LATEST WAR NEWS.

* NEW YORK, June 1.—An Evening Journal special from Cape Haytien says:

The torpedo-boat Porter arrived at Mole St. Nicholas, at 1 o'clock this morning with dispatches for Washington. She left immediately. Before going to sea, the following story of the bombardment of Santiago was obtained: The American squadron, augmented by the torpedo-boat Porter and an auxiliary cruiser and the protected cruiser New Orleans, approached the entrance to the harbor of Santiago at about 12:30 p. m., the Iowa leading. Inside the entrance to the harbor was seen one warship of Cervera's fleet, stripped for action. As the American fleet drew near, the New Orleans was detached and steamed ahead of the Iowa, Texas and Massachusetts. One of the forts opened fire on her, and she replied, the other ships directing their fire at the battery on Punta Gorda within the harbor and to the westward of the position occupied by the Spanish ship.
The latter replied to the fire and immediately became a target for all the American ships engaged in the battle.
She retired behind the protecting headlands and was not seen again during the engagement.

The Iowa, directed by Captain "Fighting Bob" Evans; the Massachusetts, Texas and New Orleans, kept up a terrific fire against the forts for two hours, their projectiles, of enormous size, doing tremendous damage to the defenses of the harbor.

The masonry of Socapa and Morro was battered almost into dust and the forms of Spanish artillery and infantry men could plainly be seen flying to safety behind neighboring hills.

The auxiliary cruiser which joined Schley's fleet just before the battle took place, was hit by shells from the forts and it is thought was seriously damaged. After seeking the protection of the jutting headland, the Spanish warships continued to fire projectiles over the hills towards the fleet, but they had no range, and the shells fell harmlessly into the sea. That the number of killed and wounded on the Spanish side is enormous, no one doubts, for time and again the American shells hit the batteries squarely, and amid the flying masonry and dismantled guns, the forms of men were seen. The damage done to the American fleet cannot be learned, but it is not thought that any person was killed, if indeed, any one was wounded.

The Situation in Montana.

DILLON, Montana, May 31, 1898.— Editor GLACIER: Thinking perhaps a line from me at this time would prove of some advantage to berry shippers and be received in the spirit intended, well knowing my motive is disinterested as far as office or personal emolument is concerned, and my only desire being the advancement of intelligent methods in marketing, I will endeavor to place the situation in Montana before you in the light I view it, and possibly offer some suggestions that will enable the grower to avoid mistakes and unbusiness-like methods now prevailing, which must of necessity inevitably place the grower in the dilemma in which he again finds himself. Now, concerted action by all the growers, one union and the eliminating of that unknown quantity, the independent shipper, which must be accomplished before even a start can be made in intelligent shipping, by which the prices realized will be commensurate with quality and value of the product.

I have had an extended talk with Gessling and Morse and they both agree that present methods of doing business could not be worse. "Desperate diseases require desperate remedies," and I trust anything I may say will be received in the spirit intended.
Friends Gessling and Morse might as well be bottled up in Santiago with the Spanish fleet for all the use they are to the berry growers. Try them ever so much to better the situation, tied hand and foot by a system which admits of no alternative except disaster, imagine the situation as I outline it and then sympathize with them.
Mr. Gessling comes into Montana without the fruit even being consigned to him, without power to quote prices or assist in any manner in its disposal, with the firm to whom the fruit is consigned only interested in competing with lowest prices being quoted each day, using our product as an inducement to place other fruits with the merchant which is not consigned, and they are compelled to buy outright, their salesmen instructed to push the goods they own, leaving consignments like ours to shift largely for themselves, and Mr. Gessling powerless to avert the disaster. I understood a car of berries was shipped to reach Butte Decoration day, to be thrown on a market forced down to 10c a box at retail.
J. A. Stromberg & Co., with a sprit born of intense rivalry, wishing to wire Walla Walla for 200 crates to break the market still lower, and only by Morse's efforts restrained from doing so, actuated by a desire to uphold prices.

Now Mr. Gessling has been thrown bodily out of Stromberg's office and Morse ordered away from Openheimer's, and how, in heaven's name, when that amount of rivalry exists, can we expect our consigned fruit to stand any show? The consumer all the time standing ready to pay a fair price, as evidenced by prices varying 10c a box in different stores, and all selling well.
Get together. Ship as one union.
Get the independent shippers in line.
One would think the object lesson he has received would make that easy.
Consign the fruit to Gessling. Have Morse look up outside markets, and then sell outright to commission houses with a guarantee that prices made to each one is identical. Give bad fruit to peddlers, and if too bad send to the dump, and the Hood River fruit grower will realize fair prices.
The commission houses say they would rather buy outright if prices were equal, and it stands to reason. Another year the business would be systemized and present loss and uncertainty averted.
F. CHANDLER.

