WONDERFUL LETTERS To HALEY THE TAILOR.

How His Work is Appreciated by a Leading Washington Co. Clergyman.

WILLIAMSTOWN, VT., June 6, '98.
MR. D. D. HALEY, Montpelier, Vt.

I have enclosed a letter which you are at liberty to publish over my signature.

Your work pleases me so well that I intend to have all my clothing made at your establishment.

Respectfully,
REV. P. P. WOMER.

The letter referred to is as follows:
WILLIAMSTOWN, VT., June 6, '97.
To whom it may concern:

Within the past few years I have occasion to patronize some of the first-class tailoring establishments of Boston, Mass., Springfield, Mass., Hartford, Conn., New Haven, Conn., Pittsburg, Pa., Columbus, O., St. Paul, Minn., and elsewhere, but I have never had more satisfactory work done for me than has been done by Mr. D. D. Haley, of Montpelier, Vt.

My friends say that the suit he recently made for me is the most becoming they have ever seen me wear. And the astounding feature of the case is that his rates are but a little more than half what is usually charged.

I feel confident in saying that anyone who patronizes the establishment of Mr. Haley will be sure to go a second time.

Respectfully,
REV. P. P. WOMER,
Pastor Cong. Church.

THE WORD OF GRATITUDE.

BARRE, VT., July 11, 1898.

For the past four years I have been an invalid, suffering from erysipelas and blood poisoning; also from paralysis. I have paid out hundreds of dollars for medicine and doctors and have derived but little benefit. I came to Barre some over a month ago, when my condition was a most deplorable one; my eyesight had nearly failed me and my general health was so much impaired that I was confined to my room most of the time; my suffering was intense. My husband heard of Prof. Wilkins and his wonderful cures and persuaded me to go and see him, which I did and commenced treatment with him at once. It has now been three weeks since I took my first treatment and I am feeling like a new woman; my general health is much improved; my eye sight has improved so that I can read the newspapers with pleasure. I can't find words to express my happiness, but can say that it is simply marvelous what has been done for me in so short a time. It gives me much pleasure to recommend Prof. Wilkins and his method of treatment to suffering humanity.

After the vigorous complaints at Thursday evening's council meeting, regarding the condition of Chamberlain estate, papers were signed by four residents on Church street claiming it was a nuisance.

COMPANY E NEWS

From Chickamauga

St. John Court, No. 522, C. O. F., a short time ago sent to Bert Cayhne and Joseph Kennedy, two members of the order at Chickamauga, a check for $10. In reply W. C. Quinlen received the following from Capt. Badger:

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn.,
July 12th, 1898.

Friend Billy,—Your letter with enclosed check for ten dollars has been received and the same delivered, a pleasant task, too, as the boys appreciate such things and so express themselves in their acknowledgment to you.

I expect everything is humming in Barre as it ought. There are worse places than Barre to live. I would not swap it for the whole South. We are anxiously waiting to be moved to Cuba or elsewhere.

Well, Billy, if you do not hear from Kennedy or Cayhne you may know that they received their cash O. K.

I remain yours, etc.

EDGAR J. BADGER,
Capt. 1st Inf. Vt. Vols.

A CIRCUS FREE.

STOLE OSCOOD'S WIFE.

Those who rode to Montpelier last evening on the electric car which left Barre about 7:30 were the witnesses of an amusing but bloody scrap between a man who objected to having another man steal his dearly beloved wife, and a man who it seems was the offender.

George Osgood boarded the electric at Barre and when near the dug out by Jones Bros. sheds, the car was halted by a man and woman who wanted presumably to ride the remaining distance to Montpelier as the walking proved to be too tiresome.

The car had scarcely come to a standstill when like a catapult a man was seen to spring from out the car and with the exclamation of "no you don't!" sent out his strong right arm and landed his huge fist squarely on the jaw of the man who halted the car. The man fell against the woman and they both went down.

When the man got up he was treated in the same manner again until his face was a sight to behold.

The people on the car were greatly excited over the affair and most of them got out to see the fun, so Charles Hawes, the conductor, signalled to go on; but several of the men remained behind.

It was learned by them upon inquiry that George Osgood was the star slugger of the occasion and that the cause of his rage was that his wife was in the company of a certain painter of Barre whom the good wife called by the endearing name of "Dell."

The painter's name as given to a TELEGRAM reporter today was Dell Spencer.

WATER IS LOW.

CITY MAY USE THE EAST BARRE SUPPLY.

The water supply in Bolster's reservoir is getting very low, and the prospect now is that the city will turn on the East Barre supply.

A number of residents who are opposed to this being done, have consulted Health Officer Chandler on the subject. This water was condemned by the state board of health two years ago and last winter it was considered unfit for drinking water by the same board during the epidemic of typhoid fever. Dr. Chandler has consented to drive to the East Barre supply some time next week and look over the surrounding land.

When Water Superintendent C. S. Currier was asked about the matter this afternoon he stated that the water was getting very low and that in all probability the East Barre supply would be turned on before long. Mr. Currier was at Bolster's reservoir this morning and said there was only seven feet of water. This will not last very long. There is no water in the trough near the city park today, on account of the low supply.

Superintendent Currier has recently sent out cards notifying people not to use their hose for watering lawns.

NOTICE.

It has become necessary to turn on the East Barre water for a few days until the water from the Martin Brook can be turned on. All users take notice accordingly.

OPPOSITE DEPOT SQUARE.

On the Corner.

Just before going to press today the following was received by Inspector Jr. from a small boy who refused to tell where he secured it, but dashed away from my desk before I could make him give the information. Here is what he brought:

THE INSPECTOR CAUGHT.

"Last night I went out as usual to locate the gang of loafers and kickers who have been driven from one loafing place to another until they are now compelled to meet in some alley or by-way. I found the club seated on a bench at the depot in North Barre. I thought I was in a safe place where they would not discover me. The boss opened the meeting, and proceeded to denounce the city council for passing resolutions preventing the Salvation Army from beating their drum on Sunday. He had only spoken a few sentences, when an engine pulled into the station, its headlight reflected so as to reveal my presence to the club. No sooner was this made plain to the members present, than with a yell they made for me. I was no match for the crowd of prize fighters, and could only protest that they had the wrong man, but one of the club said he knew I was the Inspector. They sent a messenger for an express wagon, and started to drive with me to River street where I suppose they were going to give me to the men there who are looking for the Inspector with a club, but just as they passed the Granite street bridge, a police officer was seen coming up the street, so the club decided to change the direction of the trip, and in a short time I found myself a few miles from the city, in a three story building, which has at this hour no inhabitant except myself, and two men left to keep guard.

The club seem at a loss as to what to do with me, both the guards are now asleep and if I dare make the jump from my third story window, I shall be with you tomorrow in time to hear the Salvation Army with no drum, but at present I shall not promise to ever again give you the doings of the club. If I do not escape before this letter appears in print, my name is a cipher, for they were not sure last night that I was the Inspector, but this letter will show that they at last have the right man. Now Inspector Jr. if I should not make my appearance on the Barre pavements tomorrow you had better send out a searching party for me. I shall drop this from the window to a small boy now going by.

INSPECTOR.

REWARD.

Inspector Junior will give a free ticket to the drumless concert of the Salvation Army in the park Sunday afternoon to the person who will rescue the Inspector from his present captor.

JUNIOR.

Searching parties in the Durkee Gun boat have started out to find the gallant but undangered Inspector.

Let us all hope he will give us some more of his bright stories "On the Corner" and not leave the task to
