The Gun To Blame.

Thursday afternoon a party consisting of Delore Menard, Charles E. Blankenbora and Walter Seifert, of this village, and Fred Wolf, of Chicago, started for Arvon for a few days' outing. When in the vicinity of Silver river, they were somewhat surprised on looking ahead a short distance to see a large black bear standing in the roadway. Guns were at once brought into play and bruin became a living target. Unmindful of this, the bear sauntered along the road for some distance, while repeated shots were fired. Finally the bear walked off the road and disappeared in the bush, wearing a "smile that won't come off." The boys are wondering why. But then of course it was "the fault of the gun."

LOCKJAW MAY BE PREVENTED.

Care Should Be Exercised in Use of Fireworks, July 4th.

More deaths from lockjaw result from the celebration of the Fourth of July than from any other cause. Not only in Michigan, but throughout the country, the number of deaths from lockjaw in the month of July is greater than in any other month of the year. That this increase in the number of fatalities can be prevented, is conceded, and that it should be prevented is the responsibility of the general public.

The records of death for the last three years in the United States show that fatalities from tetanus, popularly known as "lockjaw," invariably follows in case of wounds from explosions of blank cartridges, toy pistols, giant firecrackers, cannon firecrackers, torpedo-cases and pin wheels. The common use of these articles, by children as well as adults, in the celebration of Independence Day, readily explains the unusual death rate from tetanus in the month of July. In the state of Michigan, the use of blank cartridges, by children, is not alone a great risk, but a criminal risk, being a direct violation of the law. In 1883, the legislature passed a law to prevent the sale and use of such articles to such young children as follows:

Sec. 1. That no person shall sell, give, or furnish to any child under the age of thirteen years, any cartridge of any form or material, or any pistol, gun or other mechanical contrivance, specially arranged or designated for the explosion of the same.

Sec. 2. Any person violating any of the provisions of the foregoing section, shall be deemed guilty of misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof, shall be punished by a fine of not less than ten dollars, nor more than fifty dollars, and costs of prosecution, or imprisonment in the county jail not less than ten days nor more than ninety days, or both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court.

Sec. 3. It shall be unlawful for any person under the age of thirteen years, to have in possession, or use any of the articles named in section one of this act.

It is believed that if people generally know of this law, and also know the real danger resulting from the use of certain fireworks, they will exercise the care and discretion necessary to protect their children and themselves from becoming victims of improper use of explosives.

During the month of July in Michigan three years ago there were twenty-seven deaths from tetanus, resulting from wounds received from handling fireworks, and in the United States, the number of deaths from the same cause was 415. In 1904, in Michigan, the number of deaths from the same cause, in July, was 5, in the United States, 105. In 1905, the number of deaths in Michigan from the same cause was 7; in the United States 164. It is at once seen that the number of deaths both in our own state and throughout the country, in 1903, greatly exceeded the number of deaths occurring either in 1904 or 1905. After the fatalities were recorded in 1903, the great crusade against the use of improper fireworks on the Fourth of July began; and the decrease in the two following years in the number of deaths is due chiefly to the aroused public sentiment against such use, and the passing of ordinances in many localities against such use.

NEAT RAILWAY FOLDER.

South Shore's New Time Table Contains Mass of Information.

An innovation has been introduced by Mart Adson, general passenger agent of the Duluth, South Shore & Atlantic, in a new folder of the company just issued, says the Duluth News-Tribune. The somewhat jealous policy hitherto adopted by the roads in making their own lines "the only thing," has been dropped and a vast amount of information regarding other lines and tributary routes which the traveler may need is included. To thousands of tourists and travelers this will come as a welcome relief from the "one and only line system" used in the past by the various roads.

For instance the folder gives all the connecting routes both east and west and the time made and the sleeping and dining car accommodations and different train service between Duluth and the Twin Cities on all the lines.

Monday the company started its new service between Duluth and Boston by way of Montreal. Not less than $70,000 has been expended in making this train the most up-to-date in the world as the sleepers and diners have been equipped regardless of cost, and a traveler can board the train at Duluth and remain in the same coach until Montreal or Boston is reached. The Boston sleeper is attached to the train at Sault Ste. Marie.
