

NEBRASKA ON LINCOLN WAY

Omaha to Be the Gate City in Fact on the Long Route.

MEETING AT CENTRAL CITY

Large Number Will Go from This City to Session of the Platte Valley Automobile Association October 8.

H. E. Fredrickson has returned from the meeting of the American good roads congress held at Detroit, at which place the Nebraska delegation secured the permanent location of the Lincoln highway, through this state.

Mr. Fredrickson was greatly pleased with the progress made by the local automobile men in marking the highway along Farnam street and says that within the next ten days the official surveyor of the National Highway association will be in Omaha, and in company with Fredrickson, will go over the entire highway through Nebraska.

Henry B. Joy, president of the Lincoln Highway association, made the statement to Mr. Fredrickson that Nebraska was the best marked state from the Atlantic to the Pacific coast and it was because of this fact and the condition in which the roads in Nebraska are kept that the first transcontinental highway was routed through the state of Nebraska.

Mr. Fredrickson will remain in Omaha for a few days and during that time probably will be assigned to an office in the Commercial club rooms, where he will make his headquarters. Mr. Fredrickson has been appointed consul for the state of Nebraska and will attend the meeting of the Platte Valley Automobile association at Central City October 8. He asserts that this will be the largest good roads meeting ever held in the state. A. R. Pardington, vice president and secretary of the Lincoln Highway association, will attend this meeting and address the congress on the Lincoln highway. Nearly 100 automobilists and good road boosters from Omaha will attend this meeting also. Mr. Pardington will come to Omaha on October 9 and address the members of the Commercial club at a public affairs luncheon.

The first lot of the 5,000 certificates of membership to the Lincoln Highway association are expected to arrive in Omaha soon and a large majority of them have already been asked for. Commissioner J. M. Guild of the Commercial club has paid in his $5 already and will be issued certificate No. 1 in Nebraska. Mr. Fredrickson believes that he will have no trouble getting rid of the 500 and goes so far as to say that he will have to order more to meet the demand.

THREE JUDGES HEAR CASE OF LINED OIL COMPANY

District Judges Sutton, Day and English heard arguments in a test case brought to ascertain the meaning of the state law relating to the sale of lined oil. W. A. Eddy, agent for the American Lined Oil company, who was fined in police court for the alleged selling of a lined oil compound which was not labeled as such, appeared to district court.

The defendant alleges that the labeling of the compound, which contains about 20 per cent petroleum oil for a "drier," is not necessary unless it bears a distinctive proprietary name and that labels informing purchasers that the oil is not for internal use are sufficient.

Declare War on Colds.
A crusade of education which aims "that common colds may become uncommon within the next generation" has been begun by prominent New York physicians. Here is a list of the "don'ts" which the doctors say will prevent the annual visitation of the cold:

"Don't sit in a draughty car."
"Don't sleep in hot rooms."
"Don't avoid the fresh air."
"Don't stuff yourself at meal time. Overeating reduces your resistance."
To which we would add—when you take a cold get rid of it as quick as possible. To accomplish that you will find Chamberlain's Cough Remedy most excellent. For sale by all druggists.—Advertisement.

Will Teach Special Spelling at Public Schools in Future

An attempt to teach school children how to use and spell words which they will find practical after leaving school will be made by Superintendent E. U. Graff, who has appointed a committee of five principals to prepare several lists of the most useful words to be taught as a supplementary language study.

This action follows an investigation by Hon. Philander P. Claxton, United States commissioner of education, who finds a woeful dearth of useful words among graduates of grade and high school and business colleges.

Miss Martha Powell of Long school is chairman of the committee appointed by Superintendent Graff and the other members and their respective schools are: Miss Emily Robinson, Saratoga; Miss Elizabeth Rooney, Central Park; Miss Mary Austin, Sherman; Miss Alice Orr, Lincoln.

Superintendent Graff believes it will be better for this committee to study the words used in different business and professions and list the most common ones as well as those used to best advantage in every day conversation.

