If you your ears Would save from jeers, These things keep meekly hid: Myself and I, And mind and my, And how I do or did.

-Christian Advocate.

MISS LIRRIPIP'S LOVERS.

Lydia Lirripip had a pretty face and thousand a year and a pretty face into admired by a number of more or less eligible young men with a taste for beauty of the most substantial kind. Even middle-aged bachelors awake from their habitual indifference when, on being introduced to a lovely damsel of two-andtwenty, they are conscious that the possessor of a considerable fortune stands before them; for although money is no doubt the root of all evil, it is a root which most people very willingly undertake the risk of cultivating.

Since Lydia Lirripip was thus beautiful and thus rich, it is not surprising that she had not only admirers-men who dared to wish uncertain things; but lovers, too-men who had the presumption to hope. It is true that Lydia en-couraged none of them; for she was quite satisfied to live at home with her father, General Lirripip, in Bruton street, Grosvenor square, and to ride in Rotten Row in the morning, and to drive in the park in the afternoon. But, fortunately, young men do not require encouragement; nay, in certain affairs, the less encouragement they receive, the greater their persistency becomes; and consider-ing that healthily-constituted young women seldom, if ever, give any encourdifficulties is a matter on which all of us may heartily congratulate ourselves. Indeed, but for the persistency, who knows whether the world would go round?

It was the height of the London season, and Lydia Lirripip went with her father one evening to a great ball at the Countess of Carnaby's. Everybody was there—that is, of rank and fashion; and ereshe had been in the brightly lighted rooms for five minutes Lydia was engaged for all the dances on the programme. Now, to most of her partners she was only engaged for a single waltz or polka; but, for old acquaintance's sake, or for some other reason, she allowed three gentlemen to take two dances each. was no doubt very indiscreet of her to do But in one case at least it was also very good-natured of her, for she permitted old Sir Pertinax Popinjay, as every one knew, was far too stiff and gouty to move about properly, to put down his name for the only two sets of lanciers. Sir Pertinax was effusively grateful, and smiled his sweetest upon her as he returned her programme; and Lydia, instead of regretting her kindness, felt thoroughly rewarded by seeing that she was giving pleasure to the grayhaired baroact, who thirty years before had been a noted dandy, but who now struck her as being simply a prosy old v few girls would be likely to dance with. Lydia's other fa-vored partners were Mr. Horace Freake, a young artist who had that year, for the first time, exhibited at the Royal Academy, and Mr. Merton Murley, a man who had no profession and no occupation and who, if he had a private income, derived it from a source not generally known even to his friends.

In this world many strange coincidences happen. Two chemists have been known to make exactly the same discovery on the same day; and two astronomers have claimed to eatch sight of a new comet at almost the same moment. It is not, therefore, incredible that, while dancing these six dances with her three favored partners, Lydia casually mentioned to each of them that upon the following evening her father was going to take the chair at the annual meeting of the Society for the Encouragement of Cold Water Bathing on the Continent; that she was not going, but would be alone at home; that she wished that girls were able, like men, to amuse themselves, and that she envied her partners their clubs, their theatres, and their social smoking concerts. Nor is it incredible that, having heard this, Sir Pertinax Popinjay, Mr. Horace Freake and Mr. Merton Murley all made up their minds to call upon Miss Lirripip upon the following evening, and to make her certain avowals, which, although they had long meditated them, they now felt impelled to make as soon as possible and without any unnecessary delay. What these avowals were may be guessed; but why the three gentlemen all determined at the same time to make them is a question which cannot be explained, although the fact that Lydia that evening looked even prettier than usual may possibly have been one of the causes of the extraordinary coincidence, Lydia little dreamed, when in the naries, revealed the object of his visit.

small hours of the morning she dropped Sir Pertinax had made no sign; Mr. Murley had not been more attentive taken advantage of his absence to come and Mr. Freake had been actually more dull and uninteresting than Miss Lirripip had ever seen him. fears of the coming evening and its visitors.

