CHICAGO PRODUCE MARKET.

CHICAGO, Dec. 7 .- | Special Telegram to the BEE. |-At 1 o'clock this afternoon May wheat was quoted at 85 c, or 136c lower than the highest price paid last Saturday. The market opened rather easy at about yesterday's closing figures. Foreign news was of a discouraging tenor, and, although no actual decline in prices was noted, the reports from abroad were unanimous in the statement that buyers were showing an absence of interest not at all agreeable to the feelings of holders. First trades were on a basis of 785cc for January and 855cc for May. The softness of cables induced tree offerings and after a momentary show of firmness and strength values eased off slightly. May dropping back to 85%c and January to 78%c, with scalpers right on top. The market steadled itself and when these same scalpers slashed in to buy back their wheat they ran up against a paucity of offerings. May advanced steadily to 86 c and January to 7834 6279c. About noon Tinn & Stauffer, acting presumably for Cudahy, opened the bung hole and set a stream of wheat flowing into the pit. The sympathy of scalpers was unmistakably enlisted on the bear side of the deal. The market declined 1c the last honr of the regular session under continuous and heavy pressure, and the last trades were at the bottom. The stalwart bulls regard this as one of the minor depressions that mark the course of every great advance while the scalpers, whose horizon is usually bounded by the edges of the wheat pet, are slow to asseverate that the market was "propped up to sell on." The market to day was narrow and the aggregate of trade was considerably below the average of half a dozen business days. Corn was less active to-day and the business passing was almost entirely local. Not for several days have outside orders been so light. A few local sports were covering and that seemed to be the extent of the demand. Kammer bought in a considerable line through a broker toward the close and others followed suit. Murray Nelson sold corn easily, but appeared as a buyer later. The scalping crowd all seemed to want some one to break, yet the support given to the market was of a half-hearted sort all the way through. It was im-possible, with the feeling on wheat as weak possible, what the teering on wheat as weak as dishwater, to expect corn to boom, espec-ially as there was nothing in the way of out-side news to back it up. Cables noted a further decline in spot property of 14d, and the New York market only held its own. While the receipts at this point were 1000 cars, upder, estimates towarrow's run 1,000 cars, under estimates, tomorrow's run was figured at 530 cars, which is pretty lib-eral for Tuesday. Sellers May opened at 43%c, or a shade easier, and after touching 45% improved slowly to 43% 6648%. During the last half hour a reaction to inside figures took place, and at o'clock the market closed at 43 476434 sellers. The seller month rested at 37% January at 38e, and February at 38e, being a shrinkage during the regular session in leading futures of $\frac{1}{2}\ellipset$. The demand for free on board cars was not very general, as it is understood that the cut rate on east bound grain has been obtained by two or three shipping houses, and they were doing nearly all the buying. Oats were a drug in the speculative market, and prices weakened 18(4)4c, January closing at 25%c at 1 o'clock, and May at 51½(33)3c. Not more than a dozen trades were made all forenoon, and the market was without new features. Prothe market was without new features. Provisions were moderately active and prices averaged lower, though the market exhibited many signs of positive strength during the first half of the long session. During the last hour and a half pork declined 20c and ribs 10c. At 1 o'clock ribs showed a shrinkage of 125-2615c as compared with yesterday, and pork 106/131-c. Packers were free sellers of all products for long futures on the hard spots.

2:30 p. m. - Wheat continued on its downward course during the short session, selling a: 84%c, the lowest point of the day, and closing at 84% @85c. New York reported closing at $474@Sec. New 107k reported twelve and a half boat loads taken for export. May corn sold down to $434c, closing at $344@433c, January pork was 5@714c cheaper, and lard 5c lower.

Waking up Monpay night, he had heard men in his room. He had learned a good deal about Omaha, and at once concluded that the in truders were burglars. He called aloud for help, but the officer that came could find no one in his room, and arrested and locked up Hess on a charge of disturbing the peace. Hereafter citizens who wake up and find thieves in their houses should preserve a strict silence and allow the intruders to do burgie unmolested. This would seem to the safest thing to do, unless a man wants to run the risk of landing in jail.
