REPUBLICAN SENATORS IN CAUCUS. Decide the Order in Which Bills Shall

Be Taken Up. WASHINGTON, May 29.—The republican senators held a caucus today and decided upon the order in which bills on the calendar should be taken up. There was a general understanding that nothing should interfere with the consideration of conference reports on the appropriation bills and that no obon the appropriation bills and that no abstacle should be placed in the way of reaching a vote on the Butler bond bill. Other bills are to be taken up and disposed of in the following order: Filled cheese, alcohol in the arts, fruit brandy, immigration, 5 per cent land bill, labor commission, election of senators by the people, bankruptcy, contempt of courts, courts in fidling forms. contempt of courts, courts in Indian Territory, reorganization of the Northern Pacific Railway company, Alabama election investigation, animal industry, New Hampshire war It is generally conceded that the list will be by no means completed before adjourn-ment, and the prevailing opinion in the caucus was that it would be impossible to ures, though the friends of the immigration bill will press it to consideration if it is pessible to do so.

There was so effort to have the Pacific roads funding bil placed forth on the list shead of the imigration bill, and a motion was made to this effect, but it was de-feated and a definite decision reached not to take up this bill until the next session. On motion of Senator Nelson the caucus secided not to accept any amendments to the filled cheese bill.

The river and harbor bill veto was read and referred without debate to the committee. Mr. Herman stated that action on the motion to pass the bill over the veto would probably be taken on Tuesday. The naval appropriation bill was again sent to conference, the two houses disagree-ing on the number of battleships and the senate amendment limiting the cost of armor plate to $350 per ton. Mr. Boutelle said that it had been ascertained that the average cost of armor plate was $500. He read a letter from Secretary Herbert, criticising the language of the amendment, which the sec-retary said might prevent direct contracts with shipbuilders for ships and armor. He appealed to silver men not to be deceived by this piece of politics.

VETOES THE HARBOR BILL

Measure Returned to the Congress with Executive Disapproval.

PRESIDENT WRITES A VIGOROUS MESSAGE

Believes it His Duty to Stand Between Depleted Treasury and What He Terms the Reckless Extravagance of Congress.

WASHINGTON, May 29.-President Cleveand today sent to congress a message expressing executive disapproval of the river and harbor bill. The message is as follows: "To the House of Representatives:

return herewith without approval house bill No. 7,977, entitled 'An act making appropriations for the construction, repair and preservation of certain public works on rivers and harbors and for other purposes."

"There are 417 items of appropriation con-Ist of January, 1899.

Later Mr. Bennett presented the bill to $14,000,000 for rivers and harbors. This sum at once called Joseph L Irwin and Lee the house accompanied by a report. From the house accompanied by a report it appears that the cost of the another bill for similar purposes, amount-> tions, more than $3,000,000 on their ac-count are included in the direct appropria-tions above mentioned. Of the remainder nearly $20,000,000 will fall due during the fiscal year ending June 30, 1892, and the fiscal year ending June 30, 1898, and amounts somewhat less in the years immediately succeeding. A few contracts of a like character authorized under previous estatutes are still outstanding, and to meet payments on these these more than $4,000,000 must be appropriated in the immediate future.

> "If, therefore, this bill becomes a law, the obligations which will be imposed on the government, together with the appropriation made for immediate expenditure on account of rivers and harbors, will amount to about $80,000,000. Nor is this all. The bill directe numerous surveys and examinations which as they knew nothing of the parties, contemplate new work and further contracts, papers in his effects it was learn and which portend largely increased expenditures and obligations. There is no ground O. to hope that in the face of persistent and growing demands the aggregate of appropriations for the smaller schemes not covered by contracts will be reduced or even remain stationary. For the fiscal year ending June say they have heard him say he had a wife and two daughters in the east, and that he installments on contracts which will fall due in that year, can hardly be less than a say they have heard him say he had a wife and two daughters in the east, and that he will fall was worth about $70,000. He was eccentric, and always lived where he could beard the say of the next place of meeting. The claims of the next place of meeting the next place of meeting. The claims of the next place of meeting the next place of meeting the next place of meeting. The claims of the next place of meeting the next place hended that the prevalent tendency toward increased expenditures of this sort and the concealment which postponed payments afford for extravagance will increase the burdens chargeable to this account in succeeding NOT FOR PUBLIC WELFARE.

NOT FOR PUBLIC WELFARE.

"In view of the obligation imposed by the constitution it seems to be quite clear that I only discharge my duty to the people to interpose my disapproval of the legislation proposed. Many of the subjects for which it appropriates public money are not related to the public welfare, and many of them are palpably for the benefit of limited localities or in aid of individual interests. On the face of the bill, it appears that not a few of these alleged improvements have been so improvidently planned and prosecuted that improvidently planned and prosecuted that after an unwise expenditure of millions of dollars, new experiments for their accomp ish-ment have been entered upon. While those entrusted with the management of public entrusted with the management of public funds in the interest of all the people can hardly justify questionable expenditures for public work by pleading the opinion of engineers or others as to the practicability of such work. It appears that some of the projects for which appropriations are proposed in this bill have been entered upon without Veterans of the Late War Remembered by the General Government.

"I believe no greater danger confronts us as a nation than the unhappy decadence among our people of genuine and trustworthy love and affection for our government as the embodiment of the highest and best aspira-tions of humanity, and not as the giver of gifts; and because its mission is the enforce ment of exact justice and equality, and not the allowance of unfair favoritism. I hope I may be permitted to suggest, at a time when the issue of government bonds to maintain the credit and financial standing of the country is a subject of criticism, that the contracts provided for in this bill would contracts provided for in this bill would create obligations of the United States amounting to $62,000,000, no less binding than its bonds for that sum.

"I am convinced that the bill now under consideration will open the way to insidious and increasing abuses and is itself so extrayagant as to be especially unsuited to these times of depressed business and resulting disappointment in government revenue. This consideration is important to the prospect that the public treasury will be confronted with further appropriations made at the present session of congress, amounting to more than $500,000,000.

"Individual economy and careful expenditures are sterling virtues which lead to thrill and comfort. Economy and the exaction of public moneys by the servants of the people are not only virtues, but solemn obligations. To the extent that the appropriations contained in this bill are instigated by private interests and promote local or individual sentiment among our people, already too prevalent, that their allowance cannot fail to stimulate a vicious paternalism and encourage a sentiment may properly rest upon the hope and expectation of direct and especial favore, and that the extent to which they are realized may furnish an estimate of they are realized may furnish an estimate of the repeated when the value of governmental care.

Marvelous Results.

From a letter written by Rev. J. Sneer and Reese succeeded in making their escape, but Biomberg was caught after a long chase and locked up on a charge of incorrigibility. His home is near Twenty-fifth and Patrick avenue. Sneer is the son of a member of the Salvation army and althought his mother has promised Judge Gordon a number of times to keep the boy out of mischlef, falls to do so.

Morgan, Tex., suddenly disappeared from the office. On his return a few minutes later he produced a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. He had a severe cough and cold, and in explanation said, "What is the use of my coughing my head off, when Chamberlain says his Cough Remedy will cure me. He says so himself, and pays the newspapers to say so. I have set up his advertisements in twenty different states, and it must be so." It did cure him, then he knew it was so. It always cures. Albert Cahn,

Not an ordinary test-but an opthalmoscopic examination under the personal care of Dr. Seymour, of whom Chancellor Canfield of the University of Nebraska says: "Your glasses accomplish their purpose admirably—better than anything I have yet tried." Judge Ferguson says: "I am much pleased with the glasses the people will patronize you freely when they find that you furnish such a superior article.
