MEASURES THAT HAVE BEEN DISTORTED

Over Eighty Mistakes Discovered in the Naval Appropriation Bill-Incidents of Clerical Incapacity-Yesterday's Work of the Senate.

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 20 .- The cre dentials of Senator Allen, appointed by the governor of the state of Washington, were read and laid on the table.

Mr. McPherson offered a resolution (which was referred to the committee on education and labor) directing the commissioner of labor to make a report at the opening of the Fifty-third congress, comprehending the facts as to the total cost of producing various iron and steel products and of the leading articles of textile industry, and of other articles, the cost of which may be approximately obtained.

Mr. Allison offered a resolution (which was referred to the committee on rules) permitting photographic copies to be taken of certain ancient executive communications in the files in the archives of the senate for ex-hibition at the World's Columbian exposi-

Mr. Chandier offered a resolution (which was referred to the committee on epidemic diseases) directing the secretary of the treasury to ascertain and report at the first session of the next congress the value of real and personal property belonging to any state or municipal government, designed or used for quarantine purposes, and the prices at which such property may be purchased by the United States.

Mistakes Abounded.

A resolution was introduced by Mr. Cock-A resolution was introduced by Mr. Cock-rell for a reprint of the Indian appropriation bill—and which was finally agreed to—led to a pretty long discussion of the numerous errors that have been discovered in the enrollment of appropriation bills. Mr. Hale said that he had found more than eighty errors in the naval appropriation bill; some of them were important. Grave questions had been raised by errors in the appropria-tion bills—errors committed, not by the sen-ate clerks, but by the house clerks. One of ate cierks, but by the house cierks. One of those errors was the insertion of $37 instead of $37,000 as an appropriation for the bureau of engraving and printing.

Mr. Allison thought some of the errors committed at the last session were inexcusable. He regretted them very much, but he knew of no way whereby the senate could exercise jurisdiction over the enrolling clerks

Mr. Cockrell stated it as a well known fact that three of the important appropriation bills of the last session had never been prop-erly compared and could not have been ex-cept at the expense of an extra session of

Mr. Gorman Explains.

Mr. Gorman said that the appropriation bills had never been so delayed as at the last session. Two or three of the great appropriation bills had been delayed in the last two days of the session by useless discussion of other matters. The result had been that when the bills went to the house to be enrolled there was not sufficient time to have the work properly done. He admitted that there had been great carelessness. In the naval appropriation bill, a great number of errors had occurred. They occurred on every page of the bill. Still the fact remained that if the senate clock had shown standard time the naval appropriation bill, even in its imperfect form, would not have been presented for the signature of the president. It was a lesson which he trusted no senator would forget hereafter. It was to be regretted that so many errors had occurred, but it was a wonder that there was not still more of them. He added that one of the appropria-tion bills had not reached the senate (en-rolled) until 1 o'clock on the 4th of March by standard time, or 1 o'clock by the senate

When this discussion closed the senate proceeded to executive business and soon adjourned until Wednesday.

MORNON CHURCH PROPERTY. T Litigation Between the United States and that Sect Not Yet Ended. Washington, D. C., March 20.—The litigation between the United States and the late corporation of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints, commonly known as the Mormon church, has not yet ended, and the supreme court has before it an application respecting the use to which shall be put the church property escheated by the court's decision at a previous term as held contrary to public policy. When the property was de-clared forfeited the court directed the Utah supreme court to fix the charitable uses to which it should be put. The court rejected the proposition of the government as to the use which should be made of the property amounting to about $400,000 and directed that it should be applied to the support and aid of the poor members of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints and to the building and repairing of houses of worship for the members of the church. United States has appealed from this de-cree, asserting that it would practically permit the property to be devoted to the same purposes for which it was formerly held. Today the United States supreme court, with the concurrence of both parties to the suit, advanced the case and assigned it for hearing the second Monday of next term. APPOINTED SENATORS.

Privileges and Elections. WASHINGTON, D. C., March 20. - The senate committee on privileges and elections held a meeting this afternoon in regard to the credentials of the appointed senators from the new states. Senator Allen, appointed by the governor of Washington, appeared be fore the committee and recited the facts con nected with his appointment, and gave the committee the benefit of his opinion as to the REPUBLICAN SENATORS CAUCUS.

