Good Bye to Company E.

Thousands of People Crowd Our Streets to Cheer Our Volunteers as they Left Home for Burlington This Morning.

Barre never saw so many people in so small a space on her streets as that which gathered between ten and eleven o'clock this forenoon to witness the "send-off" which the citizens of the Granite City were to give our local pride, the crack and loyal Company E. Early this morning decorations were placed on many buildings, and men wearing our country's blue commenced to appear on the streets.

The Williamstown Cornet Band reached the city early and rendered patriotic selections while the societies were making ready for the march. About ten o'clock the Transatlantic band made their appearance, and soon Crandall Post G. A. R. marched up the street to the armory. By this time a score of people had assembled from Barre and every surrounding town. The parade started about 10:30 o'clock from the armory in the following order: Marshal, City Clerk B. H. Wells, Transatlantic Band, High School Cadets, Fire Department, Canton Vinton, Clan Gordon, Granite City Court Foresters of America, St. Johns Court Order of Foresters, Uniform Rank Knights of Pythias, Crandall Post G. A. R., Williamstown Band, Company E with recruits.

The parade moved up North Main street, around the city park, and down Washington street to the Central Vermont depot where a special train was in waiting to carry the company to Montpelier where they were joined by Company H of that city and Company F of Northfield. While the parade was moving a cannon was secured from the Montpelier Arsenal by consent of Quartermaster General Gilmore and was fired many times. Bells rang and scores of steam whistles filled the air with din, together with the loud and continuous shouting along the whole line of march. At the depot the crowd pressed forward to catch a last hand shake from the heroes of Barre. Mothers, wives, sisters, children, sweethearts and friends with sad eyes gazed on loved ones as the train rolled out of sight while a crowd of loyal friends kept shouting: "Three Cheers for Company E." "What is the matter with Company E, they are all right."

The train, consisting of two coaches and a baggage car, moved out of the station at snail pace while the crowd waved flags and handkerchiefs and shouted good-bye to our first company of American volunteers. The boys will at once be put through the physical examinations, and if Company E is given attention to-morrow, those who do not pass are likely to be home again before the weeks ends. Our good wishes and loyal cheers go out in one accord to Company E, the loyal boys in blue.

Goddard will present her strongest team and if the club scores a victory tomorrow night as Burlington yesterday defeated St. Albans high school. Captain Ayer has invited ex-Captain Liebh now of U. V. M. to umpire the contest. Capt. Ayer gave out the following batting list of the home team this morning: Flag s s, Pier-czb, Tenney 1 f, Lamb 3b, Ayer c, Bush p, Gale r f, Hullett 1b, Chase c f. On Monday the Goddards will meet the Middlebury college team with the same batting order. Turn out tomorrow and give the boys a good send off. Play ball says the umpire.

Is France Aiding Spain?

Big French Liner Captured by the Annapolis.

Key West, May 6.—The large trans-Atlantic steamer Lafayette from Coruna, Spain, was captured off Havana at sunset last evening by the gunboat Annapolis. The Lafayette was headed directly into Havana and was captured after an exciting chase. After the officers of the Annapolis had boarded her she attempted to run the blockade, but stopped after a shot was fired. The Wilmington, Merrill and Newport participated in the capture. The Lafayette was taken here with her prize crew. It is believed she has a contraband of war aboard. The large number of men which were aboard, leads the officials to believe that she carried recruits for Havana. The Lafayette is a French naval reserve and carries guns. It is probable France will raise questions regarding her capture.

A Woman's Stomach.

"The longer I live," said the honest physician of one of the big hotels, "the more I wonder at and admire the female stomach. That abused organ, cabined, cribbed and confined in a corset two sizes too small, can stand more hard knocks than any pugilist that ever stepped into the ring. The average woman at a hotel has the choice of a world of things to eat and does not know in the least what to eat. Here is a list of the things that were stowed away at my table the other day by a spirituelle creature weighing not more than 100 pounds and measuring 37 inches about the middle: Soup, fish with rice sauce, olives, sliced cucumbers, sweetbread, turkey with chestnut dressing, grouse, asparagus, new potatoes, cauliflower with cheese, two helpings of lobster Newburg, lemon pudding, ice cream, cakes, Rognonfort cheese and coffee. The liquids were a glass of white wine and a quart bottle of beer, which she shared with her father.

"No, I was not called in to attend her. That is her usual performance. I weigh 195 pounds and take a great deal of exercise. My dinner consisted of a light soup, stale bread, a liberal portion of beef, some peas, asparagus, cheese and coffee. That was plenty, if not too much. And women will drink sherry, milk punches, cocktails and other heavy concoctions and perhaps feel the effects of them too. But they get over it quickly."—Sion City Tribune.
