

WESTERN TROTTING CIRCUIT.

To be composed of St. Paul, Minneapolis, Omaha, Kansas City and St. Louis.

POLICE COURT SCENES.

Some Interesting Cases in Judge Stenberg's Tribunal—The Raise in Pacific Coast Rates—Other Local News of the Day.

A Great Thing For Omaha.

President Garneau, of the Omaha Fair association, returned yesterday from an eastern trip, where he has been on business connected with the new trotting circuit which is to be formed with St. Paul, Minneapolis, Omaha, Kansas City, and St. Louis. The organization is to be known as the Trotting Circuit of the Great Western Cities, and will bring to this city next fall a fine line of horses as could be desired.

Secretary Wheeler, of the fair association, said yesterday, in speaking of the matter, "This circuit is going to be a great thing for Omaha and the fair, for it will bring to this city a splendid class of racers. The negotiations toward the formation of the circuit have been on foot for some time, and are finally concluded. The cities interested will be St. Paul, Minneapolis, Omaha, Kansas City, and St. Louis, and possibly St. Louis. The organization has largely been formed through the efforts of the St. Louis trotting association, with which Mr. Garneau was for four years connected. The scheme is to have the racing commencing in St. Paul and Minneapolis early in the season and work south. The date for the racing in Omaha will be from the 6th to the 11th of September. The result will be that we shall have this season a field of 150 first class horses, as against 90 last year. Not only will the number of horses be larger, but their speed average will be higher. In fact we shall have just as good racing during the fair week here, as will be enjoyed by any other city in the west, not excluding St. Louis. The field of horses will not be quite so large as in the latter city, for our racetrack is more or less nearly so ample as they ought to be. We shall have to rent outside stable room as it is."

Secretary Wheeler said in conclusion that he could not give the names of the horses, until the field entries had been closed up. That Omaha will be in the circuit, however, he says there is no doubt. A meeting of the board will be held on Friday to fully discuss the project.

POLICE COURT SCENES.

Lunatics, Soldiers, Pugilists and Vagrants arraigned before "His Honor" Judge Stenberg's police court docket yesterday presented some interesting features, though the number of cases disposed of was not as large as usual on Monday mornings.

Two insane men were first brought in for examination. One of them was Patrick Brennan, whose case was mentioned in Saturday's BEE. He was taken to the county jail, to await examination by the county board. The other was John Maurin, a fruit peddler known to the police as "Italian John." He used to own a fruit stand in the rear of Falconer's store on Fifteenth street, and for a long time did a thriving business in that locality. Lately, however, he has shown violent symptoms of insanity. He has several times thrown his fruit out in the street, uttering wild and unnatural cries all the while, and offering violence to his fellow-countrymen who tried to remonstrate with him. Occasionally, by way of variety, he wanders away from his business and goes to making mud pies. His actions have become more and more violent, until his friends deem it best that he should be sent to the insane asylum. During his short confinement in the city jail he made things warm for his fellow prisoners. He assaulted them with the greatest provocation whatever, and finally grew so violent that the jailer was obliged to confine him in a cell by himself. Judge Stenberg likewise ordered him before the county board of insanity.

Goa, Birte was arraigned on a charge of being a suspicious character. He was dressed in a complete suit of clothing made out of polar bear skin, and as he stood up before the judge a ripple of laughter ran through the court room. "I am not a vagrant, judge," he pleaded. "I used to live in Iowa, and am going home to visit my folks. I have been for twenty-five years working in the gold mines of the west, trying to make my fortune. When I struck Omaha I had plenty of money. I spent every cent of it in a week's spreeing. I am going to walk the rest of the way home if you will let me." The judge released him.

Tom Lindsey was the next victim. Last night, or rather early yesterday there had been a pitched battle on South Thirtieth street, between a group of youths who were out seeking a Sunday night fight, and some of the soldiers from the fort. Uncle Sam's minions were badly worsted in the fray, and one of them had his head cut open in a shocking manner. The leader of the assault, Lindsey, was fined $5 and costs, and was remanded in default.

Fred Marierius, an ex-soldier, had come to Omaha about four times in the long service in the army. Sunday afternoon he hired a horse and buggy from Dilliance, the livery man, and started to drive wildly through the streets. The police gave chase, but were of course unable to run him down. When he brought the rig back, however, he was promptly captured. He was fined $10 and costs this morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Beecham, whose case has been mentioned in these columns, were released. Mrs. Florence Dulce, the complaining witness, did not appear to prosecute. Beecham has procured work, and has already fitted up a little house to which he proposes to take his wife, hoping to reclaim her from the life into which, as alleged, she was entrapped by the Dulce woman.