The following day was wet. The would be so much better general, who had lived for many years in call when my father is in. India, and had a liver which caused him to be somewhat irascible, shut himself up in his library and savagely studied the statistics of cold-water bathing, and Lydia, who could not go out, painted in her boudoir.

The Lirripips dined at half-past 5, to enable the general to get to the meeting at half-past 7, and as he had taken no exercise during the day, and had were greatly relieved; but Mr Murley been quite unable to master all the was furious.

information he required relative to the average of cleanliness upon the continent, hastily.

Lydia's father was not in the best of "Yes! no! no!" returned Miss Lirri-

Sit up for me," he said; "I shall be in by half-past 11."

These were his last words as, the cariage having been announced, he hurried away from the table, stopping for an instant at Lydia's side to kiss her hastily on the top of the head. And Miss Lirri-pip was left alone in solitary grandeur, sitting at one end of the dining-room. She did not stay there long, but went to the drawing-room, whither she bade a servant bring two candles, which but dimly lighted the large apartment. Then, taking her seat at the piano, Lydia began to play and to sing alternately.

The drawing-room at Bruton street was like many other London drawing-rooms. It occupied the whole of the five thousand pounds a year, not to speak first floor of the house, save where in one of expectations. Pretty faces are common enough, even in these days of therefore L-shaped, the longer arm of the agricultural depression and stagnant L having three windows looking out into trade; but a girl with five thousand a the street, and the shorter arm one win-year is a rarity; and a girl with five dow looking out over some mews in the thousand a year and a pretty face into the bargain is a positive phenomenon, and, as such, cannot fail to be greatly the room, but were usually looped up, and in the back room was the piano, at which, within the halo of the two candles, Lydia Lirripip played and

> She had considerable knowledge of music and a fine voice, and, wrapped up lips, in her occupation, she started when the door of the front room opened, and a servant, who was to her invisible, announced Mr. Horace Frenke.

Lydia rose and received her visitor, meantime ordering the gas to be lighted. It was half-past 8. Why had he called at that hour? Why had he not come in the daytime, while she was so dall. rather than just when she was singing? But, upon the whole, she was glad to see Horace, who, no doubt, simply desired to inquire how she was after the dance of the previous evening, and had not been able to do so earlier. As he betrayed, nevertheless, a certain hesitation in his manner, she led the conversation, and asked him whether he had enjoyed Lady Carnaby's ball. He had, he said, pretty well; and then there ensued a pause, during which Horace rather awkwardly took a seat at Lydia's side on an ottoman and gazed at the carpet. Mr. that this has happened. We can never agement to young men, the persistency even wits often become rather dull when of these latter in the face of alarming they are meditating an immediate pro-Freake was not altogether stupid, but even wits often become rather dull when posal; and the situation is so trying to dmost every man who finds himself in it. that it amply excuses the exhibition of a little uneasiness and nervousness, Mr. Freake certainly was nervous, but he soon recovered himself.

"Your father is at the meeting, I suppose. Don't you feel it very dult all by yourself here, Miss Lirripip?"
"Oh, no! I have been singing; and all day I have been painting." "But dull, I mean, without society? I know that I do; and I have much more ociety, I suspect, than you have. Unless I go out, the evenings, I find, pass very slowly. I cannot get the excitement of work, for, of course, one can't paint by artificial light; and if I try to read, I generally go to s'eep over my book. "I think that you must be difficult to please, Mr. Frenke. You have a lovely studio, and you ought always to be able to amuse yourself among such beautiful things as you have in your house,"

"No! I don't think that I am difficult to please, Miss Lirripip; for I know exactly what I want. The fact is that a bachelor's existence is not suited for a me, as indeed you are already, and I man of my feelings and sympathics. I would spend all my days in making you have wanted as in a solution of the control of live wrapped up in my selfishness, and feel my heart growing colder and colder every day. I have beautiful things in my house, but they don't satisfy me. I want living beauty—something which I has Lirripin discovered not only that may really care for and do for-some she could, but that she actually did love thing which shall make my life complete. Horace Freake a little; and on the And it was to talk to you about this, Miss Lirripip, that I came to see you this him

Lydia experienced a curious sensation which she had never felt before,

"You know, I suppose, Miss Lirripip," he continued, "what I mean. You know that since I first saw you, three or four years ago, I have loved you." And Hor-ace took Lydla's unwilling hand. "Can you," he went on, "learn to love me? Will you be my..."

