THOMAS F. WALSH IS DEAD

Multimillionaire Mining Magnate Dies After Long Struggle.

LADE FORTUNE IN COLORADO

Fest West When a York and Amassed Wealth by Silver Mining—Son's Tragic Death Mastered.

WASHINGTON, April 8.—Thomas F. Walsh, the multimillionaire mining magnate, died in this city at 12:35 o'clock last night. Death was due to a growth in the lungs, the result of an injury received years ago when Mr. Walsh was a miner in the west. Although the "Silver Mining King," as Mr. Walsh was known, had been sick for the last three months, the end came suddenly and peacefully.

Mr. Walsh, always a genial host and fond of good company, was a member of a number of clubs and belonged to several scientific societies. In the immediate past he developed a keen interest in aviation and was the leading figure in the effort to have the international aviation meet held in the national capital.

The tragic death of his only son and namesake was a most severe shock to Mr. Walsh, and from which he never fully recovered. The boy was killed in an automobile accident, which injured his sister, then Mrs. McLean.

When the Colorado silver mines built up again a few years ago it was the largest and most palatial residence in the national capital. Since then it has been surpassed by the Larz Anderson and the Perry Belmont houses.

Two of the largest and finest office buildings in the city have been built by Mr. Walsh during the last few years. One of them he named The Colorado, the other The Duray, in honor of the state in which he made his fortune.

A son born to his daughter recently has been dubbed on account of the immense wealth on both his paternal and maternal sides the "Hundred Million Dollar Baby."

At his own request the funeral ceremonies will be simple. They will be conducted by Rev. Mr. Henry, and will be held Sunday evening.

Fortune in Colorado.

Thomas F. Walsh was born in Ireland in 1851. He was educated in the public schools and early in life was apprenticed to a wheelwright. When he was 19 years old he came to the United States, going almost directly to Colorado, where he made his fortune in the development of mines. In 1879 he was married to Miss E. Reed. He was named as one of the commissioners to the Paris exposition in 1889 and had been otherwise signalized by his government.

nature of the charges made against them are withheld from the public. Among the indictments returned in cases where the defendants either are in custody or have furnished bonds are the following: Frown Crossfeather, Sioux Indian belonging on the Standing Rock Reservation, statutory assault; Glode Laramibone and Daniel Campbell, Sioux Sioux Indians, introducing liquor to Indian allotments.

McKeon Comes With Johnson

Bickard Feaz Pugilist Will Not Keep Engagement for His Big Fight.

NEW YORK, April 8.—The course of big things political took this way rapidly yesterday with Jack Gleason, one of the Jeffries-Johnson fight managers, enroute to San Francisco, and John McKeon, who has been representing the Gleason-Bickard interests here, on his way to Chicago.

McKeon will stay in Chicago until next Friday, and the fight enthusiasts say will not make his way further west except in view of the order of Mr. Pierce.

Unrestlessness on Tex Rickard's part regarding Johnson's plans is responsible for McKeon's trip to the far west with Johnson in tow. The New York agent has been instructed not to leave Chicago for the coast without being sure that Johnson is on the same train.

Gleason, before leaving, expressed himself as confident on this point. "There is no occasion for worry over Johnson," asserted Gleason. "Rickard has only conducted one big fight, the Gans-Nelson battle at Goldfield, and he may be a little nervous. Johnson has assured me that he drawn to the suit he emphatically denied that he had ever been attorney for the claimants or that there was any special reason why Assistant Secretary Pierce had handled the case. The latter had disposed of them, he said, in accordance with his general assignment of handling land office matters.

Cairo Railroad Near Completion

Dream of Cecil Rhodes is Now About to Come True After Many Years.

BRUSSELS, April 8.—Special Dispatch to The Bee.—The completion of the Cape to Cairo railway, the dream of Cecil Rhodes, is now well in sight. By the end of the year the whole extent of the line will have been surveyed. From Khartum in the south and from Broken Hill in the north the line is creeping forward to the fulfillment of one of the greatest enterprises of modern times. The line, with its 1,600 miles of steel, will be by far the longest in the world.

Mr. Huberty, secretary of the Anglo-Belgian Katanga Railway company, says if has just been decided to survey the route of the Congo extension of the Cape to Cairo line from Elisabethville, whose the famous Star of the Congo copper mines, northward to Kambove. The line between the Star of the Congo and Broken Hill (Rhodesia) will be completed by September next.

The section between Bakama and Congolo is to be begun in December, by which time the next section to the north between Congolo and Kindu will be ready. Boats on the Congo river will carry passengers from Kindu north to Ponthierville.

The line from Ponthierville to Stanleyville is in operation, and the next section north to Mahagi is already surveyed. Boats and rail complete the route northward to Lado and Khartum, whence the journey to Cairo can be made by the existing railroads.

The great bulk of the line, including some 1,000 of miles at the northern and southern ends, will be British and the remainder will pass through Belgian territory.

HYMENEAL

Slater-Casper.

Miss Candida C. Casper, daughter of Charles Casper of Bellevue, and Mr. James E. Slater of Fort Crook, were married by Rev. Charles W. Savage at his residence Friday afternoon at 4.

Ice Plant at Deadwood.

DEADWOOD, S. D., April 8.—(Special)—This city has an ice plant in full operation.

C. B. McHugh, former mine promoter, has installed a complete plant of machinery in the First ward and is turning out the manufactured product at the rate of eight tons per day. Therefore Deadwood has been supplied with ice ponds for a supply during the summer. Mr. McHugh is also planning to establish a similar plant at Belle Fourche to supply the valley country.
