Gifford Pinchot in a statement issued at Washington holds that the loss of property and life in the recent and present forest fires was unnecessary. The charge was made by E. C. Cowgill, chief clerk for President Harahan of the Illinois Central road.

If the stories of men who returned from the St. Joe country of Idaho are to be believed the loss of life along Big creek was appalling, and the dead in Idaho alone will number more than two hundred, even if Ranger Joseph B. Halm and his 84 men turn up, of which the former officer in Wallace is not hopeful. All estimates of the financial losses place it at over $20,000,000, mostly in timber.

Theodore Roosevelt has definitely aligned himself with the progressives of New York state in a statement which he issued on the train as he was traveling across Iowa. He declared that the main issue in the fight in New York was not a specific reform measure, but bossism. Bossism, he declared, frequently led to corruption, and he promised to wage war on corrupt alliances between business and bosses.

White, whose "confession" forms the basis of the charges of bribery against Minority Leader Lee O'Neill Browne of the general assembly, was under a grilling cross-examination by Attorney Forrest for the defense at Chicago. ## AUTOMOBILE SHOW AT STATE FAIR

IMMENSE BUILDING CROWDED WITH THE NEWEST OF NEW MODELS.

FARMERS ARE READY BUYERS

Everything Worthwhile of Interest in the Motor World Will Be on Display and Visitors Will Find Things in Convenient Form.

Lansing.—Of all the big exhibitions to be seen at the Michigan state fair this year perhaps the most educational and the one which will strike popular approval hardest will be the immense automobile show to be held in the new automobile building of nearly 70,000 square feet.

Automobile manufacturers, when automobile shows first came into vogue, had it in mind to make them instructive, but in order to accomplish this they had to have an intelligent and widespread interest on the part of the public. It took years and years of hard work to arouse the interest to its present pitch, but now nearly everyone, and surely everyone who will attend the fair, is interested in automobiles.

Among the farmers and residents of small towns and villages the automobile dealers and agents find their readiest market. Perhaps it is because of the worth of the automobile as a time and money-saver or its use as a recreative agent that the motor car is so popular among the people outside of the large cities.

Everything worthwhile of interest in the motor world will be on display, and visitors will find things arranged in the most convenient form to permit of their imbibing the information—the "dope"—on the new 1911 models. Cars of all prices, all styles, all makes, will be seen. The best salesmen at the command of the factories and agencies will be on hand to answer questions.

Names to Go on Primary Ballot.

Practically every one of the candidates in the two major parties who sought a place on the primary election ballot for the state, congressional, senatorial or representative nominations is assured of his chance, it is announced at the office of the secretary of state.

Some candidates of some of the small parties may have to be denied having their names printed on the ballot. The checking and counting of primary petitions will probably be completed in time to allow for the certificates to be sent out tomorrow morning.

The count and check of petitions show the following candidates entitled to places on the primary election ballot, all being Republicans except as noted:

Governor—Patrick H. Kelley, Chase S. Osborn, Amos S. Musselman; Lawton T. Hemans, Democrat.

Lieutenant-Governor—Loren D. Dickinson, Nelson C. Rice, John Q. Ross.

United States Senator—Julius C. Burrows, Charles E. Townsend.

Congressional, second district—Wm. W. Wedemeyer, Ann Arbor; Henry C. Smith, Adrian.

Third district—Washington Gardner, Albion; John M. C. Smith, Charlotte; Chas. H. Price, Socialist, Kalamazoo.

Ninth district—Joseph W. Fordney, Saginaw; Emory Townsend, Saginaw.

Tenth district—George A. Lord, Au Sable; Frank Buell, Bay City.

Eleventh district—F. H. Dadds, Mount Pleasant.

Twelfth district—H. Olin Young, Ishpeming; Angus W. Kerr, Laurium.

