympia man did not come to time. He was weary. Half an hour later he again struck him while on his knees. A foul was claimed and allowed by the referee, L. Martin; but Stewart chose to continue the fight, knocking Campbell down three times in quick succession. Just before the first round closed Stewart struck Campbell a right hander on the jugular vein, knocking him to the floor in a heap. When time was called the Olympia man did not come to time. He was weary. Half an hour later he again struck him while on his knees. A foul was claimed and allowed by the referee, L. Martin; but Stewart chose to continue the fight, knocking Campbell down three times in quick succession. Just before the first round closed Stewart struck Campbell a right hander on the jugular vein, knocking him to the floor in a heap. When time was called the Olympia man did not come to time. He was weary. Half an hour later he again struck him while on his knees. A foul was claimed and allowed by the referee, L. Martin; but Stewart chose to continue the fight, knocking Campbell down three times in quick succession. Just before the first round closed Stewart struck Campbell a right hander on the jugular vein, knocking him to the floor in a heap. When time was called the Olympia man did not come to time. He was weary. Half an hour later he again struck him while on his knees. A foul was claimed and allowed by the referee, L. Martin; but Stewart chose to continue the fight, knocking Campbell down three times in quick succession. Just before the first round closed Stewart struck Campbell a right hander on the jugular vein, knocking him to the floor in a heap. When time was called the Olympia man did not come to time. He was weary. Half an hour later he again struck him while on his knees. A foul was claimed and allowed by the referee, L. Martin; but Stewart chose to continue the fight, knocking Campbell down three times in quick succession. Just before the first round closed Stewart struck Campbell a right hander on the jugular vein, knocking him to the floor in a heap. When time was called the Olympia man did not come to time. He was weary. Half an hour later he again struck him while on his knees. A foul was claimed and allowed by the referee, L. Martin; but Stewart chose to continue the fight, knocking Campbell down three times in quick succession. Just before the first round closed Stewart struck Campbell a right hander on the jugular vein, knocking him to the floor in a heap. When time was called the Olympia man did not come to time. He was weary. Half an hour later he again struck him while on his knees. A foul was claimed and allowed by the referee, L. Martin; but Stewart chose to continue the fight, knocking Campbell down three times in quick succession. Just before the first round closed Stewart struck Campbell a right hander on the jugular vein, knocking him to the floor in a heap. When time was called the Olympia man did not come to time. He was weary. Half an hour later he again struck him while on his knees. A foul was claimed and allowed by the referee, L. Martin; but Stewart chose to continue the fight, knocking Campbell down three times in quick succession. Just before the first round closed Stewart struck Campbell a right hander on the jugular vein, knocking him to the floor in a heap. When time was called the Olympia man did not come to time. He was weary. Half an hour later he again struck him while on his knees. A foul was claimed and allowed by the referee, L. Martin; but Stewart chose to continue the fight, knocking Campbell down three times in quick succession. Just before the first round closed Stewart struck Campbell a right hander on the jugular vein, knocking him to the floor in a heap. When time was called the Olympia man did not come to time. He was weary. Half an hour later he again struck him while on his knees. A foul was claimed and allowed by the referee, L. Martin; but Stewart chose to continue the fight, knocking Campbell down three times in quick succession. Just before the first round closed Stewart struck Campbell a right hander on the jugular vein, knocking him to the floor in a heap. When time was called the Olympia man did not come to time. He was weary. Half an hour later he again struck him while on his knees. A foul was claimed and allowed by the referee, L. Martin; but Stewart chose to continue the fight, knocking Campbell down three times in quick succession. Just before the first round closed Stewart struck Campbell a right hander on the jugular vein, knocking him to the floor in a heap. When time was called the Olympia man did not come to time. He was weary. Half an hour later he again struck him while on his knees. A foul was claimed and allowed by the referee, L. Martin; but Stewart chose to continue the fight, knocking Campbell down three times in quick succession. Just before the first round closed Stewart struck