Permit to wed was yesterday given to Hugh Thompson, of Creston, Ia., and Anna Mack, of North Bend, Neb. The Ogden house livery folks say that it is a mistake about the bursting of a water pipe causing any flood at their place. The pipe was near there, but caused them no trouble. Negotiations are pending for the purchase of the old Union avenue hotel properly near the dummy depot, with a view of having a good hotel built on the site. It is a good location, and should be im-The Carroll Sentinel in reference to Freddie Gerstenberg asks why the people of Council Bluffs do not send the outlit up to Ida county? Council Bluffs would gladly send them to a hotter place, but they won't go. Robert Mullis yesterday sold to Mrs. Alice Wilson a portion of the corner where his store is located, it being twenty-three feet on Broadway, and running back 120 feet on Madison street. The consideration was $5,000. The greatest fox hunt of the season is that being made by Col. Fox, who has since the first of January forcelosed fifteen mortgages, more than any other constable or agent in the county. He proposes to beat the best record. Other merchants should follow the example of the hardware dealers and close their stores early. The employes will do better work and more of it if shorter hours are fixed, and the public will be as well satisfied. Let the reform be promptly inaugurated. Dr. Jeffries is on the war path about the way in which he has been treated by the medical board of examiners, and pur poses practicing medicine as usual and if any complaint is made then he will resist to the bitter end. The war promises to be a lively one if the chip is knocked off the shoulder. The Logan memorial services this after-noon at 2 o'clock in the temple hall will doubtless cause the hall to be crowded. Those attending should go early to se-The veterans are to meet at the Grand Army hall a half hour earlier and proceed to the ball in a body,

A telegram from Olney, received here yesterday, announces the death of Col-onel Shaw, father of Mrs. Joseph Lyman, which occurred Friday evening at 6 o'clock. Colonel Shaw had served several terms in congress and was a very prominent man in that state. He was aged seventy years. He had, during his frequent visits to this city, formed numerous acquaintances here. It is a little matter of curiosity as to how it is that J. J. Fraincy is allowed $18.85 witness fees in the case of the 'Major' when Fraincy was the silent partner in the legal firm which defended him on the trial, and he served in the capacity of an attorney instead of a witness. Possibly the fees accrued from an ineffectual attempt of the grand jury to pump Fraincy for evidence against the

There was a narrow escape from a serious accident on the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul near Neola yesterday. The spreading of the rails caused two coaches to go off the track, but luckily no damage was done, and the delay was not long in getting the train on again. Had the ears gone but a few yards further, they would have probably gone over an embankment and made a bad wreek.

The district court reconvenes on Monday. Judge Thornell will take up the civil business left undisposed of by Judge Loofbourow, and Judge Carson will be here to dispose of the criminal cases, which Judge Thornell cannot very well sit in, as he was prosecuting attorney in them at the time of trial. Judge Deemer is also expected to be here Monday morning, and he will probably go to Shelby county.

Colonel Abbott, who is quite skilled in such work, has wrought avery attractive representation of the Fifteenth army corps, Logan's old corps. It is a cartridge box, marked forty rounds. The box is full size, carved of wood, and is an exact fac simile. It is on a square base, decorated with the four colors, red, white, blue and yellow, representing the four divisions, and the whole is appro-priately draped. It will be among the decorations at the memorial services to-day, and will afterwards become one of permanent a fornments of the Grand Army hall.

In the proposed reducing of telephonic charges for connections with different towns, it was hoped that the connections between Council Blutis and Omaha would be reduced. In these days, when there is such a yearning for a closer and cheaper communication between the two cities, it seems that 10 cents for each connection with Omaha is too high an extra. The telephone company would find their busi-ness largely increased if the rates were aper. It is expected that ere long it will be possible for a person to go from Council Bluffs to Omaha for 10 cents and it seems that a telephonic message could be carried still cheaper.

Checking Extravagance.

