REMOVAL!

Having purchased the entire stock of Books, Stationery, Fancy Goods, Office Supplies, Blank Books, Draughtsmen's Materials, Etc. of the late firm of Gates, Austin & Co., we are enabled to better accommodate the public by a removal to the store lately occupied by them in Park Block, No. 20 North Main Street.

It will be remembered that this firm started in business, but a few months ago with an entire new stock, at a time when such stock was at the lowest point in the history of the country. The entire stock was closed out at a sacrifice and we are enabled to make LOW PRICES.

WE SHALL INCREASE STOCK AS WE LEARN

THE NEEDS OF THE PUBLIC.

Any book or merchandise not in stock procured on short notice at lowest prices.

Thanking our patrons for their liberal patronage in the past, and hoping to see many new faces in our enlarged quarters, we remain

To Whom it May Concern:

I wish to say that I have deeded my property at No. 6 Newton street to James Cashen as reported.

(Signed) F. G. LAVERY.

Old Germino, chief of the Apaches, is the most noted Indian of the wild tribes of North America. He is 90 years of age and as straight as an arrow. His eyes are keen, piercing and cruel. His feet are very large.

When at the post at Fort Sill, I. T., old Germino plays monte, a game of cards, liked very much by the Indians, but when he can get permission to leave the reservation his time is spent in hunting, of which he is still very fond. —Chicago Inter Ocean.

It Depends.

Dr. Johnson was once consulted by an old lady on the degree of wickedness to be attached to her son's robbing an orchard. "Madam," said Johnson, "it all depends upon the weight of the boy. I remember my schoolfellow, Davy Garrick, who was always a little fellow, robbing a dozen orchards with impunity, but the very first time I climbed up an apple tree—for I was always a heavy boy—the bough broke with me, and it was called a judgment."

She Knows.

"No," she said, "you don't really love me."

"Yes, I swear I do," he protested. "I love you with all my soul. I would ask you to be my wife tomorrow if I were properly situated."

But his plea was useless. She had studied human nature and knew that when a man is really in love he doesn't stop to consider whether he can afford to marry or not.—Cleveland Leader.

Mr. Haley, in placing the following notice before the people of Montpelier and vicinity, thanks his patrons of the past and future, for their confidence in him with the feeling that as he has hitherto proved every statement he has made by producing letters from his customers backing up each statement, that confidence is not misplaced.

The following letter was written by one of the leading merchants on State Street, and a man who is very particular in regard to his clothes:

MONTPELIER, JULY 2, 1898.

DEAR SIR:—Your request for a note of approval is gladly complied with, and I feel free to say that the suit of clothes made for me were highly satisfactory in every respect, particularly so as I am considered hard to please. You fitted me the first time and with no alteration. You are certainly a master of your trade and deserve much credit.

Yours truly,

The same gentleman who wrote the letter said to me in my shop: "You are the only tailor that ever fitted me with a pair of trousers without having to alter them in any particular. No tailor ever did it before."

What I did for that gentleman I do for every one of my customers without question or a doubt.

The men who have their clothes made by me are the best dressed men in the city. Their clothes always fit them to perfection. Here is where we do things that matter.

My business is steadily gaining, and I have increased my force of help. Good workmen do it. Just the kind of work you want. Every suit I make would cost you anywhere from $15 more elsewhere. I shall continue to turn out first-class work just what the customer wants.

I am the only tailor who can truthfully say: "Thrice happy, thrice happy is the man who has his clothes made in my shop." I have no tailor alive who can fit all shapes of customers to perfection and have a misfit.
