FLYING JIB WAS TOO LAME TO PACE

CHILLICOTHE, O., Oct 7. -In the free-forall pace today there were three entries, F(ying Jib, Hal Pointer and Guy. Flying Jib was too inme to go. Hal Pointer's race record was 2:08% and against time 2:05%, Guy's race record 2:06%. Guy had the pole and both got away nicely, keeping close together. Hal came under the wire half a length ahead in 2:07%, beating his race record one second.

In the second heat Hal Painter went to pieces in the first quarter and at the turn in the second quarter Guy was fifteen lengths ahead, but going into the large turn and before coming into the stretch, he nearly closed the distance and came home an easy winner, with Guy running In 2:11. In the third heat Hal Pointer broke in the first and third quarters badly and came very near being distanced in 2:0004.

In the fourth heat the horses kept well together until the third quarter, when Ha! Pointer broke badly and it was all Geers could do to get inside the flannel in 2:13%. Each of the heats was very exciting and the 8,000 people went wild. Summaries:

Kansas City Sees Some Exciting Driving at the County Fair.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Oct. 7 .- Another great crowd saw the races at the fair today. The free-for-all trot carried over unfinished from yesterday was a most exciting race and was won by Nina Medium. She was given the first heat today on a foul by Combination, which so enraged P. V. Crist, one of the latter's owners, that he indulged in language for which the judges ruled him off the track and fined him $100. The free-for-all pace was another exciting race. Roy Wilkes won the third heat by a nose from Riley Medium and the fourth was a deau heat between those two horses. Summaries:

Secretary of the Treasury Addresses a Maryland Andience.

OUR NATION'S HIGH CREDIT EVERYWHERE

What Republicanism Has Done for the Country-Reciprocity and Protection and Their Good Effect on Trade -A Ringing Speech,

FREDERICK, Md., Oct. 7.-When Hon. Charles Foster secretary of the treasury, and party arrived here tonight thee were given a most vociferous reception. They were escorted to the ball where the speeches were to be delivered by a procession and two bands of music. Fully 5,000 people were in the hall to hear republicanism expounded. Other speakers for the evening accompanied the secretary. Secretary Foster began his speech by contrasting the records of the two parties during and since the war. He gave the demoerats credit for unusual frankness in this campaign. They denied the constitutionality of protection and came out for the rehabilitation of state banks of issue,

He took up the democratic charge that the reasury is bankrupt, drittersing especially Vice Presidential Candidate Stevenson for his ignorance on this question. "If," said the secretary, "Mr. Stevenson were not ignorant upon the subject be would know that this administration has redeemed and paid off $259,093,604 of its dept at a cost of more than $200,000,000 and with a saving in interest of $55,352,493,51.

"What about the inability of the government to pay about $50,000,000 414 per cent bonds, the right to pay them maturing Septemper I. 1891, and waich Mr. Stevenson says we could not pay !

Credit of the Government. "The holders of more than $250,000,000 of these bonds requested they be continued at per cent, and this administration enjoys the enviable position of having placed a goveroment loan at a lower rate of interest and in a more advantageous position than any government on earth, and Blustrated by a practical test that the credit of the United tates government under the presidency of Harrison enjoys the highest and best credit ever enjoyed. The remaining $25,000,000 has been paid. Upon this subject of the condition of the treasury the democratic party no doubt felt that the appropriations made by the Fifty-first congress (the billion dollar congress as they call it) would cause such a heavy drain upor the treasury as to be embarrassing, a situ ation that would have delighted them, and the treasury, it is true, is not overflowing with money, and doubtless requires closer tary naturally would be pleased with all ef-forts, by whomsoever made, that would prospectively improve the situation."

He then sarcastically spoke of the gratifiation given him by the announcement of the democratic leaders of the Fifty-second con-gress that they would reduce appropriations $100,000,000 and of their plans for using this surolus cash. "But alas!" said he, "these promises turned out to be a delusion and a snare; these pleasurable hopes were dashed to pieces. These democrats discovered that after all they had said in denunciation of the 'billion dollar congress' they were not only unable to reduce appropriations $100,000,000, but rather increased them $40,000,000, and even then erippled the service in many government branches by lack of adequate pro-Visions.

scruting and care than heretofore. Tue secre

Increase of Revenues. "When the democrats of this congress were at work increasing the appropriations, they were continually charging that the treasury was bankrupt. For more than eighteen months the cry of bankrupt treasury had been kept going, but at all times the treasary had promotly met every obligation of the government. The revenues were in-creasing at the rate of $3,000,000 per month over last year. Of course there was an increase of expenditures, owing principally to payments for pensions, but the first three months of the year showed a net gain in cash of $5,203,541.31."

