Several Lives Lost in the Winds on the Atlantic Coast.

FURIOUS CALES OFF THE IRISH COAST

Twenty Pleasure Sockers Swept Out Into the Raging Ocean and Drowned, Parils Encountered in Bas-suing the Wrecked.

New York, Oct. 14.-The World says that probably twenty lives were lost off Rockaway beach by the storm of Sunday and Sunday night. Among them were George White, Alfred Kane, Mark Thursby and Alden Little, of New York, who started out Sunday afternoon in two boats to fish for shark. The storm came up shortly after they started and their craft were capsized and all on board lost.

Sunday afternoon Charles P. Frey let out a catbout and six small boats at Holland's station, up the beach. The catboat carried a flaning party of five men and the small boats cleven men. They went up the bay towards the inlet. Nothing has been seen of them since.

At 8:30 Monday afternoon, Mike Ketchum, a colored man ventured from his cottage at Rockaway inlet He saw a small boat dashing against the teach. The wind was blowing at a fifty-two knot pace and it almost carried him from his feet. Reaching the shore after a hard fight with the elements he found it was one of the two boats Balsor had let out to the four young men from New York. In it he found a hat, a broken our, a gun, and attached to a line fastened to the boat was a young shark. It was about 4 feet long. Of the other boat nothing has been seen. Waves nearly 30 feet high are lashing Rockaway beach, plowing far into the sand and washing dwellings and boats out to sea.

Sunday afternoon Jana Moore, acsompanied by a crew of three, left the old mill at Canarsie aboard a schooner loaded with coal for Baltimore. Coming out of the north channel the storm struck her. The three young men with him were swept off the deck while trying to take in sall. The schooner was carried before the wind, rocking in the trough of the sea and threatening every moment to [capsize. All Sunday night and Monday the craft held together. Moore now and then venturing to guide her out of the trough. Storm-tossed, she kept before the wind until Monday at 10 p. m., when she went hard sground on Block House Point at Rockaway Inlet. The life-savers at point sent a rocket line the stranded schooner and of their number, Julius Quay, got into the basket and was pulled on board. He had not been there more than a few moments when the main boom swung over and knocked him senseless into the sen-He was drowned. The car was pulled back and Capt. Bates made the perilous trip in which Quay lost his life. He managed to get Moore ashore without further accident. The old man is insane from his awful experience.

LONDON, Oct. 14.-A great storm is prevailing on the English and Irish coasts, and London is partly cut off from communication with the outside world, no telegrams having been receeived during Tuesday from Ireland. are known to follow the storm, and property in every direction has been seriously injured. Great losses to shipping are evident along the coasts. Tremendous winds are blowing in this city, accompanied by heavy rain. Many chimneys have fallen and the streets are almost empty.

In the cities and large towns chimneys and tiles were carried everywhere from the roof of private dwellings, out-houses of wood crashed down as if built of cards, pedestrianism was, during the height of the storm, utterly impossible and the traffic by rail, road or water was almost brought to a complete standstill. From all sections scome reports of damage done and lives endangered. The country roads are strewn with and blocked by fallen trees, twisted telegraph wires and broken telegraph poles. It is impossible as yet to give even an approximate idea of the damage done on land and sea or of the lives lost Instances of the furious work of the gale are constantly being

At Helensburg, a watering place on the Firth of Clyde, the fishing and other boats which had been drawn high upon the beach at the first approach of the gale were carried along which the furious waves, poured into the streets, flooding the houses and driving the inmates from their homes, many escaping through the windows, so little warning was given of the inundation. Two passenger trains running between Glasgow and Helensburg were brought to a standstill, to the intense alarm of the passengers, by the waves, which washed over and threatened to demolish the track. The fires of the locomotives were extinguished, thus completely stranding the trains and placing the lives of the passengers in peril. Escape from the cars was impossible, and all attempts made up to the present to reach the travelers have failed.

BRIGHTON, Oct. 14 .- A terrific gale arose here Tuesday afternoon, blowing down most of the structures in course of erection for Buffalo Bill's Wild West show and wrecking them utterly.

Death of a Texas Millionaire.

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., Oct. 14 .- John Twohig, a pioneer citizen and a bank-er, whose wealth is estimated at $3,-100,000, died Tuesday, aged 55 years. Mr. Twohig had been a resident of San Antonio since 1836. When he came to this city he was without a dollar. He was an active participant in the mem-orable events in San Antonio before and during the Mexican war. There are no less than 100 families of Mexicans in this city who have depended on his charity for a living for many years. During the drought of 1885 and 1886 he paid out every day $100 to the helpless poor of San Antonio and surrounding Sensational Story of Mrs. A. K. Ordwaythe Says Ker Husband Was with Tuecott When Snell Was Murdered.

