A GREAT deal of excitement has been suddenly created in railroad circles in Washington by the announcement that prominent democrats are urging strongly upon the administration the selection of General Van Wyck as one of the republican members of the inter-state railroad commission...

Betrayed by Their Servants.

On the day after the legislature convened I attended the annual reunion of the Loyal Legion and heard Colonel Morrow relate what he saw at Gettysburg. It was a thrilling story portraying in vivid colors the deadly and eventful struggle which Abraham Lincoln pronounced decisive in securing for posterity a government for the people...

If what I saw at Lincoln during the late senatorial combat could be transferred to canvas by a great painter we would have a panorama as interesting as any now on exhibition. It would depict scenes as dramatic as any yet put upon the stage and characters as brutal and beastly as Richard III, treacherous as Iago, or brave, devoted and loyal as Mark Antony...

The position I occupied both before and during this fight enables me to do justice to the tried and faithful men who have dishonored themselves, betrayed their constituents and disgraced the state. Every candid man must admit that Nebraska stands disgraced before the entire country in presenting the spectacle of a commonwealth whose representatives are so lost to all sense of duty, honor and self-respect as to nullify with impunity the expressed will and wish of their constituents...

There has been very little time since the Virginia senator, Mr. Riddleberger, entered congress that he has not been engaged in some sort of contention more or less discreditable to himself and damaging to the character and dignity of the senate. He has had several personal altercations with his colleagues, has been many times personally abusive, has disregarded the rules of the senate repeatedly and defied authority...

The Town Site Swindlers.

One of the most infamous swindles of corporate rule in this state is found in the operations of the town site companies which hang like leeches on the railroads and suck the blood alike from stockholders, profits and a suffering public. Nebraska railroad wreckers are not satisfied with the profits from inside construction rings, composed of themselves and the roads which contract with themselves for railroad construction...

Reorganization of the Weather Bureau.

The president is reported to hesitate about appointing a successor to General Hazen as chief of the signal service, in deference to the growing sentiment favorable to the civil reorganization of the weather bureau. The McGlynn Case. Father McGlynn has at last made a public statement in the controversy between himself and Archbishop Corrigan. He accuses his superior of misrepresenting his position and of misquoting his letters.

Now that the senatorial election is over, the legislature should get right down to business. There is an abundance of work to be done in the few weeks remaining. Efficient railroad legislation is demanded and the demand cannot be ignored.