Taking up the tariff question Secretary Foster said he did not propose to discuss the constitutionality of protection. Washington, lefferson and Jackson settled that long ago. The secretary then quoted statistics showing the benefits arising from the policy of protection. The wealth of this country has increased 203 per cent. He referred to the increased deposits of the savings banks as illustrating the savings of work-ingmen; the increase in capital in-vested in manufactures; the increase of wages; that of common laborers had doubled in price, and skilled labor had increased 125 per cent, while the cost of living had decreased 15 per cent. He defended the McKinley law, and said that while no law of this kind could be absolutely perfect upon the whole, he believed this law the ideal of the policy of protection than any previous enactment.

Under Reciprocity. He added: "Under the operations of the McKinley bill, the revenue has been de-creased $51,267,650. The value of the free mports and also the percentage of the same in 1892 were the largest in the history of our commerce, so that trade is freer than ever before and largely of such articles as are not produced in this country and which enter ato the daily consumption of people. The reciprocity provisions of the new tariff act has opened new foreign markets and our to the countries with exports to the countries with which reciprocity relations have been established, we increased by the sum of $10,286,881, stablished industries have been stimulated and new industries started, which are giving employment to hundreds of thousands o men, so that great prosperity exists in all lines of trade, while in nearly every other ountry there is more or less depression

The state bank plan in the democratic platform was taken up, and from personal experiences the secretary gave a description of the evil effects of this system in former

Speaking of the international monetary conference, he said: "I am in possession of advices that lead me to hope that such action will be taken by this conference as will result in a satisfactory solution of the vexed silver question. Being a bimetallist myself and carnestly desiring that silver shall take its rightful place beside gold. I do not believe that free counge of silver, which is desired by many of our people, would accomplish the desired result. I admit the problem is difficult, but I have faith that the statesmanship of the republican party is equal to the occasion."

WOBURN'S CELEBRATION.

Secretary of State Foster Responds to the Tonst "The President." WOBURN, Mass., Oct. 7 .- It is estimated that 20,000 strangers are in town today, the second of the quarter millennial cetebration. The weather is all that could be desired and the big procession, the feature of the fore noon, was a pronounced success. The climax of the great celebration came this afternoon in the banquet in the new Armory, Ex Mayor Johnson performed the duties of toast master. In his introductory address ne called attention to the fact that the presidents of the United States, Franklin, Pierce, Grover Cleverand and Benjamin Harrison traced their ancestry to families now, or formerly residing in Waburn, His mention of the name of throver Cleveland brought out a burst of enthusiastic applause, but when he spoke the name of President Harrison it was greeted with a perfect evation of cheers and clapping of hands.

The first toast was "The President of the United States," and after a brief letter of regret had been read from President Harrison. his representative in the person of Hou John W. Foster, secretary of state, was pre sented and given a reception that must have stirred his heart with designt. He said:

Secretary Foster's Response. "It is not for me to respond today for the president in his relation to you as a son of Woburn. I have not a drop of New England blood in my veins. My only right of kinship to this interesting anniversary is a brief residence at your mear-by venerable university. But as the early inhabitants of this ancient town loyally honored their king beyond the sea, so may we all, as American citizens with even greater propriety pay our tribute of respect to the enter magistrate, whom, by our free choice, we have placed in the supremst position of authority of this nation. It would not on this occasion be becoming in me, as a member of the president's official household to enter upon the commendation of his administration. The record which he has made and the manner in which he has charged the high trust confided to him are known to us all, and you can judge how worthity he is entitled to rank in the known to us all, and you can judge how worthity he is emitted to rank in the illustrious line of American president. I may, however, be pardoned for saying that I and my neighbors take pride in pointing to him as a typical son of ladiana. And when I make this allusion it leads me to reflect upon the influences which have moulded the character of the present and last generation of men of that proad region of the Ohio tion of men of that broad region of the Ohio and Mississippi valley where now rests the seat of empire of this republic. Dedicated to Freedom,