BALTIMORE, Md., Oct. 14 - A woman of unsound mind was conveyed to Bayview asylum Tuesday from her residence, 941 Harford avenue, says the American. She is the widow of the late Albert K. Ordway, a clothing cutter from Chicago, who committed suicide at his home, 1406 Harford avenue, on March 10 last. Mrs. Sophia Elizabeth Ordway chaims that her husband was the companion of William Tascott, the man who is supposed to have murdered Millionaire Amos J. Snell in Chicago a few years ago. She says her husband took to drink shortly after their marriage in 1891, and things kept growing worse, until desperate from lack of work and money he put a mask on his face one night and declared he would make old man Snell give him some cash or he would kill the mill-

She pleaded with him to renounce his wicked intentions. He, however, was resolved to act and he left the house in a hurry. That night he did not return, but the next morning he came back to the house with-out any shoes and with a bloody handkerchief. This handkerchief he tried to wash at a saloon before returning home. When questioned by her he said that he had loaned his shoes to Tascott, who had been injured by being shot and was lying in the rear of a saloon on West Madison street.

One of the most important statements in the woman's story is that she declared that Tascott is dead. She says she knows he was strangled to death and his body made way with by his pais. In that connection she frequent ly mentioned the names of Funkhouser. Marsden and Reynolds. Subsequent to the murder of Millionaire Snell she says her husband was continually nervous and always seemed very anxious to leave the city. After a good deal of persuasion she agreed to accompany him to Baltimore. After they arrived in Baltimore she told him she intended to expose his crime. This made him grow desperate and de-spondent and he took to drink and finally killed himself.

CHICAGO, Oct. 14.-Inspector George W. Hubbard, who a few days after the murder was appointed chief of police. says he does not remember ever having heard any one by the name of Ordtragedy. He gives little credence to the story, but believes, however, that Tascott is dead.

GROWTH OF COMMERCE. Increase in the Exports and Imports

During the Year.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14 -- A comparative statement has been prepared at the treasury department, showing the volume and value of exports and imports. According to this statement, during the eleven months from October 1, 1890, to August 31, 1891, the total value of the foreign commerce is $1,603,783,265, or an increase of $74,769,-639 over the value of the foreign commerce during the corresponding period of the previous year, when it was $1.529,013,697. The average annual increase of foreign commerce during the twenty years from 1871 to 1891 was $38,-

Of the total commerce of the eleven months ending August 31 last the value of all imports of merchandise was $763,210,965, an increase of $25,681,616 over the value of the imports of the corresponding months of prior years, and the value of the exports was $840, 571,501, an increase of $49,087,323 over the prior period. The value of merchandise imported free of duty during these eleven months was $364,661,336. as compared with $252,648,255 imported free of duty during the corresponding eleven months of the prior year, an increase of $112.021.801. The value of importations of merchandise free of duty during the fiscal year 1890 was $365,688,629, the largest in any year in the history of the com-merce. In comparison it will be observed that the value of imports of free merchandlat for these eleven months was $98,992,707 greater than for the year 1890 and $108,174,258 greater than for the year 1850. It is also noted that the total value of imports for the eleven months, $763,-210,965, exceeded in value the imports of any year in the history of our government, excepting the fiscal year 1890, when their value was $789,310,409. If however, the imports of September last equal those of August the total imports will largely exceed those of 1890.

To be Furnished Farmers and Others by Signal Service.

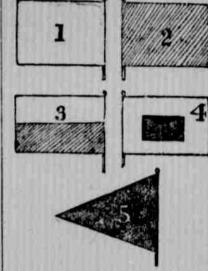

A FLAG SYSTEM FOR EVERY TOWN

Plans Almost Perfected by Which the Weather Indications Will be Scattered Throughout the Country.

WASHINGTON, Oct 14.-One of the first discoveries made by Secretary Rusk after he took charge of the weather of this country was discrimination against his friends the farmers. He found that while city people were getting government forecasts regularly in their morning newspapers and by means of flags in the big railroad stations, their country cousins obtained no information until the weather had come and gone. The secretary sent for Prof. Harrington, chief of the weather bureau, and told him to figure out a scheme to give the country as much and as valuable information as the city receives. Prof. Harrington began work at once and thinks he has solved the problem. So, apparently, does Secretary Rusk, for an official circular has just been issued announcing that the bureau wishes to find in every town and village a responsible person who will undertake to display weather flags. When these pertelegraphed to them and the people will know what kind of weather to expect. The flags are to be made of tin, and their size, shape and color, with the code of signals, will be as follows: No. 1-White flag, 6 feet square, will indicate clear or fair weather.

No. 2-Blue flag, 6 feet square, will indicate rain and snow. No. 3-White and blue flag, 6 feet square, will indicate that local rains or showers will occur and that the rain-elded full in the temperature. This signal will not be displayed unless it is expected that the temperature will fall to 43 degrees, or lower, and will be ordered displayed at least twenty-four hours in advance of the cold wave. When No. 5 is displayed, No. 4 is always omitted.