They Resolve to Oppose Any Attempt to Reorganize at this Session.

Washington, D. C., March 20.—The repubticans met in caucus this morning to consider the threatened attempt by the democrats to reorganize the elective officers of the senate. There was a full attendance, Senator Sherman presiding. It was declared that this was contrary to all precedent at a special session, and would seriously interfere with the public business. It was unanimously agreed that the chairman should wait on Mr. Gorman, chairman of the democratic caucus, and notify him that any attempt at reorganization would be very distracted to the reigation would be very distasteful to the re-publicans, but there would be no opposition to the election of Mr. Harris as president pro tempore. The committees and cierks have been changed and the republicans say the reorganization is complete for this session If the democrats try to go further the republicans will quote from the records of 1881 when the democrats opposed any effort of this sort by the republicans. If this is not sufficient another caucus will be held, with the probability of a devision to fillbuster as the democrats did in 1881. The republicans say that they have the power to prevent the reorganization if it comes to a pinch.

REWARDED THE FAITHFUL.

President Cleveland Sends a Batch of Nom inations to the Senate.

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 20.-The president sent the senate the following nomina tions: James Q. Eustis of Louisiana, minister to France; Theodore Runyon of New Jersey, minister to Germany; John E. Riley, minister to Denmark ; James G. Jenkins; of Wisconsin, United States circuit judge of the Seventh judicial circuit; Walter D. Dabney of Virginia, solicitor of the Department of State: Charles B. Stuart of Texas, judge of the United States court for the Indian territory; Ernest P. Baldwin of Maryland, first auditor of the treasury; Thomas Holcomb, fifth auditor of the treasury; Wade Hampton of South Carolina, commissioner of railroads. Postmasters: W. L. Perry, Madison, Neb.; Frank Warring, Florence; Paul J. Millard, Antigo: Dowitt S. Johnson, Rhinelander, all of Wisconsin.

The senate confirmed the following nomi-nations: Isanc P. Gray of Indiana, minister to Mexico; Josiah Quincy of Massachusetts, assistant secretary of state; James B. Eustis, minister to France; Patrick A. Collins of Massachusetts, consul to London; Robert A. Maxwell of New York, fourth as-sistant postmaster general; Wade Hampton sistant postmaster general; Wade Hampton of South Carolina, commissioner of railroads; William McAdoo of New Jersey, assistant secretary of the navy; Postmasters Charles H. Long, Tipton, Ia.; Stephen Smith, Tama, Ia., and some military nominations.

It appears that the senate has acted on all the nominations, except that of E. B. Whitney of New York, to be assistant attorney general and one or two minor nominations.

C., March 20,-Miss Clara Barton, president of the American National Red Cross society, in accepting the magnificent gift of between 700 and 800 acres of land on the borders of the blue grass region in Indiana, tendered the association last month by Dr. Joseph Gardner of Bedford, Ind., writes:

"This land as the property of the American National Red Cross society will be the one piece of neutral ground on the Western hemisphere protected by international treaty against the tread of hostile feet. It is a perpetual sanctity against invading armies and will be so respected and held sacred by the military powers of the world.

COTTON RAISING IN THE SOUTH.

Senator George of Mississippi Prepares an Address to the Planters.

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 20.-Senator George of Mississippi, who, under the terms of a senate resolution, has been engaged in an investigation of the cause of the agricultural depression prevailing in the cotton states, has prepared an address to the cotton farmers of the United States, in which he says, among other things: "The natural rise in the price of the crop now being marketed has been largely impeded by the great strike among the cotton operatives in England and the effect, which has been to decrease the amount consumed by British factories.

"The prospect of another large crop coming from increased acreage, if that should happen, would not only be an effectual bar to any rise in the price, but would cause a still further decline.

"After much reflection upon data collected from all countries adapted to raising cotton I am satisfied that we are never, at least in this generation, to have generally the high prices for cotton we once had. Cotton will never, but in exceptional cases and for short periods, be high enough to warrant the pro-ducer to rely upon it as a means of purchas-ing supplies which can be raised at home."

Harrity Calls on the President.

Washington, D. Under this class were included Mr. William P. Harrity, chairman of the national den cratic committee, and Mr. W. U. Hensel, at-torney general of Pennsylvania. Their visit was very brief and, according to Mr. Har-rity, very pleasant. The two Pennsylvania rity, very pleasant. Be Unusually Exciting.