James Stewart, one of the cheekiest beggars that ever infested Omaha, was sent up on a ten days sentence on bread and water. He was caught begging on Farnam street Saturday. Occasionally when a passer-by would refuse to give him money he would grow abusive and even violent. The bread and water diet will probably tone him down.

Charles Miller, John Rea and James Daily, arrested for intoxication, were released.

PUTTING THEM UP.

The Union Pacific and B. & M. Raise Rates One Notch—Rail Notes. The officials of the passenger departments of the Union Pacific and B. & M. were in secret consultation yesterday. As the result of the conference the following Pacific coast rates were announced to take effect on Wednesday, April 21:

The first-class rate to all points in California will be $30, with a rebate of $16.50, making the net rate $13.50. The second class rate will be $20, with a rebate of $11, making the net rate one way $9. Furthermore, orders will be drawn on California for return (east bound) tickets at a net rate of $18 for first class and $7 for second class. The west-bound tickets will not be guaranteed longer than five days, nor the eastbound more than thirty from the date of issuance.

"This is a sort of measure to meet the Santa Fe on half way ground," said General Ticket Agent Stebbins of the Union Pacific yesterday afternoon. "Our rates are still a little lower than theirs." "Are there any indications of a speedy restoration of rates to the old scale?" "That depends upon the negotiations now in progress between the presidents of the interested roads, about which I can tell you nothing."

A THREE SECTION TRAIN.

The overland traffic of the Union Pacific still continues heavy, notwithstanding that rates are higher than they have been at previous stages in the game. The overland express came in from the west yesterday in three sections, the first arriving about 8 o'clock, and the last shortly after 10 o'clock. The combined load of passengers was heavier than on any morning since the rate war commenced.

THE CHINESE EMBASSY.

Attached to the Union Pacific overland train from the west yesterday were two special Pullman coaches, the "Bogata" and "Sterling." They contained twenty-three Chinese members of the embassy from the Flowery Kingdom, now on their way to Washington. They were dressed in the height of Chinese fashion, wearing the long flowing, silken robes which constitute the costume of the mandarin. None of them could speak English, though they were sufficiently civilized to eat American viands without chopsticks. The embassy was accompanied by interpreters, etc., and by Vice Consul J. S. Reed, who has been with them since their arrival in this country.

NOTES.

Messrs. Korty, Dicky and Superintendent of Construction Jennison, have left on a tour over the Kansas division of the Union Pacific, inspecting the company's telegraph lines. General Manager Callaway, General Superintendent Smith and the Adams party are in Idaho.

J. A. Monroe, general freight agent of the Union Pacific, has returned from Kansas City. H. A. Johnson, his assistant, went to Chicago Saturday.

COULDN'T BELIEVE HIS EYES.

An Omaha Man Who Drew $30,000 in the Louisiana Lottery.

"Yes, sir, I have often invested in lotteries in this country and the old one, but I have never drawn such a plum as I did at the Louisiana state lottery drawing on March 16th."

The speaker was August Wiborg, a painter living on South Tenth street, who drew one-fifth of the capital prize of $150,000 at a recent drawing of the L. S. L. The sum, $30,000, has just been turned over, by a draft on the First National bank, and he appeared to be particularly jubilant as he conversed with a reporter for the BEE on his good fortune.

"How did you happen to invest, Mr. Wiborg?" asked the BEE man. "Well, as I told you, I have often bought lottery tickets, but never succeeded in drawing out any great 'stakes.' As a general thing I invested in the smaller lotteries, and eventually the Louisiana lottery until a few months ago. I had determined never to invest any money in that way again, when a few days before the grand drawing of March 16th, my eyes happened to rest on the L. S. L. advertisement.

"So, I said to my boy, I believe I'll try this just once more. Take this money and buy me two tickets. He went to the express office and purchased two tickets, one a fifth ticket, and the other a tenth. The drawing came off on March 16. I sent for a circular of the winning numbers. It came on in due time. I opened it and there was a feeling of anxiety that I had never felt before. I looked for the number of my one-tenth ticket, and saw that it had drawn no prize. Then I took the one-fifth ticket, and the very first number I noticed in the column of buyers was that corresponding to the one on my ticket. It was 78,040 and then I began to realize that I had drawn one-fifth of the capital prize of $150,000. I couldn't believe my eyes. I walked up and down the room and pinched myself to make sure that I wasn't dreaming. I looked again; there, sure enough, was the number, and I was convinced by good luck. Still I could hardly trust my senses. I called in the neighbors and had them look at the circular and the ticket. Their testimony corroborated that of my eyes and then for the first time I fully realized my good luck.

"Yes," he concluded, with a quiet smile. "I have received the money and it is now in the bank. I shall invest it as best I can, with the feeling that its interest will furnish me an income for my declining years. And I shall continue to invest in lottery tickets, too."

