Rich Placer Diggings and Lead Properties

The first shipment of seventeen tons from the Moose at Crippie Creek netted $250 per ton after freight and smelting charges were paid. This undoubtedly is as good, if not better, returns than from any first shipment ever made from the camp. The Moose vein is from six to seven feet wide and the hien grade streak is three feet in width and, without any sorting, will run about fifteen ounces. The remainder of the vein runs from two to three ounces and seems to be imfrom the Seven Devils, is registered at the proving as depth is reached. A couple of assays on the second grade ore were made Capitol, says the Boise Statesman, Mr. which showed that it was worth $150 per ton. J. B. Whoeler, the well known banker and mine owner of Aspea, controls a onehalf interest in the mine

The Grouse-Garfield shaft and ore house is filled with ore. Rich stuff is being hoisted faster than it can be handled by the ore says there are a number of first-class lead erters and an addition will have to be ad properties in that section, and he thinks to the ore house in the near future. The that in time it will rival the Coeur d'Alenes

60 per cent lead and fifteen ounces silver per ton. Development work has been done on the Decorah, owned by Banker Steele of Portland, Ore. The body is thirty feet wide, the finest copper in the world. Messes, Lockwood and Bartimeers of Indian valley made a rich gold discovery on Rapid river. They found a ledge which as-mortar for half a day on some of the rock and it yielded $45. They are now at work on 300 pounds of this rich rock.

Tom Richards has made some rich discoveries of tellurium ore in the Summers says $2,116 to the ton. They worked a hand

Valuable placer diggings have been found along Rapid river, Bear and Horn creeks.

Miners have taken out as high as turee ounces a day each. From the fact that the gold found along these creeks is coarse, ragged and mixed with quartz Mr. Markson thinks the main ledge is not far distant from the placer grounds and says that when they find it it will be a bonanza. He predicts a big rush into the Seven Devils next spring.

Big Railroad Project. Articles of incorporation of the Payette Valley & Northern Railroad company have been filed with Secretary of State Curtis. The company is composed largely of the pro-moters of the Seattle, Boise & Salt Lake railroad and the new project is more in the nature of a reorganization of that company

The proposed road is to run from some point on the Oregon Short line near Payette in a northerly direction to Lewistown or Moscow, as may be determined in the future. From Council Valley a branch is to be run into the Seven Devils country. This section of the road is to be built first, the necessity for railroad communication with that section becoming more imperative every year.

Another branch, according to the plans of the promoters of the scheme, is to be built from the confluence of the Payette river and Little Willow creek to Garden Valley, and still another branch from Salmon Meadows to the Great Payette lakes is pro-posed. The plan as detailed in the articles of incorporation contemplates the construction of about 400 miles of road in all.

The company is incorperated for $10,000, 000, the stock being divided into 100,000 shares of the par value of $100 each.

Mr. Sproat, who was a prime mover in the Seattle, Boise & Salt Lake railroad project. said all arrangements had been made and the contract let for the construction of the road from Payette to the Seven Devils when the financial panic came on. This knocked all the plans in the head and it was now necessary to alter the entire route of the proposed road in keeping with the changed condition of affairs.

Gas at Grand Junction.

George Arthur Rice is enthusiastic on the subject of natural gas at Grand Junction and expects to see great things come of it. The actual pressure is 200 pounds to the square inch, whereas the actual-not the reported pressure at Sait Lake—was not over 150 pounds, says the Denver Times. The gas has the true odor of petroleum and comes from the shale rock 500 feet down, so that the supply seems to be a permanent thing. When lighted the fisme shot up as high as the Equitable building, and the immense pressure must be overcome before the work!

The projectors in the development are: George Arthur Rice, T. M. Jones, J. F. Mc-Farland, W. P. Grout and Prof. Skerrit, a

The Colorado Irrigating company, mostly composed of Denver capitalists, has projected a canal to irrigate 1,200,000 acres of land in the Salton desert, says the Denver Times. To convey water from Colorado river at a point nine miles above Yuma to said desert will necessitate the crossing of the Mexican border. Mexican land owners, through which the land will pass, insist apon the land adjacent to the proposed canal being furnished with water before the right of way be allowed. The projectors contend that if they are compelled to irrigate these lands they will have no water left to supply the Salton desert, and therefore they have appealed to the United States government to interfere in their behalf. Should water be placed upon the tract in question its value will be from $10,000,000 to $20,000,000, and the total length of the canal will be about 400 miles. The estimated cost is close upon $5,000,000.

Dakota Invention.

Thomas P. Mavin, a farmer living near Stover in Davison county, has invented a neat thing in the way of a riding attachment for a harrow, says the Sioux Falls Argus-Leader. The device consists of one large wheel attached by a swivel at the rear of the harrow, the draft being directly from the front side and close to the horses, and so attached as not to interfere with the true workings of the harrow. It has a spring seat neatly arranged directly over the axie of the wheel. It has been thoroughly tested on a number of different makes of harrows and has proven to be an unqualified success. Mr. Mavin has already received propositions from numbers of machine

WANT TO PRESIDE. Competitive Race for Chairmanship of the City Council.