No. 5-Black triangular flag. 4 feet at the base and 6 feet long, always re-When placed fers to temperature. above flags Nos. 1, 2 and 3 it will indicate warmer weather. When placed below the numbers it will indicate colder weather. When it is not displayed the indications are that the temperature will remain stationary, or that the change in temperature will not vary more than 4 degrees from the temperature of the same hour of the preceding day from March to October, inclusive, and not more than 6 degrees for the remaining months of

When displayed on poles the signals will be arranged to read downward; when displayed on horizontal supports a small streamer will be attached to indicate the point from which the signals are to be read. The interpretation of displays is as follows:

No. 1, sions. Fair weather, stationary tem-No. 2, alone. Rain or anow, stationary tem-

No. 3, alone. Local rain, stationary temper-No. 1 with No. 4 above it. Fair weather, cold No. 2 with No. 4 above it. Wet weather, cold rain or anow.

No. 3 with No. 5 above it. Warmer weather, No. 3 with No. 5 below it. Colder weather, local rabin.

Prof. Harrington will also make arrangements to have the flag displayed on railroad cars. The starting points of the trains on all the railroads will be supplied every morning with the forecast, and one man on each train will be assigned to the duty of displaying the flags. When the public has made itself familiar with the code every person can ascertain the forecast by looking at any passing train.

The professor has also invented al plan to have locomotives and factories whistle the forecasts for the information of farmers who live too far away to see the flags. Notification will be given in every town and village where there is a steam whistle that at a certain hour every day the whistle will sound the signal to indicate the probable weather for the ensuing twenty-four hours. Factories will receive the forecast by telegraph and locomotive engineers will rucerre it at their starting points. The warning signal to attract attention will be what is called the long blast, lasting twenty seconds. After this algnal has been sounded blasts of from four to six seconds' duration will refer to the weather; short plasts of three seconds can's will refer to the temperaturn, those for the weather to be sounded first-like this:

Pate weather
Rain or says
Local rains
Local rains
Local rains
Righer temperature
Righer temperature Continue tiers : One imag, since fair eventure stationary temperature. Two long, since rain or new, stationary temperature, then long and one short fally weather himself-rain temperature. Two long and two short rain three short-fair weather; said wave. Three tong and two short-local rains; higher tem

Each combination will be repeated a few times, with an interval of ten seconds between. This will avoid the possibility of any error in ascertaining the forecast. Some difficulty may arise with regard to the locomotive whistles. Engineers have to give railroad signals, and the public mind may become confused by the two, but the professor thinks this difficulty can be overcome. He expects to have the system in full operation before 1892.

A SERIOUS CHARGE

A County Officer and Other Well-Known citizens of Washington, Ind., Under Arble for the Recent Burning of the Court-

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Oct. 14 -- A special to the News from Washington, Ind., says: This city is witnessing the most exciting scepes in its histhe courthouse fire, and up this hour have arrested four persons, supposed to be connected with the fire. Samuel Harbine, a day laborer living here, was arrested Tuesday night, charged with complicity in the burning of the records. After be-ing arrested Harbine confessed the crime and implicated several prominent people in it, and as a result Auditor James H. Lavelle and L. B. Hawes, a prominent citizen of Steele township, have been arrested and placed in jail; also a man by the name of Basil Ledgerwood. The officers are now out after Michael Lavelle, a brother of the auditor. Harbino's story is that Lavelle hired him to burn the courthouse for $500, only five dollars of which has been paid. It is reported that Ledgerwood is also anxious to turn state's evidence. He claims to have been given a house and lot for his part in the crime. Anditor Lavelle's bondsmen, becoming frightened at the turn affairs were taking, required him to turn all his property over to them. Lavelle has been auditor of the county for eight years and the fact that the people had confidence in him makes his arrest and accusation of the courthouse fire the sensation of the hour. From present circumstances it is supposed he is short in his accounts, but no one knows the amount. Experts are now at work on his books.

Hawes lives on a farm of 500 acres, owned by him, and is in good circum-stances. He is a desperate character and was brought in at the muzzle of and was brought in at the muzzle of a Winchester. The city is full of people already from the coun-try and business is practically sus-pended. The four parties in jail were taken before Judge Hefron. They waived a preliminary bail and Lavelle's and Hawes' were fixed at $5,000 each, and Harbine's and Ledgerwood's at $2,000 each. They are now in jail, not having given bond. Ledgerwood and Harbine have pleaded guilty in court. Sentence has been suspended by Judge Hefron, as they will be used as wit-

Chose Sudden Death NEW YORK, Oct. 14.-Prof. W. H. Carroll, well-known in this country and Europe as an archeologist, committed suicide Tuesday at his residence-on One Hundred and Fifth street. He had been suffering from consumption for two or three years, but did not give up hope until Tuesday, when he asked his dector to tell him his exact condition. The physician said Mr. Carroll m' ht live a month, and this apparently decided the invalid to end his days. During the day he shot himself.