Campbell a right hander on the jugular vein, knocking him to the floor in a heap. When time was called the Olympia man did not come to time. He was weary. Half an hour later he again struck him while on his knees. A foul was claimed and allowed by the referee, L. Martin; but Stewart chose to continue the fight, knocking Campbell down three times in quick succession. Just before the first round closed Stewart struck Campbell a right hander on the jugular vein, knocking him to the floor in a heap. When time was called the Olympia man did not come to time. He was weary. Half an hour later he again struck him while on his knees. A foul was claimed and allowed by the referee, L. Martin; but Stewart chose to continue the fight, knocking Campbell down three times in quick succession. Just before the first round closed Stewart struck Campbell a right hander on the jugular vein, knocking him to the floor in a heap. When time was called the Olympia man did not come to time. He was weary. Half an hour later he again struck him while on his knees. A foul was claimed and allowed by the referee, L. Martin; but Stewart chose to continue the fight, knocking Campbell down three times in quick succession. Just before the first round closed Stewart struck Campbell a right hander on the jugular vein, knocking him to the floor in a heap. When time was called the Olympia man did not come to time. He was weary. Half an hour later he again struck him while on his knees. A foul was claimed and allowed by the referee, L. Martin; but Stewart chose to continue the fight, knocking Campbell down three times in quick succession. Just before the first round closed Stewart struck Campbell a right hander on the jugular vein, knocking him to the floor in a heap. When time was called the Olympia man did not come to time. He was weary. Half an hour later he again struck him while on his knees. A foul was claimed and allowed by the referee, L. Martin; but Stewart chose to continue the fight, knocking Campbell down three times in quick succession. Just before the first round closed Stewart struck Campbell a right hander on the jugular vein, knocking him to the floor in a heap. When time was called the Olympia man did not come to time. He was weary. Half an hour later he again struck him while on his knees. A foul was claimed and allowed by the referee, L. Martin; but Stewart chose to continue the fight, knocking Campbell down three times in quick succession. Just before the first round closed Stewart struck Campbell a right hander on the jugular vein, knocking him to the floor in a heap. When time was called the Olympia man did not come to time. He was weary. Half an hour later he again struck him while on his knees. A foul was claimed and allowed by the referee, L. Martin; but Stewart chose to continue the fight, knocking Campbell down three times in quick succession. Just before the first round closed Stewart struck Campbell a right hander on the jugular vein, knocking him to the floor in a heap. When time was called the Olympia man did not come to time. He was weary. Half an hour later he again struck him while on his knees. A foul was claimed and allowed by the referee, L. Martin; but Stewart chose to continue the fight, knocking Campbell down three times in quick succession. Just before the first round closed Stewart struck Campbell a right hander on the jugular vein, knocking him to the floor in a heap. When time was called the Olympia man did not come to time. He was weary. Half an hour later he again struck him while on his knees. A foul was claimed and allowed by the referee, L. Martin; but Stewart chose to continue the fight, knocking Campbell down three times in quick succession. Just before the first round closed Stewart struck Campbell a right hander on the jugular vein, knocking him to the floor in a heap. When time was called the Olympia man did not come to time. He was weary. Half an hour later he again struck him while on his knees. A foul was claimed and allowed by the referee, L. Martin; but Stewart chose to continue the fight, knocking Campbell down three times in quick succession. Just before the first round closed Stewart struck Campbell a right hander on the jugular vein, knocking him to the floor in a heap. When time was called the Olympia man did not come to time. He was weary. Half an hour later he again struck him while on his knees. A foul was claimed and allowed by the referee, L. Martin; but Stewart chose to continue the fight, knocking Campbell down three times in quick succession. Just before the first round closed Stewart struck Campbell a right hander on the jugular vein, knocking him to the floor in a heap. When time was called the Olympia man did not come to time. He was weary. Half an hour later he again struck him while on his knees. A foul was claimed and allowed by the referee, L. Martin; but Stewart chose to continue the