The county board concluded its session yesterday, and adjourned until the 26th. Much of the time yesterday was taken up in the consideration of bills, especially those of the justices. These were closely scrutinized and all possible cuts made upon them. There was quite a storm raised by this slashing process, and great variety of opinion expressed as to what could be done to reduce the county's expenses, and how much slashing could legally be done. The bills were finally allowed as corrected. The chief cutting was on Justice Fraincy, whose bills have already been made public. His office has been known as a strangely expensive one for the taxpayers, and the board scenis determined to lop off all that is possible from his claims.

Caught at Last.

Constable M. J. Biair, of Minden, arrived here yesterday afternoon having in custody the notorious Frank Hinckle, and safely lodged him in the county jail. Hinckle is this time arrested on the charge of stealing a Lorse from Henry Grobe, of James township, in July last. He was then known as George Frame, but as Frank Hinekle he is best remembered elsewhere. He has caused much trouble in Harlan and other places, and has been several times arrested before, but always succeeded in getting away. When being brought in from Persia once he managed to escape by jumping through a car window. He was also under a shadow for having hired a boy to set fire to some stacks. One time on being arrested and while the handcuffs were on his hands, he suddenly called the officer's attention to the team, standing hitched, saying, "They've broken loose," and as the officer turned to look after the horses Hinckle dodged around the corner of the house and was soon lost sight of in a cornfield. The handculls were after-wards found in the field, he having in some way slipped them off and made good his escape. Officer Blair has been tracking him for some time and at last lo-cated him at Portsmouth. He found the stolen horse at that place and Hinkle a short distance east. Biair was into the house before Hinkle had a chance to run, and pulling a revolver upon him the first thing prevented his attempting any of his pranks. He put the irons upon him and kept him closely in charge until safely locked in the county jail. It is not prob-able that the fellow will get away this time and a term in the penitentiary now stares him in the face.

The New Rules.

The district judges have had much trouble in agreeing upon a set of rules for the government of the courts, so as to insure a uniform practice. They have at last thrown overboard the proposed rule providing that peremptory challenges shall be made by striking names from the jury list without announcement. The rules as finally adopted are as follows: Rule 1. Every party at the time of filing any petition, answer, reply, demurrer or motion, except motion for continuance or change of yenue, shall file with the same one plain copy thereof for the use of the adverse party, and on failure so to do, the cause may be continued at the option of the adverse party, or the paper so filed stricken from the files. A fee of 10 cents per hundred words shall be allowed for all copies and taxed with the costs. The original files shall be taken from the clerk's office only on order of judge by the clerk's office only on order of judge by leaving with the clerk receipt for same.

Rule 2. In any case once continued, where an answer is on file, either party desiring to bring such cause on for trial at any term, shall at least ten days before such term, file with the clerk a notice of trial, and no such eause shall stand for trial unless a trial notice be so filed, except by consent of parties, provided: That after the commencement of the term, the court may, in its discretion, by order entered of record, permit notices of trial to be entered in the same manner, ten days prior to such date as the court may have in such order. Such order may be days prior to such date as the court may be general, and not entered of record in each particular case. And the clerk, in preparing the court calendars, shall note thereon opposite the title of each cause noticed for trial, the words "for trial," which words shall also appear upon the printed calendar. This rule shall not apply to appearance or criminal cases, nor to proceedings in probate.

Inle 3. On the first day of the term or so soon thereafter as practicable, the court may soon thereafter as practicable, the court may make an assignment of the trial causes, which assignment will fix the day of the term on which each cause will be tried and parties will be required to conform to this order of trial. Further assignments may be made by the court as often as the progress of the business of the term shall render the same neces sary. The court may also designate particular times for the hearing of motions and de-

RIMEA. In appeals from instices' courts or other inferior tribunals in civil causes the appellant shall cause the case to be docketed by noon of the second day of the term to by noon of the second day of the term to which the same is returnable, and in case of his failure so to do the appellee may procure the case to be docketed, and will thereupon be entitled to have the judgment below affirmed, or to have the case set down for trial on its merits, as he may elect. But the judgment is alliqued may be opened at any time ment, if affirmed, may be opened at any time prior to noon of the following day of the term, by appellant's making a satisfactory showing of merit, and excuse for his defaulf, and paying to the clerk the amount of the tiling fee. If the judgment shall be opened the appellee may have the cause continued at the cost of the appellant.

