THE NEW 'BUS LINE

The Union Transfer Co. is rendering a genuine public service by starting the new 'bus line through the principal streets of the village. Lack of street cars to the residential sections has been felt keenly by newcomers to the community and the convenience of an electric transportation system to save time and distance. It will take some time to get the new line into operation and the public should be patient. But once the schedule is understood and the route familiar to the village people we predict a goodly patronage for the new business.

The management suggests that householders cut out the time table in today's issue and carry it with them to consult frequently.

Post this slogan in your hat: "Take the 'Bus!'"

THAT SPECIAL SESSION

The newspaper editors of the state—and some others—are being bombarded this week with letters from Woman Suffrage Headquarters, requesting that letters and telegrams be sent Gov. Clement to influence him to call a special session of the Legislature. The idea is that the ladies want to vote for President in 1920, in Vermont.

Card of Thanks

We wish to extend to the neighbors and friends, to the shopmates, Moose River Lodge No. 82, F. and A. M., the Young People's Christian Union, to Red Clover Lodge D. of R., our appreciation for the many acts of sympathy, and beautiful floral tributes tendered us in our bereavement.

Mrs. Clarence H. Bazin,
Mr. Linford H. Bazin,
Mrs. Alice L. Richards.
Concord, Vt., June 30, 1919

Edward H. Bazin

The funeral of Edward H. Bazin, whose death was mentioned last week, was held from his late home, Thursday morning at 10:30. Rev. P. J. MacInnis, pastor of the First Universalist church, officiating, assisted by Rev. Grant Van Blarcom, a former pastor. Interment was in the Village cemetery. Edward Henry Bazin was born in Hallowell, Me., Nov. 1, 1856, a son of Charles H. and Mary Ferrein Bazin. His boyhood was passed in New Jersey, coming to Concord to live nearly 35 years ago. This has since been his home. Mr. Bazin was a mechanic and for 25 years had been employed at the Fairbanks Scale Factory in St. Johnsbury. He was a member of Moose River Lodge, No. 82, F. and A. M., had served as Noble Grand of Concordia Lodge, I. O. O. F., No. 43, and as District Deputy of the Sixth District, I. O. O. F., a member and constant attendant of the First Universalist church, having at different times served on the board of Trustees, and at the time of his death was president of the Y. P. C. U. In 1892 he enlisted in Co. D, V. N. G., later being promoted to Second Lieutenant. Serving in the Spanish-American war he was stationed at Camp Chickamauga. February 17, he married to Mrs. Ellen Miltimore Cooser, who survives, also one son by a former marriage, Linford H. Bazin of Worcester, Mass. Besides the widow and son left to mourn his loss he is survived by two sisters, Mrs. Ida Griffith of Atlantic City, N. J., Mrs. Emma Edwards of Millville, N. J., and one brother, Fred N. Bazin of Haverhill, Mass. Mr. Bazin was in his usual health until a few hours before his death, when he sustained a stroke of paralysis from which he never rallied, passing away early Sunday morning, June 22. The large number of floral tributes testified to the esteem in which he was held. Pillow, shopmates Fairbanks Scale Works; pillow, Moose River Lodge, No. 82, F. and A. M.; pillow, Mrs. Bazin and Mrs. Richards; wreath, Linford Bazin; spray white carnations, Y. P. C. U.; spray of red carnations, Rev. Grant Van Blarcom; spray roses, Mr. and Mrs. M. Tatro and George F. THE TEST THAT TELLS

There is only one real test for a cough remedy, and that is use. S. M. Oliver, Box 192, R. F. D. 5, Greensboro, S. C., writes: "Foley Honey and Tar is just fine. I keep it at all times in my family and do not expect to be without it as long as I can get it." It relieves hay fever, asthma, coughs, colds, croup and bronchial affections by covering the inflamed, irritated surfaces with a soothing, healing combination of time-tried, reliable, pure, harmless medicines. Contains no opiates. Children like it. SOLD EVERYWHERE.

VERMONT NEWS

Unveiling Portrait of Dean G. H. Perkins Tuesday was alumni day of the University of Vermont's 115th commencement, and it had as its feature event the unveiling of the portrait of Dean George H. Perkins, acting president in the absence overseas for the past two years of President Guy Potter Benton. The ceremony in honor of Dean Perkins' 50 years of service with the university, took place at the alumni breakfast at noon held in the gymnasium, with one of the largest gatherings of the alumni the university has ever held. Judge Seneca Haselton, president of the Alumni Association, presided. Hon. Darwin Kingsley, president of the New York Life Insurance Co., presented the portrait to the university on behalf of the alumni. It will hang in the Billings Library. There were no formal speeches at the breakfast. The obituary committee of the alumni reported a list of 59 dead during the year, the largest number of alumni reported in many years. Of this number nine gave their lives in the great war, the other 11 of the 20 Vermont men who fell being undergraduates. The big service flag of the university, with 909 stars and 20 gold stars, floats from the Old Mill.

The rest of the day was given over to class reunions. The class of '89 held its 30th anniversary reunion with a breakfast, as guests of Max L. Powell at the Hotel Vermont. In the afternoon the party motored to Grand Isle, one of the beauty spots of Lake Champlain, and had supper at the Island Villa. The class of 1917 is back almost to a man, and held a banquet at the Hotel Vermont. The class of 1914 held its fifth reunion.

Wins Croix de Guerre With Palm A signal honor has been bestowed upon Maj. H. Nelson Jackson, and through him upon his state and city in the announcement that wholly unexpected and unannounced, has come one of the greatest honors that the French government may bestow, the Croix de Guerre with palm, for extraordinary heroism under fire and exceptional attention to duty in the face of heavy artillery and machine gun fire. This alone, it would seem were honor enough for one man, but Major Jackson holds in addition to this grant from the government of France a citation carrying with it the Distinguished Service Cross from the government of the United States and also a personal citation from his own commanding officer which in itself is a rare document and one highly prized by its recipient.

William Lindsey of Montpelier health officer, has received a report from the state laboratory that the fungus which has been killing the fish in Berlin Pond, is not detrimental to the water supply which furnishes Montpelier. The fungus attaches itself to the gills of the fish stopping respiration and causing death.

BLAZE OF COLORS

The Caledonian today prints for the first time the complete program of the day. It is easily seen that the great crowd that is coming into St. Johnsbury will not find a dull moment from sunrise to midnight.

Members of the Fourth of July committee indignantly deny a report that reached outside towns that money was to be collected for the different public events. Not a penny can be spent in St. Johnsbury on the Fourth so far as the celebration in honor of the soldiers and sailor heroes of the Great War are concerned. Generous citizens, bankers, and stores have contributed enough money to take care of all the big events of the day so that everything so far as the celebration is concerned will be FREE.

The Soldiers' Welcome committee have engaged three bands for the celebration and there will be band concerts throughout the afternoon and evening. The St. Johnsbury Band, the St. Gabriel's Band and the Barton Band have been secured and excellent music is assured.

The executive committee have arranged for a special train from Hardwick and all stations east to St. Johnsbury which will be run Friday under the following schedule: Leaves Hardwick 7:30 a. m., East Hardwick, 7:41, Greensboro, 7:51, Dow, 8:00, Walden, 8:11, Joe's Pond, 8:17, West Danville, 8:23, Danville, 8:31, arrive St. Johnsbury 8:55. Returning this train will leave St. Johnsbury at 11 p. m., and stop at all stations. At 11 o'clock Friday evening a special train will also leave for Newport and all intermediate stations.