Ratatattattattat! There was a knock at the front door, and Lydia was greatly relieved.

'Is somebody coming up?" asked Horace, anxiously, "Oh, I do so much want to tell you all. Say you are not in. Send them away. But let me stay.

Promise to let me stay."

A voice, evidently Mr. Merton Murley's, was now audible from below, the drawingroom windows being open and the voice being loud.

"It is Mr. Murley," said Lydia. "I expect that he only wants me to give me some message for him to my father. He will not detain me. But if I let you stay, you must not talk any more as you have been talking, Mr. Freake,' At this moment there were footsteps on the staircase; and Horace, without another word, fled incontinently into the back drawing-room, and rapidly drew the cur-tains behind him, so as to conceal himself from the newcomer, who immediately afterward was announced.

Mr. Murley was not so nervous as Mr. Freake had been upon his first appearance. He shook hands with Lydia in an easy and light-hearted manner, paid her airy compliment, scated himself comfortably opposite her, and, without many prelimi

"I know that your father is out, Miss to you. off to sleep, of what was hanging over Lirripip," he said; "and I may as well confess at once that I have deliberately the little-used door of the back room, than had for some time been his wont; and see you upon a subject which nearly concerns my happiness. I should have spoken about it last night, but that I could She there- not command your attention save for a fore slept soundly, and was undisturbed few minutes at a time. Now, however, we are safe from interruption.

"But, Mr. Murley," said Lydia, "it would be so much better if you would

Miss Lirripip. It is a subject that may be settled by you alone."

"Please, Mr. Murley, do not tell me about it now," pleaded Lydia, "The Ratatattasttuttat! This time Horace, as well as Lydia, "Let me see you to-morrow," he said pip, thankful for any opportunity of getting rid of him. "Good-bye, Mr. Murley, good-bye!" And the same ser-vant who showed up Sir Pertinax Popin-jay showed down Mr. Merton Murley, who glared at the baronet with a look which spoke volumes.

"My dear Lydia," said Sir Pertinax, as he offered both his hands to Miss Lirripip, "you were really charming last night. I never saw such a perfect sylph in my life, and many people agreed with me. You were the belle of the room. There is no doubt about it.'

"I'm sure it is very good of you. Sir Pertinax, to say so," returned Lydia. "But I thought that the countess herself—"

"Oh, the countess? She and you cannot be mentioned together, my dear. Every one said so. And beside, the countess of course is married. She has met her fate. Ha, ha! But you—you are still—my dear Miss Lydia. I may be a fool; but, upon my honor, I have come here this evening with the determined intention of asking you whether you will have me. You know I worship the very ground you stand on." And to Lydia's great consternation the old gentleman, she could prevent him, gallantly knelt at her feet and took her hand with the evident intention of pressing it to his

"Do get up, please, Sir Pertinax," said Miss Lirripip, forgetting for a moment that Horace Freake was within hearing, but anxious that the baronet should not make himself unnecessarily ridiculous even to her. "You can talk just as well if you sit down; but really you musn't talk in that way. I don't want to be married; indeed, I don't. You know I like you very much; but I could not possibly marry you."

Sir Pertinax rose with dignity, and looked rather disappointed,
"I had hoped, Lydia, that you liked me well enough for a husband. What you say, however, may not be final, because nothing can alter my regard for you; and perhaps in the future you may think better of me.

"I could not think better of you than I do," returned Miss Lirripip, feelingly; "and you don't know how sorry I am again be the same to each other. I am Sir Pertinax began to feel sorry too. for, up to that evening, he and Lydia had always been like uncle and niece; and, in an uneasy way, he turned the conversation into another channel. But he could not for long carry it on; and in less than a quarter of an hour he said good-bye, like the sensible man he was, in spite of his weakness, and departed.

