The Cause of Rheumatism.

A Glory To Milan.

The following from the Milan, (Tenn.) Hustler will be of interest to our readers as Messrs. Todd & Roper are well known in this city.

Manufacturers make towns. Realizing this important fact the peo ple of M lan eight years since awoke from their lethargy; the fires of progres-sion were kindled; activity and energy took the place of stands illism and among other enterprises the shook man-affecturing firm of T dd & Rouge was inufacturing firm of T dd & Roper was induced to locate among us.

It was a red le ter day for Milan. Born hustlers, they erected handsome and commodious buildings, put in the latest improved marrinery and brought their large force of skilled and unskilled lab r to form a thriving industry,

Their success has been assured from the start and six days in the week the factory whistle has sounded and its tones awakening the echos for miles around informed the people that work was its motto. The enterprise not only gives employment, to a large number of regularly employed hands, but scores of men are on its pay roll furni-hing the enormous amount of timber required.

When Mes-rs. Todd & Roper realized that the state of Tennes ee would not be represented at the great world's fair knowing the great benefit to be derived from an exhibit they prepared the following:

One molasses hogshead, one rum hogshead, one honey case, one honey shook one molasses shook, one rum shook, one pair rum heads, one pair beer half bar-rel heads, twenty-five red oak staves for molas-es, twenty five white oak staves for beer kegs, twenty five rough staves in the condition they came from the

The exhibit was given a prominent position in the Force ry building and not only advertised the enterprising ex-hibitors but likewise Mi'an. Great was their reward.

Side by side with the famed cooperage world they triumphantly marched away with the greatest honor to be attained – a gold medal for excellence in timber and preparation.

Great is the firm of Todd & Roper. The Hustler tips its tile to them.

No better preparation for the hair has ever been invented than Ayer's Hair Vigor. It restores the original color to faded and gray hair, and imparts that natural gloss and freshness, everyone so much admires. Its reputation is world-wide.

THE MESSAGE

President Cleveland Sent It to Congress Monday.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 5.-President Cleveland's message was given to congress Mon-day. In its full text it is very long, but the greater part is devoted to a review of the reports of the various departments. There is nothing radical or sensational in the message, the Hawaiian matter being but briefly touched upon, and the recommendations on the tariff question being in line with the president's well known

After showing that we are at peace with foreign powers, and disposing briefly of such diplomatic negotiations as have been such diplomatic negotiations as have been consumpated or under way, he refers to the steps taken in regard to the Geary law, the arbitration over the Bering sea seizures, the discrimination in canal tolls, troubles in the South American republics, urges that the Nicaragna canal he completed under American anspices, the latest Samoan difficulty, the trouble with S₁ ain over the outcase of over the outrages on our missionaries in the Caroline islands, and with Turkey, etc. He then takes up the Hawaiian matter and, after recounting the facts already known, and the action of the administra-tion thus for heaves.

known, and the action of the administration thus far, he says:

Upon the facts developed it seemed to me the only honorable course for our government to pursue was to undo the wrong that had been done by those representin us and to restore as far as practicable the status existing at the time of our forcible intervention. With a view of accomplisaing this result within the constitutional limits of executive power and recognizing all our obligations and responsibilities growing out of any changed conditions brought about by our unjustifiable interference our present minister at Honolulu has received appropriate instructions to that end. Thus far no information of the the accomplishment of any definite results the accomplishment of any definite results has been received from him. Additional advices are soon expected. When received they will be promptly sent to the congress together with all other information at hand, accompanied by a special executive message fully detailing all the facts necessary to a complete understanding of the case and presenting a history of all the material events leading up the present situation.

After briefly giving a condensation of the report of the secretary of the treasury, the report of the secretary

he says:

The recent repeal of the provision of law requiring the purchase of silver bullion by the government as a feature of our monetary science, has made an entire change in the complexion of our currency affairs. I do not doubt that the ultimate result of this action will be most salutary and far reaching.

this action will be mest saturary and far reaching.

The reports of the secretaries of navy, war and interior, the attorney general and the postmaster general, already made pub-lic, are given in condensed form. Of the ne, are given in contensed form. Of the postmaster general's report, he says:

He concurs with the recommendations of the secretary of the interior in regard to the treatment of the Indians, the disposal of public lands and upon forestry.

After devoting considerable space to the report of the secretary of agriculture, and the subject of pensions, he then took up civil service propriet.

civil service reform:

I am, if possible, more than ever convinced of the incalculable benefits conferred by the civil service law, not only in its effect upon the public service, but also, what is even more important, in its effect in elevating the tone of political life generally. The course of civil service in this country, instructively and interestingly, illustrates how strong a hold a movement gains upon every people which has underlying it a sentiment of justice and right, and which at the same time promises better administration of their government.

The law embodying this reform found its way to our statute book more from fear of the popular sentiment existing in its favor than from any love for the reform of the popular sentiment existing in its favor than from any love for the reform itself on the part of the legislators; and it has lived and grown and flourished in spite of the covert as well as open hostility of spoilsmen, and notwithstanding the querulous impracticability of many self-constituted guardians.

The president then discusses the tariff question in all its phases, and in conclusion says; My intense feeling of responsibility im pels me to invoke for the manifest inter-ests of a generous and confiding people the most scrupulous care and to pledge my willing support to every legislative effort for the advancement of the greatness and prosperity our beloved country

How to Learn Music. Do not fail to take advantage of the library. Begin a course of good reading. Music is notorious for narrowing one's mind, so resolve to counterbalance your practice with literary work as well. As to your practice, we would give you this maxim: "The essential thing in practice is to see exactly what is to be done in all its details and then do it again and again with the greatest clearness, precision and energy." When you take up a new piece, notice the key, the harmonies, chords, scales, fingering and general effects. One of the first necessaries is concentration. Develop self criticism. "The thing you cannot do is the very thing you should make yourself do." In practice begin where you left off the day before. Connect your day's work. Apply all your knowledge. Do not try to do more than one thing at a time. Spend a good deal of time every day thinking about what you are doing and what you will do.