An interesting fight is developing for the presidency of the city council for the coming year. The candidates are President Bechel, D. H. Wheeler and A. and Ed Howell on the democratic side. The contest is a friendly one is admitted beyond question that Mr. Hascali cuts a figure in this fight. He can command almost anything in reason for his vote. Leaving Mr. Elsasser in the council the republicans will have nine votes and the democrats eight, while Mr. Hascall represents the independent strength. However Mr. Elsasser states that his resignation will be forthcoming and become effective January 6, the day he assumes his duties as regis-ter of deeds. The reorganization takes place January 2. As Mr. Hascali holds the balance of power so far as the republicans are concerned be is looked to for assistance by both sides. The gentleman from the First is shrewd enough, however, to keep his own counsel and not an inkling has been given as to, where he will land. He can make a republican president, but not a democrat in case the party lines are drawn, and it is not denied that they will be. In fact it is conceded that unless an unexpected deal is made no break will occur. The republican members favor a caucus nominee, and will in this manner choose between Bechel, Wheeler and Edwards. As Mr. Howell is the only aspiring democrat he will have the united support of those of his faith. Among the republicans the preferences are about evenly divided between the three candidates, with the chances of President Bechel's having slightly the best of it. Wheeler and Edwards will have about equal chance in the caucus and it will require some wire pulling for either to win. Mr. Bruner threatened to disrupt the republican forces, as he has not forgiven the slight re-ceived last year. In making up the committees the gentleman from the Eighth was not recognized and given only the chairmanship of the committee ou rules. When the new rules were made it was by a special commit-tee, and thus Mr. Bruner has been relieved from all responsibility. However, he will be better recognized next year in case the republicans are victorious in the coming contest, and for this reason he is counted on to fall in line. The republicans have the greatest confidence in Hascail's linking his tortunes with them. He wants one of the important committees, and have the chairmanship of oither the judi-ciary or finance, and would also like to be one of the members of the Board of Health, where he would be in a position to distribute a little patronage to his populist friends. He will probably get what he wants.

Mr. Howeli is making the most aggressive fight of any of his competitors, and is confi-cent of success. He counts on Mr. Hascall and a republican vote or two. Just who the

it is understood that he would be pleased to

During the coming two weeks there will be a general hustling all along the line, and the aspiring gentlemen will set up their pins and go into the fight to win. We could not improve the quality if we paid double the price. DeWitt's Witch Hazel

Joseph Arthur's standard comedy-drama

"The Still Alarm," which maintains its position without question among the popular plays of the day, will be presented at the Fifteenth Street theater, commencing next Sunday, by a company which is admitted to be stronger than the play has ever had. A play that is as well known as "The Still Alarm," and one that has proved such a great financial success needs neither introduction nor en dorsement. The prestige of its success will carry it anywhere, for no play could achieve such widespread and lasting popularity unless it possessed some extraordinary attraction "The Still Alarm" is a stirring story of a heroic fireman's life, and the author's famous engine house scene is one of the most spirited, original and thrilling bits of realism ever attempted by a dramatic author.

Fatal Wounds

Last July, when Edward McKenna was met at the corner of Ames avenue and Twenty-fourth street and assaulted and shot by Barney McClina, the general opinion provailed that the man who fired the shot was the murderer. On this theory McGinn was arrested and held to the district court, where he has been on trial during the whole of the present week. Until yesterday everything had pointed to McGinn as the perpetrator of the crime, with the gallows staring him in the face. Matters now, however, have changed to some extent, and testimony has been introduced by the defendant calculated to show that McKenna did not come to his death as a result of the pistol wound, but that instead he was a victim of the surgeon's

The introduction of this line of defense threw the state of its feet for the time being and astonished the twelve jarors as they listened to the expert medical testi-

When the state was making its case against the prisoner all of the testimons showed that the pistol ball entered the right side of the abdomen, cut through seven of the knuckles of the small intestines and, passing downward lodged not so very far from the base of the spine. The testimony also showed that after McKenna was shot he was taken to a private house in the vicinity of where the tragedy was committed and there an opera-tion was performed, probes being forced into the wound for the purpose of locating the builet. This line of testimony was considered a clincher, as it was explained that those wounds were the immediate cause of the man's death and there was no power on earth which could have prevented him from dying. The state was congratulating itself that it had made a good case and that not a stone had been left unturaed in fastening the crime upon McGinn. Yesterday, however, Attorneys Ma-honey and Estelie, who appear for McGinn, aprung a surprise by offering to show that the doctors who performed the operation at the house were, in fact, responsitio for Me Kenna's death. To prove this Dr. J. E Summers, jr., was put upon the stand and at him was fired a hypothetical question cover-ing three pages of legal cap paper and describing the position occupied by the two men at the time when the shot was fired. Then it recited the description of the wound and the course taken by the ball. In answer to this question the doctor replied that if the pistol was fired from the direction described the ball could not have cut the knuckles of the intestines, and that if they really were cut the incisions must have been caused by the instruments used in probing for the bullet. The inflamed condition of the mouth of the wound described by the expert witnesses for the state, the doctor attributed to septic poison, which might have been introduced by the use of instruments which were the dreadful running sores and other mani not perfectly clean when they were inserted festations of this disease are beyond descrip into the wound in making the examination tion.