fight, knocking Campbell down three times in quick succession. Just before the first round closed Stewart struck Campbell a right hander on the jugular vein, knocking him to the floor in a heap. When time was called the Olympia man did not come to time. He was weary. Half an hour later he again struck him while on his knees. A foul was claimed and allowed by the referee, L. Martin; but Stewart chose to continue the fight, knocking Campbell down three times in quick succession. Just before the first round closed Stewart struck Campbell a right hander on the jugular vein, knocking him to the floor in a heap. When time was called the Olympia man did not come to time. He was weary. Half an hour later he again struck him while on his knees. A foul was claimed and allowed by the referee, L. Martin; but Stewart chose to continue the fight, knocking Campbell down three times in quick succession. Just before the first round closed Stewart struck Campbell a right hander on the jugular vein, knocking him to the floor in a heap. When time was called the Olympia man did not come to time. He was weary. Half an hour later he again struck him while on his knees. A foul was claimed and allowed by the referee, L. Martin; but Stewart chose to continue the fight, knocking Campbell down three times in quick succession. Just before the first round closed Stewart struck Campbell a right hander on the jugular vein, knocking him to the floor in a heap. When time was called the Olympia man did not come to time. He was weary. Half an hour later he again struck him while on his knees. A foul was claimed and allowed by the referee, L. Martin; but Stewart chose to continue the fight, knocking Campbell down three times in quick succession. Just before the first round closed Stewart struck Campbell a right hander on the jugular vein, knocking him to the floor in a heap. When time was called the Olympia man did not come to time. He was weary. Half an hour later he again struck him while on his knees. A foul was claimed and allowed by the referee, L. Martin; but Stewart chose to continue the fight, knocking Campbell down three times in quick succession. Just before the first round closed Stewart struck Campbell a right hander on the jugular vein, knocking him to the floor in a heap. When time was called the Olympia man did not come to time. He was weary. Half an hour later he again struck him while on his knees. A foul was claimed and allowed by the referee, L. Martin; but Stewart chose to continue the fight, knocking Campbell down three times in quick succession. Just before the first round closed Stewart struck Campbell a right hander on the jugular vein, knocking him to the floor in a heap. When time was called the Olympia man did not come to time. He was weary. Half an hour later he again struck him while on his knees. A foul was claimed and allowed by the referee, L. Martin; but Stewart chose to continue the fight, knocking Campbell down three times in quick succession. Just before the first round closed Stewart struck Campbell a right hander on the jugular vein, knocking him to the floor in a heap. When time was called the Olympia man did not come to time. He was weary. Half an hour later he again struck him while on his knees. A foul was claimed and allowed by the referee, L. Martin; but Stewart chose to continue the fight, knocking Campbell down three times in quick succession. Just before the first round closed Stewart struck Campbell a right hander on the jugular vein, knocking him to the floor in a heap. When time was called the Olympia man did not come to time. He was weary. Half an hour later he again struck him while on his knees. A foul was claimed and allowed by the referee, L. Martin; but Stewart chose to continue the fight, knocking Campbell down three times in quick succession. Just before the first round closed Stewart struck Campbell a right hander on the jugular vein, knocking him to the floor in a heap. When time was called the Olympia man did not come to time. He was weary. Half an hour later he again struck him while on his knees. A foul was claimed and allowed by the referee, L. Martin; but Stewart chose to continue the fight, knocking Campbell down three times in quick succession. Just before the first round closed Stewart struck Campbell a right hander on the jugular vein, knocking him to the floor in a heap. When time was called the Olympia man did not come to time. He was weary. Half an hour later he again struck him while on his knees. A foul was claimed and allowed by the referee, L. Martin; but Stewart chose to continue the fight, knocking Campbell down three times in quick succession. Just before the first round closed Stewart struck Campbell a right hander on the jugular vein, knocking him to the floor in a heap. When time was called the Olympia man did not come to time. He was weary. Half an hour later he again struck him while on