LINCOLN, Neb., March 20 .- [Special to THE BEE.]-City politics appear to be the chief concern of Lincoln citizens now, and additional caloric was injected into the campaign today when the independent city central committee applied to the district court for a mandamus to compel City Clerk Van Duyn to place the names of O. W. Cromwell, candidate for city attorney; J. C. McNerny, police judge: William Crombie, water commissioner; J. P. Walton, city engineer, on the Australian ballot. These offices were filled last year, presumably for two years, but Mayor Weir has taken legal advice and included them in his election proclamation, claiming that the election last year was simply to fill a vacancy. In order to test the matter and receive the court's endorsement or disapproval it was arranged that the city clerk should refuse to place those names on the ticket and afford interested parties an opportunity to test it in the courts. The history of the controversy is a long one, but

For four years prior to March, 1887, Lincoln was organized as a city of the second class having more than 10,000 inhabitants. On March 25, 1887, the governor approved an act to incorporate cities of the first class having less than 60,000 and more 25,000 inhabitants. This was an original act. It was not amendatory of the act under which Lincoln was then incorporated. That act, somewhat amended, is still in force, and several cities in this state are now organized under it.

tors of the reorganized city of Lincoln elected a mayor, treasurer, clerk and councilmen under the new law. On March 29, 1889, the governor approved an act to incorporate cities of the first class. This new act ropealed the act of 1887. But an examination of its provisions will show that it was amendatory of the act of 1887, and was not an original act. The governor issued no proclamation under the law of 1889. April 9, 1891, the governor approved an act amendatory of the act of 1889. No proclamation has been issued by the governor under this act, and none since the proclamation of March 25, 1887.

The great authority upon municipal cor-porations says: "A repeating clause in a re-vised and amendatory charter, whereby a former provision is included in the revised act, does not, as to such provision, interrupt the continuity of the original act." 1. Dil-lon on Municipal Corporations, section 85. Under the rule thus announced, and by orce of section 3 of the charter, the words, "at the first annual election after such proc lamation by the governor." in section 13, must be held to refer to the governor's proclamation of March 25, 1887, and the annual lamation of March 25, 1887, and the annual election on the first Tuesday in April thereafter. As amended in 1801, therefore, section 13, in effect declares that a mayor, treasurer, clerk, water commissioner, city attorney, city engineer and police judge shall be elected in 1887 "for the term of two years and biennially thereafter." As thus construed the statute declare. the term of two years and biennially thereafter." As thus construed, the statute declares, first, that the water commissioner, city attorney, city engineer and police judge shall be elected at the same election at which the mayor, treasurer and clerk are elected; and second, that each election shall be held in 1887 and biennially thereafter.
Additional interest in the campaign is infused by the organized effort to compal the fused by the organized effort to compel the withdrawal of R. B. Graham, republican candidate for mayor, and place John B. Wright in his stead. The matter will be discussed at a meeting of the republican city central committee tomorrow evening.

North Ninth street was the scene of an exciting scrap this morning. The Daily Unionist is the title of a morning paper that has been issued daily by the striking printers, the material having been rented by the printers from William O'Shea. On this material Hallock & Co. of Omaha held a chattel mortrage which they some weeks are sold mortgage, which they some weeks ago sold to John McIntosh, a master printer of this city. The mortgage was overdue, and at 9 o'clock this morning McIntosh and a con-stable appeared for the purpose of taking possession. By some means the boys had learned of the anticipated move and had sent their forms to the Newspaper union to be printed before the constable arrived. They contained a screecher of an editorial, denouncing the action as instigated by the Journal and the boodle gang to kill the paper and cripple the Typographical union. A rush was made by the constable to secure

The constable and mortgagee next appeared with a big van, and were loading up with the entire contents of the office, when with the entire contents of the office, when William O'Shea appeared and ordered them to leave a portion of the goods, which it transpired later were not covered by McIn-tosh's mortgage. Before this was dis-covered, however, McIntosh and O'Shea had a little round-up with their fists, and the police were called, but no arrests made.

There were lively times for a few minutes, but the material was moved to South Tenth street, where it will be used in the publication of a daily labor paper in the interests of Graham, republican nominee for mayor. The new paper will be known as the Nebraska Workman, and the union printers claim it is started with the intention of