No sooner had be quitted the room than Horace emerged from his hiding-place. Lydia blushed to remember all that he had overheard; but he did not allude to it,

"Lydia," he continued, almost as if nothing had happened to disturb him, "I love you truly, and with all my heart. Will you, can you, learn to love me, for your love alone will make me completely

"Do not ask me," replied Lydia, who was once more seated. "You know

she could, but that she actually did love strength of that she promised to marry

Horace was in the act of presuming upon this promise by kissing Lydia for the first time, and was enjoying one of the happiest moments of his life, when another one of those furious ratatialats shook the house. Another?" said Mr. Frenke, with a smile. "I shall go back to my retreat until we know who has arrived; for now I must be on the spot to look after you." And in spite of Lydia's protestations he once more retired to the back drawing-

Two minutes afterward the general, very hot and very angry, stamped upstairs and burst into the presence of his daughter. "Everything has gone wrong!" he exclaimed, "They voted me out of the chair; they flew in my face; they decided that the wretched foreigners don't want cold baths." And he And he pounded with his stick which he had brought up with him, and looked at Lydia as though she were the cause of his discomfiture.

"Well, papa," said Miss Lirripip, othingly, "all the better. Now soothingly, you won't have to go to any more of their horrid meetings,"

At this juncture Horace, who was troubled with a slight cold, gave forth a stifled and infinitesimally small sneeze.

"Lydia," cried the general, as he threw himself wearily into an armchair, I'm sure there's a cat in the back drawing-room. Go and turn it out,"

And Miss Lirripip, having no alternative, went cautiously behind the heavy curtains, and was there received in her lover's arms.

"You cannot speak to him to-night," she whispered. "He would not listen You see how cross he is. Come again to morrow." Horace, therefore, silently took another kiss; and Lydia, having unlocked chased him with many expressions of animosity down the softly-carpeted staircase, and with a cry of "Shoo, cat!" finally let him out of the front door. When she returned to the drawingroom General Lirripip gave vent to some angry expressions of hostility toward the entire feline tribe, and when he had thus "Oh, that is not important, my dear delivered himself went off to bed. How the story ended may easily be guessed. When Lydia's father was in a cooler mood Horace found no difficulty in obtaining his consent to the marriage windows are open, you know; and there are servants about the house; and—" which took place three months afterward; and to the end of their days neither Sir and to the end of their days neither Sir Pertinax Popinjay nor Mr. Merton Mur-ley had any idea that a third person was present when they proposed to Miss Lir-riply in Bruton street, Grosvenor square,

This powder never varies. A market of purity, strength and whole-omeness. More economical than the ordinary kinds, and easnot be sold in competition with the multitude of low test, short weight, alum or phosph te powders. Sold only in cans. ROYAL BAKING POWDER CO., 106 Wall SENSIBLE MEN and women know ere this that of the many diseases and derangements of the body each has a separate cause or origin, and that each needs a different method of treatment in order to effect a cure, and a moment's reflection must convince that any of the quack nestrums folsted upon the public claiming to cure all of a number of diametrically different diseases must prove failures, even if we do not call them humbags.

different discusses must prove failures, even if we do not call them humbags.

POOR PEOPLE and people of moderate means, and even people well-to-do or wealthy find that the enormous charges of practicing physicians are a serious burden to them, and also find that after paying themselves poor that no benefit has accrued to them, that in fact they have thrown their money away. To overcome these evils we offer Wheeler's No. 95 Sure Remedies to the sick and suffering one Remedy for each disease, without for a moment claiming that one remedy will cure any other disease than the one claimed for it, and as these remedies have stood the test of years without a single failure, we agree to refund the money paid in every instance where a cure is not positively effected. The remedies are entirely vegetable, can do no harm, and will positively cure every disease for which they are prescribed.