Northwestern Shows Big Increase in Its Passenger Travel

The Northwestern is out with its fiscal report for the year ending June 30, 1913, showing that during the twelve months preceding it did a record passenger business. During the twelve months it carried 36,943,397 passengers, as compared with 35,790,449 during the previous fiscal year, a gain of 1,152,948.

The people hauled by the Northwestern during the period under consideration is more than all of the inhabitants of the United States west of the Mississippi river, with the New England states added. The total number of passengers carried means that it would be equivalent to carrying one passenger 1,336,975 miles.

Northwestern officials attribute the increase in travel to several causes. Among these they speak of the growing popularity of the road with tourists, the increased number of people who have come into the country tributary to the lines and the growing tendency of people for the healthful enjoyment and the educational and business advantages to be derived from travel.

Baldridge Still is Trying to Settle His Big Water Bill

Joseph M. Baldridge, who several months ago asked the Water board to reduce a water bill of $156 for water consumed in a few weeks, the house being vacant part of that time, is still wooing the water commissioner and the water commissioner is still unresponsive. When Baldridge asked for a reduction Water Commissioner R. B. Howell emphatically refused against it. There were threats that the water in the Baldridge home would be shut off, but Baldridge has steadfastly refused to pay and Howell has made no move to carry out the rulings of the office that require an employee of the Water board to turn off the water of the customers who refuse to pay their bills.

"We're still discussing the bill and no settlement is in sight," said Howell as he reached for the telephone to explain why another consumer had no right to "kick" about his water bill.

Young Drew, who has been held by the juvenile authorities since the shooting, probably will be released as the result of the verdict.

Nebraska HOT FIGHT MADE ON KING

Capital City Torn Up Over Police Commissioner.

HINGS OVER SALARY RAISE

Samuel Melick Now Running in Opposition to Him and Legal Proceedings Start Over Questions Involved.

(From a Staff Correspondent.)
LINCOLN, Oct. 2.—(Special.)—The fight in the capital city. Petitions for the recall of Commissioner King of the Public Safety department are in circulation and it is said are being numerously signed. Samuel Melick has been prevailed upon to allow his name to be used as a successor to Commissioner King and the war is expected to go merrily from now on.

Most of the grief that King is heir to comes from the police department, of which he has control, or rather the conduct of that department under Chief James Malone. Club swinging on the part of one or two policemen when making arrests has helped raise a cry against retaining Malone, while the recent act of Commissioner King in recommending that Chief of Police Malone be given a raise of salary of $20 a month as chief and an additional allowance of $50 more a month for his use of his own automobile has started the row.

Legal Fight Begins.

This was assisted greatly the other day when Henry Huchins of the Lincoln Herald made application to the district court for an injunction restraining the city clerk from making out vouchers for the extra amount allowed Malone and the rest of the city officials. The case came on yesterday and the court denied the injunction as far as going into effect immediately, but put the case over until Tuesday of next week to enable briefs to be filed when a further hearing will be had.

Friends of Commissioner King, who was the only dry candidate elected at the city election, claim that it is all a fight on the part of the wet element to get King, but the wet people deny this and insist that King has proven himself extravagant with the public funds and is raising salaries of officials when the city is unable to put into effect the double shift for firemen because of the lack of funds.

Several firemen have resigned from the department because of the lack of funds to put in effect the double shift, while at the same time the department under which they work is the one which is being criticized.

SIXTY-ONE COUNTIES IN STATE RAISE POPCORN

(From a Staff Correspondent.)
LINCOLN, Neb., Oct. 2.—(Special.)—Few have any idea of the amount of popcorn raised in Nebraska. Like the peanut, it is seen on every hand in the ready-to-eat stage, but not many people stop to think where it comes from or what part of Nebraska takes in its production.

According to figures prepared by the State Board of Agriculture from reports sent in to that office from each county, there are 2,817½ acres of popcorn in the state this year. Valley county leads off with an acreage of 570 acres. Knox county has 74. Greeley county stands third with 54. McPherson fourth with 115 and Gosper fifth with 125 acres.