The northwestern territory was rescued from the blight which had been fastened upon the territory to the south of it, and was forever dedicated to freedom, mainly through the influence which emanated from the people and religious sentiments of New Processing of that England. While it must be recognized that Virginia, New York and others of the original states contributed much to the develop-ment of the northwest, the impress of no other portion of the old confederation was other portion of the old confederation was comparable to that of New England, and the present generation of that wast region west of it, more than all others combined, for the influences which mould character for good citizenship. In no era of our history has the the truth of this been more manifest than in the political turmoit and agitation which preceded, and the intense pair totism which attended the grand uprising of 1881. which attended the grand uprising of 1861. It was pre-eminently a New England movement, and when the great test of patriotism came it was the spirit formulated in the words of Massachusetts' most eloquent son a generation before: 'Liberty and union now and forever, one and inseparable,' found expression in that popular manifestation never before witnessed in any age or nation. The history of Benjamin Harrison in this respect was that of thousands of young men of the north-west, whose characters had been so greatly moulded by the influences which went out from Woburn and its neighboring towns and cities, and it is because these influences have o greatly permeated the states which were ormed out of that wast domain of freedom, that we, in Indiana, call our president s typical man of his home generation, and we are pleased to be assured by the people of this ancient corporation that he is worthy to fill the exalted post once occupied by Washington. In his name and on my own behalf, I heartly thank you for this manifestation and pray that the spirit of Godliness, of mornlity, of intelligence, of liberality and of patriotism, which for 250 years has dwelt vith you, may here abide and pervade the whole country for generations to come.'

AFRAID OF HILL.

Cleveland Men Look Upon All His Actions with Suspicion.

NEW YORK, Oct. 7 .- "Senator Hill has made his deal. From an excellent source I have it that the state democracy will endorse the republican nomination of Charles Andrews for judge of the court of appeals," says an Albany dispaten to the Herald, The Cleveland men are much disturked over the program. They fear that the senator intends to knife Cleveland and has taken this step to prevent conviction after election. With no contest in the state, if Cleveland is beaten, there will be no way of telling what did it. If a Hill candidate for fidge ran ahead of Cleveland it would be evident that there had been treachery. It is the fear of Hill and the shrewdness of his move in making the Andrews endorsement that makes the Cloveland men excited over the deal. They want a democratic nomination for judge made so as to hold tabs on Hill, and they swear they will break the deal.

"The senator does not like the nomination, and although he is not puffing over his work, he is supporting the ticket and so are his nearest friends. I find Hill men betting on Cleveland, which is a good sign of their loyatty. Hill's object in not wanting a democrat nominated for the court of appeals is more likely to be because he fears that while he is loyal, many over-zealous Hill men may vote for the judge. This would make it very incomfortable for Hill in 1896. Then again, he may not care to take the risk of having a Hill candidate for judge run behind Mr. Cleveland in this state. That would be bad, too, for Hill."

Republican City Committee, Last night the old republican city central emmittee held a meeting and decided that t was the true committee and Billy Kelly is its secretary. After a full discussion of the situation the members decided not to recognize the committee named by the recenschool board convention, and a resolution of thanks was tendered to Chairman Smith for having declined the honor o being chairman of the new committee Bills to the amount of $150, incurred in con nection with the late primary election, were ordered paid, and the committee adjourned to meet at the Republican league headquar ters on Monday night, at which time and place all candidates on the city ticket are requested to be present. RUSHVILLES REDLETTER DAY

Hon. J. G. Tate Entertains a Large Audience in Sheridan County.

INTERRUPTED BY NUMEROUS QUESTIONS

At the Conclusion of the Speaking Several Independents Concluded to Return to the Republican Ranks-Other State Political.

RUSHVILLE, Nob., Oct. 7 .- [Special Telegram to THE BEE. |- This was a red letter day for the republicans and their cause in this county. Hon. J. G. Tate arrived this morning and delivered two rousing addresses, one at the fair grounds in the forenoon and the other in the oped air in town in the evening. Although nearly half of his time was taken up by attempts of both democrats and independents to bother nim with questions which they considered ponderous and puzzling, he mot everything with an answer and fired hot shot right and left into their untenable theories until they were completely slienced. At the conclusion of the morning address a number of independents said publicly that they were done with the independent party and would benceforth vote and advocate republican principles. The republicans here are enthusiastic and harmonious, and believe what they profess, while it is becoming a notorious fact that many of the more sensible and cool headed independents are changing their views and will vote the republican ticket on November 8. An independent was heard to say a rew days are that Harrison's administration was good enough for him. NAMES CHARLES WITHNELL.

Democrats Fill the Vacancy on Their Legislative Ticket.