his knees. A foul was claimed and allowed by the referee, L. Martin; but Stewart chose to continue the fight, knocking Campbell down three times in quick succession. Just before the first round closed Stewart struck Campbell a right hander on the jugular vein, knocking him to the floor in a heap. When time was called the Olympia man did not come to time. He was weary. Half an hour later he again struck him while on his knees. A foul was claimed and allowed by the referee, L. Martin; but Stewart chose to continue the fight, knocking Campbell down three times in quick succession. Just before the first round closed Stewart struck Campbell a right hander on the jugular vein, knocking him to the floor in a heap. When time was called the Olympia man did not come to time. He was weary. Half an hour later he again struck him while on his knees. A foul was claimed and allowed by the referee, L. Martin; but Stewart chose to continue the fight, knocking Campbell down three times in quick succession. Just before the first round closed Stewart struck Campbell a right hander on the jugular vein, knocking him to the floor in a heap. When time was called the Olympia man did not come to time. He was weary. Half an hour later he again struck him while on his knees. A foul was claimed and allowed by the referee, L. Martin; but Stewart chose to continue the fight, knocking Campbell down three times in quick succession. Just before the first round closed Stewart struck Campbell a right hander on the jugular vein, knocking him to the floor in a heap. When time was called the Olympia man did not come to time. He was weary. Half an hour later he again struck him while on his knees. A foul was claimed and allowed by the referee, L. Martin; but Stewart chose to continue the fight, knocking Campbell down three times in quick succession. Just before the first round closed Stewart struck Campbell a right hander on the jugular vein, knocking him to the floor in a heap. When time was called the Olympia man did not come to time. He was weary. Half an hour later he again struck him while on his knees. A foul was claimed and allowed by the referee, L. Martin; but Stewart chose to continue the fight, knocking Campbell down three times in quick succession. Just before the first round closed Stewart struck Campbell a right hander on the jugular vein, knocking him to the floor in a heap. When time was called the Olympia man did not come to time. He was weary. Half an hour later he again struck him while on his knees. A foul was claimed and allowed by the referee, L. Martin; but Stewart chose to continue the fight, knocking Campbell down three times in quick succession. Just before the first round closed Stewart struck Campbell a right hander on the jugular vein, knocking him to the floor in a heap. When time was called the Olympia man did not come to time. He was weary. Half an hour later he again struck him while on his knees. A foul was claimed and allowed by the referee, L. Martin; but Stewart chose to continue the fight, knocking Campbell down three times in quick succession. Just before the first round closed Stewart struck Campbell a right hander on the jugular vein, knocking him to the floor in a heap. When time was called the Olympia man did not come to time. He was weary. Half an hour later he again struck him while on his knees. A foul was claimed and allowed by the referee, L. Martin; but Stewart chose to continue the fight, knocking Campbell down three times in quick succession. Just before the first round closed Stewart struck Campbell a right hander on the jugular vein, knocking him to the floor in a heap. When time was called the Olympia man did not come to time. He was weary. Half an hour later he again struck him while on his knees. A foul was claimed and allowed by the referee, L. Martin; but Stewart chose to continue the fight, knocking Campbell down three times in quick succession. Just before the first round closed Stewart struck Campbell a right hander on the jugular vein, knocking him to the floor in a heap. When time was called the Olympia man did not come to time. He was weary. Half an hour later he again struck him while on his knees. A foul was claimed and allowed by the referee, L. Martin; but Stewart chose to continue the fight, knocking Campbell down three times in quick succession. Just before the first round closed Stewart struck Campbell a right hander on the jugular vein, knocking him to the floor in a heap. When time was called the Olympia man did not come to time. He was weary. Half an hour later he again struck him while on his knees. A foul was claimed and allowed by the referee, L. Martin; but Stewart chose to continue the fight, knocking Campbell down three times in quick succession. Just before the first round closed Stewart struck Campbell a right hander on the jugular vein, knocking him to the floor in a heap. When time