M. A. C. Students in Forest Fire Fight.

Fears are entertained for the safety of a number of M. A. C. students who are employed by the forest service and are stationed in Montana, several in the neighborhood of Missoula. Some of the young men went out this summer as temporary fire guards and assistants of the national forests. They have been in charge of gangs of men fighting the fires since the conflagration became serious.

Michigan Corporations.

The following companies have filed articles of incorporation with the secretary of state: Bark River State Bank, Bark River, $20,000; Maple Products company, Grand Rapids, $1,000.

Michigan Inventions.

Patents have been granted to the following Michigan inventors: Andrew C. Baker, Albion, dump wagon; George A. Bell, Ypsilanti, sign attaching implement; William Benson, Breckinridge, driving gear for traction engines; Howard E. Coffin, Detroit, running board for motor cars; Frank H. Darlow, Albion, fishing line drying reel; Malcolm Ewer, Detroit, wrench; Carl G. Franke, Monroe, apparatus for swaging dental plates; Howard M. Long, Albion, cover; Elsworth L. McGinn, Detroit, tooth brush.

Fine Crops Are Raised in Sand.

Several years ago Louis P. Haight of Muskegon, conceived the idea that 3,000,000 acres of waste land in the state of Michigan, commonly called the pine barrens, could be reclaimed for agricultural purposes. Mr. Haight is well known as a director in Olivet college and will be remembered in connection with the Haight Agricultural school. He instituted this school for the purpose of testing the productive quality of the sand barrens and also a chance to gain a practical knowledge of tilling the soil, besides acquiring a certain command of the English language. He attempted to interest the state agricultural college in experiments which he wished to try out on the waste lands in Muskegon county, but secured no support, even after he had offered to pay the entire cost of the experiment.

He had in his heart the love of making things grow and began to study the peculiar conditions of this soil, to experiment with a large number of plants, grown all the way from Canada to South America, in hopes that he might discover something especially adapted to these shifting sands.

He was ridiculed and much fun was made of the city farmer by his fellow citizens and the knowing agriculturists. But he continued to work and experiment, and to a recent visitor at the Haight farm it appeared as though the impossible had been accomplished.

After having traveled almost over the entire state and seen many fields of corn, it was not expected that on this land, surrounded with oak grubs and pine stumps, which are everywhere in view, such a field of corn could be produced. It was just beginning to tassle out and, in spite of the five weeks' drought, it was eight to nine feet tall.

At Work on Petitions.

Augmented by a large corps of clerks from the auditor general's and land commissioner's departments, the staff of the state department is making a desperate effort to get the primary election petitions checked and counted in time to allow for the printing of the ballots.

Secretary of State, Secretary of State, and Deputy State are devoting their entire attention to the matter, but they both fear that they are leading a forlorn hope. Just what will be done in the contingency that all the petitions cannot be gone over has not been determined.

Secretary A. R. Canfield of the Democratic state central committee unloaded a great big batch of petitions for Lawton T. Hemans for governor at the office and announced that another consignment arrived. Other big batches arrived, and while the bars were put up, it is apparent that by that time the office will be stacked full.

Twenty clerks were sent over by Auditor General Fuller and a number by Deputy Land Commissioner Carlton. These trained office workers are proving a great aid to the state department force, but even at that it is considered a question whether the check can be completed and the certificates prepared in time to allow for the printing of the ballots.

Ask Teddy to State Fair.

Will Roosevelt attend the coming state fair?

That's the question paramount around state fair headquarters in the Bowles building.

An invitation has been extended and this has been backed by a monster petition which, when completed, will contain over 150,000 names of prominent men and farmers of the state.

No answer has been received as yet—but it is expected soon.

The state grange, through the efforts of Grand Master N. P. Hall, was the first organization to come across with its petition. Over 42,000 names are attached to this first petition, and others have been circulating for some time among the Masonic and other fraternal orders. These, it is conservatively estimated, will number 100,000 more names.