The democratic county central committee met last evening at the rooms of the Jacksonian club on lower Farnam, to fill the vacancy on the legislative ticket caused by the resignation of Charles Goodrich, Twentyfour of the members were present, and it was speedily decided to settle the matter by secret ballot. But two names were presented-those of George Sternsdorff and Charles Withnell, and a single ballot was all that was necessary. It gave Sternsdorff four and Withnell twenty, and the latter was duly announced as the party's nominee. The report of the executive committee, fixing the assessment to be levied on each can didate, was then read and endorsed by the committee and the meeting adjourned. The The assessment is about the same as last year and is sufficiently large to occasion a few voluptuous regrets in the breasts of such of the nominees as fall to make connection on election day.

After the meeting the committeemen commiserated Sternsdorff on his defeat and as-sured him - that he was their choice and that they did all they could for him. Fifteen of them declared that they voted for him and eight of the number offered to make affidavit to that effect, but the defeated camildate only smiled in a painful way and said that he would like to buy a few carloads of such affidavits at their actual value and sell their at their makers' price, as two or three such speculations would make him a millionaire Sternsdorff's incredulity grieved Pat Ford and he offered to bet $12.80 that the ex-representative could not nome the faithful four. "Oh, I know you voted for me, Pat," tear fully sobbed Sternsdorff, "but the tellers couldn't find it." And with that the Third ward statesman was forced to be content.

One of Sternsdorff's supporters loudly de-clared that Sternsdorff' had been sold out, and was somewhat uncomplimentary in his remarks concerning an unidentified lot of unpronounceables who would "promise to ote for a man and then vote to have a secret ballot that they might go back on their word without fear of detection." It seems that seventeen of the members had thus pledged themselves in advance, and their embarrassment was neither un-The successful candidate was put on at the equest of some of the union labor organiza nons, which had hitherto been unrepresented on the ticket, and some of the party leaders thought that political policy demanded such a move, hence the fall of snow on Mr. Sternsdorff's hopes. The nominee is a brick

LOGAN COUNTY STALWARTS.

Magnificent Meeting at Gandy-Independ ents Disgusted at Their Own Party. GANDY, Neb., Oct. 7 .- | Special Telegram to THE BEE. |-The Logan county fair has been in progress for three days, with a very fine display of agricultural products. Monday was democratic day, when two or three democrats entered the hall, shouted "Hurrah for Cleveland!" and retired. Tuesday was independent day, and the representa tives of that party in this county, to the number of almost one dozen men and as many boys, formed in procession and marched around the square to the music of a martial band. There was one float bearing two dead soldiers, over which was suspended a white shirt, the bosom bespattered with red, bearing the inscription, "The G O. P. Argument," which was borne after the parade by the editor of the independent organ of this liers of both republican and democratic aith, who had congregated to hear the speaking, were so enraged at the bloody shirt demonstration that they retired in dis

Wednesday evening the republicans of this county had the most enthusiastic raily ever witnessed in this section of the state. A torch-light procession of 100 torches, headed by the Gandy brass band, paraded the streets was greeted all along the line by loud cheers and shouts for Harrison and Reid.

After the procession A. W. Scott of Lin-coln addressed an audience of over 500 people, making an able analysis of the tariff question. He was followed by Simon Cameron of Broken Bow in one of the most rousing speeches ever listened to by the people of this county. The hall was appropriately dec-orated and a portrait of Prosident Harrison, wreathed in flags and surmounted by the American eagle, adorned the stage. Repubican enthusiasm ran high and the able expo nents of republican principles were wildly applauded by the crowd present.

KICKING KANSAS DEMOCRATS.

Those Who Object to Being Hitched Up with Populists Make Themselves Heard. TOPEKA, Kan., Oct. 7 .- The straight-out lemocrats who protest against the fusion made by the democratic party with the populists at the convention held last July, at which it was agreed to vote for the people's party state ticket in return for the support of the people's party for the democratic elec-toral ticket, assembled here today. In num-bers the convention was a disappointment to the projectors. The convention was called for 10 o'clock, but the attendance was so slim at that hour it was decided to wait until 11:30 in hope that the morning train would bring in more delegates. When that time came it was decided to attempt only preliminary organization in the morning and wait until the afternoon trains arrived, W. W. Mitchell called the meeting to order and introduced A. A. Harris of Fort Scott as chairman. In a speech he outlined the policy which the convention expected to pursue. It was simply to register a protest and absolve democrats from allegiance to the July convention. A recess until the afternoon was then taken.

At 3 o'clock the convention reassembled, the attendance having been materially in-creased since the morning. About 400 dele-gates were present when the enairman rapped for order. The temporary organization was made permanent, and then the resolutions were introduced and adopted.