was called the Olympia man did not come to time. He was weary. Half an hour later he again struck him while on his knees. A foul was claimed and allowed by the referee, L. Martin; but Stewart chose to continue the fight, knocking Campbell down three times in quick succession. Just before the first round closed Stewart struck Campbell a right hander on the jugular vein, knocking him to the floor in a heap. When time was called the Olympia man did not come to time. He was weary. Half an hour later he again struck him while on his knees. A foul was claimed and allowed by the referee, L. Martin; but Stewart chose to continue the fight, knocking Campbell down three times in quick succession. Just before the first round closed Stewart struck Campbell a right hander on the jugular vein, knocking him to the floor in a heap. When time was called the Olympia man did not come to time. He was weary. Half an hour later he again struck him while on his knees. A foul was claimed and allowed by the referee, L. Martin; but Stewart chose to continue the fight, knocking Campbell down three times in quick succession. Just before the first round closed Stewart struck Campbell a right hander on the jugular vein, knocking him to the floor in a heap. When time was called the Olympia man did not come to time. He was weary. Half an hour later he again struck him while on his knees. A foul was claimed and allowed by the referee, L. Martin; but Stewart chose to continue the fight, knocking Campbell down three times in quick succession. Just before the first round closed Stewart struck Campbell a right hander on the jugular vein, knocking him to the floor in a heap. When time was called the Olympia man did not come to time. He was weary. Half an hour later he again struck him while on his knees. A foul was claimed and allowed by the referee, L. Martin; but Stewart chose to continue the fight, knocking Campbell down three times in quick succession. Just before the first round closed Stewart struck Campbell a right hander on the jugular vein, knocking him to the floor in a heap. When time was called the Olympia man did not come to time. He was weary. Half an hour later he again struck him while on his knees. A foul was claimed and allowed by the referee, L. Martin; but Stewart chose to continue the fight, knocking Campbell down three times in quick succession. Just before the first round closed Stewart struck Campbell a right hander on the jugular vein, knocking him to the floor in a heap. When time was called the Olympia man did not come to time. He was weary. Half an hour later he again struck him while on his knees. A foul was claimed and allowed by the referee, L. Martin; but Stewart chose to continue the fight, knocking Campbell down three times in quick succession. Just before the first round closed Stewart struck Campbell a right hander on the jugular vein, knocking him to the floor in a heap. When time was called the Olympia man did not come to time. He was weary. Half an hour later he again struck him while on his knees. A foul was claimed and allowed by the referee, L. Martin; but Stewart chose to continue the fight, knocking Campbell down three times in quick succession. Just before the first round closed Stewart struck Campbell a right hander on the jugular vein, knocking him to the floor in a heap. When time was called the Olympia man did not come to time. He was weary. Half an hour later he again struck him while on his knees. A foul was claimed and allowed by the referee, L. Martin; but Stewart chose to continue the fight, knocking Campbell down three times in quick succession. Just before the first round closed Stewart struck Campbell a right hander on the jugular vein, knocking him to the floor in a heap. When time was called the Olympia man did not come to time. He was weary. Half an hour later he again struck him while on his knees. A foul was claimed and allowed by the referee, L. Martin; but Stewart chose to continue the fight, knocking Campbell down three times in quick succession. Just before the first round closed Stewart struck Campbell a right hander on the jugular vein, knocking him to the floor in a heap. When time was called the Olympia man did not come to time. He was weary. Half an hour later he again struck him while on his knees. A foul was claimed and allowed by the referee, L. Martin; but Stewart chose to continue the fight, knocking Campbell down three times in quick succession. Just before the first round closed Stewart struck Campbell a right hander on the jugular vein, knocking him to the floor in a heap. When time was called the Olympia man did not come to time. He was weary. Half an hour later he again struck him while on his knees. A foul was claimed and allowed by the referee, L. Martin; but Stewart chose to continue the fight, knocking Campbell down three times in quick succession. Just before the first round closed