Secretary J. E. Hannon of the state fair has been working on this as a prize attraction for the coming fair, but doesn't care to express himself as to what he thinks of the chances of the success. No efforts have been spared in trying to show Roosevelt how cordially he will be received by the management and the people, and it is hoped that the opportunity afforded of talking to so many farmers and other residents of the state will appeal to him.

July's Heat Killed 22 Persons in State.

Of 3,078 deaths in the state in July, 47 were drownings, 22 from heat, 5 from lightning and 17 from tetanus not of fourth of July brand. Tuberculosis heads the list of death-dealing diseases. Pulmonary tuberculosis caused 165 deaths and other forms of tuberculosis 44. Cancer caused 164. There is an increase of 81 deaths over June and the rate per 1,000 of estimated population is 13.7.

Every Comfort for State Fair Crowds.

The state fair management in preparing for the big exhibition to be seen at Detroit, September 19-24, will take unusual care to provide comfortable seats and resting places for big crowds of state fair visitors. This feature is often neglected by the managements of big fairs, but the Michigan managers will see to it that every possible comfort and convenience is provided for state fair visitors.

WHO IS RESPONSIBLE FOR DURAND WRECK

EACH TRAIN CREW TRYING TO PLACE THE BLAME WHOLLY ON OTHER.

SIX DEAD BODIES AT DURAND
ARE AT LAST POSITIVELY IDENTIFIED.

Five Other Victims Are in Hospitals
More or Less Seriously Injured and Two Trainmen Likely to Die.

To add to the difficulty of identifying the victims of the wreck Wednesday night on the Grand Trunk railway near Durand, bones said to be those of two additional bodies in a sack that had been overlooked in the investigation were found in the morgue by Undertaker C. E. Manes, who is in charge of the dead. This brings the number of dead to eight, the number first fixed upon by the newspapers.

Repeated inquiries from relatives of passengers thought to have been on the ill-fated Pullman sleeper Nebraska, led Dr. C. C. Fair, surgeon for the Grand Trunk, to remark to Undertaker Manes that there must have been more bodies in the wreck than were recovered. This reminded Mr. Manes that a sack had been brought to the morgue Thursday morning. In the confusion incident to assembling the other six bodies, Manes says, the sack was pushed into a corner and was forgotten. When the sack was brought out and its contents were examined, Dr. Fair stated that the bones represented probably two additional dead.

Mrs. Lewis Squires, of Chicago, who is missing, has not yet been identified. The body originally identified as hers has been found to be that of Mrs. Jeffers, from Toronto. Two sisters of Mrs. Squires will be asked to come from Chicago to aid in the final identification.

It is now known with certainty that the nurse accompanying Mrs. Alma Woodward, one of the victims, was Miss Marie Amstead, of Fargo, N. D. Investigation revealed that Miss Belle Scott, a school teacher of Chicago, was on her way to visit a sister in Toronto, and a daughter of George Scott, of Chicago, who was bound for Chicago, are missing.

Responsibility a Problem.

While this seems to settle the problem of the number of victims of the accident, the matter of responsibility for the wreck is far from being settled. The question agitating the minds of the persons who were on the train, the residents of Durand and the whole locality is: Who is at fault, the flagman of the wrecked train, or the engineer whose train crashed into the sleeping car? Trainmen and others believe that one of the two is to blame, but on which is the responsibility to be placed?

Railway Commission to Investigate.

Members of the state railway commission announced after a conference with the attorney-general's department, that the commission will conduct an independent investigation into the Grand Trunk wreck near Durand when six persons were killed and eight were injured.

The decision of the commission was the direct result of the activities of Prosecuting Attorney Hicks, of Shiawassee county, who is also attorney for the Grand Trunk. The commission learns that Hicks is threatening to cause the arrest of Engineer Spencer, of the train which struck the stalled passenger.

The attorney-general has signified his willingness to co-operate with the railroad commission in the investigation into the causes and culpability for the wreck.

Abandon Hope For Foresters.