RHEUMATISM Gont, Laneness of Joints, Sciatica are relieved at once and positively cured by the use of Wheeler's No. 96 Rheumatic Remedy. We say boilly that in the worst of cases, no matter how long standing, how serious or how painful, we can not only give relief, but positively cure for all time, Failing to do this we will positively refand the money paid for the treatment, and if your saferings are not positively stopped for all time you have not thrown your money away as you would on any other than these guaranteed remedies. The price of Wheeler's No. 96 Rheumatic Remedy is only 90 cents, obtainable from dragists, or sent free by mail on receipt of price. Stamps taken.

Many a lady endowed by nature with a pretty face, beautiful figure, faultiess complexion, as well as the sweetest of lempers and faultiess mental qualities grows prematurely old, gray and wrinkled, her form loses its perfect contour, the complexion becomes sallow, the brightness leaves the cyc, a feeling of languar takes the place of the once buoyant spirits, an irritable nervous fractionsness makes life a beriden, things that once were triles worry her till life becomes unbearable. All this being caused by the physical derangements so common to women, which the innate modesty of feminine nature prevents their making known, and of which the ignorance of the medical profession prevents a cure. Lady reader, pause and consider, 'tis adaty you owe yourself, your family and your God, that you should cure yourself of these troubles and once more feel the glow of perfect health and spirits that nature intended for you. Wheeler's No '95 Prescriptions are plearant and palatable to take, contain nothing of an injurious nature, and may be taken by all gress at all times and in all conditions without possibility of lil effects, and will positively cure any of the peculiar diseases to which femiles are anbject. Falling to produce a perfect cure the proprietors will refund the money paid for the treatment. If you have a sallow complexion, constant or intermittent headache, backache, restlessness, loss of appetite, suppressions of monthly flow, or irregularities thereof, accompanied by headaches, nervoueness, hysterics and similar symptoms, Wheeler's No, '96 Prescription "B" will positively restore you to health. If you have a sensation of heat and throbbung in the hack, frequent fainting spells, Leucorrhea or white discharge, painful or scading sensation in arinating, reddish or white deposit in arine, hot and dry skin, Wheeler's No, '96 Prescription "C" will give immediate and lasting relief. The price of Wheeler's No, '96 Prescription of this nanseous disease total is sap-mail secure from observation, postpaid on receipt of price. Postage stamps taken.

CATARRH, It is needless to describe the symptoms of this nansoons disease that is sapping the life of many of the fairest and best of both sexes, old and young, suffering alike from the poisonous dripping in the throat, the poisonous masal discharges, the fetid breath and general weakness, debilty and languor, aside from the acute sufferings of this disease, which if not checked can only end in loss of palate, hoarseness, weakened eight, loss of memory, deafness and premature death if not checked before it is too late. Labor, study and research in America, Europe and Eastern lands have resulted in Wheeler's No. 96 Instant Heilef and Sure Cure for Catarrh, a remedy which contains no harmful ingredients, and that is guaranteed to cure every case of acute or chronic catarrh or money refunded. Wheeler's No. 96 Instant Relief and Sure Cure for Catarrh will cure every case of catarrh, hay fever or asthma, price $1.00 per package, from druggists or sent by mail postpaid on receipt of price.

Wheeler's No. 96 Sure Cure for Kidney and Liver
Tronbles, cures all weakness and soreness of kidneys, inflammation of kidneys or liver, price $1.00.

Wheeler's Vegetable Fills are the only remedy that cure constituation, giving natural metion of the Wheeler's Vegetable Pills are the only remedy that core constitution, giving natural motion of the bowels without physicing, griping or pain. Price 25 cents, of druggists and by mall.

Wheeler's Nervine Tonic for mental depression oss of manhood, languor, weakness or overtaxation of the brain is invaluable, price 25 cents.

ELY'S CREAM BALM CO., Owego, N. Y.

Sold by Leading Dealers everywhere.

WILLIMANTIC SPOOL COTTON IS ENTIRELY THE PRODUCT OF HOME INDUSTRY, AND IS PRONOUNCED BY EXPERTS TO BE THE BEST SEWING MACHINE THREAD IN THE WORLD.