Mr. M. J. Anderson, candidate for county clerk on the union ticket, was in town Wednesday morning renewing old acquaintances and making new ones. Mr. Anderson was here ten years ago and gave Hood River a write up for the Mountaineer. He found many changes and expressed himself as satisfied with the prophecies he made then that Hood River would prove to be the best part of Oregon for fruit. Mr. Anderson is a very courteous gentleman and will make an efficient public servant if elected to the office of county clerk.

The management of the Willamette Valley Chautauqua association, located at Oregon City, have this year been very successful in securing for the coming assembly, to be held at the park of the association, on the north bank of the Clackamas river, talent of the first class for all the departments. Among the lecturers is John Temple Graves of Atlanta, whom President McKinley says is one of the most brilliant and beautiful speakers he ever listened to.
Other noted lecturers are on the programme. The meetings will be held this year from June 13th to 24th.

Mr. I. D. Driver, candidate for sheriff on the union ticket, is a hard-working farmer of Wamie, where he has resided for more than twenty years.
By good citizenship and honorable dealings with his neighbors he has won their respect and confidence so generally that he will find no opposition at the polls in his own precinct. A man who can get the support of his neighbors without regard to party for an important office like that of sheriff is a good man to vote for, and you can make no mistake if you put an X before the name of I. D. Driver when you prepare your ballot.

Hood River is always ready to vote for a change in the office of county assessor. Mr. J. H. Aldrich, a worthy veteran of the civil war and a man in every way competent to make an honest assessment of the property of Wasco county, is a candidate and we hope to see him elected.

The people of Hood River know Judge Bradshaw to be a man eminently fitted for the office of circuit judge and will give him their votes without asking his politics. The circuit judgeship is not a political office, and Judge Bradshaw is not a partizan. He is never heard discussing politics.

Hood River always takes pride in giving Hood River candidates a good vote. We may differ in politics and in some other things, but we are all for Hood River. We like to vote for men we know. We can all vote for J. W.
Morton and C. L. Morse. C. L. Gilbert is the right man for county school superintendent and will get a bigger vote than he received two years ago, which was something to be proud of.
J. H. Ackerman is well known here, and no one acquainted with him believes he is influenced by the American Book Co. H. L. Howe is a candidate for surveyor and we will not forget that he is a worthy citizen that deserves our votes.

Written for the GLACIER.

Cuba Shall be Free.
We are going to whip the Spanish And set poor Cuba free; We'll drive them, bag and baggage, Right back across the sea.
And we'll give them such a basting For blowing up the Matine, That, however much they'd wish to,
They'd ne'er do so again.
And just while we're about it, And the nations looking on,
Do you, Billy Holenzollern, Just keep your breeches on;
Because, for meddling, Billy,
With matters not your own,
We might, oh Billy, Billy!
Upset your mighty throne;
And then a great republic Of Germans strong—but thou—Yes, in that grand conception, O Billy! where art thou?
Then here's to you, Old Gomez,
A hero true and game;
With wooden guns and corn knives You've fought your way to fame.
Without a commissary,
Or base to draw supplies, You've held your own 'gainst odds so great,
The world looks on surprised.
When fame shall write of heroes, Along her herald roll
The name Maximino Gomez Shall blaze across her scroll.
Then, ho for Cuba libre, For Cuba shall be free;
And may her heroes ever Prove worth their liberty.

—SHARDRE.

with rawhide. They were made from a tough tree that grows in Cuba and would stand

ANNUAL Clearance Sale.

In order to make room for new goods, and for the purpose of selling off goods that have remained on our shelves longer than we think they should, we will for the next 30 days, beginning with Saturday, May 28, 1898, sell our entire stock of notions, clothing, hats, shoes and dry goods (except staples), at cost, and in many instances at much less than cost.

We are selling shoes that cost $2 for 50c to $1 per pair; children's shoes that formerly sold for $1.75 and $2 as low as 35c.

Suits that formerly sold for $10 to $15, as low as $4; other goods equally as low.

This is no advertising dodge, but an actual bargain sale, and if you call and see us you will soon be convinced of the fact.

We expect to stay here and to advertise again, and therefore we cannot afford to practice humbuggery.