The resolutions eulogized the democratic onal platform and ticket, but denounce as an unparalleled political crime the action of the state convention of July 6, which attempted to bind the democrats to the support of the people's party state ticket. The reso-lutions further deny the charges of the peopic's party pistform and leaders that the state is on the verge of material political and moral ruln; oppose the enactment of any legislation cending to impair obligations or credit, and declare every democrat free to exercise his individual judgment in voting for state officers.

A lengthy address to voters, similar in character to the resolutions, was also pre-

c. K. Heliday, editor of the Topeka Democrat, who a few days ago renounced fusion made a motion that a straight democrati-ticket be put in the field. He said tha when he took down the fusion ticket from posed the stalwarts would give the dem crats a chance to vote for democrats, at least for state officers. He, for one, and there were thousands of democrats who shared his sentiments, would never vote for a republican governor. The motion was promptly defeated.

A central committee was elected, and then, after several addresses, the convention adjourned.

The central committee met this evening and organized. Colonel A. A. Harris was elected chairman, William Mitchell, secre-tary, and W. H. Rossington, treasurer. A collection was taken up for a fund to be sent to the national democratic headquar-ters. It amounted to $500 and will be sent to-

BAKER AND EDGERTON.

Republicans and Independents Entertained by a Debate at Farnam. FARNAM, Neb., Oct. 7.- | Special Telegram to THE BEE. |-The narvest festival and barbecue which was held here today was a rousing success, about 1,030 people from the three counties of Dawson, Frontier and Lincoln being present. The ox was roasted and the multitudes fed out of the abundance brought to the feast by the country people. Delegations were present from Lexington, Cozad, Gothenburg and North Piatte on the Union Pacific and Eustis, Moreneld, Curtis and Stockville and the surrounding country. The barbecus was a noveity and everybody enjoyed it. J. W. Edgerton was the speaker selected for the independents and Hon. Ben S. Baker for the republicans. Mr. Edgerton opened the debate and spoke for forty-five minutes, and was followed by Mr. Baker, who most effectively answered all his propositions and gave him something to think of in the future. The speeches were followed by one from Captain W. C. Henry of the Grand frmy of the Regublic, who addressed the veterans in his usual pointed and happy

The music was furnished by the local band and one from Gothenburg. The latter was especially good and the occasion was made much more pleasant by them. The speakers were limited to one hour each and the audience would have been giad to have had an hour or two more listening to them. The exercises were thristed by a campure in the evening, presided over by the Grand Army of the Republic post of this place. Captain Henry was the principal speaker.

Clarks' Political Demonstration CLARKS, Neb., Oct. 7 .- | Special Telegram o THE BEE. |-Clarks was enlivened tonight bya torchlight parade of republicans, being composed of fifty republicans, from Silver Creek and 150 of the Clarks' Marching club After the parade the opera house was crowded with an enthusiastic audience. Hon, N. D. Keyes, candidate for representative. made the opening address and was followed an instructive and interesting address of the national finance question. Many inde-pendents were converted and joined the republican ranks. The Clarks Glee club as usual was heartily encored.

Manifested Much Interest Bontus, Neb., Oct. 7 .- | Special to Tit. BEE, |- The republican rally at Boeins, How ard county, last night was a grand success both as regards attendance and interest. J N. Paul and J. A. Hoggart of St. Paul ad aressed the meeting on the issues of the cam paign. Their remarks were convincing and made votes for the republican party. At the close of the meeting a republican club of thirty members was organized, with Charle Seeber president and J. S. Jones secretary, Prospects are very flattering for republican success in Loup Fork precinct.

Sixth Ward Republicans. At the meeting of the Sixth Ward Repub lican club to be held at Twenty sixth and Lake streets on Saturday evening speeches will be made by Charles J. Greene, C. A. Goss. Dr. M. O. Ricketts and others. The stars and stripes will float hereafter from the tallest and est flag pole in the city, in front of the club's headquarters. A joint discussion with the Sixth Ward Democratic club is being arranged.

Rousing Rally at Cambridge. Cambringe, Neb., Oct. 7 .- | Special Tele gram to THE BEE. |- A rousing republican rally was beld here last night in the opera house. The McCook club came down with the band and sixty members. It and the Cambridge club and band marcaed through the town with torchlights, making a stirring scene. S. A. Slatterly and Hon. George Hastings spoke and were enthusiastically re served by an audience that tested the seating capacity of the house.

WYMORE, Neb., Oct. 7 .- | Special Telegran o THE BEE. !- The opera house was packed this evening with people from Wymore and the surrounding country to hear the joint discussion between Hamer and Dech. The argument of Deen looked very small after it had been pounded with the solid facts of the republican candidate