AN EXTRAORDINARY OFFER TO GOOD AGENTS

We want live, energetic and capable agents in every county in the United States at Canada, to sell a patent article of great merit, on its merits. An article having a lassale, paying over 100 per cent, profit, having no competition, and on which the agent is precised in the exclusive sale by a deed given for each and every county he may se var frous. With all these advantages to our agents, and the fact that it is an article that can be sold to every house owner, it might not be necessary to make an "Extraordinary Offer" secure good agents at once, but we have concluded to make it show, not only our confident in the merits of our invention, but in its salability by any agent that will handle it with energy. Our agents now at work are making from $150 to $600 a month clear, and the fact makes it safe for us to make our offer to all who are out of employment. Any agest that will give our business a thirty days' trial and fail to clear at least $100 in this time above all expenses, can return all goods unsold to us and we will refund the money parfor them. Any agent or general agent who would like ten or more counties and work the through sub-agents for ninety days, and fail to clear at least $750 above all expenses, can a turn all unsold and get their money back. No other employer of agents every dared make such offers, nor would we if we did not know that we have agents now making two than double the amounts we guaranteed, and that but two sales a day would give a profit over $125 a month, and that one of our agents took eighteen orders in one day. Our large descriptive circulars explain our offer fully and these we wish to send to every one out of employment who will send us three one-cent stamps for postage. Send at once and se us the agency in time for the boom, and go to work on the terms maned in our extraordinar offer. We would like to have the address of all the agents, sewing machine solicitars an carpenters in the country, and ask any reader of this paper who reads this offer, to send to at once the nam

RENNER MANUFACTURING CO.. 116 SMITHFIELD ST., PITTSBURG, PA.

BUSINESS CARDS. W. H. KINGSLEY,

DENTIST. Urstnirs in Allen Block.

Office hours from 9 a. m. till 5 p. m.

Middlebury, Vt.

NATHAN CUSHING,

PANISH MERINO SHEEP Woodstock, Vermont.

ATTORNEY AND COUNSELOR AT LAW

DREEDER OF

HENRY S. FOOTE,

Special attention given to the examination of titles and conveyancing, the purchase, the sale and exchange of real estate and the collection of rents.

Office in Battolph Block,

MIDDLEBURY, VT.

L. E. MELLEN, D. D. S.,

DENTIST. Office hours, 8 to 12 a. m., 1 to 5 r. m. Office over Frank A. Farnsworth's store. MIDDLEBURY, Vermont.

Laughing gas administered. GAUVIN'S PHOTOGRAPH GALLERY,

ALLEN'S BLOCK, MEDDLEBURY, Vr. Photographs in all the styles, at most reason able prices. Appointments solicited. Promp and careful attention will be given. Al work guaranteed, J. E. GAUVIN, Photographer THE CENTRAL PHOTOGRAPH GALLERY, over Alden's variety store. Mid-dichner, Vt. Fine photographic portraits a specialty. Old pictures carefully corried and enlarged to any desired size and finished in colors or India ink. Thankour my friend-for their libered patronage during the past year I shall endeavor to mevit a continuance same by furnishing them with good work at fair prices.

A. V. BROWN, Photographs

DISEASE CUREL

WITHOUT MEDICINE. A Valu ble Discovery for supplying Mag-netism to the Human System. Flees tricity and) against and it of as have better of Hea-ing the back.

THE MAUNETON APPLIANCE CA'S Magnetic Kidney Belt

FOR MIN IS WARRANTED TO CURE for many Whiteh RILD 10 UURB femald, the following discusses without medicine? Pain in le set, hips, lead or his b, bervous deliait, tembago general dibuit, ricemant sur, paraysis, neuralga, seaten, dien et sin, paraysis, neuralga, seaten, dien et filhe kidner, o him dis not producer, surva, heat diene disposale as en tipaten eyster as indigenteer are no ricema or randure cutter in tolles, ellepsy, dimbague, etc. when any dibuitry of the generalize or ginsoccurs, los sundy laked or resve firee and vicor, wasting wealines, and all those diene of a tar on a lattre, from whatever cause, the coal manus streams of magnetism jet earing her go the parts, must restore le a to a he go the parts, most restore | e o to a halt you there. There is no mistage about to sappringe.