Forest fires have slain more than 200 persons, nearly all fire fighters, in Idaho, according to figures compiled from latest reports. Capt. W. C. of the Coeur d'Alene national forest, after receiving many reports of disaster to various parties of his 600 employees, posted a bulletin in his office at Wallace, Idaho, announcing the death of 114 of the men. He also expressed grave concern for the safety of Ranger Joe B. Halm and 74 men who were surrounded by fire Saturday night in the forest on the Big Fork of the Coeur d'Alene river near where another party lost 13 men. Halm was for four years the best football and baseball player of the Washington state college at Pullman.

New President of Nicaragua.

Jose Dolores Estrada, to whom President Madrid turned over the administration of the Nicaraguan government before fleeing the country, retired from the presidency in favor of Gen. Luis Mena, who was designated by him as acting president of the republic. This change of administration was in accordance with instructions from Estrada's brother, Gen. Juan J. Estrada, the head of the provisional government and leader of the successful revolution against Madrid. Gen. Mena immediately took possession of the presidential mansion.

Large tracts of land in Wyoming, Idaho and Montana, which were eliminated from the national forests under the executive proclamation of July 1, 1910, were restored to settlement under orders of the secretary of the interior.

Angered by the refusal of his wife to receive him in her home until the expiration of a period of probation, Ellwood Smith, 51 years old, a wealthy contractor of Philadelphia, shot and instantly killed his wife, Belle, 30, in the second story of their dwelling on North Fifteenth street. He then sent a bullet into his own brain.

Says Esperanto Is Coming Talk.

Dr. H. W. Yemans, of the Fort Wayne post, who presided at the international congress of Esperantists held in Washington, D. C., last week, returned to Detroit.

"The congress, which is the sixth annual meeting of World Esperantists, was not only the largest of its kind yet held, but was the most representative meeting I will venture to say, ever held in the United States," said Dr. Yemans. "We had delegates from the shah of Persia, the emperor of Russia, the president of France, and other European powers. South American is with us heart and soul. While we make it a rule to limit our discussion to educational matters, there is no question but that Esperanto will do more than any other thing to preserve peace among the nations. Our next international congress will be held at Antwerp, Belgium. The question of holding the next peace conference in Esperanto will be discussed more fully at that time."

"The educational value of Esperanto keeps pace with its political importance. It is an excellent corrective for slovenly English. There are no irregularities whatever in it."

Will Stop Land Grabs.

"The worst plunder of lands and land-grabbing ever known has been disclosed by the investigations of the congressional committee in Oklahoma," said Congressman Philip P. Campbell, who arrived home in Pittsburg, Kan., after a month's absence with the committee in Oklahoma. "The investigation has called attention to the manner in which this land grafting and grabbing has been going on, and for one thing, there will be no more Indian land grafting or grabbing. This plundering of Indian property will be stopped. No more will the Indian be permitted to sign away his rights. The government will see to that. No more big fees for attorneys and no more lobbying in Washington. Indian affairs will be conducted properly hereafter."

"The government will sell the land for the Indians. The government will employ the necessary attorneys for the Indians and they will be paid at a rate fixed or approved by the government. The lands will be placed on the market in September. They will be sold and the Indians will get their share from the sale."

Crippen and the Girl.

Dr. Hawley H. Crippen, the American dentist, and his typist, Miss Ethel Clara Lenore, arrived in London from Canada, where they were arrested on suspicion of being connected with the disappearance of Dr. Crippen's actress wife, Bella Elmore, and with having knowledge of the mutilated body, believed by the police to be that of Mrs. Crippen, which was found in their Hilldrop Crescent residence.

The New York North American Y. M. C. A., with 2,017 associates, has passed the half million mark in membership. They have a total of $67,865,000 in property.

Automobiles and motorcycles may now be driven through the Gen. Grant National park in California unmolested. The secretary of the interior has decided that the roads of the park are of such a character as to permit of the operation of motor-cycles with perfect safety to the horse-drawn conveyances.
