MT. NEBO AND SAWDUST VALLEY.

MT. NEBO, June 8.—When our last letter came out with so many funny things in it, we could only open our mouth in astonishment, then clap our hands and laugh heartily. That Mr. Typesetter put up such a job for us, making us call people such unheard of names, and even putting Mr. to a lady's name. "Contributor," there must be a peculiar twist to our scrawl.

Rev. E. L. Gregory occupied the pulpit here Sunday afternoon, preaching a most interesting sermon, choosing for his text, "Shall we know each other in Heaven?"

Our League held an unusually interesting meeting Saturday night. We have a splendid attendance, with increasing interest. May the good work go on.

There was a Church Conference held at Nebo last night.

Mayberry Bros. have purchased a new traction engine, and are now better than ever prepared to do the season's threshing.

Mr. Robert Linn, Jr., continues in quite a feeble state of health.

Aunt Hester Estes hasn't been so well for the last few days.

Mr. Web Kinzer has been quite indisposed for several days, while his little baby, who is with its mother at its grandmother's, Mrs. George Howell, near Concord, is also quite sick.

Dr. and Mrs. W. W. Joyce are in Nashville this week, visiting friends and taking in the sights at the Centennial.

Miss Bell Daimwood, of Bear Creek, returned home Sunday, after having spent two weeks here with her brother, Mr. George Daimwood.

Mr. A. M. Gray, of Ashwood, spent several days of last week here, visiting friends.

Mrs. Gid Johnson, accompanied by Mrs. Adline Pipkin, of Foster's Chapel, spent a few days of last week, visiting the homes of Messrs. Ike and Newt Johnson near Mt. Pleasant.

Mr. Harry Nance came up from Bon Aqua Springs last week and will reside in our midst for an indefinite length of time.

Mr. Reeves, of Texas, reached here Saturday, and is the guest of Miss Lizzie Sargent.

Mr. and Mrs. Barclay Brinn, of Linden, Perry county, are located here with their picture gallery, and are doing some good work.

We learn that Miss Tera Taylor, formerly of Winchester, but now of Williamsport, will teach the fall term of school at Nebo. We wish her success. VASHTI.

Garwood's Sarsaparilla—for the blood—guaranteed to cure. A. B. RAINS.

ASHWOOD.

ASHWOOD, June 8.—Dr. T. Bledsoe Brown, our promising young M. D., who has lately returned from Baltimore, where he has been completing his medical course, gave a very entertaining and instructive address to the Foreign Missionary Society on last Sabbath evening at Zion. His subject was, "Medical Mission," which opened up a new field for thought. Quite a large audience was in attendance.

Mrs. Mary Hendrick and grandson, Mr. Thoe Hendrick, are the guests of Mrs. Robert Orr, in Nashville.

Miss Rebecca Stephenson is at home after attending school for the last ten months in Birmingham.

Mr. Robert Cecil, Mr. Willlam Cecil and Mr. Frank Frierson, of Birmingham, are visiting friends and relatives in our community.

Mr. James J. Fleming has returned from Nashville.

Miss Mary Shapard is the guest of Miss Susie Lipscomb.

Miss Alice Dixon entertained the Embroidery Circle last Tuesday. A delightful evening was spent.

Mr. Joe Dixon is the guest of his parents; he arrived several days since.

SOUTHPORT.

SOUTHPORT, June 7.—The rain that fell Friday was much appreciated by the farmers in this section.

Mr. S. D. Hayes had the misfortune to lose one of his fine mares last week.

We are sorry to hear that Mr. Will Roach has lost the use of his right eye. LITTLE STRANGER.

Deposit Wheat.

From past experience we have failed to realize any benefits from the old custom of receiving grain on deposit at our mills to be paid for in the future at a given amount of its products per bushel.

Therefore we are compelled to abandon the old practice. We offer in the future to receive wheat and corn from our friends who wish to deposit with us. Their grain at the market price when received and pay for the same in flour, bran and meal at the wholesale price when taken out.

The above in no way will effect the general rules of exchange. Will be glad to serve you in this way, giving flour and meal in exchange for grain immediately on delivery.

Teachers' Association.

Quite a large number of teacher's met at the Public School building Saturday, June 5.

Mr. A. C. Allen called the meeting to order and Mr. Hogan led in prayer. The minutes of the May meeting were read and approved.

It was thought best, owing to other matters of business, to defer the class in Tennessee History until the next meeting. In the absence of Miss Cox, Miss Blanche Scott kindly gave some points on teaching penmanship. This was followed by a general discussion.

Mr. R. L. Harris requested that his subject be postponed until some future time.

Miss Long being absent, the subject of "Literature in Primary Grades," was discussed by Mrs. Mitchell, Miss Floyd and others. Quite an interesting series of talks were made on the proper time to begin the study of Latin.

A committee composed of Messrs. Shoup and Bostick and Miss Blackburn, was appointed to meet and provide accommodations for the popular lecturers who will be present during the Institute. The President also appointed Misses Roberts, Carpenter and Friel as a committee on securing local talent to furnish music and recitations during the Institute.

The summer Institute will be held in the Public School building during the week beginning June 14. As the Institute will continue but one week this year, it is requested that all teachers try to be present on Monday, and they are expected to be in attendance at all the lectures.

The programme of exercises is republished for the benefit of those who failed to get it last month.

The Blackburn Plan.

Senator Joe Blackburn, in his speech before the Kentucky State Convention said:

"I would leave the gates wide open for the return of every honest Democratic voter who has been led astray. But the leaders were not led astray. They betrayed their party, and let it be your duty to see that they stay out of the Democratic party. You can't get them back, and, what's more, they can't come back. Purge your party and make treason odious. The danger that lies before you is disintegration, because you have not yet drawn the lines tight enough. I counsel conservatism so far as the rank and file of our strayed brethren are concerned, but I counsel the guillotine and the gallows for the traitors who led them away."

No Man Is Wise Alone!

No Man Should Be So Confident in His Own Opinion As to Reject All Advice.

We intend these remarks to apply to the person who thinks he can't get a stylish, up-to-date Suit unless he goes to the merchant tailor. In connection with the above, we want to say right here that a goodly number of the clothes you see on the streets and admire so much are Suits bought from us. Therefore be advised, and instead of going to the merchant tailor and investing $30.00 for a Suit, come here and get equally as good for about half the price.

MADE-TO-ORDER