Howard, Washington, Sherman, Dakota and Hamilton counties report but one acre of popcorn each. Douglas county has four acres and a half, while Lancaster county has five acres. Sixty-one counties are among the list of popcorn raisers.

Nebraska Gage County Must Pay for Jail Guard

BEATRICE, Neb., Oct. 2.—(Special.)—Holding that the county shall pay for men hired to guard the county jail if deputized by the sheriff or his deputy, Judge Pemberton Wednesday decided the appeal case of Frank J. Kline against Gage county, in favor of Mr. Kline and ordered that the county pay him $38 for services recently rendered as a guard and also pay the costs of the case. In giving his decision the court spoke of the deplorable condition of the county jail, stating that it is not a fit place in which to keep prisoners. A desperate man could easily make his escape from the jail.

Two hundred members of the Methodist church gave a farewell reception to Rev. U. G. Brown and family, who are soon to locate at University Place, Mrs. J. W. Refreshments were served during the reception hours, and as a token of esteem the friends of Mr. Brown presented him with a purse of $50.

Southern Road Will Be Built

(From a Staff Correspondent.)

LINCOLN, Neb., Oct. 2.—(Special Telegram.)—Nebraska delegates to the national good roads meeting at Detroit returning to Lincoln this evening announced that all hope of having the Omaha-Lincoln-Denver road a part of the national road are gone, the highway association refusing to go back on its plans of making the Platte river road through the state the national road. However, the delegation secured the friendly feeling of the association to the Omaha-Lincoln road and will go ahead to make the southern road anyhow and do it in such a way that it will draw as much of the travel as possible.

The road through the United States was selected for the purpose of making a direct and quick route as possible and scenic or other conditions cut no figure in the selection. Cities like Chicago, Indianapolis, Des Moines, Detroit, Springfield, Cleveland and Denver are not on the route and Lincoln delegates are not feeling so badly that Lincoln has also been left out.

An effort is being made to get the steamship company to pay his expenses back to New Hampshire.

May Compromise Bridge Middle.
NORTH BEND, Neb., Oct. 2.—(Special.)—A compromise meeting was held here Tuesday evening of the citizens of the town and Attorney Nolan, who represented Stupp Bros. of St. Louis, the contractors for the building of the new steel bridge and dyke over the Platte river.

As the time for completing the work has expired the company was willing to make terms and the county was willing to compromise rather than to enter upon litigation. It was agreed that the company should immediately build a temporary bridge across the channel. The original contract to build the dyke to be carried out as soon as is expedient.

Supervisor Rector and others of the county boards of Dodge and Saunders counties went to Lincoln to submit the agreement and plan to the state board.

H. B. Collins of Des Moines, who asserts he is the 16-year-old son of J. B. Collins, commercial freight agent of the New York Central railroad, confessed to Chief of Detectives Maloney that he hurled a brick through the window of the Omaha Harness company during the electrical parade of Wednesday evening and stole harness valued at considerably over $100. Collins was arrested by Detectives Dunn and Kennelly, who traced the lad to Council Bluffs, where he was placed under arrest while trying to dispose of the plunder. Owing to his age he will be turned over to the juvenile authorities and his father notified.

Governors Plan Lighting Scheme for Next Carnival

The question of street lighting for the next year's festivities is already being discussed by some of the board of Alvar-Ben governors. This year's arrangements for the lighting of the streets were more or less disturbed by the "Junket" decision, and as a result many visitors made uncomplimentary comparisons. With the exception of Howard street, between Sixteenth and Seventeenth, and Seventeenth street, between Harney and Howard, which streets look very pretty in their pyramidal effect, the lighting is not as artistic as the board would have it, and so negotiations are already on for street lighting of 1914.

Business fell off last month with the revenue collectors. For September of this year $39,647.30 was collected from the distillers, against $19,007.52 for September of last year. The reason given for the falling off is that one of the larger distillers had closed down for repairs last month.