RULE 5. In equitable cases where the evidence is taken in the form of depositions, there shall be submitted with the arguments an abstract of the pleadings, and evidence substantially as required by the rules of the supreme court for abstracts in appeals in equitable causes—except that the same need not be printed.

Reading Behind the Bars.

Rev. G. G. Rice has held Sunday services in the jail, and in other ways done much to better the provat condition of the prisoners in the county jull. The county board at its last session appropriated $25 for the purpose of procuring reading for the prisoners, and this has been ex-pended very judiciously by Mr. Rice, as shown from his report as follows:

shown from his report as follows:

The appropriation of $25 made by you for the purpose of procuring reading for the jail has been expended for the following publications: Century Magnaine, St. Nicholas, Youths' Companion, New York Witness, Pioneer, Harper's Weekly, tracide Courselies. Magnaine, 51 firestly Courselies. Fireside Companion. Macauley's History of England, New York Tribune. Inter Ocean, Iowa State Register, and other miscellaneous literature. The Bible so-ciety has furnished bibles and testaments for the use of the prisoners. Besides the above I have received for their use considerable periodical literature from pri-

Yate sources.
Yet I have not been able to supply the demand for reading, and I would recom-mend that this board of supervisors apmend that this board of supervisors appropriate $100 for the present year, and that the foundation be laid for a library of permanent value, to be under the care of the jailor. The books to be drawn out by the prisoners at stated times under such rules as will ensure their careful

The time has come when more needs to be done for the moral elevation, reformation and salvation of the classes who are brought into our county jail. As our county becomes more populous criminals increase, so that the jail is kept pretty well filled, and they are for the most part young men who have not yet reached that stage in crime that renders them hopeless. Generally by dissipation and fast living they have been thrown out of employment and then be-came reckless. Such need counsel and encouragement to start them again upon a better course of life."

The board received the report and passed a resolution of thanks to Mr. Rice for the services he is freely rendering for the public good. The usual appropriation was made, $25, for the like purpose this year.

Safe in the Pen. All of the prisoners convicted at the last term of the district court are now serving out their sentences, with the exception of Edwards, probably the worst one of the whole lot. His case is to come up before Judge Carson on Monday, there being a motion for a new trial to be disposed of.
Stewart, the colored man who stole a coat from the police station, is now wait ing on the tables at the penitentiary. He is used to the business. Deputy Sheriff O'Neill, who took the last batch to Fort Madison, says that Comanche Bill looked so differently after getting his whiskers shaved off that he hardly have known him, and in fact did not recognize him as he marched into dinner with the others. When new prisoners arrive it is customary to give them work for which they are best fitted. In looking over the gang from here the deputy warden fell Wallbridge, the embezzier, who used to travel for Kirscht & Co. He remarked to O'Neill, "He's a keen looking young man. What is he good for? What has he been doing for a hying?" O'Neill's humor never forsakes him, and he re-olied with his usual gravity, "Well, he'd make a good traveling man." The official did not seem disposed to grant him the position, a position which Wallbridge would gladly have had assigned him, for he never felt so much like traveling in all his life.

A New Business Block.

There has been a report quite generally circulated that the Union Pacific intended to put up a large office building on the property recently sold by the Catholic society. There seems to be no foundation for such a report, and it is a mystery how it started. The fact is that the purchasers of the property intend outting up on the site a four story building, a business and office block, both large and elegant, one of the best build-ings in the city. The church folks have been notified to vacate the property as soon as possible, so that work may begin as early as may be. This is but one of many improvements which the spring time will see started.
