HIGHER RESPECT FOR LAW

Keynote of Statements by New Fire and Police Commissioners.

NONE TAKES STAND AS EXTREMIST

Cowell Favors More Liberal Regulations for Sunday Saloons, but Says Existing Laws Must Be Enforced.

The four new members of the Omaha Board of Fire and Police Commissioners have received their commissions and are now looking forward to their first meeting. The new commissioners promise a rigid enforcement of laws, with fairness to all interests concerned.

"I was not a candidate for the office of fire and police commissioner," said Robert Cowell. "The governor expressed his views freely and emphatically at the McKinley club banquet which was held in Omaha a short time ago. On that occasion he stated that if our people were dissatisfied with existing laws that was the time to make an effort to repeal them, but for himself it was not a question as to whether he thought a law wise or obnoxious—he had taken an oath to enforce the laws and he meant to live up to his obligations. In several conversations which I have had with him since that time he has reiterated the same views and expressed himself in the same unequivocal manner. He believes the men selected will act in accordance with his ideas and wishes.

Will Make an Investigation.
"Much has been charged and stated from time to time against the numerous evils and abuses in our city. I mean to make a thorough investigation for my own information. I do not believe in promising impossibilities. Many people have ideals, but not every one can live up to them, and I consider it is no matter to regulate the affairs of a large city as one might wish. I realize, too, that it is easier to criticize than it is to perform, or perhaps it would be more correct to say instead of perform, inaugurate reforms.

"I believe the members of the new board will earnestly strive to do their duty and am sure it will be their desire to make Omaha a more wholesome place in which to live. The governor is not fanatical; on the contrary, he is broad and progressive. The Slocumb law is not of his making and may not be in accord with his views. He believes, however, in its enforcement. He appointed this board because its members felt as he did, so on that point I can say positively the Slocumb law will be rigidly enforced.

"If I may be pardoned for giving a word of advice, I would suggest that the brewers and saloon keepers had better accept the ills they have than fly to others that they know now of. Reform is in the air and throughout the state a sentiment seems to be growing favoring prohibition. Defiance of law will only aggravate and accelerate the movement and may result upon a condition which few of us want and which I personally would lament."

Page Not an Extremist.
"It is too early to speak in any definite terms of the probable course of the new board, except its intention to do its duty as it sees it," said E. C. Page. "Personally I am not disposed to be an extremist, but do believe that the city, take it as a whole, should cultivate a deeper respect for the law as such; that one's views as an individual, of the advisability of a law, pending its passage, have no relation to his duty as an official in the administration of that law when passed; that law should be administered in the spirit of reason, firmly if it is true, but fairly and impartially toward all. That it is the duty of men paid by the public to serve the public; that the employment and retention of a city employe should depend upon his fitness for the position and upon nothing else. I know of no reason why the Slocumb law should be excepted from the general rule as to enforcement."

Kennedy is Deliberate.
John L. Kennedy said: "I have not had time to read the law carefully and am not in a position to express an opinion just at this moment. I have just received my commission from Governor Sheldon, which bears date of April 4. Other pressing matters have occupied my attention for the last few days that I hardly feel justified at this time in making a public expression upon my view of the duties of a member of the fire and police board or the policies that we may pursue. I hardly think that Chief Donahue has been quoted properly in the factious interview accredited to him in the World this morning. There is nothing that I desire to say further until I have had an opportunity to go over the law carefully."

"As a member of the Board of Fire and Police Commissioners it will be my aim to work in harmony with the other members of the board for the betterment of the conditions in the city of Omaha," said W. M. Miller. "I will endeavor to keep the police and fire departments out of politics and give to the citizens and taxpayers the very best fire and police protection possible. I will insist that both departments be brought up to the highest standard of efficiency. I will enforce the laws and ordinances of the city in accordance with my oath of office."

STATUS OF ENGINEER'S BILL

H. R. 157 Considerably Changed and Now in the Hands of Governor.

City Engineer Rosewater's bill, H. R. 157, has gone through the legislative hopper and is now up to Governor Sheldon for signature. The bill was changed from its original form and is now considerably amended in character. The substance of the bill is that it will transfer from the street commissioner's department these funds and give the engineer authority over work covered by such funds: Street repaving, $21,000; bridges and culverts, $2,000; cross walks, $2,000. The street commissioner will have left the street cleaning fund. The new fund for the engineer's department will be known as the "public works fund," and beginning with 1908 this fund will be subject to a minimum of $10,000 and maximum of $150,000.

F. W. HILL KNOWN IN OMAHA

Stenographer Arrested by Hartman Was on Lucin Q-Cat-Of-Dedication Train.

Frank W. Hill, the stenographer, who has been arrested in New York for having sold to the New York World the private Hartman letters, which figure so vitally in the Roosevelt-Hartman controversy, is known to many Omaha railroad and newspaper men as the urbane and ever-accommodating secretary to Mr. Hartman on the special Lucin-Ogden out-of-the-eastern-boundary line of California in November, 1904. The Omaha newspapers and the local office of the Associated Press were personally represented on that trip and these representatives remember Mr. Hill as a very hard working and accommodating man. Having in his day done newspaper work he was able to give to the newspaper men precisely what they wanted and in the best form and was never too busy, though always covered up with work for his big chief, to be of service to the press. Mr. Hill had the faculty of keeping himself personally in the background. He is remembered as a tall, slender built man, fair of complexion, quite handsome, urbane in manner and dress, much younger looking than the dispatches now indicate he was. They say he is 37 now. Those who met him on this trip are much surprised to hear Mr. Hill's connection with this affair.

A. B. Huberman, 40 years at S. E. Cor. 13th and Douglas; 36 years direct diamond importer; sold at import prices.