We guarantee cross or certaxation of the brain is invaluable, price is cents.

We guarantee cross the state in the brain is invaluable, price is cents.

We guarantee cross the state in the brain is invaluable, price is cents.

Care in every case companies of the server case commendes at less than one-twentieth of the price seked by others for remedies upon which you take all the chances, and we specially invite the patronage of the many persons who have tried other remedies without effect or depleted their purse.

HOW TO OBTAIN these remedies upon which you take all the chances, and we specially invite the patronage of the many persons who have tried other remedies without effect or depleted their purse. By spring doctor bills that benefited them not.

HOW TO OBTAIN these remedies upon which you take all the chances, and we specially invite at once to the proprietors, inclosing the price in money or stamps, and they will be sent your drag glst and ask for them. If they have not got them, write at once to the proprietors, inclosing the price in money or stamps, and they will be sent your drag glst and ask for them. If they have not got them, write at once to the proprietors, inclosing the price in money or stamps, and they will be sent your drag at a new your drag at TO THE LADIES If you are affliced with

Middlebury, Vt., April 2, 1877

TO PRESERVE THE HEALTH Use the Magneton Appliance Co.'s

MAGNETIC LUNG PROTECTO

PRICE ONLY 85.

PRICE ONLY S5.

They are pricele as to Lucio, Gentieme and Children with veck lungs; no case in commonia or croop is ever known when the egarments reword. They also prever and care beart difficulties, colds, rheumatism as a high, almost troubles, diphileria, cat in h, and all kindred disence. Will we am receive for three years. Are won over the understood hour.

LAMADDH it is needless to describe the Children signature of this mass out disease that is supplied the life and streat the only too many of the fairest and lest of by the estimated for a this supplied the life and streat the only too many of the fairest and lest of by the estimated for caturity, a sendy said research in a me in Europe and Fastern lands, have resulted in the Magnetic Lang Protector, afforcings of for caturity, a sendy which contains a drugging of the system, and with the contained a stream of magnetic samples and the afflicted organs, must restout them to a healthy action. We did comparing the fair this Apparance at less him one twentier of the frie asked by others for remediation which your ske all the chances, and we specified in which the afflicted organs are for the apparance at less him one twentier of the frie asked by others for remediation which you take all the chances, and we specified in which the patronage of the man persons who have tried drugging the stomacles will out effect.

HOW TO DEMAIN This Appliance. Go to the process of the pr

E. W. JUDD.

Manufacturer and dealer in all kinds of AMERICAN AND FOREIGN MARBLI GRANITE WORK, ETC.

With Old Middlebury Marble Co.

S. CHANDLER, Pension Attorney, RIPTON, VT.

Prosecutes all pension claims on mod erate terms.

ADVICE GRATIS.

State case carefully and inclose stamp t At H. D. Maynard's office. East Middle bury, every Wednesday and Saturday from 9to 55.0.

THE NEW SALINE STANDARD WINDMIL Manufactured by J. G. GROSS & BRO Saline, Mich.,

Is the King of Mills

No power is cheaper than wind fo raising water from the deep to any height. Why this Stand-ard is the best and why buy it:

First—It is the simplest, strongest and east complicated wind engine made. Second—The ice and sleet cannot preven

Second—The ice and sleet cannot preven its ronning.

Third—It has more power, owing to it construction and mechanism.

Fourth—It is self-regulating, therefore always on a balance, so a child can handle if Fifth—This mill has all of the combinations which makes it second to none, possessing great capacity and durability. Ever nill is warranted to do all we claim for it Parties desiring windnills will do well teal and get our prices before looking else where. Send for our illustrated pamphlet and prices, or call at Earl & Barnam's, where we will be found on Blonday of each week Orders left at Earl & Barnam's store will receive prompt attention. Agents wanted in receive prompt attention. Agents wanted i

J. A. WATTS & SON,

(Gen'l Agents for Vermont),

Middlebury, V