Contractors Troubles.

Mr. Fox, the grading contractor, in conversation with a BEE man yesterday made some remarks that might be of interest to the public. Apropos of the late strike of his employees, he said: "For the last forty years the wages of teamsters have been $28 per day, and common laborers got $1.50. There were, of course, some who earned and got more money than this—for instance, a man who fully understood grading and paving, but he would be needed to do the manual work of only $1.50. Now, my men struck for higher wages when there was not another such job in the city. Of course I was compelled to accede to their demands, at least for the time being. Some say that men should be paid more than this; but when the rate has been this and a man contracts to do a piece of work expecting to pay only that amount, it makes the hardship very great to have the men so aggressive. If higher wages are paid, people will have to give us more for the work."

They Compromised.

John H. Deders and Katie Michael were married yesterday by Justice Ander-

"You had better be married at once, and end the trouble now," said Justice Anderson, gazing benignly at the pair, over his spectacles.

The Lauer Case.

To the question "When will the motion for a new trial in the Lauer case be argued?" Judge Savage replied yesterday: "It is our intention to push for a new trial for our client as soon as possible. We hoped to have been able to argue the motion on Saturday, but as Judge Neville was out of town that was impossible. The matter will come up next Saturday, if not before. We are anxious to go ahead as soon as the district attorney and Judge Neville are ready."

"Is Lauer confident that he will be acquitted on a new trial?" "He is certainly desirous of having a new trial, and hopes for his acquittal, on a rehearing of the case. He says that he will never rest until the supreme court of the state has decided that he is guilty or not guilty. If the final decision shall be against him, he doesn't care whether the sentence be hanging, imprisonment for life, or confinement for ten years or less."

Burglars at Work.

John Fogarty, an expressman living at 111 Jackson street, reported at police headquarters yesterday that his residence had been entered by thieves last night, who took a silver watch and chain and $23 in money belonging to him. They searched his clothing, but not thoroughly, however, but that they missed $20 in a tobacco pouch placed in one of his pockets. There is no clue to the burglars, and a round of the different pawnshops in the city failed to reveal the whereabouts of the stolen watch.

A certificate of membership in this Association furnishes benefit at the lowest cost.

Men and women, between the ages of 17 and 65 years, who are in good health, may become members.

There is no changing from one class to another, and assessments do not increase with advancing age.

The Company has a guarantee fund of $100,000 paid up in each, which is an additional security to that furnished by any company in the United States.

It has a Reserve fund which provides for a non-forfeiting policy and a paid-up policy.

The Company is located in the West; its business is confined to the healthy West, and applications from persons residing in malarial districts are not accepted, which will insure few assessments, and a consequent exemption from any onerous liability.

A Local Advisory Board, composed of not less than five leading citizens of each vicinity, may be formed, who may act as advisory counsel in the settlement of claims by the death of members and as to the admission of applicants to membership.

A member who lapses his certificate may re-instate the same at any time upon satisfactory evidence of good health, by the payment of all delinquent dues and assessments.

No insurance company in this or any other country has ever failed by reason of the death-rate experience. The failure in certain instances has been caused by speculation and speculation. The safe guards introduced render both impossible in this Association.

Our business is confined to the endowment for old age, and the payment of the widows and orphans after death.

The policy is more liberal, and the plan more secure, than any company in the United States.

Co-operative Insurance Companies existed in England 200 years before the stock plan was thought of, and the same companies exist to-day, some of them having nearly one million members. Which managed judiciously, they cannot break. We guarantee every promise we make with $100,000 being in addition to the $100,000 provided for as a Reserve Fund which is a more liberal provision and offer than any other company makes.

The Strength of This Association Consists of GUARANTEE FUND, RESERVE FUND, GRADED RATES, SELECTED RISKS, TONTINE SYSTEM, LIFE PLAN, ENDOWMENT PLAN, NON-FORFEITING POLICY, PAID-UP POLICY, A DEPOSITORY TO PROTECT THE RESERVE FUND, CAPITAL STOCK.

The cost of life protection in this company is less than any company in the United States. The company is good and payments prompt.

At death or maturity of endowment the member receives his interest in the Reserve Fund in addition to the amount due on the policy.

All policies become non-forfeiting after the third year to the extent of the member's interest in the Reserve Fund.

AGENTS WANTED in every town and city where not supplied in all of the states west of the Mississippi river and north of Kansas. Good reliable canvassers can obtain most favorable rates by writing to the company.

This Association is now consolidating the membership of the "Nebraska Mutual," "Farmers' and Mechanics'" and "Lincoln Mutual," and with its own members insures perfect protection.
